"Who's Who" In American Universities Acknowledges Nine Allegheny Seniors

Nine senior students have been chosen this week by the Student Affairs Committee to represent the college in the Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges listings.

The men and women selected for this coveted honor are Lynne Blanning, Anne Bowden, Larry Griggs, Marilyn Mills, Bob Pierce, Jim Pomroy, Dawn Taft, Hannah Rutter, and Carolyn Whyman.

The nine candidates were chosen by the joint faculty-administration-student committee on the basis of overall excellence and sincerity in scholarship. Leadership and participation in both academic and extra-curricular activities as well as citizenship and service to the school were weighed by the committee in making the selections.

Miss Blanning, present president of AWS, is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta and a past Junior Advisor and Cwen. Miss Bowden, an Independent Woman, is a former Cwen, Philo Franklin president, a member of this spring's "Shake Hands with the Clown" Playshop show, and has been on the Dean's list for five semesters.

Griggs is a member of The New Group, a former student counselor, the chairman of the NSA Sub-committee on Human Relations and has made the Dean's list three semesters. Miss Mills is a member of the fall Playshop production "Of Thee I Sing", the Allegheny Singers, the Sinfonietta and the Independent group and has made the Dean's list five times.

Red Cross Leaves Hill With 92 Blood Pints

Last Thursday, October 27, the Red Cross Bloodmobile received 92 pints of blood from Allegheny students. The Bloodmobile's headquarters were set up at Cochran Hall from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Nearly 200 students volunteered to donate blood, but over one half of them were rejected because they lacked the consent of their parents. A new regulation requires all students between the ages of 18 and 21 to have parental permission before giving blood. Only six were turned away because of medical reasons. Although the quota of 150 pints was not met, Red Cross officials were pleased with the response of the students.

Jim Duratz, assisted by Sylvia Anderson and Sonia Yokum, headed the group of forty students who volunteered for such jobs as registering the donors and canteen service.

Jim Duratz's committee will award a trophy to the group having the highest percentage of donors. Last year this trophy was awarded to the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity. This year's results will be announced by The Campus in the near future.

The Skyline of New York with United Nations Headquarters predominate, will be transplanted to Allegheny's campus in spirit this weekend, as ten colleges participate in the International Relations Club's Model UN Security Council Meeting.

10 College Delegations Arrive Here For Model United Nations Meeting

by Trudy Bauer

Representatives from the International Relations Clubs of ten colleges and universities will be on campus Friday and Saturday of this week to attend the model United Nations Security Council held here. This event is sponsored by Allegheny's IRC.

Each school will represent a member nation of the Council. The schools and their respective countries include Pennsylvania State University, Nationalist China; Seton Hill, France; University of Pittsburgh, USSR; University of Pennsylvania, United Kingdom; Bucknell University, United States; Lehigh University, Brazil; Dickenson College, New Zealand; Slippery Rock State Teachers' College, Iran; Pennsylvania College for Women, Turkey; Wilson College, Peru; and Allegheny, Belgium.

The delegates will debate from the positions of the countries they represent, and their stands will not necessarily reflect their own opinions. The meeting and discussion will follow the procedure used in the United Nations.

Bob Isherwood, Allegheny's chief delegate to the Council, will be chairman of the opening session tomorrow evening from 8 to 11 p.m. The chairmen for the other sessions, held Saturday from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., will be elected.

Visitors Welcome

As in the United Nations, visitors are welcome to come in and out as they please during any or all of the sessions and to stay as long as they like, be it even just between classes.

IRC president Larry Griggs emphasized that "the main reason Allegheny College was nominated by the club last year to be host college was to give all of Allegheny's students the opportunity to participate in the Model Security Council, watch its operation, and listen to the debate on world disarmament.

In addition to the sessions a banquet has been planned. Channing Lien, head of the political science department of Pennsylvania College for Women, will speak on an aspect of disarmament to delegates and Allegheny IRC members.

Personal Solicitations End Tomorrow Night

Tomorrow night concludes the Fund Drive's personal solicitation campaign, the end of the committee's week-long attempt to aid the foreign student program without the traditional high pressure sales technique.

"To us a little, to them so much" is the theme of this appeal to the students, which began earlier in the week when Drive representatives handed out the brochure and donation envelopes. By tomorrow night these envelopes should be handed back to AWS, AUC and frosh reps.

United States Senator James Duff pulls no punches as he gives vent to Republican policies. As pictured here when he was campaigning in 1950, tonight at the Eagles' Auditorium Senator Duff will be in the political spotlight plugging for the local GOP candidates.

Senator James Duff Speaks Tonight To Local Republicans In Eagles' Hall

by Bill Meyer

With election day but five days away, politicians are teeing off with final political promises and predictions as local constituents weigh the pressing issues and competing candidates. Big names enter the Crawford County scene tonight as US Senator James Duff addresses local Republican supporters at the Eagles' Auditorium.

County and municipal GOP candidates will be on the platform with the former Pennsylvania governor to expound the merits of their candidates and platform. Local entertainers will also add lighter moments for the assembled Republicans at the Eagles' Auditorium, 868 Water Street near Walnut Street at 8:30 p.m. tonight.

Free Tickets

According to Republican County Chairman Robert F. Kent, Senator Duff will deliver his campaign remarks at 9:30 p.m. after arriving here from a similar political rally at Erie earlier in the evening. Free tickets for tonight's meeting, he said, can be obtained at the GOP headquarters opposite the Post Office or at the hall tonight.

Duff is presently serving his last year as a US Senator on the term to which he was elected in 1950. According to the political weather vanes Senator Duff will be a candidate for reelection to his present seat in the Senate next fall.

Duff Beating Drums

Senator Duff this fall has been beating the drums from one end of the Commonwealth to the other in order to strengthen the party on the county and local level. The veteran Republican campaigner was one of the original backers of President Eisenhower for the '52 Presidential (Continued on page 5)

"Teshuropt!"

CADET NOTICE 3 November 1955

As of 0800 hours all AFROTC I, II, III, IV Cadet Students will be required to think creatively when in uniform. Demerits will be issued to slinkers.

Signed,
Professor of Air Science and Tactics

Lt. Norgle: "Teshuropt! Men, today we are going to practice problem solving. There is a need for problem solving techniques, because oftentimes people have problems. Any questions?" (None) "Very well, first I might say that this comes by way of an executive decree delivered overland on a Yak from the Most Executive One, The Top Link, Most Shining Steel."

Cadet Peel: "How we gonna think constrictively?"

Lt. Norgle: (jumping up and down) "Excellent! Good question! Très Bien, as the Limeys say. (I have some pictures from over these, and some shots of East Sandusky I'll show you if you're real good.) Why, we're going to play a little game. I'm going to pass around this H-bomb. I want you to finger it, then make up some creative, constructive thoughts. Ready? set? — GO!"

Cadet Bentley: "What happens if we fail?"

Lt. Norgle: (with head stuck in brief case) "That isn't covered in this memo. I guess you'll have to stand at the head of the class, hold up the H-bomb, and whistle the alma mater."

Class: "Ha-ha!"

Lt. Norgle: "For that you get a quiz."

1. (T or F) An oven baked reciprocal engine will rotate (328#, 8SF65, or 70*? times) a foot if it is flying backwards in a squall?
2. (mulnerable choice) The next war will break out in Tasmania, East Sandusky, or Surface Tension?
3. Bombs are made from (sand, lollypops, or chrome dust)?

Cadet Mill, J. S., Jr.: "This is silly. How come this course is required?"

Lt. Norgle: "Because it's good for you, like muskmellon juice before breakfast."

Cadet Mill: "How come it isn't voluntary then? Why can't you elect it if you want?"

Cadet Bently: "It seems to me that if you're going to require us to take this course, you ought to require courses like philosophy, chemistry, economics, art . . ."

Cadet Mill: "What special priority do you have over the whole college?"

Cadet Bently: "What do we really learn here?"

Lt. Norgle: "This course MUST be required, and I think we should have even more." (jumping on desk) "This course should be made compulsory for 4 years."

Class: Hooray! Yippee!

Lt. Norgle: (kicking foot through board) "Economics should be required."

Class: Rah-Rah!

Lt. Norgle: (ripping down maps) "Yes, and math." (stomps on hat) "and physical education" (collapses on desk) "I have the answer — make em all required!"

Class: "He's tired out, someone give him a drink of ditto fluid."

Lt. Norgle: "I'm all right—it's just that these group discussions take a lot out of a person."

Cadet Mill: "Why doesn't the Administration do something?"

Cadet Bentley: "Why doesn't the A.U.C. do something?"

Cadet Mill: "Let's put it to a referendum?"

Lt. Norgle: "Wait! Peace, Ho! What right have you to decide? If you had your choice, we wouldn't have to drink muskmellon juice before breakfast."

Absolutists Beware

Improving college communications involves much more than "making a horse drink when he is presented with water" or "winning agreement" as Dr. Knights would suggest. Many of his points are well taken, but they are presented in a caustic manner, more intent on doing battle than offering constructive suggestions.

It would aid greatly in improving communication at Allegheny if faculty and students would meet in a common forum, rather than side with factions, intent more on defending to the last the status quo, than improving and advancing their own positions and those of the college.

One reason we split into factions is because we "instantly . . . accept and applaud ideas or procedures suggested by some of our Thinkers" rather than think for ourselves.

Our communication problems are complex; it is wrong to reduce them into Black and White. It is equally wrong to reach conclusions that "This man is a Relativist," or "this one is an Absolutist." Better communication involves a common quest and a mutual, sincere concern for problems and a similar approach in trying to find answers to those that confront us. For the world is not Black and/or White; there is a gray area, the unknown and the changing, in every problem. We need not look for Absolutes and reduce the totality of existence into patterns, systems, and formulas. There is still room for the person who says simply "I don't know." Part of an approach to many of our problems might rest in the adage "He who knows not, and knows that he knows not, is a wise man."

Trix at the Flix

by Monte Levitt

Nov. 3 (Park) Kiss Me Deadly
With Ralph Meeker and Cloris Leachman.

Plenty of mugging, slugging, and hugging.

Nov. 4-7 (Academy) Ulysses

Six writers (including Ben Hecht and Irwin Shaw) have done their best to make Homer's Odyssey palatable to modern audiences. The result is surprisingly good. The movie has a half-real, half-mystical quality as it reveals Ulysses' encounters with the seductive Circe, that fatal song of the Sirens, and the one-eyed monster Cyclops. An Italian - French - American production, with English dubbed in the sound track and distracting at times.

With Kirk Douglas, Silvana Mangano, Rossana Podesta, and Anthony Quinn. In color.

An entertaining film, provided you don't expect to see Homer intact.

Nov. 4-8 (Park) The Tall Men

With Clark Gable and Jane Russell.

A movie with a generous large screen, a generous number of Indians (1,500) and cattle (4,000), and Jane Russell.

Nov. 8-10 (Academy) Svengali

A chronicle of Victorian life based on George de Maurier's 1894 novel Trilby. An English production, it tells the story of a beautiful artist's model (Hildegard Neff) who falls under the spell of the hypnotist Svengali and as a result becomes a famous opera singer.

With Hildegard Neff, Donald Wolfelt, and the voice of Elizabeth Schwarzkopf. In Eastman Color.

A slightly ungainly—but comfortable—Victorian chair without too much stuffing.

Nov. 9 (Park) Land of Fury

With Jack Hawkins and Glynis Johns.

A J. Arthur Rank Western laid in New Zealand with Maoris replacing Indians.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

The editorial "Speak Louder" in The Campus for October 27 seems to highlight the "problem of communication only as another glaring example of the difficulty it attacks." Disorganized, ambiguous, erroneous, it communicates to me only "confusion worse confounded." It does not even define the problem for which it proposes solutions!

Yet we do have a problem of communication at Allegheny — and at present this problem has three aspects. One of these is as old as the printed word and as widespread as mankind. It is the problem of getting people to read information made easily available to them — making a horse drink when he is presented with water. For example, the fine for late registration mentioned in the editorial is clearly stated on page 52 of the current issue of the college Catalogue, available to every student, but apparently not read. The solution to this phase of the problem can only be individual. It inheres in an intelligent desire to know how things are done and sufficient energy to seek the answers. Individuals not moved by these impulses deserve no better than to be caught in a confusion which is theirs alone.

The second aspect of our communication problem is recent in origin and narrow in implication. It is the appearance in campus discussions during the last few years, of a definition of "communication" which makes that word denote "winning agreement" to everything said or written. This is a highly unusual meaning for this word — the language has other, better words for "developing conviction" or "selling an idea". Nevertheless, at present for example, the neglect of col-

Faculty Profile

Mr. Frank S. Badger, new mathematics professor at Allegheny, is from Cleveland, Ohio. He lives at Tarbell and is the supervisor of Cochran dining hall.

For his undergraduate work, Mr. Badger attended Kent State University in Ohio, and then went to Western Reserve in Cleveland for his Master's Degree. While attending Western Reserve, Mr. Badger taught mathematics and physics at State School, a preparatory school in Cleveland. Now he is working on his doctorate from the University of Pittsburgh and Virginia Polytechnical Institute.

Frank S. Badger

Upon graduation from Western Reserve, Mr. Badger taught math and physics at Rock Creek High School in Ohio. Then he went to Alliance College where he was Dean of Students and taught mathematics. Mr. Badger taught two years at Alliance, then he served in the Army for 2 years, returning to Alliance where he taught for 3 more years before coming to Allegheny. Dean McCracken and Mr. Badger have been good friends for 5 or 6 years as they exchanged ideas and views at conventions for Deans of Students.

Several publications on instrumentation, contamination, and decontamination of radioactive materials have been written by Mr. Badger. This work was done on the design of experiments and analysis of data on nuclear explosion.

While at Kent State University, Mr. Badger played tennis and was a member of Phi Kappa Xi, honorary science fraternity. He is interested in baseball and professional football and also does a lot of reading. Mr. Badger says that Allegheny does not seem new to him as he has been here often to attend sports events when he was at Alliance College.

Take Note

Ford Chapel Speaker

"The World Proclaims Their Enmity" is the subject of Dr. Henry F. Pommer's sermon to be delivered Sunday at 11:00 a.m. in Ford Memorial Chapel. The Chapel Choir, under the direction of W. S. Wright North, will sing G. Faure's "Ave Verum." Mr. Robert Lynn is the Chapel Organist.

Newman Club Meeting

There will be a Newman Club meeting Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the small dining room of the College Union. All Catholic students are cordially invited to attend.

Socrates Club

Dean Ross, Dean Knights, and Dean McCracken will lead Sunday's Socrates Club discussion at 8:15 in the College Union. The topic is "What is the Role of the College Administrator?" Students and faculty are invited to attend and participate in the discussion.

Chamber Music Tonight

Allegheny College will offer the first of three chamber music concerts tonight at 8:15 p.m. in the Ford Memorial Chapel. The group of five artists will be directed by Dr. Herbert Neurath, Allegheny professor of music.

There is no admission charge, and the public is invited.

Joining Dr. Neurath will be Robert Lynn, pianist; Robert Tragler, of Erie, violin; Frederick Rein-kraut, of Pittsburgh, violinist; Lilly Neurath, cellist. Dr. Neurath will play the violin and direct. The program will consist of Joseph Haydn's String Quartet in D major ("The Frog"), Three Nocturnes by Bloch, and a Quartet for piano and strings, in A major by Antonin Dvorak.

French Club Meeting

The French Club will hold a meeting Tuesday, at 7:15 p.m. in Miss Hanson's apartment at Cal-lisch Hall. The theme of the meeting, "An American in Paris", will be carried out by showing slides and pictures. An open discussion will follow.

Christian Conference

The Student Christian Movement fall conference will be held at Bousson on Saturday and Sunday, November 12 and 13. All faculty and students are welcome to attend.

The conference theme is "But Now I Am . . . ?" which springs from the Bible passage, ". . . when I became a man, I put away childish things." The group will endeavor to find what is necessary to maturely accept Christianity.

Speakers leading discussions will be Dr. Henry Pommer, English department, and Gayraud Wilmore of the S.C.M. staff.

Interested persons contact Don Skinner at the College Union. A.C.A. will pay half of the $2.50 weekend fee. Registration blanks should be turned in to Skinner by tomorrow.

"Antigone" Tryouts

Tryouts for Jean Anouilh's "Antigone" will be held in Room 15 of Arter Hall, tonight from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m., Friday from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m., and Monday from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. and 8:00 to 10:00 p.m.

The casting will require four women and eight men. The performances will run from December 7th to the 10th.

Recent Graduates — Culberson, Lowrie Receive Benefits From Beaty Award

by Fred Adams

The best that European education offers has been the workshop for two recent Allegheny graduates. George Culberson, '54, and Arthur L. Lowrie, '55, have used the Milton Jackson Beaty Memorial Scholarship Award for the advancement of future careers in the United States Foreign Service. Two years ago this award was established to encourage international study for Allegheny students.

Culberson enrolled at the Institute of International Studies at Geneva in October, 1954. There for the first six weeks students are permitted to attend any and all classes which interest them. At the end of that time the student must make a choice of subjects to be studied. Culberson attended several political economy classes which were all conducted in French.

At Geneva the emphasis is on individual research permitting thesis work without interruptions. While there Culberson wrote a paper on the subject, "The Accomplishments of the First Two Years of the Coal and Steel Community—A Study in Supernational Organization." This paper was delivered before a seminar of fellow students in the world famous Swiss city.

For living accommodations, Culberson chose to live at an international student house in Geneva, housing 36 students representing 18 nations including Pakistan, India, and Viet Nam. Under these arrangements, a student is able to gain an intimate knowledge of many viewpoints.

Bologna Center

Professor Wayne R. Merrick, Falk Foundation Co-Ordinator, informed The Campus reporter that Culberson was one of 11 students selected for admission to the newly opened John Hopkins Bologna Center in Bologna, Italy for his second semester in Europe last spring. The Center was honored to have present at the opening ceremony, United States Ambassador to Italy, Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce. In Time Magazine of March 7, 1955, Mrs. Luce, first woman ambassador to Italy, was quoted as saying, "America is not here to add something to Bologna's centuries old tradition . . . but to gain strength from it in a specialized field."

The Center is concerned with the economic and political problems of France, Germany, Italy and Austria. These matters were studied by the first students at the Bologna Center who consisted of 5 Americans, 2 Italians, 2 Frenchmen and 2 Austrians.

See next week's Campus for the procedures of how you can apply for the Milton Jackson Beaty Award for study in international relations.

Unique Experience

Culberson reports the students were fortunate in receiving living accommodations at a modern and quite swank dormitory recently built for the high calibre students attending the program. He revealed that he was satisfied in having been able to associate with these people and gaining a vast assortment of facts on international affairs through the same close association which he had experienced at Geneva.

When he left this past June, Culberson was one of the three persons in the world with a certificate from the Bologna Center.

Summer Tour

During the past summer, he went to Venice, Vienna, Salzburg, Tours, Orleans, and Paris among other cities. On this personal tour, he entered many political discussions with European natives.

At the present time Culberson is studying for his master's degree at the John Hopkins School for Advanced Study in Washington, D.C.

1955 Award Winner

June graduate Arthur Lowrie, the 1955 Award winner, spent his summer learning to speak French by living with a French family. There he was also able to gain some knowledge of European affairs since an Italian and two Swedes lived with the French family.

Lowrie passed the U.S. Foreign Service written examination while in London last June and plans to take the oral examination this winter. He is currently enrolled for the "Licencee's sciences politiques" at the Graduate Institute of International Studies and the University of Geneva.

For those students interested in writing to Lowrie concerning study in Europe in the Milton Jackson Beaty program, his address is: Arthur L. Lowrie, Hotel Pension Verly, 2 rue Micheli du Crest, Geneva, Switzerland.

Lauren Putnam Wins Pi Gamma Mu Award

Senior Lauren Putnam was presented with the annual Scholarship Award at the first meeting of Pi Gamma Mu, the National Social Science Honor Society. She had the highest average in the field of social sciences, according to Dr. Henry Muller, Secretary-Treasurer of the local chapter.

For students to qualify for the honor society they must meet the following three requirements: they must have six semesters of academic work on their scholastic record, they must be majoring in one of the four social science departments: economics, history, political science, or sociology, they must have an average of 87, a minimum of fifteen hours in their chosen department of the social sciences.

Pins 'n Sins

It looks like Hallowe'en was a howling success at Allegheny. It managed to scare up all kinds of pinnings, at any rate! Congratulations to Carol Mason and Bill Furrer (Pitt '55), Bob Barkalow and Pat Thomas (Freehold, N.J.), Gil Dick and Rhoda Teperberg (Bronx, N.Y.), Jay Schwartz and Marion Klein (Flushing, N.Y.), Harvey Soff and Aggie Petruso, Sue Hungerford and John Bair ('55). Best wishes to Dick Birdsall and Priscilla Rogers (Swathmore), who are engaged. We may be a little late on some of these, but, heh heh, it's not really an oversight. Just thought we'd save a few in case things lagged, heh.

The dark, empty, echoing dorms added to the eerie Hallowe'en atmosphere last weekend. This was partially due to the numerous holiday festivities. The Delts had a party where they elected ——— as "Witch of the Week."

Hearty congratulations, ———, you're off to a glorious start! It was spirit lifting to see so many ghouls congregated at the Union Friday night.

In the proper spirit of things, several hundred Alleghenians deserted the campus on Friday for the Cornell Fall Parties. There seems to be an Ivy League trend this year. Just as an example, here's a little note that was sent by three of our coeds to a fraternity at one of the big men's colleges 'Down East.'

October 8, 1955

Dear Betas,

We are three lonely juniors at Allegheny and would like to correspond with the three handsomest boys (who are not pinned) in your house.

We are intelligent and attractive and so would appreciate your not giving us closet cases.

Sherry Forbes—likes parties. She is an English major.

Kim Balish—she is a Soc major and likes parties and bridge.

Carolyn Collins — was Sophomore Charm Queen, likes music and good books.

Hoping to hear from you soon—see you in Kooglin!

S. Forbes, 232 Brooks Hall
K. Balish, 219 Brooks Hall
C. Collins, 233 Brooks Hall

Well!!! Need we say more about the Sophomore-Junior Slump?!

Overheard at the Poverty Ball:

Bob Deutch: "Do you have a light?"

"No."

Bob Deutch: "Hmm. Obviously a Phi Gam."

And that winds up another week of sleuthing.

Adolph

Schwartz Directs Play "Magic Stove" For His Senior Drama Comprehensive

by Paul Yurica

Too often at Allegheny many meaningless hours are spent in what appears an endless task, the creating of a senior project. More often, the student finds the value of the experience negligible. Indeed, it's a rare occasion when there's an exception to the rule, and it was enlightening to learn of one now being pursued in the drama department.

In what he terms "an experiment in the culmination of the practical sides of the theater,"

Ernie Schwarz, a drama major, is currently directing the "Magic Stove," in fulfillment of his senior comprehensive. The "Magic Stove," a children's play, is being produced in collaboration with the drama department. The play serves as one of the departments sources of income and is scheduled for an appearance at the Playshop before touring elementary schools in the Meadville vicinity.

Play Selection Problems

A major problem for Ernie was the selection of the play. Besides being confined to a limited budget, with respect to royalties and equipment, he chose the show on its suitability for technical facilities available when touring. Special lighting effects were avoided along with large burdensome pieces of scenery. The "Magic Stove", contains no more than ten actors as only two cars can be used for traveling purposes.

Working closely with his advisor, Ernie designed the set and cast the show. Included in his cast are: Gene Delaney, Joe Ragno, Alice Gault, Joan Collins, Janet Hawk, Jan Waldinger, Jim Smith, Ed Reiskind, Sander Romick and Phil Klukoff. Aside from being a senior project, this proves a valuable extra-curricular activity for the non-drama majors. Ernie feels that this play must provide a creative outlet for the student actors as well as himself.

The project in its entirety has proved meaningful since it demands that Ernie employ the basic knowledge of all phases of the theater. He plans to present the finished product later this month in the Playshop.

Unbeaten Bethany Dumps Gators 27-13; Max Homer's Passing Arm Sparks Bisons

by Don McArdle, Football Team Co-Captain

Undefeated Bethany College, led by the passing and running of quarterback Max Homer, overcame a strong Allegheny ground attack to defeat the Gator eleven 27-13 last Saturday afternoon before a sparse crowd of about 1500 at College Field.

Homer, the leading small college passer in the country, scored two touchdowns and passed for two more as the Bisons from West Virginia handed the Gators their fourth loss of the season. Although Allegheny's running attack was at its peak, gaining 275 yards to Bethany's 133, it was Homer who completed 6 of his 15 attempts for 120 yards, that proved to be the difference.

Jim Villa who gained 79 yards in 18 tries for a 4.1 average and Captain Don Barron who gained 74 yards in 6 carries for a 12.3 average were the big guns in a Gator attack that seemed to bog down in the second half. Villa, who scored the first Allegheny touchdown, was prevented from gaining over 100 yards for the third consecutive week by a knee injury that forced him to the sidelines late in the third quarter. Reserve halfback Frank Maldonado raced 55 yards around end in the last quarter for the other Gator score.

Résumé of game by periods:

FIRST QUARTER: In probably the outstanding run of the game, Don Barron, on the first play from scrimmage, ran 49 yards to the Bethany 28 before he was pulled down from behind. Villa bulled his way up the middle for 8 yards and Smith made a first down on the Bethany 16. Smith fumbled on the next play and Bethany recovered on its own 15 yard line. After an exchange of punts Homer passed eight yards to halfback Gary Gaydick who took it on the Allegheny 30 and went all the way. Irvine's conversion was good. During the rest of the quarter the Gators ground out 8 first downs to none for the opposition and the quarter ended, Bethany 7, Allegheny 0.

SECOND QUARTER: The combination of Villa, Barron and Smith moved the ball 73 yards to the Bethany one. Villa plunged over and Biggam added the extra point. The Gator kickoff and three Homer passes helped the Bisons move the ball from their own 32 to the Gator one where Homer then scored on a quarterback keep play. Irvine converted and the half ended Bethany 14, Allegheny 7.

THIRD QUARTER: Homer passed 45 yards to end Andy Urbanic who was finally brought down on the Allegheny one yard line. Homer attempted to sneak over but was hit by the middle of the Gator line and fumbled. Omar Light recovered to prevent a score but eight plays later Allegheny was forced to punt. Homer took the kick on the fifty, ran it back to the Allegheny 30 and two plays later jaunted 17 yards for another six points. Irvine converted for the third time. After several punt exchanges, Frederickson intercepted a Strickland pass and ran it back to the Allegheny 34. Three plays later the period ended with Bethany in possession on the 19. Score: Bethany 21, Allegheny 7.

FOURTH QUARTER: On the third play of the period, Homer passed fifteen yards to Gaydick who took it on the three and stepped into the end zone. Irvine missed his first conversion in eleven attempts. Maldonado took the kickoff on his own 15 and ran it back to the 34. Freshman Bill Baker carried it 11 yards to the 45 where Maldonado raced around end 55 yards for the final score of the game. Strickland's kick was blocked and the game finally ended, Bethany 27, Allegheny 13.

Yeomen Blank Gator Dribblers 6-0; Weak Defense Plagues Hansonmen

by Dal Matthews

Allegheny booters suffered their fourth setback in six outings Saturday at Oberlin, 6-0. The Yeomen from Oberlin scored in every period and became the third team to blank the Gators this season.

The first two Oberlin goals were scored by Allegheny players strange as it may seem. The first goal Oberlin scored was off the foot of fullback Art Hewitt. The second goal was rebounded off center halfback Dick Stewart.

INTRAMURALS

The Phi Gams literally edged the Deltas out of second place in the currently concluded intramural football competition with a dramatic sudden-death overtime win.

The regulation game ended in a scoreless deadlock forcing play into a sudden death period. Each team had four downs alternately on each play. The team deepest in his opponent's territory after the fourth down was the winner.

Dal Matthews took an end run deep into Delt territory on the Fiji last down, and held the Deltas on their last play about one yard inside their own territory.

Swimming Club Adds Eleven New Members

Terrapins, the women's synchronized swimming club has added 11 new members to its organization as a result of the tryouts held earlier last month.

Judy Beal, Marion Hanna, Nancy Hamberger, Mary Christner, Kerin Clevenger, Harriette Burns, Katherine Ellis, Carol Christian, Nancy Moyers, Mary Rice, and Alice Sturgeon are the recently initiated members of the club.

Veterans from last year and returning this year are Betsy Beeson, Barbara Blackmore, Ann Braman, Judy Jones, Rosie Langford, Betsy Mountsier, Jean Pike, Lee Price, Sally Jo Reynolds, Sue Reiber, and Sally Secor.

Under the direction of Miss Kirk, the Terrapins have been working on various techniques in water ballet swimming to benefit the new members. Soon they will begin working on routines for their annual aqua presentation to be held in the early spring. The girls practice on Tuesday nights from 7:15 to 9:15 in the Montgomery Pool.

Officers of this year's club are Sally Secor, president; Barbara Blackmore, vice president; and Sue Reiber, secretary-treasurer.

A hard charging Yeomen team dominated play the entire afternoon. Their sharp passing in Allegheny territory harrassed the Gators' defense continually. The third goal of the afternoon was scored in the second period in one of Oberlin's attacks on a twenty-yard boot.

The Gators found the going rough in the second half also, and their total offensive tries at the Oberlin goal were seven. The weakness of the offense proved to be a big factor, as the Yeomen were able to allow their goalie to leave his goal position and help return the ball to the offensive men. A great burden was also placed on the defense. With the absence of Dobson and Nagle in the backfield, and the necessity of moving regular fullback Bob Eighme to a halfback position, an even greater burden was placed on the defense.

With the aid of the defensive men in Allegheny territory, Oberlin scored their fourth and fifth goals in the third period. This offensive maneuver enabled Oberlin to have more men in scoring position and also more men for the Allegheny defense to cover. The Yeomen added their sixth and final goal in the fourth period.

Oberlin, a college that ranks high in soccer ranks, earned their 42nd victory in the last 43 attempts. Their short passing game was amazing and their continual hustle deserves mention. Allegheny found that the Yeomen were deserving of this amazing record as the booters from Allegheny were completely outclassed.

Yesterday the booters battled Grove City away.

X-Country

Allegheny's aspiring cross-country team, with one man short, went down to defeat at the hands of Grove City by a score of 19-36, last Wednesday. The Gators, with Don Robbins leading the way, gained 19 points to put them behind the Grovers. Jim Zaccardi, half miler for the track team, picked up an eighth; the rest of the men were strung out further back.

District Coming Up

The Grove City fray is the only dual meet the Gators have scheduled this year, due to the newness of the sport. The district championships will be run off tomorrow at 3:00 p.m. at Slippery Rock.

nomination along with such political figures as former New Hampshire Governor Sherman Adams. Former New York Governor Thomas Dewey and Henry C. Lodge, former Massachusetts Senator and present U.S. ambassador to the United Nations. The Pennsylvania Senator is remembered on campus as having addressed the G-8 students during October, 1952 on behalf of the GOP ticket.

From 1947 to 1951 Senator Duff served as Governor of the Commonwealth, running for the Senate as he served the last few months of his maximum four year term.

Democratic Activity

Last night the local Democratic organization had its campaign fling. The group convened at Joey Ray's "He Went That A'Way Ranch" in Venango, north of Saegertown. According to local Democratic Chairman Walter Fix all county and city candidates were in attendance.

"This is a vital election for the Democratic party in Crawford County," he emphasized in an interview with this Campus reporter. Continuing he said, "This year we have a high calibre of candidates representing the party in both the municipal and county elections. We have candidates who can win and we are going to try to give them the biggest plurality ever recorded in this county."

In line with these aims Mr. Fix and the county organization have executed an all out door ringing campaign to line up new Democratic voters.

Party Spirit Good

"Party spirit is high," the county chairman said with enthusiasm, "and I look forward to a tremendous crop of new Democratic voters. I have never felt better about the prospects of our party in this county, and I anticipate one of the greatest showings we have ever made in political campaigns."

Under the coordination of Mr. Wayne R. Merrick of the political science department most all the major local candidates have appeared before G-8 classes this week to elaborate on the workings of political organizations.

G-8 Speakers

The following are the local politicians who have come on campus this week: Mr. Wellington Smith (R), candidate for board of county commissioners; Mr. George Simonetta (R), candidate for city council; Mr. Earl Austin (R), incumbent and candidate for re-election to board of county commissioners; Mr. James Beatty (D), candidate for board of county commissioners; and Mr. Richard Thomas (R), candidate for district attorney.

Others who illuminated the working principles of practical politics were, Mr. Fred Autoun (D), Candidate for district attorney; Mr. Paul Smith (D), incumbent and candidate for re-election to board of county commissioners; Mr. Reid Hall (D), former city chairman and committeeman; Mr. Walter Fix, Democratic county chairman; Mrs. Mabel Smith (D), committeewoman and candidate for city council; Mrs. Ruth Hardenburg (R), committeewoman; Mr. George Hamilton (D), state committeeman; Mr. Kenneth Rice (R), city chairman; and Mr. Charles Kothe (R), chairman.

Civil Service Exam Slated For Dec. 10; Registration Required Before Nov. 18

The Federal Government has launched an extensive recruiting program directed primarily at the nation's colleges. The Federal Service Entrance Examination will be given here on December 10 for those students who have registered for it before November 18. Mr. Alton Kidd, professor of political science, explained that since the test is a new development in Civil Service Examinations, it will cover a larger number of fields.

The Federal Service Entrance Examination is open to all college seniors and graduates regardless of their major fields of study. The new test replaces the former method of testing by which more than 100 different examinations were given for specific fields of interest.

Exam For Many Posts

Since it is in the form of a general abilities test, this method will give applicants an opportunity to be considered for a number of positions without taking separate examinations for each one.

The names of applicants who qualify for positions as a result of the test are placed on a list of eligibles and selections for appointments are made from this list by the various federal agencies.

Chances for employment are based on the applicant's standing on the list of eligibles, his special qualifications and the number, kinds and locations of jobs to be filled.

Letter to the Editor

lege public opinion instantly to accept and applaud ideas or procedures suggested by some of our Thinkers is instantly dubbed by them a "failure of communication"! By all the laws of morphology and logic it can be no such thing. Clearly, what is needed to eliminate this source of confusion is a greater respect for the English language and greater precision in its use. If we confine the problems to genuine sharing of information, we find that there is no question of policy or procedure on this campus to which the interested student, faculty or administration member cannot readily find the answer either through material now in print or by the use of the telephone.

The remaining complication—the third element in our problem — arises when the printed word is incorrect, or the person consulted is uncertain and reports, as fact, an original personal impression without attempting to discover what the real answer may be. Unfortunately we seem to be currently suffering a marked increase in both these sources of confusion. An example immediately at hand is the editorial in question, which mentions "a weekly calendar distributed by the Student Affairs Committee." Actually, the Student Affairs Committee, having no budget, does not publish anything. The weekly calendar mentioned is issued by the Public Information Office. The second type of error mentioned here, though it is by no means confined to students, may be illustrated by asking how many of the present members of A.U.C. had read the constitution and by-laws of that organization when they undertook to explain it to freshmen? The techniques for correcting these sources of confusion are almost pitifully obvious.

Until these specific circumstances are corrected, our problem of communication will remain. No new "channels" or machinery can be effective unless the information sent over them is accurate and the intended recipients desire to understand. It is not louder but more accurate speaking that is necessary — this plus a little practice of the Biblical precept "He that hath ears to hear, let him hear."

Very truly yours,
Paul C. Knights

Danforth Foundation Offers Fellowships

The Danforth Foundation, an educational trust fund in St. Louis, Missouri, invites applications for graduate fellows from college senior men and recent graduates who are preparing for a career in college teaching. The Foundation welcomes applicants from the areas of Social Sciences, Humanities, and all fields of specialization to be found in the undergraduate college.

McCracken Liaison Officer

President Pelletier has named Dean McCracken as the Liaison Officer, to nominate to the Danforth Foundation two, or not to exceed three, candidates for these fellowships. These appointments are fundamentally "a relationship of encouragement" throughout the years of graduate study, carrying a promise of financial aid within prescribed conditions as there may be need. The maximum annual grant for single Fellows is $1,800; for married Fellows, $2,400 with an additional stipend for children. Students with or without financial need are invited to apply.

A Danforth Fellow is allowed to carry other scholarship appointments, such as Rhodes, Fulbright, Woodrow Wilson, Marshall, etc., concurrently with his Danforth Fellowship, and applicants for these appointments are cordially invited to apply at the same time for a Danforth Fellowship. If a man receives the Danforth Appointment, together with a Rhodes Scholarship, Fulbright Scholarship, or Woodrow Wilson Fellowship; he becomes a Danforth Fellow without stipend until these other relationships are completed.

Annual Conference

All Danforth Fellows will participate in the annual Danforth Foundation Conference on Teaching, to be held at Camp Miniwanca in Michigan, next September.

The qualifications of the candidates as listed in the announcement from the Foundation are: men of outstanding academic ability, personality congenial to the classroom, and integrity and character, including faith and commitment within the Christian tradition.

All applications, including the recommendations, must be completed by February 15, 1956. Any student wishing further information should get in touch with Dean McCracken.

Bentley Beckons Anxious Seniors—Job Opportunities Here At College

Attention, all seniors! For job opportunities, watch for announcements from the Placement Bureau in Bentley Hall.

This college agency is designed to bring together job-hunting seniors and personnel-seeking representatives from our great American corporations. Mrs. Margaret Jenkins, assistant placement director, stated that many companies hire personnel through her office, located in Bentley. Prominent among the companies using the Allegheny agency are Westinghouse, United States Steel, and DuPont.

Broad Background Wanted

These companies take mostly economics majors, but they also hire history and English majors. Above all, they want students who have a broad liberal arts background.

In order to qualify for this program, a student must be registered with the Placement Bureau. Even for seniors who do not plan on immediate employment, the files are useful for future reference.

After registration, the next step is the interview with a company representative. As soon as a company arranges a date with Mrs. Jenkins for its representative to be on campus, announcements will appear in The Campus and on bulletin boards.
