Base Ball Story Begins to Run the Other Way

TWO GOOD VICTORIES IN THE PAST WEEK

Captain Nelson's Men Have Settled Down to Business—Slippery Rock Game a Good One—Buchtel Boys Easy Victims—Games Reviewed by Kightlinger

Allegheny's ball tossers tore off two well-earned victories last week, defeating Slippery Rock by a score of 2-1 Tuesday and winning from Buchtel college by the one-sided score of 10-4 on Satuday. The pleasant surprise in both games was the heavy hitting of our boys who made 25 singles for a total of 25 bases in the two games. Benedict's work on the slab was magnificent and he held the opponents safe at all stages. The presence of Baker at third strengthened the infield wonderfully and his batting in both games was hard and timely. The whole team played consistent ball and with a continuance of the present form should place many more victories to their credit before the season is over.

THE SLIPPERY ROCK GAME.

This was as pretty a game as one would wish to see. The fielding was sharp and fast considering the condition of the diamond. Both pitchers were hit rather freely but Benedict kept his hits more scattered and was steady with men on bases, thus pulling out of several bad holes. All the long hits recorded against him were either misjudged or outfield flies which should not have gone for more than singles. The features of the game were Crawford's toss from right to third in the seventh inning, putting out the runner, and Baker's stop and throw to the plate in the ninth, cutting off a run and saving the game. The best hitting was done by Nelson, Baker, Braymer and Mason for Allegheny, and by Coval and White for Slippery Rock.

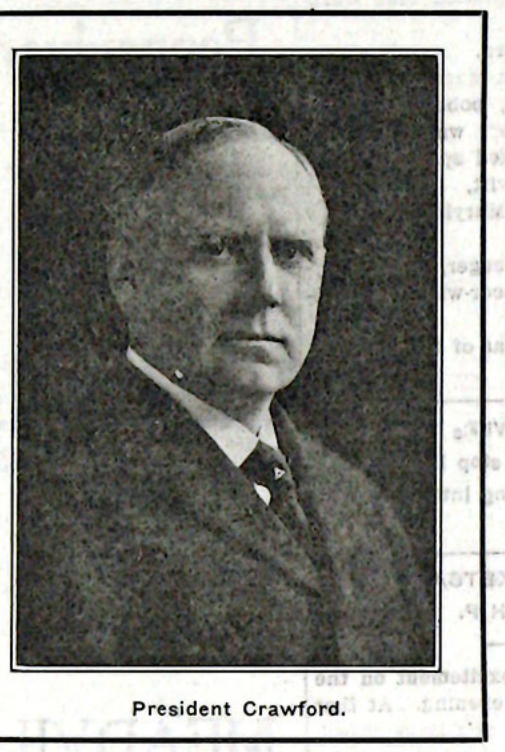

In the first inning Allegheny started off like four time winners. Nelson reached first on a dropped throw by White and Horn sacrificed him to second and reached first himself on a muff by White. Kelly struck out, but Baker slapped the ball on the nose and started one for left field, which had all the ear-marks of a three-bagger. Musgrave, however, broke the drive down and the bases were full. Benedict forced Nelson at the plate and Braymer went out, Horton to third and the spasm was ended.

In their half the Normalites annexed their only tally. Coval connected with first ball pitched and drove a pretty one over second which went through Jones and before the ball was returned to the diamond the runner was perched on third. West struck out but Price brought Coval home on the squeeze play. Musgrave doubled but White looked dangerous to Benedict and he gave him a free ticket to Gahan's corner, filling the bases. There was no further scoring, however, as Horton forced Price at the plate and Kamerer went out Benedict to Gahan.

Allegheny scored her first run in the sixth. After Benedict had struck out, Braymer and Gahan singled in a row, and Mason brought Braymer home with a screamer to left. In the seventh, with one out Baker singled, went to second on Benedict's out and scored on Braymer's Texas-leaguer over second.

In the ninth Slippery Rock loomed up dangerously, Kamerer, the first man up, double to left and took third on Hoover's out. On an attempted squeeze play, however, he was thrown out at the plate by Baker. Coval then doubled to middle, but overran the bag and was tagged out by Kelly be-

President Crawford.

PRESIDENT CRAWFORD'S BOOK ON SAVONAROLA FRESH FROM THE PRESS.

Issued by Jennings and Graham of Cincinnati.

A Neat Speciman of Book-making—Subject treated in a simple and Stralghtforward Manner

President Crawford's book on "Girolamo Savonarolo, a Prophet of Righteousness," has just been received. It comes fresh from the press of Jennings and Graham, of Cincinnati, and is in every way an excellent specimen of good book-making. The press-work, paper and binding are of a splendid order of workmanship and speak highly of the art of that enterprising printing house.

The book is issued as one of a series on "Men of the Kingdom," and Dr. Crawford briefly puts the purpose of his work in the following terms: "In the present volume no attempt has been made at comprehensivev biographical study. This would have required much more space than has been placed at my disposal. It has been my purpose rather, keeping in mind the general aim of the series of which this volume is a part, to show what Savonarolo was as a man, and what he did as a true prophet of righteousness. In doing this, I have described the times in which he lived and the men with whom he associated only so far as was necessary to make clear the meaning of what he spoke and what he wrought." The Doctor has fulfilled this purpose, indeed. Throughout the work he has succeeded wonderfully in presenting Savonarolo, the man, and most graphically has he shown what Savonarolo did as a true prophet of righteousness.

Perhaps no more definite idea of the development can be given than by a simple reading of the chapter headings. They are: The Times in Which He Lived; Early Life and Education; In the Monastery of ologna; Early Days in San Marco; In the Villages of Tuscany; Lorenzo and His City; A New Voice in the Duomo; The Mightiest Man in Florence; Startling Events and Striking Visions; Reforms Begin in the Monastery of San Marco; Chas. VIII. of France Invades Italy; The Preacher and the New Constitution; Jesus King of Florence; Letters, Plots and Papal Briefs; The Burning of the Vanities; The Pope Issues Edict of Ex-Communication; The Struggle With Rome Goes On; The Tragic End; Influence on Later Times. Such, in brief, is the simple and direct development of the book.

Only an actual reading of the book will give a correct notion of the vigorous, entertaining style in which it is written. Dr. Crawford has remarkable power for simple, graphic description. His matter is presented in frank, straightforward and convincing way that means pleasure as well as profit to the reader. From beginning to end the book is marked by a characteristic vivacity. In this connection the chapter entitled "The Tragic End" is to be noted. A more vivid and telling picture would be hard to find.

But, beneath all these exterior qualities may be seen the handiwork of the sympathetic scholar. It shows the activity of a mind keenly sensitive to every side of its subject; the work of an unbiased truth-seeker; the spirit of the impartial historian.

The Campus takes pleasure in warmly commending it to the general reader, and especially to the Allegheny folk.

Coming Lecture of Unusual Interest

There will be a stereopticon lecture given under the auspices of the Scientific Club in the chapel on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Prof. Herman L. Fairchild, of the University of Rochester, one of the best known geologists of America, will speak on "Glacial Geology," using many slides made from photographs of regions in Western Pennsylvania and Northwestern Pennsylvania. The cause of many familiar features of the scenery of these regions will be explained in this lecture. This explanation as given by Prof. Fairchild will give all who hear him an additional interest in the outdoor world.

Alpha Chi Omega Entertains.

The residence of Dr. Akers, on North Main street, was Thursday evening the scene of a pretty reception given by Alpha Chi Omega. The house was tastefully decorated with smilax and red carnations, the sorority flowers, and pennants of the different fraternities and colleges were suspended from the walls. The Young Northwestern orchestra furnished the music. Refreshments were served during the evening, and the punch bowl ,located on the porch amidst the fairy glow of Chinese lanterns, received liberal patronage. The reception was an unusual success. About 90 members and friends of Alphi Chi were present.

G. S. Miner, '80, missionary at Foo-Chow, China, is to return home to Meadville next month.

PAN HEAVENLY GIRLS BANQUET.

AT SAEGERTOWN INN ON SATURDAY EVENING.

Daughters of Athena Have Jolly Time. Toast List Was a Notable One.

On Saturday evening the Greek maidens of Allegheny journeyed to Saegertown, where they celebrated the annual Pan-Heavenly banquet. The symposium was held at the Saegertown Inn, and the daughters of Athena made merry with their festivities until well toward the middle of the night. Miss Mary Thorpe Graham, Alphi Chi Omega, was toastmistress of the evening. The toast list follows:

Death Claims Loyal Friend

OF OLD ALLEGHENY.

Col. Samuel B. Dick Died on Friday Evening—A Life of Great Activity and Loving Service to His College.

Col. Samuel Bernard Dick, of this city, one of the foremost of the lay trustees and alumni of Allegheny College and best known citizens of northwestern Pennsylvania, died at his home on Henry street last Friday, after a four days' illness of pleurisy and pneumonia. For over 40 years Col. Dick had been famous in this part of the country as a business man and philanthropist. His rather sudden death is mourned by hosts of friends.

Col. Dick was born in Meadville, October 26, 1836. He attended the Meadville public schools and Allegheny college, but he left the latter institution, to engage in the banking business. Had he continued his course he would have graduated in the class of 1858.

At the breaking out of the Civil war he was commissioned captain in the 9th Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers. On December 20, 1861, he was severely wounded, and returned

In the death of Col. S. B. Dick the college has lost one of its most loyal and loving friends.. The peculiar place that he occupied in our college life can never again be filled. In the hearts of many of the sons of Old Allegheny will ever dwell the memory of a generous and sympathetic brother.

The Years Work in The Classical Club.

The Classical Club of Allegheny College is just closing one of the most successful years of all its history. It is one of the potent factors in our college life especialy for those students who are fortunate enough to meet the requirements for admission into its ranks. This year we have had a membership of 31, including three of our faculty members. Throughout the year the attendance at the meetings of the club has been excellent and, better still, such attendance is directly attributed to the excellent quality of the various programmes rendered. The numbers presented have included papers on subjects of vital interest to all classical students, reviews of the most worthy books of the year, and discussions of the magazine articles that have appeared from time to time touching on matters of importance to general knowledge along classical lines. Two of the meetings of the year were given up entirely to the discussion of Greek and Roman sports and were particularly interesting where they touched on the points of relation to our own modern sports.

The closing regular meeting of the year was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Elliott. Its literary program was a fair sample of the programmes given throughout the year, and is reviewed here in order to give our readers some idea of the excellent work that the club is doing.

C. W. Gill opened the work of the evening by the presentation of a scholarly paper comparing Greek and English drama and discussing their respective strength and weakness. C. W. Johnson followed with a careful review of Prof. Hill's work on Illustrations in Ancient Classics. W. G. Cole then discussed at length the various methods of traveling that were in vogue in the ancient Roman state. Following each number of the program was a general discussion by the members at large.

The feature of this particular evening, however, was the social hour that followed the regular work. Our dignified professors showed very conclusively that they still are young in heart even if they are getting burdened down with the weight of having to teach unteachable pupils the mysteries of Latin and Greek. Dr. and Mrs. Elliott made themselves famous as entertainers by serving dainty refreshments in the most approved Greek style as well as by making those present feel perfectly at home. Mrs. Elliott's sister, Miss Miller, and Mrs. Snavely were honor guests. The club members will always have pleasant memories about the last regular meeting for 1906-07.

So this club does its work, leaving impressions on the minds of its members that tend only to broaden and elevate, never to narrow and restrict this sympathy with the life that has passed into history and life that now

INTER CLUB BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP.

There was great excitement on the gym floor Thursday evening. At that time, in the presence of a large crowd, the long delayed game between the Hanks and Farrelly clubs for the Inter Club Basketball championship was played. Both teams were confident of victory and each determined to carry away the blue pennant bearing the words "Inter Club Basket Ball Championship '06-'07," in gold letters.

The game started promptly at 8 o'clock. It was fast and furious from the beginning. Eacn side was determined to prevent the other scoring. Hanks began the score by throwing a foul, but Farrelly got busy and after a few minutes' play Knoell threw a field goal. This ended the scoring for the half. Score 2-1.

The second half was faster even than the first. Farrelly seemed to be fired with new life, but Hanks seemed a little dazed. Knoell threw two pretty field goals and near the end of the half Donaldson found the basket twice, once from the field and once from the foul line. Score second half, 4-3.

Fouls were called frequently throughout the game, each side using as much trickery as the officials would allow. Neither side, however, seemed to be able to make good at the foul line.

The impartial work of officials Stockton and King was to be commended.

Lineup and summary:

Faculty		Hanks
Knoell	R F	Kulp and Croasman
Benedict	L F	Yost
Spears	C	Kennedy
Scott	R G	Evaul
Morgan	L G	Donalison

Goals—Donaldson, Knoell 3. Fouls—Donaldson 2. Final score 6-4.

THE BUCHTEL GAME

This game was a hard hitting but rather loosely played contest. Benedict's ptching was the feature. He struck out twelve men and held Buchtel down to four hits, two of which were made in the last inning when he let down after he had the game sewed up. Braymer's catching was of the sensational order. It was a swatfest for Allegheny, who made fourteen hits| Crawford, Baker, Gahan and Kelly, doing the bulk of the batting. Horn's throw to the plate in the first inning, cutting off a run, was the fielding features of the day. The game was never in doubt from the beginning and Allegheny should have scored a shut-out. On the eother hand eight of the local's team runs were earned.

Allegheny made one run right off the reel on a hit, a fielders choice, and two errors. In the sixth they scored two more, on three bases on balls, Horn's sacrifice and Baker's stinging single over short.

In their half of the sixth, Buchtel also crossed the pan twice on three errors by Kelley, who had an off day in the field. In the seventh Kelley was hit by the pitcher, Gahan singled sending Kelley to third, from where he scored on Crawford's sacrifice which was fumbled, Gahan taking third on the play. Crawford store second and Benedict's brought Kahan home with a slower roller to short, reaching first himself. He stole second, and when Nelson died at first on his slow hit to second, Crawford and Benedict crossed the pan, Benedict coming all the way from second by a daring bit of base running.

In the seventh Baker tripled and came home on Kelley's single. Kelley stole second and went to third on Gahan's bunt which the latter beat out. Gahan stole second and Kelley scored on Crawford's two-bagger.

In the ninth Benedict eased up and allowed two hits and walked one man which, coupled with an error, scored two runs for Buchtel. But he pulled himself out of the hole and struck out the last man, retiring the side.

Robertson, '06, was a college visitor last week.

Miss Ethel Fowler, '07, is suffering from illness.

Scott, '10, spent a pleasant Sunday at his home.

Sam Robinson was visiting in Pittsburg last week.

C. O. Peters spent Sunday at his home in Albion.

Roy Grandey spent Sunday at his home in New Castle.

W. L. Main spent several days in Titusville last week.

Rev. Bugbee led the chapel service on Saturday morning.

O. M. Brown was at his home in Greenville over Sunday.

Miss Mabelle West, ex-'06, was here for a visit last week.

Stanley Bright went to New Castle Sunday to visit his home.

H. B. Mansell was a guest at the Chautauqua club last week.

Mrs. Thomas, of Union City, visited her daughter last week.

Miss Winifred Terry, '04, Corry, Pa., was a college visitor last week.

A. D. Andrews, '08, was a guest at the Hanks club Tuesday night.

Herbert Stockton, '04, was a college visitor last week. He expects to take a trip to Germany next summer.

W. G. Cole was a Beaver college visitor for a few days last week.

The base ball team left Monday morning for Slippery Rock Normal.

Miss Sarah Breene, '04, of Corry, Pa., was here for the week end.

Dr. Gillies's lecture which was to have taken place Thursday evening, was postponed until a later date on account of other functions being set for the same evening. This was unfortunate in view of the fact that it is uncertain whether Dr. Gillies can come at another time.

H. B. Mansell, of the Class of '04, was visiting at college last week. At the joint meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. Wednesday evening, Mr. Mansell spoke feelingly of the work he is soon to pursue as missionary in Malaysia, and the great hopes which he has for that country.

Senior Six Announced.

The faculty last week announced the six members of the Senior class who are to represent their class in the commencement exercises in June. Three were chosen because of the excellence of their scholastic work and of their orations, and three were elected by the faculty. The former include F. P. Miller, whose oration is "The Triumph of Truth"; Miss Katherine Adams, "The Approach of Sanity"; Stanley X. Bright, "The Influence of the Beautiful." The latter consist of C. A. Hartung, "The Moulders of Destiny"; Miss Rachel Cousins, "A Nation at the Bar", and F. L. La Bounty, "Timothy Alden."

Quill Club on Conversation.

AN EVENING WITH THE GREAT CONVERSERS.

A Profitable Evening Spent by the Advocates of "Pencil and Paper, Pens and Ink."

A very enjoyable meeting of the Quill Club was that held Thursday evening at 6 o'clock in the Stone church parlors. A very delicious supper was provided by the ladies of the church, and, in order that the keynote of the meeting, "The Art of Conversation," might be emphasized, the members were seated at the table in three divisions, arranged according to Greek, English and American authors.

Before the supper Dr. Lockwood spoke on "The Art of Conversation," and the three divisions were represented by Mr. Gill, on "Socrates on Conversation"; Mr. La Bounty, on "Sam'l Jonson on Conversation", and Mr. Bright, on "American Authors on Conversation."

After this short formal program the members proceeded to put into practice the theories advanced by the papers. It was altogether an unique and profitable evening.

home, but again rejoined the army the next year, participating in the battles at South Mountain and Antietam. But he was later again compelled to return home on account of ill health. In the summer of 1863 he took charge of the 5th Regiment of Militia.

In 1878 Col. Dick was sent to Congress by the Republican party serving one term. He was mayor of Meadville in 1870, and he first introduced natural gas into this city. In 1863 Col. Dick married Miss Agnes Scott, of Pittsburg. Col. Dick was president of the P., B. & L. E. railroad for many years, and was associated with nearly every large enterprise in this section of the state. He was in 1881-2 grand master of the grand lodge of Masonry of Pennsylvania. He was a member of the Episcopal church.

To the industries of Meadville Col. Dick was most loyal. He was the leading manufacturer, owning a controlling interest in both the Malleable Iron Works and the Phoenix Iron Works.

Col. Dick was noted for his charitable disposition. In him the college, as well as the community, has lost a cheerful, kind and progressive friend. President Crawford spoke in chapel Saturday morning in part as follows:

"He was an efficient trustee, always speaking for his college and trying to widen its sphere of influence. He has been to Allegheny a great true friend, and has been for many years one of our strongest, truest supporters. He was, we remember, one of the first trustees to recommend a special fund for athletics. He especially took great interest in the life of the students. The young men have lost in Col. Dick a true friend."

ALUMNI NOTES.

Dr. Crawford has receive word from Mr. C. A. Richmire,'00, general secretary of of the Ithaca, N. Y., Y. M. C. A. that the $50,000 for which Mr. Richmire has been working to build a new Y. M. C. A. building in Ithaca, has been raised. Mr. Richmire has been making great efforts to accomplish this and great credit is due him for his untiring efforts and final success. The new building feans much not only to the city of Ithaca, but to Cornell University.

Roy Gartner, '00, has receently accepted an engineering position at Lakeview, Miss.

Dr. Frederick A. Hartung, ex-'98, of Mt. Oliver, recently married Miss Lillian May Sarver, also of Pittsburg. Rev. Paul Weyand, '98, pastor of Knoxville M. E. church, performed the ceremony. Mr. Hartung, who is assistant surgeon of the Eighteenth Infantry, N. G. P., is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, where he was a member of the 'varsity crew. While at Allegheny Dr. Hartung was conspicuous for his work in football. He is well known among the younger specialists of the city where he came from, New York.

WELL! WELL!! WELL!!!

Such a commotion that our stock of New Spring Wearables is making.

The boys who have been in have told others who have not, about our spread—and everybody is getting interested. And, if you'll excuse us, we think we're getting a little excited ourselves. Been in yet? No! Well, you're missing something. To cut it short we'll say, we have the finest display of Spring Clothes, Hats and Toggery for College Fellows that ever graced a store. Don't think we are putting it a bit too strong—won't come down a peg.

Prices are all right, too—everybody says so.

Come in and see what all this excitement is about. We are just as ready to show goods as to take your money.
