ALLEGHENY TRACK TEAM LOSES TO W. & J. BY THREE POINTS IN CLOSE CONTEST

Both Teams Tied With Seven First Places and Seven Seconds, But the Blue and Gold Secured Secured Only Five Thirds to W. & J.'s Eight

In the last track-meet of the 1916 season the Allegheny team was nosed out by a three-point margin last Saturday afternoon at College Field, Washington, Pa. The Allegheny track men made a better showing against this team than they have made on any previous occasion this year. Considering the fact that the field was not in the best of condition, due to the heavy rains, the records that were made were far above the average. The final score was 64-61.

In all, Allegheny captured seven firsts, seven seconds, and five thirds. Wash-Jeff won seven firsts, seven seconds and eight thirds. Two more third places would have placed Allegheny on top of the heap, and the season would have closed with a brilliant victory. However, all credit is due to the local athletes for the showing that they made and to Coach Hammett for the results that he has produced this season.

For W. & J. Smith and Wilson were the stars. They were called upon to fill up the gap left in the team by the absence of Captain Drew in the sprints and Reich in the pole-vault and jumps, and they did their duty nobly. Wilson captured three firsts, having breasted the tape first in the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, and 220-yard hurdles. He made excellent time in all of his runs, considering the condition of the field. He ran the 100-yard dash in 10 2-5 sec.; the 220-yard dash in 23 2-5 sec.; and the 220-yard hurdles in 27 2-5 sec. Smith, of W. & J., surpassed him in points, being high scorer with 16 points. He won firsts in the shot-put and discus throw, and seconds in the broad jump and hammer throw. On the whole W. & J. excelled in the track events, having won every run except the 440, 880 and 120-yard hurdles.

For Allegheny, McKay, McKinney and Hauch were the stars. These three men scored almost half of Allegheny's total points by contributing between them five firsts and one second. McKay secured two firsts, one in the broad jump and one in the low hurdles, incidentally breaking the broad jump record by jumping 21 ft. 2 in. McKinney did exceedingly well in the 440 and 880-yards runs. He captured 10 points in these two runs by beating out Jacob, W. & J.'s best middle distance runner. Hauch was the biggest surprise as well as one of the shining stars of the afternoon. He threw the hammer away and easily won that event by a foot and a half margin. He also secured second place in the high jump.

There were five Allegheny men who secured enough points last Saturday to entitle them to a letter, who had not secured one in a previous meet this season. These men were Hauch, Baer, Kinney, McKinney, and Coulsan. Besides these Powell, Curtiss, McKay, Hall and Drake had already won theirs in previous meets, thus entitling ten men to wear the white A as a result of their track endeavors this season. Of these latter five, Hall and McKay were the only men who secured enough points last Saturday to get a letter.

The summary:

100-yard dash—Won by Wilson, W. & J.; second, Kinney, Allegheny; third, Patton, W. & J. Time, 10 2-5 seconds.

220-yard dash—Won by Wilson, W. & J.; second, Kinney, Allegheny; third, Drake, Allegheny. Time, 23 2-5 seconds.

J. E. Burns, '16, has returned to Allegheny for Commencement.

Tuesday a number of the students of the college with Dr. Darling and Professor Decker made a very interesting trip to Pymatuning Swamp.

Messrs. Donald and Douglas Dunbar, '15, are visiting at their home in Meadville.

Tennis Team to Play Syracuse Wednesday

TWO MEETS SPOILED LAST WEEK BY RAIN—GOOD MATCHES TO BE HERE IF WEATHER PERMITS.

During the past week J. Pluvius was very unkind to the College Tennis teams on the days on which regular intercollegiate matches were scheduled. On both occasions, the Geneva match last Tuesday and the Tech match on Saturday the rain poured down so steadily in the morning that the courts were all young lakes when the time to play arrived in the afternoon. Fortunately for the team management, the bad weather conditions revealed themselves in time for manager Cox to cancel the Tuesday match before the Geneva team left Beaver Falls. In this instance the Athletic Association did not suffer any financial loss. However, the manager was not so fortunate on Saturday in regard to the Tech aggregation. The Skibo boys arrived in Meadville on Friday night when weather conditions looked favorable, but Saturday morning the rain poured down in such torrents that playing was made impossible.

It was very discouraging for the team and for the lovers of the tennis sport that these matches should have been cancelled, for a brand of tennis would have been displayed such as one does not see every day in this part of the state. The J. Castle-Ransom match was especially promising, inasmuch as these men have not definitely decided which is the superior. In the three singles matches in which these men have faced each other Ransom has come out victor twice and J. Castle once. With Ransom playing on a foreign court and Castle full of determination to win, the match surely would have been a closely contested one.

As an all-around match the Tech-Allegheny match gave promise of being one of the best ever played on the local courts. When the team played down at Tech two weeks ago, every one of the doubles matches went more than deuce games.

However, weather permitting, the local tennis fans will get an opportunity to see some real tennis next Wednesday afternoon, May 31, when the Syracuse team lines up against the locals. Last year the match between these two teams was broken off after two singles had been played and so the school supremacy has not been determined. If the tennis team which represents Syracuse is, comparatively speaking, as good as the other athletic teams from that place, a first class match will be presented.

The local team consisting of J. G. Castle, R. A. Cox, H. L. Castle and F. B. Doane have thus far this season put up a brand of tennis which is not fully appreciated by the followers of the tennis sport. In the three inter-collegiate matches in which they have taken part this season they have come through as victors, having lost only one match in eighteen. The match that was lost was a singles, lost by J. Castle to Ransom at Geneva. During the past four years Cox has been a member of the team and enjoys the unique distinction of never having been beaten in an inter-collegiate match. Acting in the capacity of captain-manager this year, he is piloting the tennis team to victory. In case this team does not lose to Syracuse, Allegheny College will have emerged from its fourth successive tennis season without tasting defeat at the hands of a single institution.

A feature of Wednesday afternoon's matches will be the doubles match in which the Castle brothers will oppose Syracuse's best doubles team. The Castle doubles team make a combination that is hard to beat. The matches will be played on the Phi Kappa Psi, Delta Tau Delta and Phi Delta Theta courts and will begin promptly at 2 o'clock.

Duzer Du Play Draws Large Crowd

"IMPORTANCE OF BEING EARNEST" WAS ONE OF THE MOST SUCCESSFUL PLAYS EVER GIVEN BY COLLEGE.

On Tuesday evening, May 23rd, the Duzer Du Dramatic Club presented its eighth annual production at the Academy of Music. The play which was presented, "The Importance of Being Earnest," was pronounced a big success by the large audience which filled the house to its capacity. The parts were all taken with more than a touch of professionalism, for real dramatic ability was displayed by every man who took a part.

Every character, of which there were nine in all, was impersonated by young men of the college who have given evidence of possessing dramatic ability. There were four lady characters and five men. The female characters were impersonated by J. S. Ogden, '18; C. H. Hodgkinson, '17; H. L. Castle, '18, and K. M. Woodward, '18. It would be a difficult task to undertake to pass any judgment as to who was the best, because every one had his part perfected to the minutest detail. The leading man parts were played by E. W. Hickman, '16, and W. J. Hutchison, '18. The former intends to make dramatics a profession after graduation, and the ability that he displayed in impersonating John Worthing, the proprietor of the Manor House, is evidence of the fact that he has not missed his vocation, and is a forecast of the success that he will make when he begins his actual career. Although this was W. J. Hutchison's first appearance in the Duzer Du's cast, he handled himselt in a manner becoming one more experienced. J. L. Wise, who took the part of the Reverend Canon Chasuble, the Rector of Woolton, was every bit as big a hit as he was in "The Dictator," the play presented in 1915. He is well fitted to play a semi-serious part that has interwoven into it some ridiculous situations.

A feature of the evening was the music rendered by Lord's ten-piece orchestra. Several selections appropriate to the play were rendered, which added considerably to the success of the presentation.

W. L. Scott, the President of the Dramatic Club, is deserving of much commendation for the part that he has played in making dramatics such a success at Allegheny. Organized dramatics have been in existence only seven years in this college, during which time Scott has taken part as an actor twice, and managed the productions twice. He played in "Trelawney of the Wells" in 1913, "Arms and the Man" in 1914. In 1915 he managed the production of "The Dictator," and this year he again made a success in his management of "The Importance of Being Earnest."

To Miss Spalding, also, much credit is due. She coached the players from the time that the cast was picked until the day of presentation. Her experience in this work has enabled her to develop the actors so well that they took their parts much like the original actors. She is especially good in bringing out the little details that give polish to the presentation.

The cast in its entirety was as follows:

John Worthing, J. P. (of the Manor House, Woolton, Hertfordshire. . . . . E. W. Hickman, '16
Algernon Moncrieff (his friend) . . . . . W. J. Hutchison, '18
Rev. Canon Chasuble, D. D., (Rector of Woolton) . . John L. Wise, '16
Merriman (butler to Mr. Worthing) . . . . . Winfield S. Zehrung, '19
Lane (Mr. Moncrieff's man-servant) . . . . . A. E. Hart, '19
Lady Bracknell . . J. Switzer Ogden, '18
Hon. Gwendolyn Fairfax (her daughter) . . . . . C. H. Hodgkinson, '17
Cecily Cardew (John Worthing's ward) . . . . . H. L. Castle, Jr., '18
Miss Prism . . . . Kersey Woodward, '18

Klee-O-Kleet Staged Fine Production

"MICE AND MEN" WAS ONE OF THE BEST PLAYS EVER GIVEN BY DRAMATIC CLUB.

Last Friday and Saturday nights in the young women's gymnasium of Hulings Hall Klee-O-Kleet presented one of the finest plays that has been given since the organization of the society in 1910. It is the purpose of this club to promote and develop the interest in dramatics among the girls of the college and this so desired interest certainly showed itself in the success of the play, "Mice and Men."

The time of the play was in the year 1770 at Hampstead, England, where the first two scenes took place in Mark Embury's (the part taken by Miss Rial, '16) study. To this study were brought ten little orphans from the Foundling Hospital. One of the orphans, Peggy, the part taken by Miss Helen Abrams, '19, was chosen as Mark Embury's ward. He trained Peggy, his ward, from childhood to womanhood and his love for her grew stronger and stronger each day until finally a proposal took place in a garden at Belsize Hall. But Captain George Lovell, (Miss Best, '16) was greatly in love with Peggy also and could not bear to think of not winning her love, so in the last scene in front of the garden, Mark Embury gave up his ward to his nephew, George Lovell. This was a most romantic and picturesque scene in which Miss Rial, Miss Best and Miss Abrams showed their unusual dramatic ability by the way in which they acted out these parts. The other members of the cast did splendid work and much credit and praise is due Miss Spalding, under whose direction the play was given.

A very large and most appreciative audience was present both evenings. Between the acts an orchestra rendered most delightful music. The ushers for the evening were the Misses Marian Miller, '16; Margaret Ross, '16; Agnes Van Hoesen, '17, and Helen Warner, '17.

History of Allegheny Is Completed

"ALLEGHENY, A CENTURY OF EDUCATION," BY DR. E. A. SMITH, IS NOW BEING DELIVERED.

"Allegheny, a Century of Education," has left the press and is now being delivered to its subscribers who have made the book possible. The history of Allegheny College has been revised and completed by Dr. E. A. Smith and is now enjoying that very good sale which the book well merits.

This book is a complete history of Allegheny College from the time of the first settlers before the actual founding, to the present day. The history is accurate and complete to the minutest detail and a great amount of credit is due Dr. Smith who has spent many months in completing it.

In the whole volume there has been practically nothing left out. The founding of the college is given in detail, the endowment campaign, the early history, the civil war and critical period, and the centennial celebration of last year. In addition to these things, there are many others such as the literary societies and the Greek letter fraternities, of which a complete history of each is given. The student life of the different periods is pictured. In brief it is the most complete and interesting history of the college that has ever been written.

The book has been in the hands of the printer for several months and when it finally came from the press its reception was a hearty one. Since that time, Dr. Smith has been busy distributing the copies and fortunately they have had the sale that they merit.

College Spirit.

The college spirit which has been exhibited here during the past spring season has been most commendable. The students have been giving much better support to the good, though losing, track team and it has been especially noticeable how much better the visiting teams have been treated. There have been few, if any, remarks made to the contestants and nothing but encouragement given to both teams. At the present time, tennis has taken the leading place in activities as all track contests are over. Allegheny at the present time has perhaps the best tennis team it has ever had and the fact is fairly well appreciated by the students. While no matches have been played here as yet, owing to rainy weather, the Syracuse match should be good and it is hoped that the members of the student body will give it the support that the tennis schedule truly deserves.

Work on Kaldron Progressing Rapidly

BOOK IS TO BE PUT OUT SOON. KALDRON SLIPS DUE TODAY AT TREASURER'S OFFICE.

Work on the Kaldron has been progressing at a rapid pace during the last two weeks and some wonderful surprises are in store for the readers of this book when it finally comes from the press. Editor Hickman and Manager Baker are strong in their assurances that this is going to be positively the "biggest and best Kaldron ever published in the history of the college." Judging from the amount of work that boti of these men are putting on it, as well as what the other members of the staff are doing, there is reason to belitve that this prophesy is true.

New ideas are being developed every day that are entirely original and have never been seen before in any previous Kaldron, and, in addition to this feature, the staff will try to improve upon many of the old ideas which have been such a success. In addition to the large amount of copy which has been sent in already, there will be the largest number of cuts run that has ever been included in the publication. At the present time there have been nearly two hundred pictures sent to the engravers and during the present week it is expected that nearly a hundred more pictures will be sent in. A large number of these are included in the big special feature which is called the art section and which the editor claims is nearly worth the price of the book.

Unfortunately, the book has not been completed yet to the stage where it is off the press. It was expected that this would be done by Moving Up Day, but it is doubtful now if it can be done before Commencement week.

However, Manager Baker has made arrangements to take care of the business end so no one will be disappointed. Owing to the fact that many of the students will be compelled to leave for their homes as soon as their examinations are completed, arrangements have been made by which all books will be mailed to such persons. The Kaldron slips will become due today and the treasurer's office will be opened for the payment of these slips.

The Kaldrons will be handed to the subscribers upon their delivery from the printers and in case anyone has found it necessary to leave in the meantime, their copy will be mailed to their address.

It is necessary to do this this year as the larger volume and the larger number of illustrations as well as special features have made the short delay necessary.

Freshman-Sophomore Baseball Game

Due to the inclement weather of last Tuesday afternoon, the base ball game which was to have been played between the Sophomores and Freshmen was postponed until Wednesday afternoon. At the beginning of the game, the Freshmen got all of the breaks, and the tide of battle moved constantly in their favor. It was difficult for the patched-up Sophomore team to settle down to the gravity of the situation. However, they plugged along until the time when they could settle down to their old stride. This came in the fifth inning. After the Freshmen had been retired in their half of that inning, the '18 men showed a determination of winning, though the score stood 10-2 against them. Before the smoke cleared away in that fateful inning the score card showed the score to be 10-8.

At this point of the game the Freshmen decided to stop playing that they might not miss their suppers, and, though they had agreed to play seven innings, they left the field. The umpire declared the game forfeited to the Sophomores, but it is possible that the two under classes may yet play it off.

The score by innings:

Freshmen	5	3	1	1	x
Sophomores	1	0	1	0	6

Members of Petite Salon Gave Three Splendid Plays

Last Monday evening, May 22, Petite Salon held a very important as well as interesting meeting at the Phi Gamma Delta House. At the beginning of the meeting Dr. G. E. Snavely gave an interesting report on the convention of Alliance Francaise which was held at New York.

The main feature of the afternoon was the presentation of three charming French playlets by the French Club as their contribution of entertainment to Alliance Francaise.

The first play was "Les Martins au restaurant," in which were the following characters: Le pere, Mr. William Ellis, '16; La mere, Miss Rial, '16; La fille, Miss Van Hoesen, '17; Le garcon, Mr. Clarence McKinney, '17. The second play was entitled "Le cordonnier et sa femme au theatre" and the following characters took part: Monsieur Boutineau, Mr. Curry, '16; Mademoiselle Boutineau, Miss Hazen, '17; and Le Cassier, Mr. Boyd, '17. In the last play, "Dans le magasin," the following characters took part: Mademoiselle Bormet, Miss Louisa Smith, '16; Mademoiselle Rateau, Miss Carew, '17; La vendeuse, Miss Harper, '16; and Le vendeur, Mr. McConnell, '17.

The above plays were coached by Professor Ward and much credit is due him for their great success. There was an unusually good attendance at the meeting.

Y. M. C. A.

A regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held on Wednesday evening in Cochran Hall. The purpose of the program was, in view of the plan to send a delegation from Allegheny to the conference at Eagles Mere in June, to give to the members of the Y. M. C. A. an idea of what the conference is like and of its value to the individuals who attend and to the organization to which they belong. To carry out this purpose a number of short talks were given by members of the organization who had attended such conferences in previous years. F. D. Gealy, '16; Professor Swartley, Leo McKay, '16, and Dr. Snavely all told of their experiences and brought out the points of value which impressed them. They agreed in the opinion that it was one of the most enjoyable weeks of their lives because of the naturalness and normalness of the life which gives room for the physical and social as well as for the religious side of life, because of the wide-awake spirit of the conference, and because of the stimulus of meeting the men of all the other colleges. They also agreed that the inevitable result of such a conference is an inspiration and pep which exercises a wonderful influence upon the life of the individual and which reacts on the institution to which they belong.

Professor Ross then gave several reasons why a number of the members of the Y. M. C. A. should attend the convention this year. He delivered a very interesting talk and gave several important reasons.

After the presentation of the matter an offer was made by the Y. M. C. A. to pay part of the expenses of delegates to the conference and a request was made that those who would go should volunteer. About six members expressed an intention of going.

Y. W. C. A.

The regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held in Hulings Hall parlors Sunday evening. This was the Freshman meeting of the year and was in charge of Miss Virginia Lewis, '19. The leader chose as her subject, "Keeping Tryst", a tale of King Arthur's time, by Annie Fellows Johnston. Miss Lewis related the story of a troubadour who was in Arthur's kingdom telling of such wonderful tales of joust and journey and feats of brave knight-errantry that everyone in the court stood aghast and listened intently. One little page, Ederyn by name, crept on a winter's night to the court to listen to these interesting tales. He then wanted to seek the title of knight and asked in what way it would be possible to obtain such honor. He was told that if he would serve his squire and fulfill a vow that such glory and honor could then be won. After learning that he must prove himself trustworthy in all things, Ederyn toiled with double care his squire's permission. Then one day when grown to pleasing stature he heard the hoped-for call of which he had long dreamed, "Ederyn! Ederyn! the king awaits thee, keep tryst." Fate crossed his path many times in the seeking of this honor, and temptations he encountered, but on and on he strove toward the goal until his duties were faithfully performed. Then as a reward, the king proclaimed him knight and trusted him to the utmost in little things as well as great. After winning his bride, he felt that his reward had been completed for all his years of fealty to his vow and out into the world he went with the words, "I keep thee tryst," written on his shield.

Miss Lewis then compared this story to real life and showed how it might be applied.

A special feature of the meeting was a pleasing piano solo by Miss Marie Frances, '19.

Wednesday evening the annual missionary rally was held on the lawn between Hulings and Bentley. The missionary committee was in charge. The first number on the program was a visit from a white elephant, representative of the elephant missionary banks in the Hall. A number of the girls were dressed to represent the people in whose lands missionaries are working. The girls played games on the lawn and then had refreshments, during which it was announced that the collection this year had amounted to about sixty dollars. The money is not all collected and it is hoped that this may at least reach the hundred mark.
