

THE CAMPUS

VOLUME NO. XLIV. NO. 1

MEADVILLE, PENNSYLVANIA

SEPTEMBER 23, 1925

FIVE HUNDRED EIGHTY STUDENTS
REGISTER FOR FIRST SEMESTER

Number of Upper Classmen Unprecedented—Freshmen Total Only 175

Registration found approximately five hundred and eighty students either resuming or beginning their course of study in Allegheny College. Of that number, one hundred and ten are seniors, and hundred and thirty-five are juniors, one hundred and sixty are sophomores, and one hundred and seventy-five are freshmen. Gerald Decker, Guys Mills.
James L. Fickenger, Sewickley.
Marguerite Alberta Forbell, Meadville.
Constance Virginia Graham, Meadville.

NEW HEATING PLANT TO BE COMPLETED IN NOVEMBERMODERN POWER SYSTEM TO REPLACE OLD WORN-OUT
HEATING FACILITIES

A cut-up campus, a corps of workmen, and a beehive of activity in the lower end of the Ravine are everyday reminders to the students of the College that the new $125,000 power plant is being installed. Due to unforeseen delays the new system will not be in operation until November, but temporary arrangements have been made to heat the buildings until that time.

The new plant is being constructed at the lower end of the Ravine, very close to the rear of the chemistry building, Carnegie Hall. It will be of brick construction with solid concrete foundations and a 130 foot brick stack. The architects are Magaziner, Eberhard and Harris, the concern which designed the buildings included in the ten-year program. The Mill Run Lumber Company, of Meadville, was awarded the contract for erecting the building, and the Rust Engineering Company, of Pittsburgh, will build the stack and install the boilers.

The very modern high-pressure steam system to be installed necessitated an entirely new network of pipelines, an operation which has marred the appearance of the campus materially.

FIRST "Y" MEETING

Tonight, September 23, at seven o'clock, the College Y. M. C. A. will hold the first of its regular weekly meetings. When we say regular, we mean regular as far as the time is concerned. At to content and conduct the weekly meetings are to be as irregular and interesting as they can possibly be made. At the meeting Wednesday evening Doctor Elliot will be the main speaker. For those who come early there will be a "sing" at which new men especially can learn the College songs. In the interest of better singing in the College the Y. M. C. A. has had printed during the summer song sheets containing the most popular of the Allegheny songs and all of our cheers. These new song sheets will be used for the singing Wednesday night. Every male member of the student body automatically becomes a member of the Y. M. C. A. when he matriculates, hence the organization is yours in every respect. Come out and make it so both in attendance and as one of your College activities.

STUDENT MANUAL ISSUED TO INCOMING FRESHMENTHIRTY-FIRST EDITION OF BIBLE
PROVES OF GREAT HELP TO NEW CLASS

With several decided changes in design and quality, the thirty-first edition of the Student Manual, the handbook published annually by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., was placed in the hands of the incoming Freshmen shortly before the opening of College. The book is one of the best to appear in recent years, and much credit is due Richard J. Helmstadter, editor, and Donald McWilliams, manager, for the success of the publication.

The little volume is bound this year in rich blue leather with a large block A in gold on the front cover. The quality of the paper and the press work throughout is much improved over last year, giving the book a neater appearance.

The contents are, of necessity, much the same as in the past, although a few additions have been made, and the other material rearranged. The opening section contains the greetings to new students from Acting-President Dr. C. F. Ross, and the presidents of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. together with a foreword by the editor, the cabinets of the Christian Associations, and several views of the campus.

A section entitled "The College" follows and includes the faculty, library rules, college customs, freshman rules, college songs, cheers, and in short, all information of interest to incoming students. Among the features is a page of description about Meadville, and another describing the main college buildings. A list of helpful "Don'ts for Freshmen" adds much to the value of the book. The athletic activities and the proposed schedules for this year, together with a table of college records in various athletic events. The officers and a brief description of each of the many clubs and organizations on the campus, a word about debate and oratory, college publications, the rosters of the fraternities and sororities and, finally, a list of the class of 1929, completes the book.

For the first time in several years, the Manual was self-supporting, enough advertisements having been secured to practically cover the entire cost of publication.

Tickets Selling Rapidly
For Game in Erie StadiumTOWNS THROUGHOUT THIS SECTION
ARE BUYING QUOTA EAGERLY

With a start which practically assures a complete sell-out, the ticket sale for the Allegheny-West Virginia game, at the new Municipal Stadium in Erie Saturday, is well under way. Reserved seat tickets were placed on sale Wednesday, September 16, and by Saturday almost half the Meadville allotment of 2300 had been sold, this section being held for fans in Meadville and vicinity and all Allegheny Alumni.

Interest in this game, which ranks as the most important contest held in Northwestern Pennsylvania in recent years, is running at high pitch. Entire sections of reserved seats have been purchased by delegations of fans from Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Butler, Sharon, Mercer, Warren, Oil City, Franklin, and other surrounding cities. Every student in Allegheny College will be at the game, and the new band of forty pieces will accompany the Blue and Gold delegation. That the Meadville rooters will have plenty of competition is indicated by the fact that West Virginia is sending 500 students and fans in a special train, with a band of seventy-five pieces.

Allegheny Alumni may secure tickets by writing S. S. Townsend, Graduate Manager of Athletics, Allegheny College, Meadville. The prices are $1.50 for reserved seats and $2.00 for box seats. Tickets on sale at Erie are not for Alumni, and agencies in surrounding cities are taking care of the sale in their respective vicinities. No reserved seats will be sold after Friday night.

The new stadium, in addition to 14,000 reserved seats, has a standing room capacity of 4000 persons.

Attorney W. J. Aiken, '09, of Pittsburgh, was sworn in as Assistant United States district attorney, Friday, September 18. Mr. Aiken was admitted to the bar in 1915.

ANNUAL Y RECEPTION
HELD THURSDAY NIGHTOVER THREE HUNDRED FIFTY
ATTEND FIRST ALL-COLLEGE FUNCTION

Approximately three hundred and fifty students and members of the faculty met at the first all-college function of the year, the combined Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. reception, which was held last Thursday evening, September 17, in the parlors and dining room of Cochran Hall.

Shortly before eight o'clock the students began to gather and within half an hour the rooms were becoming crowded. During the early part of the evening the students renewed acquaintances and made many new ones.

Entertainment was provided by several members of the College band who played a number of popular selections and some college songs. Ted Averbach gave a reading. Throughout the evening the spirit of enjoyment and good-feeling was much in evidence.

The reception halls were handsomely decorated with baskets and flowers as well as with streamers in the College colors, blue and gold. The spirit of informality which is significant of every such reception enjoyed a great share in the success of the evening; every person present mingled freely and with good fellowship.

Credit for the success of the reception may be given to Miss Mildred Lose and Donald Leeper, chairman of the social committees of their respective organizations.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR
W. VIRGINIA PEP MEETCHEER LEADERS ARE PLANNING TO HAVE ENTHUSIASM AT HIGHEST PITCH

Cheerleader Cyril B. Hartman is completing arrangements to hold the largest pep meeting that has ever been held at Allegheny in late years at the regular chapel hour on Friday morning, September 25.

Coach Tom Davies and Graduate Manager Townsend will give talks to the student body. Cheerleader Hartman will lead in the singing of College pep songs while Ted Averbach will lead cheers. It is urged that every student attend the meeting, so that Allegheny can make a favorable impression at Erie on Saturday.

Arrangements have also been made for a bonfire to be held on Friday evening at the rear of Cochran Hall at 8:00. After a short meeting the students will march downtown single file with the College Band preceding. After parading through the main thoroughfares of the city a visit will be paid to the theaters. Through the generosity of the managers permission has been granted for the students to march through the theaters and to give a few cheers.

At Erie a snake dance will be held between halves and other novelties will be carried out by the freshmen.

COLLEGE BAND TO TRAVEL
TO ERIE WITH GRIDDEESTHIRTY-FIVE OR FORTY MEM-BERS TO APPEAR IN STADIUM
SATURDAY

Between 35 and 40 pieces will comprise the band which will accompany the Allegheny rooters to the game with West Virginia in Erie Saturday. The trip to Erie will be made in trucks hired for the occasion.

The new material supplied by the incoming freshman class, together with the experienced players of preceding years will provide a musical organization worth while. Each member will be supplied with the standard College Band sweater, and a special section has been reserved for the band in the new stadium during the game.

The band, in formulating plans for the game, has decided on supporting the College cheer leaders and the athletic association in whatever ventures they may suggest, both before and during the course of the game.

Practices have been held daily since the beginning of classes and rehearsals will be held on the athletic field this week, which will assure a loyal and satisfactory representation in Erie.

BLUE AND GOLD OPENS SEASON
WITH WEST VIRGINIA IN ERIECoach Davies Building Strong Team For Initial Game Saturday

Facing a situation which calls for the development of six new men to replace regulars lost from last year and then battling Coach Roger's West Virginia Mountaineers, one of the strongest teams in the country, in the opening game of the season, the Blue and Gold football squad of 1925 has rounded into excellent early-season form, and gives promise of turning into another championship team.

Allegheny followers look upon the West Virginia game as the toughest opening assignment any Blue and Gold team has ever had, while advances from Morgantown indicate that Mountaineer fans hold the game in the same light for their favorites. Opening the season in a foreign stadium against a strong team is no easy proposition and Coach Rogers and the West Virginia following realize it fully.

Coach Rogers is new to the present position, but far from new to the West Virginia system of play. He starred for four years at the fullback position on Mountaineer elevens, and in 1919 he was captain and fullback on practically every All-American team chosen that year. Since that time he has been chief scout and assistant coach at the Morgantown institution.

His team this year is not a veteran combination, four regulars having graduated last summer, but the lineup of new men, according to reports from the Mountaineers' training camp, is very encouraging, and Barnum, fullback on the 1923 team, will lead the backfield attack, while the line, with the exception of the center and one end is composed of veterans. Shift plays and forward passes form a large part of the West Virginia attack, and fans in Erie next Saturday are certain to see a big, fast team opening up with a brilliant, open offense.

On the other hand, Allegheny's comparatively green squad, the underdog, as far as all advance dope is concerned, is prepared to meet the Mountaineers in the fifth engagement between the two rivals with an enthusiasm and display of form which gives its supporters considerable hope for victory. In the four previous clashes the Mountaineers

FRESHMAN CLASS GIVEN
NEW CAPS AND RULESCLASS OF '29 RECEIVE REGULA-TIONS AND ACCOUTREMENTS FOR YEAR

With the beginning of classes the new Blue and Gold Caps and the familiar yellow sheets containing the rules governing freshmen were distributed to the members of the class of 1929.

Very few changes have been made in the new rules from those of preceding years, with the exception that the term of probation has been shortened somewhat. Instead of being required to observe the rules until Moving-Up Day in June, as heretofore, the yearlings will be relieved from the rules with the advent of the spring recess.

In order that everyone may become acquainted with the rules, they are reprinted as follows:

1. All Freshmen must wear the regulation Freshman cap at all times, Sundays, holidays, and formal social functions excepted, until spring recess. Freshmen are not permitted to write upon these caps or to deface them in any manner. The caps are to be worn in military style, i. e., set straight upon the head, with visor down over the eyes.
2. Freshmen are not permitted to smoke in public and must keep their coats buttoned and hands out of pockets at all times.
3. Freshmen must use only the side-walks on the campus.
4. Freshmen are not permitted to loiter about the Chapel or any of the College buildings, but must enter and take their seats immediately.
5. Freshmen may not hold any class function without first securing the permission of the Student Senate.
6. Freshmen must not accompany Co-eds on the campus between the hours of 8:00 a. m. and 6:00 p. m.
7. Freshmen must wear black socks and black ties.
8. Freshmen must carry baggage for members of the athletic teams to and from the station during the year, subject to direction of the student manager.
9. Freshmen must be present at all athletic contests and must obey the orders of the College Cheer Leader, both at the games and afterwards in preparing bonfires when so directed.
10. Freshmen must ring the College bell at the end of every collegiate victory, both in athletics and debating.
11. Freshmen must speak respectfully to every male student.
12. Freshmen must learn the "Freshman Speech" and repeat the same at the request of an upper classman.

"Allegheny College was founded in 1815 and chartered in 1817. The corner stone of Bentley Hall was laid in 1820. Timothy Alden was the first president. The College now has 12 buildings on a campus of 16 acres and a faculty of 31 members. I have chosen Allegheny as my Alma Mater, believing that this College meets the requirements of all that an educational institution of its kind should be, and I will strive constantly to uphold its traditions and honor.

13. All Freshmen rules will be strictly enforced until spring recess, and violations of these rules will be dealt with by the Student Senate, penalties to be enforced by the Sophomore class.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TO MEET
EVERY WEEK IN CHAPELDOCTOR CHURCH GIVES ORGAN
RECITAL AT OPENING EXER-CISES OF FIRST MEETING

One hundred and seventeen attended the first meeting of Allegheny School of Practical Christianity which was held last Sunday morning, September 20, in Ford Memorial Chapel. Dr. H. W. Church gave a short organ recital at the opening exercises.

The Allegheny School of Practical Christianity is a new venture in religious education. Its purpose is to place before the students of this College the aims, claims, and facts of the Christian religion. It seeks to free itself alike from conventionalism and radicalism, both of which are equally destructive to religious thinking. Founded and organized by the joint efforts of students and faculty, it embraces a curriculum wide enough to satisfy the demands of the student body and intensive enough to meet the approval of experienced Christian leaders.

The school is offering classes for both men and women in everyday religious problems on the campus; a combined class in each of the following subjects: International Sunday School Lessons, Fundamentals of Christian Character, and one in General Sunday School Methods. The faculty of the school consists of Miss Staley, Mrs. Woodring, Doctor Darling, Doctor Woodring and Doctor Schultz.

It is the plan of the school to add to its regular course of study, program attractions. Special music and speakers will be introduced each week.

School meets regularly in the Chapel from 9:15 until 10:25, giving ample time to attend regular church services in the city.

COLLEGE STUDENTS TO BE GIVEN
OPPORTUNITY TO BROADCAST FROM ACADEMY

Station WKBG, with announcer Sidney Shepard, and James Slusser, U. S. licensed radio operator, has been installed in the Academy Theater, Meadville, and will begin regular programs this evening. This is the first broadcasting station in the Meadville district, and arrangements have been made with the management to enable any student of the College to put his or her talent on the air. Those desiring to broadcast from Station WKBG should get in touch with E. C. Dehne, who will arrange a time for the performance.

THE RUSHING SEASON

The men's fraternities have practically finished their annual rushing season. There are still a few freshmen who are trying to decide which is the best crowd on the campus and a few more who have been overlooked in the mad scramble for new blood. But the season, if it can be called such, is almost closed, and we of The Campus feel called upon to make a few remarks on the subject, appropriate or unfitting, cautious or tactless, as they may be.

It appears that this last rushing season was comparatively free from bad feeling, mud-slinging, and those other characteristics of the rushes of the past. Of course, we do not mean that this season has been without its bad aspects. There were some unfortunate occurrences, it is true, but they were of much less frequency and much less seriousness than those of the past.

It has been highly gratifying to notice this improvement. The rights of other fraternities and other fraternity men seem to have been taken into consideration for a change. In other years the unpleasant taste of rushing seasons has persisted for most of the school year. In fact, a good free-for-all rushing season, aided here and there by an election, has been the most potent factor in the continuance of bad inter-fraternity feeling.

So if the good spirit of this past season can be maintained throughout the year in minor things, there is reason to believe that our fraternities will become a greater good to the College and to each other.

That brings us to this question: If rushing can be so orderly under the cut-throat system, could not an almost perfect harmony be secured through a set of conscientiously-made and conscientiously-observed rushing rules?

EVERYBODY OUT FOR THE WEST VIRGINIA GAME!

More than a good football team is needed if Allegheny is to return a victor from the game with West Virginia University in the new Erie Stadium Saturday. A full representation of the student body must be on hand to support the Blue and Gold from the opening kick-off until the final whistle, and the support must not be of the passive, "please win," type.

There are several obvious reasons why we should feel that a victory in this particular game is absolutely necessary to assure success to the football season and is a prime factor in the gradual uplifting of our Alma Mater from comparative athletic oblivion. First, it is somewhat of a rare achievement for a small college to deal out defeat to a large university such as that in Morgantown. Second, our team will be psychologically stimulated by a victory, thus assuring a successful year on the gridiron. Third, a victory will make possible other games in Erie without financial loss, as has been the experience in the past. In this way there will be provided a logical meeting place for Allegheny with others of the larger eastern schools. And so on down the list, in fact, we have everything to win and even more to lose.

The distance to Erie is estimated at forty miles and the trip can be made in various ways: by train, electric railway, auto-bus, private automobile, or by the more collegiate form of transportation, "bumming." Taking this into consideration, there is no conceivable reason why every able-bodied Alleghenian can not be present at this, the greatest athletic contest to be staged in northwestern Pennsylvania this year.

ALUMNI NEWS

Last Spring an editorial appeared in a late issue of The Campus requesting alumni to send in news concerning their own activities and notes of interest about other graduates. A few alumni responded very well, but news concerning a small number out of hundreds cannot materially affect the size of the department.

The Campus is sent to all alumni gratuitously with the compliments of the College. This courtesy is extended in order to link more closely the great body of Alleghenians with their Alma Mater. The alumni learn of student happenings through this medium, and they can easily keep in touch with the larger group of alumni.

In order to publish more alumni news the Alumni Editor must have the direct co-operation of others. Secretaries of alumni associations are urged to notify him of the activities of these various groups as soon as possible. All alumni can help make their section of the paper one of the largest departments of the staff by sending him any news of interest they may have, no matter how short it may be. Since leaving Allegheny the alumni have had many experiences which will interest other alumni. Tell the Alumni Editor about them.

COLLEGE SPIRIT

Dozens of new students have appeared on our campus this week. For most of these people college will be an entirely new experience. The majority will bring with them a boundless enthusiasm for all the activities of college life and already are casting about in their minds as to how to express best their love for and loyalty to their adopted mother. The beginning of this new year affords a challenge—a challenge to the student to select carefully the outlet for his display of enthusiasm; a challenge to the College to capitalize completely and from the very start this new-born college spirit. Noise is not always an indication of enthusiasm, either inside or out of college buildings; neither will suppression, but rather well directed activity, quiet but energetic, for the new student, will tend to the greatest growth of college loyalty and spirit.

On June 15, 1924, one of Pennsylvania's greatest educators was quietly removed from the scene of his labors.

The writer had the high privilege in the winter of 1920 of listening to a series of lectures by Edwin Earle Sparks of Pennsylvania State College, and he will not soon forget the "gentle geniality" of Doctor Sparks' personality.

A memorial to him has been published by the college and in it is a little selection from his pen from a series that ran in the Penn State Collegian under the head of "Prexy's Preachment." Here it is:

"A most difficult thing to define is College Spirit. One man thinks it is measured by noise; another by class battles; still another by attendance at meetings and games. There may be some who would measure it by scholastic standing,—I do not know. Personally I would classify it as sentiment pervading the affections of every student, yet rarely manifest in material form. It is the unseen force which makes or mars a college, as it is variously interpreted.

"To defend college rowdiness as an evidence of College Spirit is an almost sacrilegious abuse of the beautiful sentiment. To see thousands of students standing and singing,

'May no act of ours bring shame
'To one heart that loves thy name,' is the very embodiment and essence of College Spirit, if the song proceeds from the heart and not from the lips alone."

"College Spirit is the magnet which drew hundreds of students back to complete their courses of study after their war service. College Spirit is the lure which brings the graduate back from business to give a few days to mere sentiment. College Spirit is the feeling which makes so many Penn State men believe in their college; to defend it and not to attack it; to try to amend abuses and not simply to stand by and find fault; to find the cause for a thing before taking steps to correct it. College Spirit ranks with love of home and country and the most beautiful things of life."

Old Allegheny

RISE OF INTERCOLLEGIATE COMPETITION AND MANY VALUABLE GIFTS TO COLLEGE

Among other forward steps taken by Allegheny under the directing hand of President Crawford, was the founding of the Literary Monthly in 1896, which strongly promoted loyalty to the College. Allegheny defeated Bucknell in the first intercollegiate debate in 1898. Her first football season was that of 1898, and her second basketball season, the same year, was highly successful. Another agency fostering college loyalty was the inauguration of the Washington Birthday Celebration in 1900.

A further addition to the Campus was the Newton Memorial Observatory given by Mrs. Mary M. Newton of Batavia, Ill., in honor of her husband, Captain D. C. Newton, a student of the early fifties and a Civil War officer. Captain Newton was a public spirited man of affairs, a philanthropist, and an influential citizen in his community. The dedication of the simple native stone structure occurred in June, 1901, when Dr. F. M. Bristold of Washington gave the dedication address.

Upon the death of Mr. Alexander Bradley, a trustee, Mr. Durbin Horne of Pittsburgh was chosen as his successor. On the Day of Prayer for Colleges in 1901, Dr. Crawford announced the splendid gift of Capt. John B. Ford of Creighton, Pa., of a college chapel in memory of his wife, Mary B. Ford. This gift was followed by contributions that aggregated $300,000 by the close of 1901. In March an anonymous gift of $60,000 was granted to the College on condition that it be a nucleus for an endowment fund of $200,000 to be provided by January, 1902. Another anonymous gift of $30,000 was announced for the construction of a library.

Bishop Fowler and Governor W. A. Stone of the Commonwealth officiated at the beginning of the work. Bishop E. G. Andrews gave the dedicatory sermon of the Chapel, while President Moffat of Washington and Jefferson College made the address at the opening of the Library. The gift of the Chapel was made complete by the presentation through Mrs. Ballantyne, granddaughter of Captain Ford, and her two sisters, of a valuable pipe organ. It was a superior instrument, whose excellencies were formally displayed by Alexander Guilman of Paris.

LOWER FLOOR OF RUTER RE-MODELED INTO CLASS-ROOMS AND OFFICES

CROSS-COUNTRY SQUAD
BEGINS FIRST TRAININGFIFTEEN MEN REPORT FOR WORK-
OUTS—GOOD SCHEDULE
ASSURED

Training for the cross-country track team began last Thursday on Montgomery Field under the direction of Coach Hammett. Only a few men reported for the first practice run but new candidates have increased the squad to about fifteen men at the present time. The training has consisted mainly in light workouts on the track in order to get the men in good condition for intensive training which will begin later.

Captain Rea has not been out with the team yet, due to his absence from College, but is expected to be on the track soon. Rea, together with Bentley and Jones from last year's varsity will form the nucleus of the new squad. Several new men have been out for practice and look like very promising material, but there is still a great need for more candidates.

The first run of the season is with the University of Pittsburgh in Pittsburgh on October 17. Westminster will meet the Blue and Gold runners as a preliminary to the football game between the two schools at New Wilmington, November 21. Several other meets have been tentatively arranged.

Y. W. WEEK CELEBRATED
BY WOMEN OF COLLEGENEW CO-EDS ENTERTAINED BY EXTENSIVE PROGRAM DURING PAST WEEK

In order to make the new students feel perfectly at home and to give them an opportunity to meet and make friends with all the upper-class women, the opening week of College is known as Y. W. Week. Sorority pins are laid aside, group distinctions are abolished and everyone enters into the spirit of the occasion in an attempt to give the new women a pleasing impression of college life during their first week away from home.

The festivities opened this year on Monday afternoon, September 14, with a tea in the drawing room of Hulings Hall. The gathering was quite informal and successfully initiated the "get-acquainted" campaign. Mrs. Ling poured.

Tuesday evening the women met in the Hulings Hall gymnasium where all sorts of get-acquainted games were played. This helped materially in learning and remembering new names and faces. A short session of dancing brought the evening to a close.

The program of entertainment was continued Wednesday evening when the upper-class women escorted the Freshmen to a reception in the Hall. The assemblage was divided into groups and each group was called upon with but a few minutes notice for an original stunt. Several very clever sketches were presented.

Thursday evening, of course, all the girls adjourned to Cochran Hall for the Y. M. - Y. W. Reception, while the week's festivities closed Friday night when all the girls attended the Park Theater.

Much credit for the success of the week is due to Mildred Lose, social chairman of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, although the entire cabinet is to be commended.

Sidney H. Carlson, '22, was married to Miss Erminda Ford on September 2, in Charlotte, Michigan. Mr. and Mrs. Carlson will live in Fredonia, N. Y.

ANNUAL HOME-COMING
SET FOR OCTOBER 10ALUMNI URGED TO MAKE FOOT-BALL GAME RESERVATIONS
IMMEDIATELY

Alumni are again notified of the date of the annual Home-Coming Day which has been set for October 10, the day of the Geneva-Allegheny game.

Plans for the day which were made last spring remain practically unchanged. At chapel in the morning there will be a special speaker. Dean Ross is chairman of the committee on the selection of the speaker. After chapel an indoor baseball game will take place between Cleveland and Pittsburgh. The Pittsburgh delegation will be managed by Jack Frost, '05, while Cleveland has Al Munhall, '16, for its leader. There seems to be quite a bit of rivalry between the alumni of the two cities and this will give them a great opportunity to even affairs.

At noon the alumni are to be the guests of the College at a buffet luncheon to be held at Cochran Hall. Everyone will have ample time to visit old friends before the game begins. The chairman in charge of the luncheon committee is Miss Edith Rowley, '05. A novelty party will be held at Hulings Hall in the evening. From all indications this entertainment will prove to be quite an event. Mrs. O. P. Akers is in charge. A more detailed description will be given in a later issue of The Campus.

The athletic committee has reserved seats for this year's game, and the alumni can secure seats by writing to Graduate Manager S. S. Townsend. In this way it will not be necessary for the alumni to report at Montgomery Field until just before the game, as they will be assured seats through the courtesy of the Athletic Board. It is urged by the Home-Coming Day Committee that everyone make his reservation early.

WEST VIRGINIA GAME

have won three times and Allegheny once, the lone Blue and Gold victory coming in 1911, when West Virginia was beaten, 10-6.

Since returning from the training camp at Conneaut Lake, the team has worked out daily at Montgomery Field, several scrimmages being numbered among the practice sessions. The vacancies left by Parnell, Fuller, Judd, Reed, Blackwell and Miller will be hard to fill, but the new men are showing up well, and indications are that these six vacancies will be well taken care of. Among the new men who may start the game are Slaven, Hughes and Miller, ends, Davis and Waleski, halfbacks. Behrhorst has been doing well at center, while Buck Wolz, star guard on the 1923 eleven, has done much to plug up the big gap in the line.
