

February 2, 1930

My dear Dr. Carrel:

Thank you for your letter of the 27th. You tell me just what I wanted to know and that was whether your experiment, dealing with the effect of alcohol on mice, had been completed and was ready for publication. Of course, you can depend upon me not to make any mention of it in any way.

Indeed, I would be interested in seeing the Mousery. I am leaving town today, not to be back until about the 18th of February. As soon as I am free, after my return, I shall take you at your word and telephone your office asking for an appointment. It is very good of you to make this suggestion. I have wanted for a long time to have a look at the work going on at the Rockefeller Institute and no department of it would interest me more, I am sure, than your own.

Thanking you for your kindness, believe me

Very sincerely yours
