KENYON REFUSES TO MEET GOLD AND BLUE

Manager Notified That Ohio Team Can Not Play Saturday.

Yesterday morning the following telegram was received by Manager Ramsey of the football team:

"Gambier, O., Oct. 26, 1913.

"To Mgr. Allegheny College Football Team:

"Impossible to come to Meadville. Very sorry. Wm. W. Sant."

This will cause considerable disappointment since it was thought certain after last Saturday, when the same authorities at Kenyon wired that they would come to Meadville upon certain terms and these terms were accepted, that the game would be played. With this message, however, all hope of the contest seems to be gone. It is not known what was the reason for this action on the part of Kenyon.

The cancellation of the Kenyon game leaves a gap in the Allegheny schedule that will be hard if not impossible to fill. At this time of the year every team has its schedule completed and does not care to take on any games that have not been anticipated from the beginning of the season. As a matter of fact, when the Kenyon game was considerably in doubt a few weeks ago, Manager Ramsey corresponded with a large number of colleges in the hope of then filling this date, but without avail. There is a bare possibility that Hobart College with whom negotiations are now being carried on may be induced to come to Meadville next Saturday. The probability is, though, that the team will be compelled to take a rest of two weeks before the game at Pittsburg, on November 8, with Carnegie Tech. The rest, after all, might be advantageous since Tech, by its victory Saturday over Grove City, has shown unexpected strength.

The two weeks' rest following Tech, before the Geneva and Grove City games, has been planned in order that the team may be in the best condition for the two hardest and culminating games of the season. With the excellent record so far and the advantage in favor of Allegheny for the remaining games, the college need expect nothing but an undefeated football team when Thanksgiving Day is past.

Rural districts in Denmark show less than 1-20 of 1 per cent illiteracy. In the United States the corresponding figure is 10 per cent.

In rural schools in Missouri, girls are organized into "pick-and-shovel clubs" under the direction of the National Congress of Mothers, to aid in the good roads movement.

Manager's Talk

DEAR ALUMNUS:—For the last time this year's management makes an appeal to you to support us in the publication of a high-standard college newspaper. So far the alumni have responded quite faithfully but the mailing list is hardly more than a catalogue of the names of those who have always stood by the undergraduates in their efforts to send out the very best possible paper. You have been receiving sample copies regularly, everyone has who has manifested the least interest in the journalistic affairs of the college. What are you doing to encourage this work? You know what THE CAMPUS is, you know that alumni support is absolutely necessary in this matter. The manager guarantees that every subscriber who has given him the correct present address will receive THE CAMPUS regularly. If you really earnestly desire to see a first-class paper issued on time and one capable of holding its own among those from the other foremost colleges of the country, sign and return the enclosed blank; this will mean capital which can be used to assure the continuous publication of THE CAMPUS.

ENTHUSIASM AROUSED AT ATHLETIC RALLY

Drs. Smith and Lee Present Cause of Athletics to Students.

The regular chapel service of last Wednesday morning was entirely given over to the consideration of the athletic interests of the college, and in addition, a number of other important matters were brought before the assembly. Senior President W. H. Fegely, '14, called the meeting to order and gave the entire period into the hands of the Athletic Association. N. L. Ramsey, '14, president of the association called forward the baseball men who had failed to be presented with their A's last spring. Professor W. T. Dutton made a short speech while presenting the letters to the following men: Captain-elect Robinson, '15, F. A. Richards, '14, T. W. Thoburn, '14, S. F. Campman, '16, G. D. Rose, '15, C. A. Gilbert, '15, E. Gilbert, '16, L. G. Bash, '16, H. V. VanSlyke, '16, and Captain Hawk, '13, and Manager C. G. McNulty, ex-'14. After the usual applause had been accorded the players, Mr. Ramsey stated that an important athletic question was before the college and that Doctors R. E. Lee and E. A. Smith had kindly consented to place the matter before the student body. The present trouble, that called for this meeting, is that the five dollar athletic fee for the men, together with the three dollar athletic fee for the women, had not been paid up according to the promises made by the student body last year. Last year it was unanimously voted that these fees should be paid by the entire student body, and at that time they were paid. This year the situation is entirely different. Only fifty per cent of the school has as yet paid for their athletic tickets, thus causing a shortage which has been very detrimental in arranging a schedule of games for the football eleven as well as for the other teams.

Dr. E. A. Smith was first called upon and in a humorous and enthusiastic address reminded the students that their teams and coaches were undoubtedly the best in years, but that the support, as shown in the first game of the season was only half-hearted, as only about one-half of the student body was present. As an example of enthusiasm and spirit he cited the Army and Navy game to which each cadet and middy goes though he be obliged to borrow the necessary money. He also reminded the students that the reports of the treasury were always open, and its proper support was a most vital question to the whole school. Dr. Smith also spoke of the athletic enthusiasm of Allegheny in years past, when the student body always rose to the occasion when their financial help was needed.

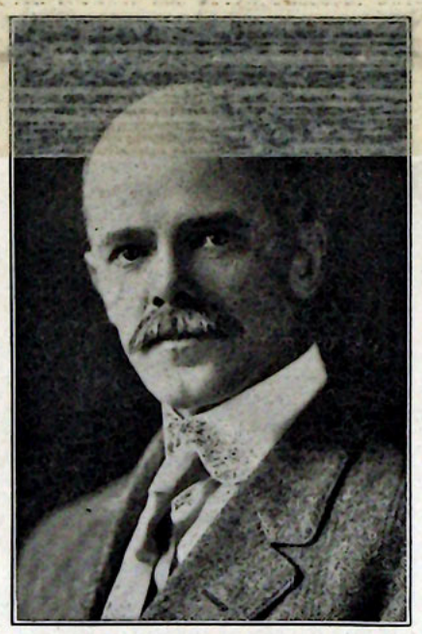

Dr. R. E. Lee, after stating that it was necessary for him to do a little exhorting, spoke of the fact that in all his experiences at Allegheny the students had always risen to every worthy occasion. Dr. Lee went on to show that through the lack of proper payments it had been almost impossible for the much desired game with Kenyon to be arranged. He also cited twenty other institutions which are well known to Alleghenians, whose athletic fee was equal, if not greater to that at Allegheny. Most of these colleges that were given as examples made the fee a part of the regular tuition.

Dr. Lee's summing up of the facts was so terse and lucid, that it was immediately moved, seconded and unanimously carried, that the five dollar fee should be made a permanent institution at Allegheny. That means that every male student of the college should buy a five dollar ticket, while every young lady should purchase the three dollar ticket. A further motion that the sentiment of the student body be given as in favor of a five dollar fee added directly to the tuition and to be turned over to the Athletic Association, was also carried unanimously.

ALLEGHENY MAKES RECORD SCORE AGAINST ALFRED UNIVERSITY

GOLD AND BLUE ELEVEN GIVES FINE EXHIBITION OF TEAM WORK—MUNHALL SCORES SEVEN TOUCHDOWNS SCORE 93-7

The Gold and Blue won their fourth successive game of the season Thursday by defeating the eleven from Alfred University, the final score being 93-7. The New York state college men failed to show the ability that was expected and as a result Coach Hammett's warriors rolled up the largest score that is on record in the history of the sport at Allegheny. With the exception of a few times, Alfred was unable to gain at all. During the whole game they made their first down only twice, while Allegheny had the power at any time to advance; either making a plunge through the crumbling line of the opponents, circling an end, or using the bewildering forward pass. The styles of play and tactics of the two teams were entirely different. The Gold and Blue relying on their slightly superior weight resorted for the most part to straight football, and Alfred, totally powerless against the impregnable line of the home team, tried again and again the forward pass as their sole chance to advance. Within two minutes after the whistle blew Arnold had captured a forward pass and gone over the line for a touchdown. Within the next five minutes Munhall had done the same thing. There was hardly a period of five minutes during the contest that did not add another six or seven points to the growing score. Although the Alfred men saw from the first few minutes that they were beaten, they showed themselves true sportsmen by sticking to the game with dogged determination; gradually showing better form and finally getting a touchdown.

Professor Hammett, Director of Athletics.

After the intermission between periods the Allegheny second team was substituted, but the change seemed to make but little difference in the ability of the team as a whole to score. Cox went in for Ricker at quarterback and fully equalled him as a general and a ground gainer; Emery at Thomas' position held his own; Graham at left halfback made as many gains through the line as Arnold had been making around the end; Metcalf for Trace proved quite as good a gainer; Brooks for Baker, McConnell for J. Pierson, Hughes for Allshouse, Ramsey for Brooks, and Bash for Graham, did well in their positions. The star was Munhall who was invincible in his drives through the line and carried the ball over the line on seven occasions out of the fourteen resulting in touchdowns. Dotterrer, while not so conspicuously, worked especially well both on the line and in punting. Arnold, Metcalf, Ricker, Graham and Trace were all responsible for long runs and a touchdown each.

Alfred's best man, undoubtedly, was Barney, the end, who recovered the fumble that he was able to make into a touchdown for his side. Brainard also was good at fullback; his strong punting being their last resort many times. King made a number of pretty runs which, if they had had the support they needed, would have been good ground gainers.

The attendance at the game was large owing to the excellent weather and the expectation of seeing a new and supposedly strong team in action against the locals. The cheering was spirited throughout the contest and with the band playing frequently, there was something doing on the sidelines as well as on the field.

First Quarter.

Alfred kicked off to Allegheny. Munhall received the ball and carried it back to the 50-yard line. Arnold advanced it three yards. Ricker carried it 25 yards farther on a forward pass. Ricker advanced it three yards; Munhall five, and again Munhall two. Arnold scored the first touchdown on a forward pass from the 20 yard line. Gilbert missed the goal. Gilbert kicked off to Alfred, who carried the ball to the 30 yard line. Trace spoiled a forward pass. Alfred tried three line plunges and the punted to Trace who carried the ball to the 20 yard line. Munhall scored on a forward pass. Gilbert kicked goal making the score 13-0. Gilbert kicked off to Alfred who advanced the ball to the 25 yard line. A line plunge advanced the ball three yards, but after two attempts at forward passes, they punted to Ricker who carried the ball to the 45 yard line. Trace advanced it five yards. Arnold made first down. Ricker made two yards, and an incomplete forward pass gave the ball to Alfred on the 50 yard line. They advanced 10 yards; lost two, and then punted to Ricker, who was downed after returning 15 yards. Allegheny was penalized 15 yards. Munhall made five yards, followed by twelve. After an incomplete pass, Dotterrer punted out of bounds on Alfred's 20 yard line. Alfred lost two yards; gained two; were held by a line plunge, and punted. Ricker carried the ball 40 yards, bringing it to the 10 yard line. Munhall made three; Arnold three, and Munhall scored by a line plunge. Gilbert kicked goal. Score 20-0. Gilbert kicked to Alfred, who ran the ball to the 34 yard line. They made two yards and were held twice before time was called.

Second Quarter.

The second quarter opened with the ball in Alfred's possession on their 35 yard line, fourth down. Alfred punted to Ricker, who made 20 yards. Trace made six yards, two incomplete passes, and a blocked attempt at a field goal followed. Munhall carried the ball 18 yards, and then added two more. Trace made seven and Munhall brought the ball to the three yard line. Arnold was held. Allegheny was penalized 15 yards. An attempted forward pass failed. After Trace was held, Alfred intercepted a pass. The New York team was held three times and punted. Arnold received the punt and ran 30 yards to the 12 yard line. Ricker made four yards; Munhall three; Munhall two, and then Ricker scored. Gilbert kicked goal. Score 27-0.

Alfred carried the kickoff to the middle of the field. Thomas picked up the ball on an incomplete pass and scored. Gilbert made the goal. Score 34-0.

Munhall advanced the kick off to

LITERARY MONTHLY ON COMPETITIVE BASIS

Constitution Adopted at Last Meeting of College Council.

College Council met last Friday afternoon in the Oratory of the Chapel and adopted a measure that vitally affects one of the college publications. This is the new constitution of the Literary Monthly which was brought up at a previous meeting of the Council and laid on the table until last week's meeting. By this constitution the Literary Monthly is placed on much the same basis as The Campus—the board that chooses the editor and assistant editors being composed of three faculty members instead of the old editor and the publication committee as formerly. The second member of the committee, Dr. Snavely, was elected last Friday afternoon. He and Dr. Lockwood are to choose the third member, as provided for in the constitution. The constitution is as follows:

Article I. Name and Object. This publication shall be called The Allegheny College Literary Monthly, and shall be issued eight times in each school year by a board of editors selected from the student body through competition. It shall be devoted to the exposition of the life and opinion of the students of Allegheny College in their literary aspect.

Article II. Staff. The staff of officers shall consist of an editor-in-chief, one associate editor, and three assistant editors. Not more than three members of this board shall be members of the Senior class.

Article III. Duties.

Sec. 1. The editor-in-chief shall have the entire responsibility for the matter and make up of the publication. Immediately after the appearance of each issue, he shall hand over to the chairman of the committee in charge of competition all matter entered for competition which has been considered and is of no more use for publication. He shall also mark in a file of the Literary Monthly all printed matter which has been contributed by the different competitors, which file shall be handed over to the committee in charge of competition immediately after the appearance of each issue. He shall assign work from time to time to the different associate and assistant editors according to his judgment of their several abilities.

Sec. 2. The associate editor shall assume the duties of editor-in-chief in the disability or absence of the latter.

Article IV. Sec. 1. The filling of editorial positions shall be by competition, and shall be in charge of a competition committee, composed of (1) the head of the department of English, or some person designated by him, (2) another member of the Faculty to be chosen by the College Council at its first regular meeting at the beginning of the school year, and (3) a third member to be selected by these two. The third member of the committee shall thereupon hold office throughout the year.

Sec. 2. The committee in charge of competition shall keep and classify all material handed to them by the editor-in-chief, and shall meet on the second Tuesday in May of each school year to consider the material and select a new board of editors. as provided for in the foregoing articles. They shall take into consideration:

(a) The amount of competition

OCTOBER 28, 1913.

At the last assembly morning the real weakness of the present financial policy for athletics was exposed. Experience has taught that some stringent methods must be adopted to convince every student that he must bear a part of the financial burdens. It can be easily seen that the incoming class has made no pledge and can not be held responsible for student action passed during the preceding year. With the present method of a voluntary purchase of athletic tickets, the same problem will arise with every college generation.

The Athletic Fee.

Other colleges have solved the problem by making the athletic dues a part of the regular term fees. It remains to be seen which alternative Allegheny will choose—the addition of the athletic dues to the regular college fees, or the continuance of the annual plea for the voluntary purchase of athletic tickets. The first course insures financial backing to every manager, as he makes his schedule. The second course means a repetition of this year's condition as seen in the matter of the Kenyon game.

Another progressive reform was instituted last week when the Literary Monthly was placed on a competitive basis. In this respect Allegheny is merely following the example of many of the colleges throughout the country. With the existing conditions in student political life, it has been found that some radical methods must be adopted. The adoption of competition for more and more of the college offices seems to be the real cure for the present evils. Under a system of competition college offices are won through individual merit and not through the strength of the various college organizations and fraternities. Competition also gives new life and variety to any college publication or organization.

Lit. On Competitive Basis.

PAN HELLENIC RULES.

At a recent meeting of the Inter-Fraternity Council of the college the following rules were adopted to govern the relations of members of the different fraternities with the Freshmen:

1. There shall be no conversation on fraternity matters between fraternity men and Freshmen.
2. No prearranged dates shall be made by any fraternity man with any Freshman.

Other proposed rules were discussed but not passed at this meeting. It was decided, however, that in all voting in the future three fraternities would be the number required to pass any rule or resolution. Also, two open houses for each fraternity for the Freshmen may be held instead of only one as last year. One is to be held before the Christmas vacation and one between the vacation and the end of the semester.

DR. ELLIOTT LEADER OF UNION SERVICE

Excellent Exposition of One of the Beatitudes Given.

A large audience was present last Wednesday evening in the Chapel to hear Dr. W. A. Elliott lead the monthly union Y. M. C. A. meeting. The topic he chose for discussion was one of the Beatitudes, "Blessed are the meek for they shall inherit the earth." The leader placed the greatest emphasis on the interpretation and real meaning of the word "meek." The common interpretation of meekness, he said, was the quality usually applied to yielding, unremonstrative people. However, that is not the correct one or the meaning of the word in this passage. Moses was said to be the "meekest man" but on several occasions he proved himself anything but meek, for instance, when he killed the Egyptian, when he cast down the tables of law on seeing the people worshiping the golden calf, when in an angry manner he smote the rock and brought forth the water. Jesus, also, is called "meek and mild," but that characteristic certainly does not appear when he entered into the temple and drove out the money changers with a whip. How many times he uttered words of boiling indignation and denunciation against the Pharisees for their hypocrisy and crookedness in their relation to God and their fellow man!

The work "meek" as translated is really "gentle" and is the opposite of such words as harshness and cruelty. But the word is not so much mistranslated as it is misinterpreted. It is not lack of strength but strength in the way a surgeon uses it. It is the quality that distinguishes a gentleman and Christian from one who is not a gentleman and a Christian; the quality by which a man holds himself completely under control and has absolute command of all his faculties. Meekness of this kind is gentleness and one of the greatest kinds of strength. It is like the engineer who has the power to let the steam into the engine in great quantities but in fact never does, or the one man who controls the 98 electric motors that work a single lock of the newly completed Panama Canal. Again, meekness is not the lack of power but the possession of it under the highest control.

The leader's second point was that the inheritance of the meek is not a great realm in the world to come but is rather found right here in this world and in the present. This inheritance comes as the natural and necessary result of gentleness and the perfect control of one's self. The nations that are "inheriting the earth" today, the religions that are gaining place, are the ones that believe in or have as their basis Christ who was called "meek."

DR. CRAWFORD AT PRINCETON.

During an absence of two days last week Dr. Crawford met with some of the alumni at a luncheon in which plans were talked over for the annual meeting of the branch association in New York. The probability is that this meeting or dinner will be held November 18, at the Aldine Club, in New York City.

On Wednesday the president represented Allegheny College at the opening of the new graduate school buildings at Princeton University. While there he met the Allegheny men in that school and brings back gratifying reports of their work. Out of the 90 in the graduate department five are from Allegheny one of whom, Mr. Harley N. Gould, '10, was an officer of the day. Many greetings were sent to Dr. Smith, who came to Allegheny this fall from Princeton, by members of the faculty and others.

MODERN PROBLEMS CLUB ORGANIZED

The first meeting of the Modern Problems Club for the purpose of reorganizing for the ensuing year, was held last Friday evening in the Phi Kappa Psi house. A large proportion of the members were present and joined in discussing the plans for the coming year. This year's president, B. R. Beisel, '14, was in the chair. After appointing a number of committees to carry on the work of the club, the members talked over plans for securing a number of prominent men of the vicinity to speak at the meetings. Proceedings were set on foot in hopes of obtaining speeches from Judge Prather, ex-Judge Thomas, Mr. A. M. Fuller and others. There was also some talk of co-operating in active work with the Associated Charities. The meeting was adjourned early in the evening after a profitable session.

The Modern Problems Club was founded several years ago as a chapter of the Intercollegiate Civic League; chapters of this organization being in all the leading colleges and universities of the United States. The object of the organization is to take an active interest in all the problems of the day, national and otherwise. As will be seen in the preceding paragraph, men prominent in political affairs and social reforms speak before the members. The membership is composed entirely of Juniors and Seniors and those men are taken who are most interested in the problems of life today. The club is fostered by the History department and with the active cooperation of Drs. Smith and Russell will undoubtedly have a very prosperous year.

SENIOR THESES.

Notice of the faculty requirements for Senior theses and orations has been posted. During the year all Seniors must present two papers; if candidate for the degree of A. B., a thesis and an oration; if a candidate for a B. S. degree, two theses. If the B. S. student desires to become eligible for a place on the commencement program, he shall prepare a thesis and an oration. After subjects have been chosen the papers will be prepared under the direction of the members of the faculty under whose department the subject properly belongs. The last date for submitting the subjects chosen for the first semester is the first Wednesday of November, and for the second semester the first Wednesday in March. Completed papers must be presented not later than the second Wednesday in January and the last Wednesday in April.

Theses shall contain not less than two thousand words and orations not less than fifteen hundred nor more than two thousand words. The orations will be read and graded by the heads of the departments of English and Oratory.

MISSION STUDY BEGINS.

The regular year's work of the Mission Study committees of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. will start with the first meeting of the year, next Thursday evening, in the Oratory of the Chapel. Dr. Cobern, who is to have charge of the work for the course, will give a survey of the field outlined for study. The book upon which Dr. Cobern's lectures are to be based is "Islam—A Challenge of Faith," by Doctor William Zwemer, who has spent twelve years as a missionary in Arabia and with whom Dr. Cobern travelled a part of last year.

There will be seven lectures in the course and at least one is to be illustrated with stereopticon views which Doctor Cobern himself made while abroad. With Doctor Cobern's intimate and personal knowledge of the conditions of which he speaks, and his personal friendship with the author of the book to be used, the lectures offered will be of such value and interest that no college man or woman can afford to miss the opportunity of hearing them.

GLEE CLUB PLANS.

The Glee Club under the excellent direction of Professor Manville and Leader Rose is rapidly rounding into shape. Sixteen of last year's men are back, thus leaving vacancies for but eight men; and since there are twenty-six new men who are anxious to fill these vacancies, it is evident that competition will be close and that the choosing of the fortunate men is very difficult.

Professor Manville declares that never has he had such fine material for the club and as a consequence is exceedingly loath to part with any of it. A movement is on foot to increase the size of the club through the support of the college and thus to remove the necessity of losing the better part of the material. Manager Graham has already secured several dates and has more in view so that all indications point to an unusually full program of concerts.

Mr. Ballinger is of the class of 1911 and Mrs. Ballinger of the class of 1912, being members of the Phi Gamma Delta and Alpha Chi Omega fraternities, respectively. The evening was spent in singing songs and other social diversions. Light refreshments were served.

Mr. Paul Sturtevant, '99, chairman of the committee that has charge of arrangements for the pageant on the occasion of the One Hundredth Anniversary next year spent an hour with the president last week going over general plans of the committee and outlining the program that is proposed. Mr. Sturtevant is filled with enthusiasm over the matter and will undoubtedly push it to a very successful culmination. While in the east President Crawford consulted a number of prominent educators in regard to the One Hundredth Anniversary and in every case there was shown a fine willingness to cooperate and help make the event a success.

C. C. Hasely, '12, for the last two years teacher of chemistry in the New Castle High School, recently resigned that position to accept another as instructor at New York University. F. O. Amon, '12, and J. C. Blucher, '13, both received fellowships in the same institution.

Miss Vivian Diefenderfer, '17, spent Sunday at her home in Conneaut, O.

Miss June Shires, '12, was the dinner guest of Miss Ethel Gealey, '15, Saturday.

Mrs. Frances Carroll spent the week-end with her daughter, Miss Mary Carroll, '16.

Miss Grace Thomas, '09, was the dinner guest of Miss Linda Holt, '14, on Saturday evening.

The Sophomore members of Kappa Alpha Theta entertained their friends Saturday evening, at Saegertown.

Mrs. R. K. Horn, of Butler, spent Tuesday and Wednesday at the Hall, the guest of Miss Margaret Seitz, '14.

Miss Dorothy Cleveland and Miss Marion Gibbon were the week-end guests of the former's sister, Miss Rachel Cleveland, '17.

Miss Cosette Whittaker, ex-'13, of Cochranton, spent the latter part of the week at the Hall, the guest of Miss Ada Thompson, '14.

Saturday evening the members of Kappa Alpha Theta entertained the active chapter of Alpha Chi Omega, informally, in their fraternity rooms.

The active chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta entertained their friends at a Hallowe'en party, Saturday evening, at the home of Miss Nellie Roberts, '16.

Miss Grace Broadhurst, of Brooklyn, New York, the grand registrar of the Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity, was a recent guest of the local chapter.

The Misses Mary Abrams and Elizabeth Metcalf, '12, of Jamestown, New York, were the week-end guests of the former's sister, Miss Dorothea Abrams, '15.

On Tuesday afternoon the local chapter of Alpha Chi Omega tendered a reception to the faculty ladies, alumnae, mothers and Seniors of the various fraternities.

The topic of the Sunday evening meeting of the Young Woman's Christian Association was "Echoes from Eaglesmere." Miss Mary Bardall, '14, the leader, gave a very enthusiastic talk on the helpfulness of the Summer Conference held at Eaglesmere. Miss Muza Anchors, '14, told how the meetings were conducted at the conference. Miss Rose Platt, '15, and Miss Dorothea Abrams, '15, also spoke about some of the speakers, and of the recreations which were enjoyed. A special feature of the meeting was a piano solo by Miss Genevieve Scott, '17.

The University of Rochester has begun the construction of two new buildings for the co-eds, which will provide facilities for them on a par with those afforded the men.

submitted to the Board, including the regularity and consistency with which each competitor shall have worked from month to month.

(b) The quantity of the printed matter as shown in the marked files handed over by the editor-in-chief.

(c) The quality of all material submitted, taking into account literary excellence, attention to mechanical details, and the amount of revision required.

The editorial board so chosen shall take office at the beginning of the next college year, and continue in office throughout the school year. The competition committee shall be the court of last appeal in any dispute which may occur, and shall fill vacancies which may occur from time to time, with the exception of the position of editor-in-chief. In the case of a vacancy in the position of editor-in-chief, the associate editor shall take the position of editor-in-chief automatically, and the duties of that office shall devolve upon him.

Sec. 3. The associate editor shall take the entire responsibility for at least one issue during the year.

Article V. Competition on the part of any competitor shall be considered to have taken place when that competitor shall have contributed not less than two contributions.

Article VI. The foregoing articles may be amended by a two-thirds vote of the College Council, notice of such proposed amendment having been given in writing at least one week before it is voted upon.

Passed by the College Council, October 24, 1913.

GERMAN CLUB RECEPTION.

The reception given by the German Club for the students doing advanced work in the German department was a very well attended event. About one hundred of those interested in German gathered together in the club room in Bentley Hall on last Tuesday evening.

The guests were received by Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Mulfinger, Prof. M. H. Dewey and Clair Sweetland, '14, president of the club. Following a pleasant social half-hour and the serving of refreshments, a delightful program was rendered. After a short address of welcome by Mr. Sweetland, Mr. R. H. Downing, '15, rendered two solos in German to the great delight of those present.

Dr. G. A. Mulfinger, professor of German, then proceeded with the regular address of the evening, which was in English, although all the regular German Club meetings are conducted in German. The subject of Dr. Mulfinger's address was "The Visit of Charles Sealsfield and Nicholaus Lenau to America." It was made especially interesting by the fact that these famous Austrian and German poets spent the greater part of their visit in the United States in the western part of Pennsylvania.

The ideas which these men got from this country in the year 1830, and thereabouts, were most interestingly described in the address of the evening. Dr. Mulfinger then told about Lenau's visit to Pittsburg and the vicinity, especially bringing out the fact that the renowned foreigner was struck by the beauty of the Allegheny Valley, as it reminded him very much of his home in the Fatherland.

The whole evening proved to be most entertaining and instructive to those present and all returned home thinking of the German Club members as royal entertainers.

EXTRA ANNOUNCEMENT.

Arrangements have finally been concluded for the appearance of Donald Robertson and his famous Drama Players at the Academy of Music on Saturday, November 1, when they will present Moliere's greatest comedy, "THE LEARNED LADIES," which proved the hit of the season last year both in New York and Chicago. Sale of seats will open Tuesday, Oct. 28, but orders sent in advance will be filed in the order of their receipt.

Although this is an unusual attraction there will be no advance in the regular seat prices. Free list entirely abolished.
