Dear Lady Ego: again I thank you for a letter that brought additional assurance that you are better: mitten with almost a normal hand, & touches of your own old self. I've been pulling for you with the Tao or Supreme Essence - whatever it is of which we are a part or in which we participate as bits or little extensions of The Whole.

As to those "Notes", they are but items in a much more extensive inventory I might make. Many a time, in the watches of the night, I've written in my mind more adequate tributes. I've never shed a word from Gibson-Wonders if he got the book, left for him at The Players.

That Kellogg letter is interesting & revealing. Reminds things as I do that he is a remarkable man but self-deceived in many ways. The miracles he speaks of will not bear thorough
