Feb. 6, 1910.

My dear Miss Tarbell,

I am sending to the legislature every few days a one page leaflet upon which are facts or pertinent thoughts about suffrage. Each leaflet is headed with flags & "Equal Franchise Society. Legislative Series." A narrow border of reds adds to the gaiety of nations.

In honor of Lincoln's birthday each legislature will get Monday night the nearest day when the legislature sits to Nov. 12th — the quotation you saw was from his letter to the Saginaw Journal.

Could you give me something suitable to Washington's birthday? I extracted from your first article the quotation from a letter of Mrs. Madison, I think, to her husband which would be excellent; but I have not such things with me here.
Could you supply my want?
The fact is my possessions are topsy-turvy; for I had packed it to go to England where I was married up here.

Sincerely yours,

Harriet Stanton Blatch,
The Van Eyck
