

October 9, 1922

My Dear Miss Tarbell.

I hope you realize how deeply I appreciate your interest in our efforts to bring Mr. Taylor's biography to a satisfactory conclusion, & your very kind offer to read the manuscript.

With your time so fully occupied, I regret that you are burdened with the length of the manuscript, as I feel there is much that should be eliminated.

In order that you may not in any way be prejudiced. The original was sent to you without any of our criticisms.

It is needless to say, how difficult I have found these years of waiting - before the world can have a true picture of Mr. Taylor's life, & wonderful work - & if by your help this can finally be brought about.

I shall be ever lastingly indebted.

I should be very glad to see you - either in New York or at Boxley, any time that you will find it convenient. And I shall be glad to send you my criticisms, when you are ready for them -

Again thanking you most sincerely for your valuable assistance & friendly interest.
And with the hope that we may see the book in print with your good name attached. I am cordially yours Louise M. S. Taylor.

October 9th 1922