Caflich Council Set To Govern Freshman Men

A new phase of Allegheny student government was established Friday when the election results of representatives were announced for the Caflich Council, an organization developed to voice the wishes of residents of Caflich Hall.

Elected from a group of 22 nominees from the five sections of Caflich and from Lee House were Todd Taylor, Charles Leggett, James Akin, Robert Cook, Loyal Moore and Clarence Hewitt.

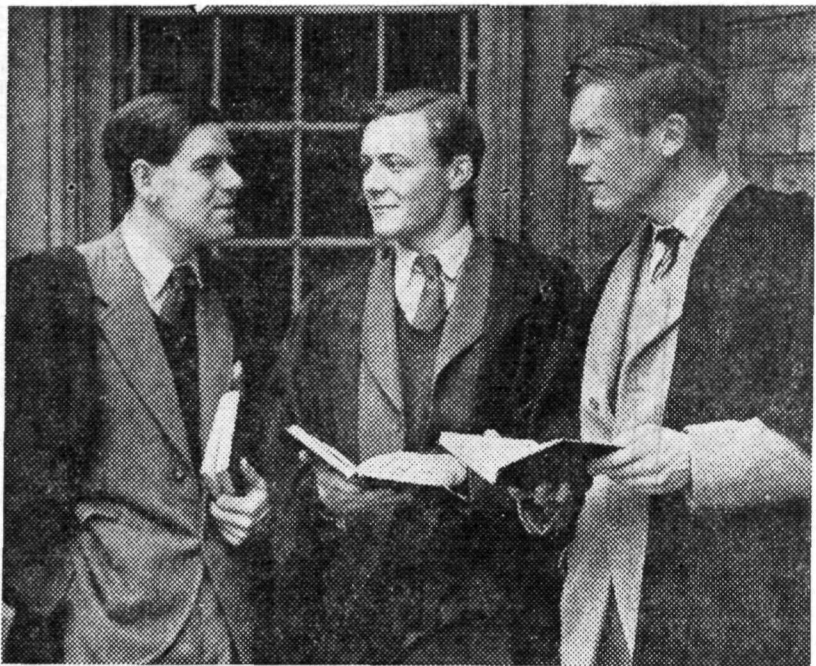

"In the past it has been a policy of the proctors of Caflich to allow the students to make whatever decisions were necessary concerning their welfare," explained John Beard, head proctor. "As a result of the many questions and problems which have materialized this year, it was decided by the students that a representative council would be a desirable instrument of organization."

The council will begin official functioning tonight when it will meet with a committee from Brooks to discuss exchange dinners between men of Caflich and women from Brooks. A proposal suggesting weekly or bi-weekly exchange of 25 to 50 students from each dining room will be considered. It has been pointed out that the social attitude developed from such a system is a desirable part of college training.

Also on the council agenda for consideration in the near future is the disposition of facilities for the lounging rooms which are now being constructed in the basement of Caflich Hall. Superintendent of Buildings Wilbur Casey stated today that, with good luck in acquiring materials, the rooms will be finished within two or three weeks. A radio-phonograph has been ordered and L. J. Long, comptroller, has agreed that the school will supply whatever reasonable furnishings and items that the council suggests. A section to be known as the Alden Room is also being constructed to provide a place for town students to study and meet between classes.

Discussion will also be given to the acquisition of one or two Bendix laundry machines to be installed in the basement, and to some method of eliminating the crowded lunch-line at the Cochran dining room.

In explaining the method of the entire body's voting for representatives rather than electing from each section, Mr. Beard stated that at a proctors' meeting it had been determined that such action would tend to eliminate sectional rivalry as well as give a more general representative group.

Allegheny Debaters To Meet Prominent Oxford Men Tonight

With three outstanding Oxford students, including a British Labor Party parliament candidate, as guests, Allegheny College Philo-Franklin Speech Union will open the 1947-48 debating season against Oxford University of England tomorrow evening at 8:15 o'clock at Ford Memorial Chapel.

Two Allegheny students, Raymond McCall, '49, and Frank Fitch, '50, will oppose the Oxford contention, "That the social and economic arguments in favor of the nationalization of basic industries are overwhelming."

The delegation from Oxford University includes Anthony Neil Wedgwood Benn, David Kenneth Harris and Sir Edward Charles Gurney Boyle, baronet.

Mr. Benn was an R. A. F. pilot-officer, serving in England and in South Africa. He returned to Oxford following the war and received his bachelor of arts degree in politics, philosophy and economics in June, 1946.

In addition to his work on an advanced degree to be taken in June, 1948, Mr. Benn serves on the executive committee, Oxford University Socialist Club, and is president of the Oxford Union Society. He has been a member of the British Labor Party since 1942 and was recently selected as their parliamentary candidate for 1947.

Mr. Harris' war service included duty with the Royal Air Force, artillery and medical corps. Upon his return to Oxford in October, 1945, he was instrumental in refounding Isis, Oxford University magazine. A dramatic critic and literary editor, Mr. Harris contributes to numerous British magazines and is frequently heard over the facilities of the British Broadcasting Corporation.

Mr. Boyle, a history scholar, Christ Church, Oxford, was attached to the British Foreign Office during World War II. Since his return to Oxford, he has served as treasurer of the University Conservative Association; secretary and librarian of the Oxford Union Society.

Mr. Benn and Mr. Harris will present the case for the nationalization of basic industries while Sir Edward Boyle—an opponent of the plan—will act as moderator for the discussion scheduled to follow the formal debate.

Hubert V. Cordier, director of Allegheny forensic activities, urges every student to take advantage of this unusual opportunity to witness and participate in an international debate.

Bulletin Board

CAMPUS news reporters may learn their assignments each week by consulting the bulletin board outside the CAMPUS office in Bentley basement. The list of assignments will be posted each Wednesday noon and reporters should initial the list beside their assignment to signify that they have received it. All assignments should be initialed by Friday noon.

If for any reason the assignment cannot be completed, one of the CAMPUS news editors should be notified. All news articles must be turned in at Brooks desk by 6, Sunday night.

All master Masons will meet Wednesday, October 22, at 7:15 p.m. in Room 101, Alden Hall.

The first meeting of the student orchestra will be held on Thursday evening, October 23, at 7 o'clock in Brooks gym. All students who are interested are asked to be present.

The first meeting of the Allegheny women's chorus will be held Monday at 8 p.m. in the Oratory.

More room on Kaldron business staff! Anyone interested phone Don McClimans, business manager, at 31-111.

Freshmen interested in general debating will meet on Monday at 4 p.m. in the Arter speech office.

Hundreds of Alumni Expected To Attend Annual Homecoming

Arrangements for the entertainment of hundreds of Allegheny College alumni at a varied Homecoming program this week end are virtually completed, Alumni Director John McFarland has announced.

The nine-event entertainment program will open Friday afternoon with a soccer game at Montgomery Field. A schedule of six events will fill the Saturday afternoon and evening program, while Sunday will be devoted to informal activities, Mr. McFarland pointed out.

Two highlights of the entertainment-packed Saturday program will be sponsored by student groups. The Allegheny Men's Undergraduate Council has released rules for its annual fraternity house decoration contest which will be judged at 10 a.m. Saturday.

Following a football game between Allegheny and Grove City at North Street Stadium Saturday afternoon, the Block A Club has scheduled an informal cider and doughnut party at Montgomery Gymnasium. President Frank Steinle reported that the club has ordered 100 dozen doughnuts and 80 gallons of cider for the party.

The Saturday evening program includes individual dinners sponsored by college fraternity, sorority and independent groups; a preview showing of "The Importance of Being Earnest," the first fall Playshop production, and a semiformal Homecoming dance at Brooks Hall.

PEP RALLY LISTED FRIDAY

Only planned feature for Friday evening is the traditional pep rally and bonfire. Rally committeemen promised a special program that will be kept secret until the rally.

Following a long-standing practice, the freshman class will gather the wood for the gigantic bonfire, officials pointed out.

Decoration Contest Rules Are Released

Francis Richmond, president of the Allegheny Men's Undergraduate Council, has announced the following rules for the Homecoming fraternity decorations contest, annual highlight of Homecoming Week End.

- (1) All decorations must be displayed by 9 a.m. Saturday.
- (2) Total cost of display must not exceed $25.
- (3) Displays will be judged according to neatness, effectiveness and originality.
- (4) Displays will be judged at 10 a.m. Saturday, by a committee consisting of: Dr. J. A. Miller, Dean J. L. Bostwick, Dean Laila Skinner, W. S. McMillan and C. F. Heeschen.
- (5) A plaque will be presented to the fraternity judged as the winner at half-time of the Homecoming football game, North Street Stadium.

John McFarland, director of alumni, representing M.U.C. and the Alumni Association, will present the plaque to the representative of the winning fraternity.

The Homecoming plaque will be displayed from this afternoon to Friday afternoon in the Grill.

President Schultz Memorial Sunday

As part of the Homecoming Week End program a memorial service will be held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at Ford Memorial Chapel for Allegheny President John Richie Schultz, who died in August.

Acting President Chester A. Darling and Philip M. Benjamin will pay tribute to the popular former Allegheny president, and Horace T. Lavelly will give the prayer.

The "Chorale," "Beautiful Savior" and "Nunc Dimittis" will be sung by the Allegheny Singers.

Compulsory X-Rays Being Given Now

Compulsory X-ray tests for tuberculosis are being held today at the Health Clinic for all Allegheny Women students, Dr. R. S. Byers has reminded.

Men who did not have tests taken yesterday also are urged to go to the clinic today between 4 and 5 p.m. The center will be open to women until 4 o'clock today.

In addition to students, all college-employed food handlers and maids are being required to have X-rays taken. Dr. Byers urges all fraternities to send house help to the clinic for testing.

Students not taking advantage of the free X-ray will be required to have the tests made at a Meadville hospital at their own expense, Dr. Byers pointed out.

Landt Art On Display

Beginning Tuesday, the works of the well-known contemporary artist Gerald Landt will be on display for two weeks in Reis Library.

Mr. Landt resides and teaches in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and is president of the Wisconsin Paint and Sculpture Club. His productions have been widely exhibited and praised in his native state.

The display will consist of water colors, pastels, drawings, and lithographs, all of which will be for sale at reasonable prices.

Miss Vivian Kinsley, head of the art department urges that students view the display and that fraternities and sororities will consider purchasing some of the productions. If sufficient purchases are made, it will provide incentive for the better-known artists to show their works here.

In addition to Mr. Landt's display, students of Italian Renaissance culture and art will be interested in the exhibition of Venetian art and architecture which is sponsored by Life Magazine and is being held on third floor Ruter.

German Club Adds Members to Chapter

New members of the German Club will be initiated at the first meeting to be held on Tuesday, October 28, at 7 p.m. in the English Seminar room. The officers, to be chosen this week, will preside.

Students who speak German but have not studied it at Allegheny are invited to join, announced Kathryn Acosta, president. Those interested are requested to contact Miss Mildred Ludwig, faculty advisor of the group, about membership.

Meetings are conducted in German, and aim to put into practice the things learned in the classroom.

We Have Spirit

Who says our school spirit is dead? Last year the Campus carried an editorial to the effect that the spirit of Allegheny was RIP in Hades. From what has happened this year, the resurrection is here.

The spirit shown at our football rallies and games would put the ghosts of an English castle to shame. The number of people at out-of-town football games gives the team inspiration, the other campuses know Allegheny is there.

And speaking of spirit, the freshman class has what it takes. We were glad to see them put up a fight against freshman customs. They wouldn't be Alleghenians if they didn't. But we were still happier when they decided to abide by them and to take them in the manner in which they were intended.

We have a band with spirit (Did you see them playing on the main street of New Wilmington after the game?); We have a new group of cheerleaders who want you to yell; We have a team that's winning; WE HAVE SCHOOL SPIRIT.

And now we are approaching the apex of the fall season, Homecoming. We'll have a rally Friday night. Will the freshmen gather wood for the bonfire as they have for years past? We hope that the initiative will come from the freshman class and not from some outside organization. We hope the fire will be as high as Bentley tower. We hope Alleghenians will attend the rally and yell. We hope it will be like the rah-rah, prewar rallies. We hope you give the cheerleaders your all-out support at the game. We hope that when the alumni leave after the week end, they'll be heard to say, "WE HAVE A SCHOOL SPIRIT."

CAMPUS "Catch All"

Martha, the No. 1 Grillhound, successfully warded off a flood behind the counter the other night. Flood waters rose so high that student employees were forced to wait tables in their bare feet.

About long skirts—they're just like prohibition, the joints are still there but they're harder to find.

WE LIKE TO BRAG ABOUT OURSELVES DEPARTMENT:

Esther McFayden relieved a man for active duty during the war when she worked in a toy factory building miniature pool tables.

John Kelley was named the "best baby boy in Johnson County, Nebraska, in 1927".

Bob Allessaht was born and reared in a mental institution (his father is a doctor).

Jim Hall won a roller skating contest in grade school.

George Henderson received a silver loving cup for having the largest chest expansion in a Sharon City Baby Contest in 1924.

Limited Supply Of CMA Tickets Made Available

One hundred tickets will be distributed to Allegheny students for Meadville Civic Music Association concerts according to a new system announced by Phillip Benjamin.

Students not holding tickets may be admitted after 8 o'clock if there are any vacant seats. The time and place of the distribution of these tickets will be announced soon by the Allegheny Undergraduate Council.

For last week's concert featuring Ellabella Davis, 120 student tickets were distributed preceding the concert. One hundred and thirty students attended.

Washington Students Announcement Soon

Eight applications for the Washington Semester, a special educational program at the American University, Washington, D. C., have been received, according to Paul Giddens, head of the Allegheny history department.

Only one girl is listed among the applicants. A faculty committee appointed by Acting President Chester A. Darling will consider the applications. Qualifying students will be announced by November 15.

Girls' Sports Groups Name New Members

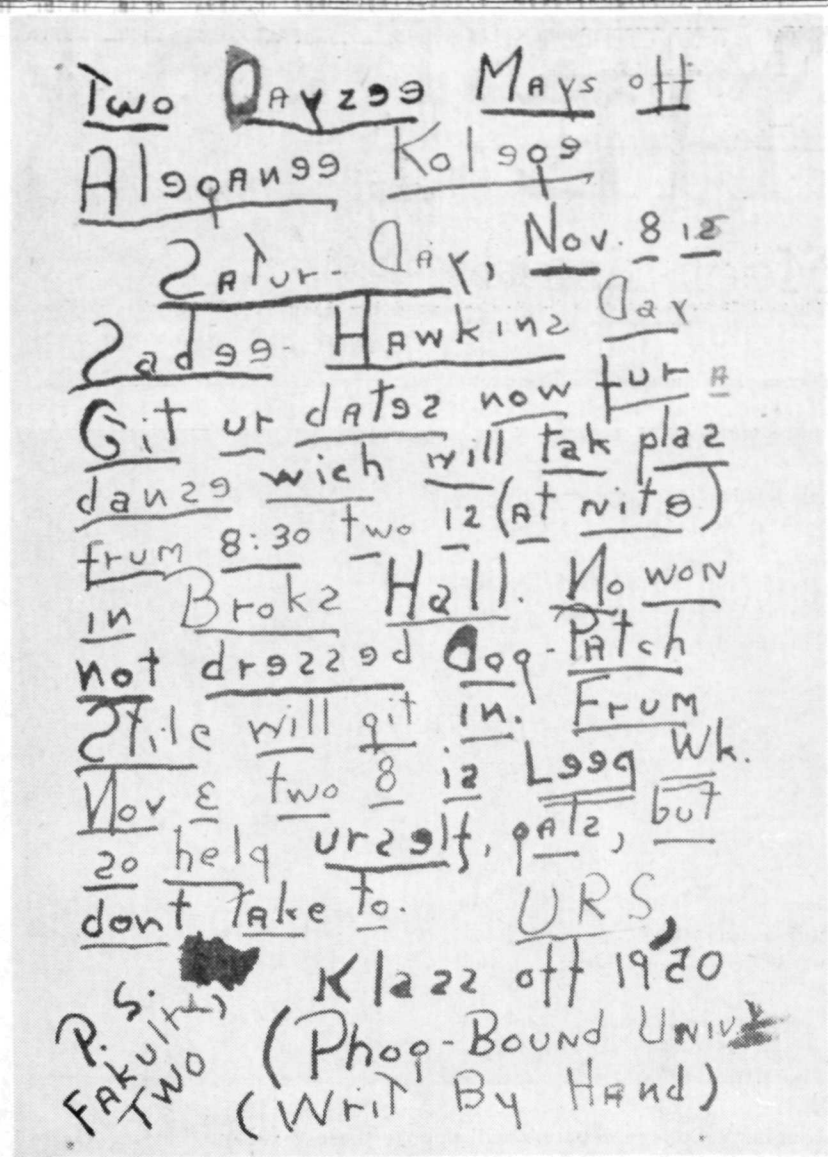

Tryouts and elections of new officers have marked the beginning of another season for the W.A.A. sponsored clubs, Terrapin, Orchesis, and Boots and Saddles.

Phillis Rosen was elected president and Florence Brownell, vice-president, of Orchesis October 13. The modern dance group also accepted as new members Edith Carberry, Doris Carter, Jacqueline Leggett, Elizabeth Stidger, and Anne Williams.

Marcia Woodburn, president of Boots and Saddles, has announced the formation of a minor riding club, Stirrup and Bit, for less experienced riders. Members are Anne Allenburg, Vickie Barnes, Jean Gillis, Virginia Hawky, Jane Miller, Sib Thomas, Nelda Tolley, and Roberta Stewart. Those joining the major club are Margery Beck, Louise Church, Miriam Gillespie, and Marilyn Ulman.

Other officers of Boots and Saddles, who were elected last week, are Barbara Laffer, vice-president, and Sally Baldwin, secretary-treasurer.

Names of minor and major Terrapins will be revealed, according to Barbara Davies, president of the club, at an initiation for new members on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Montgomery gym.

ALLEGHENY WOLF GALS TRAINING FOR MAN-CATCHING LEAP WEEK

Telephones will ring unanswered in fraternity houses . . . Brooks is full of rumors and scheming women . . . Last years' Kaldrons will be oft looked upon by feminine eyes . . . Grill cokes and coffee will be paid for from purses, not wallets . . . Skirts (long) will be nearer to the curb than trousers . . . LEAP WEEK IS HERE AGAIN!

Yes, girls, you read correctly. The Sophomore class will sponsor the annual catch-as-catch-can affair from November 3rd to the 8th (inclusive). George Henderson, class president, has announced that the following rules must be obeyed:

Advertising Agency Newly Reorganized

The Allegheny Advertising Agency, dedicated to all kinds of publicity service has been reorganized to produce layouts, posters and publicity for any campus activities and organizations.

To make use of this service, write to Box #314, Allegheny College; contact the Art Department or any of the following A.A.A. members: Dana Harland, Louva Rogers, Martha Denglar, and Colette Brosky.

Social Whirl

Food! Food! Food! This subject took its usual active part on campus this week end. With banquets, dinners and feeds in the rooms, some girls on this campus are going to gain weight.

The girls limping around campus with aching joints are the Alpha Chis, who are just recuperating from their week end at Bousson. The Alpha Chis pledge banquet was held at Gray's last Wednesday evening with Mrs. Brown, one of the founders of this chapter, as guest speaker.

The Alpha Gams had their pledge banquet last Friday night at Gray's. Mrs. Isherwood was the guest speaker.

Grays did it again! The Alpha Xi pledge banquet was held there Wednesday night. Genie Smoot was a guest.

The mothers that were on campus this week end belonged to the Kappas. The sorority was treated to their mothers' cooking in the rooms Saturday night. The treat was followed the next morning by another (?) when the pledges served the mothers breakfast.

This has been an active week for the Thetas. They did their good deed by lending cups and saucers to the Kappas so the KKG's could impress their mothers.

The Theta U's got hungry after a song practice so they threw a feed in the rooms. The question of the week is who bought the food?

The Theta U's announce the engagement of Elizabeth DeWitt, '47, to James Wilson, '41, Hobart College.

The Chi Rho's had a radio party Friday night. Miss Painter, Miss Ludwig and Dr. Ogilvie were the chaperons.

Another radio party was held at the Tau Delt house. Chaperoning this affair were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Timmons. Dick Cook, '47, visited the old homestead last week end.

An informal dance was the main topic of the Phi Delt week. The pledge dance was held Friday night and was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Seelye. Soft cider and doughnuts were the refreshments.

The Phi Gams were rather inactive this week.

The Phi Psi's are instructing their innumerable pledges in singing. (Milk that cow!)

The S. A. E.'s entertained several guests at dinner last week. They were Dr. and Mrs. Chester A. Darling, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. E. Glenn Wilson with Miss Jean Tiffany and Bill Hoover and Alex House of the class of '46.

The Theta Chi's had Dr. Armen Kalfayan as their guest for Wednesday night dinner.

Speech Program Topic Announced

"What place should today's women occupy in politics, business, the home and education", will be the general topic of the Allegheny Women's Extemporaneous Speaking Contest to be held Thursday, November 6 at 8:15 in the playshop.

There will be representatives from the six sororities and the Independent Women's Organization to discuss the modern woman's place in society.

GRIDMEN MEET GROVERS 50th TIME

S'portraits: Home Soccer Meet Listed

Rochester University, a Gator basketball foe this year, is moving into the big time. They are booked to meet Harvard, Princeton, Colgate and Syracuse, which should provide the Wernermen with a good standard of comparison.

Grove City rolls into town this Saturday fresh from a powerful 25-0 decision over Hiram. The Grovers dropped their opener to Dickinson, then took a beating from Geneva College. Other Saturday results show that: Dickinson surprised with a narrow 33-27 victory over Amos Alonzo Stagg's father-and-son Susquehanna eleven; Akron eased past Mount Union, 19-14; Clarion Teachers put it on Thiel to the tune of 19-7; Oberlin took a 20-7 count away from Hamilton.

When a team has to play most of it's games on foreign fields, you may be sure it gets a little monotonous hearing the other team's rooters cheering. So this Friday let's do some hollering of our own for Coach Bill Hanson and his hard-working soccer team. They've only got three games at home, so we'll have to cheer three times as loud.

Upon learning of the Thanksgiving cross-country race to be run on November 22, a misunderstanding Freshman remarked, "I like to run cross-country, but I can't see where chasing a turkey would be much fun."

The Westminster soccer game had a little effect on the Titan-Gator grid tilt last week. Frank Pollard was skirting left end goalward bound, when he suddenly cut back and did a balancing act before tacklers cut him down. A chalk-line used for the booters' game the day before confused Frank, who thought it was the side-line. It's an easy thing to do when one is traveling at high speed and watching other things than side-lines.

Bill "Automatic" Rylander added two more place-kicks to his unbroken string last week, making a total of five in a row. His holder, usually Norm Baker, comes in for his share of the credit too.

Hansonmen At Rochester Today

Coach Bill Hanson's kickers with two games under their belts, will journey into New York state today to meet the always-powerful University of Rochester.

The Gators, with practically all their injured men in good shape, have been working on phases of play that were weak in the season's first two games. Coach Hanson believes he has remedied most of the booters' troubles and is confident his men will give the up-staters a tough time. Several newcomers are showing good form and will probably break into the game.

After holding the strong Slippery Rock Rockets 3-1 in the opener, the Hansonmen absorbed a 6-2 beating from Westminster. The Titans played a bruising brand of soccer and were not the type of opponents that the locals play best against.

Next Friday the soccer team will play its first home game and will give Homecoming fans their first sports event of the week end. Grove City will provide the opposition at Montgomery Field on Friday afternoon, and pre-game reports indicate the fray will be fairly even.

Gators Jolt Westminster To Record First Grid Win

Determined to notch their second win, after jolting Westminster by a 14-7 count last Saturday at New Wilmington, Allegheny's up-and-coming football team will take to the North Street gridiron this week end to oppose Grove City College in what promises to be a hard-fought battle.

Saturday's contest, a feature attraction of Homecoming Week End, will mark the 50th time the Gators and the Grovers have met to do moleskin murder since the two teams first clashed in 1899. Grove City has the edge in victories, having won 23 tilts, while the Blue and Gold are close behind with 20. Six games ended in ties. The locals' last win came in 1937, a 3-0 affair, and Coach Jim Lovelless' boys grabbed a 14-0 fray last year.

FIRST QUARTER SLOW

Although Coach Bill Daddio's gridders got off to a slow start against the Titans, they dominated play throughout the initial period. A quick kick by Deshler on the second Titan offensive play of the game shoved the locals back to their own 12-yard line, to where the ball returned after an exchange of punts between Bob Carman and Deshler.

Then Allegheny moved upfield to the 38 on two successive first downs, only to have penalties return the pigskin to the 28-yard line. Three pass interceptions and an exchange of kicks kept the oval see-sawing up and down the field, with Westminster in possession on the Allegheny 14-yard stripe at the close of the quarter.

After Carman zoomed a 60-yard boot to the Titan ten-yard mark, Westminster was forced to punt and Carp ran back 20 yards to the opposition 23. Then runs by Pollard and a pass, Rylander to Pollard, put the ball on the 11-yard line. Frank picked up another first and ten on the one-yard line, and after a three-yard loss on the next play, Carman swept wide around right end for the touchdown.

Bill "The Toe" Rylander added the extra point from placement to send the Gators out in front.

TITANS SCORE IN THIRD

Rylander took the second-half kickoff back up the field to his own 48, but a penalty put the ball in play on the 23. Then Pollard fumbled and Westminster took over on the Gator ten-yard stripe. Ed Weilgus, standout performer for the Blue and White all afternoon, cracked the line five times to score and Barnett converted to tie up the ball game.

The Gators bounced back with an 80-yard drive, initiated by a brilliant 20-yard punt return by Captain Bob Carman up to the 40-yard marker. Then Eddie Brink, reserve fullback, after Rylander passed to Stevenson for a first, took over and paced off a twisting 26-yard jaunt that had spectators on their feet. Two plays later, Norm Baker dropped back and speared Frank Pollard with a pay-off pass near the goal line. Bill Rylander split the uprights with his placement kick to send the Daddio combine out ahead 14-7.

The final canto saw Allegheny reserves and regulars knocking on the Titan goal line several times, but the Hilltoppers couldn't move across. Dick Scibetta ripped off several nice runs on quick opening plays, while the Allegheny forward wall refused to give much to the New Wilmington squad.

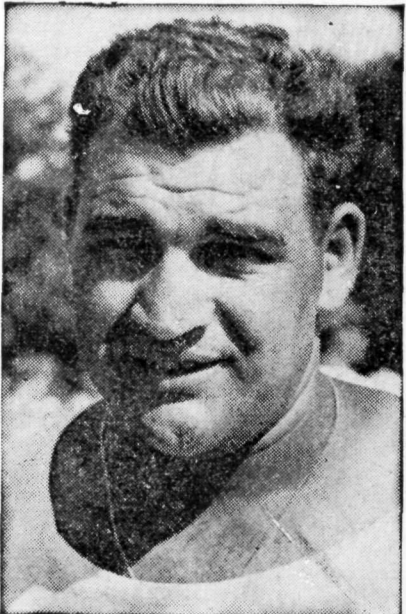

Just before the final gun, the Blue and Gold moved down to the one-yard line, but a five-yard penalty put the Gators back, and time ran out before another play could be made.

PASS PERCENTAGE UP

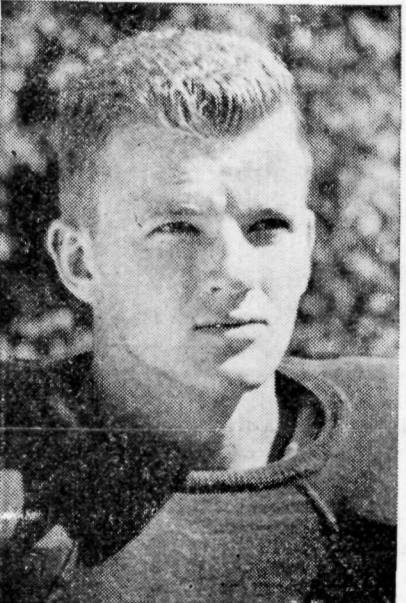

The Gators completely outrushed the Titans, rolling up 16 first downs to five, ten of them coming in the first half. In the aerial warfare department Allegheny chucked 15, and the Titans went one better.

However, the Daddiomen completed six tosses and Westminster four. Of these four, three were ruled complete because of interference by Blue and Gold defenders. The Gators managed to haul down two foreign passes, while the Blue and White cut off three Allegheny heaves.

Nate Edelblute and Bob Carman shared punting honors, both getting off consistently long boots.

BILL DADDIO, former Pitt great and new head coach, whose Gators will perform for the old grads this week against Grove City.

NORM BAKER, who rifled a pass to Frank Pollard for the winning touchdown against Westminster last week.

Volleyball Play Gets Underway

Intramural volleyball competition swung into action yesterday at Montgomery Gym, with the Sigs opening against the Independent Men and the Phi Delt's taking on the Alden Men in the second game. Contests are scheduled for Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of each week until Christmas vacation.

There will be only one league this year, consisting of teams from the seven fraternities and the Independent and Alden Men, according to Coach Bob Garbark, director of intramural sports.

Garby also announces that there will be a cross-country run on November 22, with a prize of a large turkey going to the winning team. Each of the nine organizations may enter five men, and the scores of the first three runners of each team to finish will constitute the group score. Coach Garbark requests that all teams get their men ready so that the race will show some real competition.

Kappa Delta Epsilon In Thirteenth Year

Kappa Delta Epsilon, national sorority for undergraduate women majoring in education, was founded on Allegheny's campus thirteen years ago by Dr. Fredrick Henke former head of the education department. The organization began as a local club and soon joined the national sorority, which includes chapters at Gettysburg College, Mississippi State College for Women, Cornell University, and University of Illinois.

Outside speakers, discussions by members and social events are featured at the meetings held the first Tuesday of each month. With an average membership of 30 women it invited new members on the basis of an 80 per cent average in education courses and six hours in education.

National conventions are held bi-annually at one of the twelve college chapters. Last year Gettysburg was host to the group. Allegheny has extended an invitation for the 1949 convention to be held in Meadville.

PLAYSHOP PRODUCTION

for presentation in the best Wilde tradition.

There are still seats available for all performances. Because of the limited seating capacity, the Playshop urges that all students make reservations early.

After the Homecoming performance, "The Importance of Being Earnest" will open Monday and run through Saturday.
