SOPHOMORES DEFEATED IN DEBATE WITH FROSH

FIRST-YEAR MEN WIN ANNUAL CONTEST BY TWO TO ONE DECISION.

The forensic season at Allegheny College was opened last Thursday evening, November 19, when by a vote of two to one in favor of the negative the class of 1929 defeated the class of 1928 in the annual Freshman-Sophomore debate. The question debated was "Resolved, That the United States government should control and operate the coal mines."

The Sophomore Class, upholding the affirmative, was represented by Robert Kirkpatrick, Lewis Shellenberger, and Angelo Strabley, with Russell Munnell as alternate; the negative was defended by the Freshman team, composed of Aubrey Billings, Osler Hammett, and Edgar Deissler, with Herbert Mook as alternate.

Mr. Kirkpatrick spoke first for the affirmative. He devoted his argument to proving the need of a fundamental change in the coal industry, due to the present defects in production, distribution, and labor handling.

Mr. Billings, speaking first for the negative, declared that there is no constitutional or moral law which permits us to take away a man's property. The affirmative must prove how their plan would work.

Mr. Shellenberger next discussed how the defects in the present system would be removed. The government control would result in economy, uniform wages with steady employment.

Mr. Hammett, second negative speaker, took the individualistic view that a man's property is inviolable. Government control, he declared, would result in the stagnation of the coal industry.

Mr. Strabley completed the argument of the affirmative by showing how, under a single administration, co-operation would succeed the present destructive competition.

Mr. Deissler concluded the negative view by showing that the system of government control would result in even greater evils than now exist. The grave fault of the present system lies in the railroads and middlemen, whom the system favored by the affirmative does not affect.

In the rebuttal the affirmative reiterated their own statements and declared that the negative was appealing merely to sentiment. The negative pointed out that the affirmative had failed to offer a constructive plan.

The judges of the debate were Dr. W. F. Woodring, Dr. I. R. Beller, and Prof. Whitney Coombs. Edwin J. Schruers presided.

REPORT MADE OF BAND'S EXPENSES AT GROVE CITY

SURPLUS TO BE USED IN PURCHASE OF MUSIC FOR COLLEGE SONGS.

An account of the money expended out of the fund contributed by the students toward sending the Band to Grove City is herewith made by Manager S. H. Parker:

Assets.
Fraternalities	$40.00
Hulings Hall	18.00
Cochran Hall	9.25
Athletic Board	10.00
Mrs. Mittan	1.00
	$78.25
Liabilities.
Truck	$35.00
Meals at Grove City	16.00
	$51.00

Surplus, $27.25.

The surplus will be used to help defray expenses incurred by the Band in the printing of music for all of the College songs.

The members of the Band wish to take this opportunity to publicly express their thanks to Mrs. Mittan for furnishing the sandwiches as a lunch on the trip, and to the entire student body for the financial support that made the trip possible.

Don M. Larrabee, of Williamsport, Pa., who was a recent visitor to Allegheny, and who erected the memorial to Washington and Lafayette on the campus, reports that there has been such an interest displayed in the pamphlet relating to this memorial that a second edition is nearly exhausted.

THANKSGIVING RECESS BEGINS THIS AFTERNOON

Starting today, there will be a suspension of all college activities for the Thanksgiving recess. As was announced by the Office, there will be no classes this afternoon, and a vacation until next Monday, November 30, when classes will be resumed. Double cuts will be counted for any absence on the two days immediately preceding or following this vacation.

Since Allegheny College does not play a football game on Thanksgiving, it is expected that everyone who can possibly do so will journey homeward, leaving the campus deserted for the four days' recess. This is the first vacation for the students of Allegheny this year, and many of them are anxious to return home or make some trip to which they have been looking forward.

WORLD COURT MEETING HELD IN PITTSBURGH

FIVE ALLEGHENIANS ATTEND
CONFERENCE HELD OVER
LAST WEEK-END.

On November 14 and 15, a conference of men and women delegates representing practically all colleges and normal schools in Western Pennsylvania was held in Pittsburgh. The sessions convened in the Margaret Morrison School, Carnegie School of Technology, and at the Heinz House on the University of Pittsburgh Campus.

At the first meeting on Saturday afternoon, Miss Trull of Barnard College, Columbia University, gave a review of the "World Situation as it is Today."

Prof. Irving Fisher, of Yale University, at the Saturday evening session, lectured on the World Court. He traced the development of courts through the family, the village, the tribe, and finally through the union of State with Supreme Court. He declared that wherever courts are found, there war has been abolished, and said as a sequence to this statement that international wars have not been abolished for the simple reason that there is no international court. He discussed the present World Court, pointing out that the Hague Tribunal was really not a tribunal whereas the present court is a sitting salaried court whose judges have a nine-year tenure of office. Professor Fisher next pointed out that the present court has functioned well during its short existence, having settled six cases and given advisory opinion on eleven. He finished his lecture by summing up the reason why the United States should enter the World Court; first, in order that we may have a voice in the world affairs; second, to provide for economic stability; third, to increase disarmament; and fourth, to keep our promise made to the soldiers of the late war: "That the World War was a war fought to end war."

The remaining time of the Conference was spent in a discussion of the purpose and organization of the World Court and the part students could play by creating a student opinion concerning it.

Students representing Allegheny at the Conference were the Misses Mary Lou Murphy, Grace Minch, and Naomi Reischach from the Y. W. C. A.; Miss Virginia Hatch from the Student Government, and Mr. Clarence Avey from the Y. M. C. A.

COLLEGE FITTINGLY REMEMBERS FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF DOCTOR HIXSON'S DEATH.

Students and friends will recall that it was one year ago last Monday afternoon that Allegheny College was deprived of one of its truest and noblest friends, Doctor Fred Whitlo Hixson, president of the institution.

In order to show that the student body of the College had not forgotten their late president, the Men's Senate on Monday went to Greendale Cemetery, where they placed a wreath of flowers on his grave. Such a token was in the nature of appreciation for the excellent and wonderful work and for the true and fine character displayed by the late Doctor Hixson.

Again in Chapel, yesterday morning, Doctor Ross commemorated the memory of the late President, when he eulogized Doctor Hixson in a few well-chosen words.

Dr. Howard W. Bosworth, '20, is at present resident physician at the Barlow Sanatorium in Los Angeles, Cal.

ALLEGHE CRUSHES WESTMINSTER IN LAST GAME OF SEASON, 43-0

Overwhelming Victory Lessens Sting of Last Week's Defeat

Playing under ideal weather conditions, and playing football "as is" the Blue and Gold Hurricane of Allegheny rode rough shod over Westminster Saturday, November 21, winning a one-sided contest, 43-0. The game was staged in New Castle, before a crowd of 6,000. The Davies machine was superior in every way to the Dyer-coached outfit and scored almost at will, hanging up a 7-point marker in each of the first three periods and then scoring a trio of touchdowns and a safety in the final stanza. The game is very well summed up in these two names—Dahl and Hanlon; their stellar play was responsible for five of the six touchdowns scored. The mighty Dahl celebrated his final game by annexing three markers, while Captain Hanlon grabbed off two, and Hughes added to the good work by scooping up a fumble and going across for the final tally. Brace contributed five points out of six tries, for placements.

That Allegheny has a great football machine is very well indicated by the

LITERARY MAGAZINE IS FAVORABLY REVIEWED

ALLEGHENY.

The first number of the Literary Magazine, formerly the Literary Monthly, made its appearance last week. The cover is carried out in a two-tone blue effect, and the issue contains twenty-four pages.

A faculty member reviews the magazine as follows:

"For several years past the Allegheny Literary Monthly has made a late appearance, presented an apology for its existence, issued a few occasional numbers, and except for its regular unfavorable review in The Campus made little apparent impression on the college community. But this publication has a remarkable amount of vitality. Here it comes, well before Thanksgiving, a Magazine instead of a 'Monthly,' and a new staff of editors."

"Two things about the new issue move the reviewer to favorable comment. The first is this change of name, appropriate and descriptive as the old name never was. The second is the editorial with which Mr. Evans makes his bow as editor-in-chief. Here is no humble plea for support and charity. Quite the contrary. The editor expresses his belief that here is a pretty good start, and challenges the College to meet its opportunity as a non-technical institution to develop its literary powers. The reviewer feels that this editorial expresses the right attitude. Other colleges are furnishing new writers every year. Allegheny has a proud record for the literary achievement of her alumni, and there is no reason why college writers should not furnish excellent contributions to the pages of this year's 'Lit.'"

"Some of the material of the current issue shows more promise than performance—as should always be the case in a college publication. Certain features, however, stand out as being worthy of special attention. Most conspicuous, not because of its length but its merit, is Mr. Barber's story, 'The Song of the Lark.' It is artistically done, and the fact that it has achieved so much shows the editor's contention that there are people in college who can write is correct. Mr. Henrietta gives us a fine type of the literary essay in his 'Introducing Lafcadio Hearn.' The author has done just what his title claims. He makes us feel the charm of Hearn and arouses the desire to read more of his work. Mr. Reid furnishes the best poem of the number. His verse as usual has the real spirit of the poet. He has caught beauty and combined it with art."

"Taken altogether the issue promises well for the magazine. Certainly if all the students who have literary inclinations realize the opportunity the editors will be deluged with material. And unless the reviewer is mistaken, much of it will be well worth reading. The Literary Magazine is not dead at Allegheny, nor is the literary spirit."

fact that, with two regulars missing, the Blue and Gold outfit was able to smother Westminster under a top-heavy score of 43-0, thus garnering more points in a single game than Wayneburg, Grove City, and Thiel, their scores being added together, were able to register against this same outfit.

Westminster's touted defense crumbled before the smashing attacks of the heavier Allegheny eleven, Dahl and Hanlon ripping the Blue and White line to shreds throughout the game. Only once did Westminster threaten, and that was late in the second quarter when they managed to advance the ball by means of forward passes, from their own 40-yard line to Allegheny's 30, where the threat died when Dahl intercepted a pass on the next play.

Allegheny's crushing offense started with the opening whistle and the ball was soon on Westminster's 10-yard line, where the United Presbyterians held for downs. Rose got off a poor punt to give Allegheny the ball on the Westminster 34-yard line, from which point Dahl and Hanlon bucked the oval to the Westminster 6-yard mark. Here the Blue and White line again stiffened and the ball was lost on downs, amidst great cheering from the Westminster cohorts. However, the plucky line could hold no longer, and when Rose punted out of bounds on his own 24-yard line, Dahl hit left guard for a 6-yard gain and followed this by breaking through the other side of the line for the first touchdown.

In the second quarter the Blue and Gold steam roller again got under way, and advanced the pigskin to Westminster's 3-yard line, from which point Hanlon went across for the second marker of the game. This pretty exhibition of straight football was accomplished by alternating line bucks with criss-cross end runs which had the opposition completely baffled.

Dahl shone to advantage in the third period when Dyer's men were made keenly aware of the power of his attack. Try as they would, the mighty fullback could not be stopped, and the

MEN'S GLEE CLUB SINGS IN CHAPEL LAST FRIDAY

MUSICIANS SING THREE NUMBERS AS PART OF PEP MEETING.

On Friday, November 20, a combined glee club concert and pep meeting was held at the regular chapel hour. The Men's Glee Club, under the direction of Prof. Lee Hess Barnes, sang several selections, following which Cyril Hartman and Francis Felton led the student body in the singing of college songs and in cheering.

Dr. S. S. Swartley announced the Penn State concert on December 7, and asked the school for its support of the glee club. The club then sang "Fellowship in Song," "My Home Land," and "The Trumpeter."

Tickets for the concert on December 7 will be sold by all members of the glee club, and a canvass will be made of the students. The price of the tickets is fifty cents. Since the Penn State Glee Club is the first other college musical organization to ever make an appearance in Meadville, a large crowd is expected to attend. The glee club is making extensive preparations for this concert and for a tentative trip on December 8, 9, and 19. Rehearsals will be held at 4:30 on December 2, at 6:45 on December 4, and at 2:30 on December 6. Extra rehearsals will be announced later.

The honor system, after a twenty year's trial at the University of California, has proved itself wholly successful there. The entire administration of the University, including the finances of the various activities, is controlled by a Student Association. This governing group is, of course, responsible to the dean, but its recommendations are generally accepted by him.

ONLY FOUR MEN ASSURED PLACES ON DEBATE TEAMS

Last Friday afternoon, November 20, in the Forum room of Bentley Hall, the ten remaining contestants for places on the varsity debate team were heard and chosen or eliminated by the varsity debate committee. Of the ten men who tried out for the team, four were chosen as speakers: Messrs. Schruers, Gordon, Corbett, and Palmer. There were three others chosen from the ten, Messrs. Bartlett, Hartzell, and Riemer, who will again debate against three men chosen from the Freshman and Sophomore debate team: Messrs. Kirkpatrick, Deissler, and Billings. From these six men, two speakers and two alternates will be chosen to represent, with the other four speakers, the debate team of Allegheny College.

The date for the additional tryouts of these six men has not been set, but it was announced that it would be as soon after the Thanksgiving vacation as possible.

LEGINSKA PLEASURES MANY WITH SUBERB PLAYING

SECOND NUMBER OF CONCERT
SERIES PRESENTED IN CHAPEL
LAST EVENING.

Miss Ethel Leginska, world-famed pianist, delivered a piano recital at Ford Memorial Chapel last evening that will long be remembered as one of the best and most interesting concerts ever given in this vicinity. Miss Leginska's playing surpassed the hopes of even her most ardent admirers.

Applause after applause greeted the completion of the numbers on Miss Leginska's program, and she was repeatedly required to play encores, which were received with as much applause as the main numbers.

Miss Leginska will ever be remembered for her lightness of touch, daring chromatic runs, and lightning speed, accompanied by an accuracy that caused many to marvel.

This artist of the artists was brought to Meadville by the local manager, Dr. H. W. Church, and is under the exclusive management of Haensel and Jones, of New York City. The Knabe piano was used throughout the program.

The program was as follows:

- I.
Two Chorals.....Bach
(Adapted by Walter Rummel)
(a) Choral Prelude—"Mortify Us by Thy Grace."
(b) Choral Overture—"Ah How Ephemeral, How Transitory is Man's Life."
- Sonata, B minor.....Liszt
- II.
Prelude, D flat major.....
Etude, G flat major.....
Nocturne, C minor.....
Etude, C minor.....Chopin
- III.
Cradle Song.....Leginska
Dance of a Puppet.....Leginska
The Hurdy-Gurdy Man.....Goossens
Chinatown.....Ornstein
Rhapsodie, No. 8.....Liszt
As a preliminary to last evening's recital by Miss Leginska, Doctor Church assisted by Ted Polster, gave a pleasing and instructive talk on the type of music that was to be found on Miss Leginska's program.

Doctor Church stated that variety is the main consideration in arranging any program. A well-arranged program should consist of classical, modern and ultra-modern music, which was found to be the case in last evening's recital. Several explanatory statements concerning the music played by Miss Leginska were made.

In order to illustrate the type of music that Miss Leginska played as the main part of her program, Doctor Church introduced Theodore Polster, who delighted the student body with two Nocturnes from Chopin and a fantasy by the same composer.

Fraternalities at the University of Colorado will support a $250 scholarship next year. The individual to receive this scholarship will be chosen from the present freshman class. Both scholarship and financial need will be taken into consideration when the award is made.

AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK OBSERVED HERE

ERIE EDUCATOR SPEAKS IN CHAPEL AS ALLEGHENY'S PART IN OBSERVANCE.

American Education Week was brought before the Allegheny students when Superintendent John C. Diehl of the Erie public schools spoke in Chapel last Thursday morning, November 19, on the subject, "Democracy." In introducing the speaker, Doctor Ross read the proclamation of President Coolidge in which he named the week of November 16 as American Education Week and in which he asked the co-operation of the higher educational institutions of the nation in observing and supporting it.

Superintendent Diehl explained that the idea of an education week was first advanced by the American Legion and it is now being sponsored by the United States Bureau of Education, the National Educational Association, and the American Legion.

One reason for it was that of all the young men examined in the United States for military service during the war, twenty-five percent were illiterate and twenty-five percent were physically unfit. This condition can be corrected only through the public schools. If democracy is to be made safe for the world it must be done through these channels.

Democracy was divided by Superintendent Diehl into subdivisions, political, educational, and religious. He defined democracy as an attitude of mind; the spirit in a man's heart which prompts him to say to his neighbor, "You are just as good a man as I am."

Superintendent Diehl stated that the true spirit of democracy is expressed in the poem of Robert Burns, "A Man's a Man for A' That." To secure the true worth of the poem the conditions under which it was written must be known.

Burns, a penniless, uncouth young farmer, rose to the heights of fame and was feted and lionized by the highest of society. At the same time he felt that he was considered an inferior. As a result, in the midst of one of these fetes he was so overcome with this feeling that he stepped into an adjoining room and wrote this famous poem.

In social democracy, America leads the world but no nation has ever tried to give every man a square deal. Consequently the democracy of the United States is still on trial before the world. Among the dangers which it is facing are the facts that fifty percent of the voters in the nation fail to exercise

PHILO-FRANKLIN HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING

WEEKLY PROGRAM CONSISTS OF ORIGINAL SPEECH AND DECLAMATION CONTEST.

Last Friday afternoon, November 20, at 4:30 o'clock, the Philo-Franklin Forum held its regular meeting in the Forum room of Bentley Hall. Due to the length of the program for the afternoon, all business was postponed until the next meeting.

The program for the afternoon consisted of a declamation contest, an original speech, and further study of "Robert's Rules of Order for Parliamentary Procedure." The original speech was given by Ross Carey on "The Mistreatment of the Indians." The declamation was between four of the members, Sidney Highley, with a recitation on "The Message to Garcia," Alton Lindsey, reciting a selected poem; Cecil Kelley, giving Patrick Henry's speech before the Virginia Assembly, and Bruce Middaugh, delivering Clemen's views on New England weather. Bruce Middaugh was declared the winner by a plurality of the members present at the Forum. After this part of the program, Dr. S. S. Swartley explained further some of the details given by Robert in his text book on "Rules of Order for Parliamentary Procedure."

There will be no meeting this week due to the Thanksgiving vacation. The next meeting will be held Friday, December 4, the program for which will be announced later.

At last a college co-ed football team is an established fact. Co-eds of Ursula College, East Orange, N. J., have formed an eleven and have issued a challenge to any other women's team in the east.

DO WE, OR DO WE NOT?

Is Allegheny College going to have a football banquet for her 1925 football squad? There is the question—that is the problem. Rumor, coming from more or less authoritative sources, has it that no banquet will be sponsored by the Athletic Board of Control this year. Finances and a poor outlook for student support, the latter based on past experience, are given as reasons. Financially speaking, the banquets of the past several years have resulted in nothing but losses to the Athletic Board treasury. And lack of student support has been the cause of this condition. The men of the college have either promised to buy tickets and failed to come through on their promises, or have simply shown no interest whatsoever. Records show that only a small percentage of the men of the college have attended athletic banquets in the past.

Since there is a very great possibility that the authorities will not sponsor a banquet this year, we wonder if the student body might be able to stir up something regarding the matter? Our football team deserves a banquet, does it not? Do you suppose we can do something about it?

THOSE TREACHEROUS BUILDING APPROACHES.

One thing of outstanding importance has been apparently overlooked in the improvement program of Allegheny College: that is the sad condition of the steps leading to the various recitation buildings on the campus during the winter season. The snow and ice which accumulates on the steps is exceedingly dangerous to those who must enter and leave the buildings several times each day.

The cause of this in the case of the west entrance to Alden Hall may be traced to the constant dripping of water on the steps from the roof above. We have been unable to determine whether the spouting is of faulty construction or is inadequate to remove water from the roof. At any rate there is need of repair if serious accidents are to be avoided. The somewhat disastrous results of last winter are surely indicative of the necessity of investigation in the matter.

Several of the other college buildings are just as bad as Alden in this respect, Ruter in particular. The cause here may be different, but nevertheless the result is practically the same. To avoid a bad fall one must be exceptionally agile when the steps and threshold are covered with ice.

THINK IT OVER.

The Thanksgiving holidays mean to the great majority of us (crass materialists that we are), a good football game, lots of things to eat, two or three dances, a big show, and possibly a half hour spent with our parents. Negatively, they mean no classes for three days.

The Campus believes that the limits given above include all Thanksgiving connotations for the general student body. There may be slight variations here and there, but we wager that the average Thanksgiving week-end will be spent doing these things. We will all be busy in a round of pleasures; there will be no time for much serious thought.

But, even if you are the luckiest person in the world, or even if your program is not so complete, even if you are going home under the shadow of a flock of D's, even if you have had more than your share of tough breaks, or even if you are not in sympathy with the spirit of the occasion, can you not find, without much seeking, a great deal for which to thank whatever gods there be and can you not spare a few minutes to do so?

Think it over!

FOOTBALL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Geneva won the Tri-state Conference Title by defeating Waynesburg 10-0. It was mainly due to the work of "Skinny" Hamilton that Geneva triumphed in the season's final game.

Harvard and Yale played a 0-0 tie game in the contest for the booby prize of the Big Three. Although Yale was favored to win the contest, Harvard's grid warriors held them scoreless.

"Red" Grange played the last game of his college career Saturday against Ohio State, which Illinois won 14-9. Immediately after the game, Grange announced his intention of organizing his own team and playing professional football. Among his team-mates will be Earl Britton, and some members of the famous "Four Horsemen."

Using a bewildering aerial game, Michigan crushed Minnesota 35-0, and gave the Wolverines an equal claim with Northwestern for honors in the Big Ten football race.

Herb McCracken's Lafayette grid-ers punished Lehigh to the tune of 14-0, and closed a very successful season.

Twenty-five men at Iowa Wesleyan College have taken a pledge not to shave until the College football team wins a victory. Four chances for victory are left the team this season. Meanwhile, these martyrs are suffering the added humiliation of being ignored by the fairer sex.

At the Oregon Agricultural College the feature of the homecoming celebrations was a pajama parade in which both men and women took part.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS HOLDS REGULAR WEEKLY MEETING IN FORD CHAPEL.

Last Sunday morning, November 22, the Allegheny School of Practical Christianity held its regular services in Ford Memorial Chapel.

Due to the absence of Mr. R. O. Barber, Mr. Clarence Avey led the services. The Stone Church Epworth League furnished the speaker and music. Mrs. Patterson, formerly Miss Mildred Clark, sang a solo. Miss Gertrude Thomas, '21, president of the league, gave a short talk on the purpose of the "Win My Chum Services," held last week by the Epworth League.

Mrs. Alfred E. Bartberger (Martha K. Petersen, '03) of San Antonio, Texas, has been visiting her parents at Brackettville, Texas. After January 8, Mr. and Mrs. Bartberger will remove to Brackettville where Mr. Bartberger will enter into business with Mrs. Bartberger's brother, who has a large wholesale and retail store there.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Swick, '10, of Tarentum, Pa., announce the birth of a daughter, Virginia Marie, on October 28.

George Mason and Paul Weyand, both of the class of 1925, are teaching in the Farrell, Pa., High School this year.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Goldsmith (Lucy H. Wright, '08) of Dunkirk, N. Y., visited college friends in Meadville recently while enroute to Pittsburgh.

Alumni Notes

ATTENTION ALUMNI!

All Allegheny Alumni residing permanently or temporarily in the Philadelphia District are requested to get in touch immediately with Ralph D. Bacon, 3611 Locust Street, Philadelphia, regarding the meeting of the Philadelphia Alumni Association, which will be held in the form of a banquet on Saturday evening, December 12. Plans are under way to make this a great occasion, and those in charge are anxious to have every Alleghenian in the vicinity present. Further details may be had from Mr. Bacon at the above address.

MERCER COUNTY ALUMNI ASSOCIATION HOLDS ANNUAL BANQUET.

The Mercer County Allegheny Alumni Association held its annual "Get-together" at the Homestead in Sharon, Pa., on Saturday evening, November 14. There were thirty-two guests present. Dr. S. S. Swartley, Mrs. Swartley, and E. E. Hartzell were guests from the College.

After the dinner, Mr. George Rowley, '05, of Greenville, President of the Association, presided at the meeting and introduced Mr. Leo McKay, '16, of Sharon, Virgil Johnson, '92, of Mercer, and Rev. Wilbur Hewitt, '05, of Sharon, each of whom gave a brief and interesting talk. Dr. S. S. Swartley, the speaker of the evening, was then introduced. Doctor Swartley spoke on "What Is Allegheny College Worth?" In developing his theme he touched on the actual money value of the buildings, equipment, and endowment of Allegheny. But the true measure of the worth of any college, Doctor Swartley emphasized, is the character of the men and women it turns out. College should teach young people how to direct their energies—in a word, how to live.

At the conclusion of the address Mr. Hartzell led in the singing of several Allegheny songs. He also sang a number of selections which were greatly appreciated by the audience.

H. W. MARCY, EX-'87, DIES AT HIS HOME IN KNOXVILLE, PA.

Henry W. Marcy, ex-'87, died at his home in Knoxville, Pa., on November 17, after a week's illness. Mr. Marcy was the oldest employee of the Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph, in point of years of service, having been connected with the editorial department of that paper for thirty-eight years. After leaving college he practiced law for several years in Pittsburgh, before he took up journalism.

He was a member of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity, Franklin Lodge Free and Accepted Masons, The Pittsburgh Press Club, and the Knoxville Presbyterian Church.

Funeral services were held from the family home on Friday afternoon, and interment was made in the Allegheny Cemetery.

HONORARY SCHOLARSHIP FRATERNITY TO OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY DECEMBER 5.

Eta Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa at Allegheny College is planning to observe the 149th anniversary of the founding of the national honorary scholastic fraternity, which will be held on December 5. About one hundred chapters and 30 alumni organizations will join in the national observance.

Of particular interest will be the discussion of plans for the 150th observance of the anniversary next year, which will be made the most important of those held thus far.

their franchise, that a great percentage of its people are illiterate, that many children of school age are not attending school, and that there is an alarming amount of disregard for law. It is the duty of every person to carry out the law and to thus help to propagate democracy.

America is proud of the Pilgrims, of the Dutch settlers, of the Quakers, of the Cavaliers, and of the Huguenots for their virtue, love of God, and many other qualities which they left to influence the creation of her free institutions, her government, and her constitution, which is the oldest document of democracy in the world.

In closing his talk the speaker commended the spirit of the Allegheny football team as shown in the game with West Virginia University.

Superintendent Diehl was brought to Allegheny by Kappa Phi Kappa, honorary educational fraternity, which is the agent that placed American Education Week before the students here.

PICTURES FOR KALDRON ARE ABOUT COMPLETED

WORK ON COLLEGE ANNUAL RUNNING TRUE TO SCHEDULE.

Work on the Kaldron is progressing very rapidly this year, due to the fact that most of the pictures have been taken, and the written material is being handed in every day from the competitors and the department editors.

Nearly all the individual pictures that were to be taken before the Thanksgiving vacation have been completed, and the individual pictures will be mounted into fraternity groups as soon after this recess as possible.

If, however, anyone has been unable to have his individual picture taken before this specified time, they should notify Edward McKay, at the Delta Tau Delta House at once, so that special arrangements can be made.

ADDITIONAL SOCIETY NOTES.

THETA UPSILON ENTERTAINED AT A FACULTY TEA THURSDAY, OCTOBER 19.

On Saturday afternoon, November 21, Mrs. Akers entertained the active girls of Tallagewe at a tea. The guests of honor were Mrs. Beller, Miss Staley, Mrs. Ruth Dodge Byham, ex-'23, Miss Clementine Calvin, '32, and Miss Henrietta Leyda, '19, of Oil City.

NON-FRAT SMOKES.

Thursday evening, Cochran Hall, decked with the furnishings of an exclusive night club, was the mecca for more than some sixty-five non-fraternity men who gathered for the purpose of becoming acquainted and for promoting a better college spirit.

Splendid entertainment was furnished throughout the entire smoker, which began at 9 o'clock. Don Koefed's Select Orchestra and a new Orthophonic Victrola provided music for the occasion. Other features were a fancy Indian club performance, a three-round boxing bout, and a heavy-weight wrestling match, all staged on a brightly-lighted arena especially constructed for these events. As part of the program, college songs were sung and were followed by a period of vigorous cheering. Such spontaneous fun and frolic prevailed that there was not a moment of dullness.

Refreshments were served at various intervals including apples, candy, cider, doughnuts, hot dogs, and coffee. Among the visitors present were: Professors Mezzotero, Reynolds, Petty, Bland, and Packard, Coach Davies, and Captain Hanlon.

Mrs. H. E. Dennis, of Meadville, entertained the Alumnae Club of Alpha Gamma Delta at her home recently at a tea.

Mrs. Thomas Smith of Vandergrift, Penna., visited her daughter, Betty Jean, over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hannon visited Ruth Hannon on Sunday.

Muriel Green had as her guest over the week-end Miss Lucille Marshal of Smethport, Penna.

Alpha Chi Omega entertained the faculty ladies and their alumnae at a tea in their rooms on Wednesday afternoon, November 18. Mrs. C. C. Laffer, Miss Florence Harper, and Mrs. O. P. Akers poured.

"Y" MEETING FOR LAST WEEK CANCELLED.

Because of the conflict between the meetings of the Win-My-Chum services of the Epworth League at the Stone Church and the weekly Y. M. C. A. meeting, the "Y" service for last week was not held.

The Win-My-Chum service was held in the League rooms of the Stone Church on Wednesday evening, November 18, in the form of a regular mid-week prayer service. The Leaguers provided special music, a solo by Miss Frances Greenawalt, and an orchestra composed of league members. Rev. H. H. Hough gave a special address for young people.

WORLD COURT IS STUDIED AT REGULAR MEETING OF HISTORY AND POLITICAL SCIENCE CLUB.

The History and Political Science Club held its regular semi-monthly meeting on Wednesday evening, November 18, in the Library.

"The United States and its position in regards to the World Court" was discussed and debated at this meeting. Roy Nelson, the first speaker of the evening, impartially discussed the World Court and traced the history of international arbitration. Miss Vera Richards then argued in favor of the court by giving reasons why the United States should join and John Gordon presented the negative side, using the objections of political leaders who opposed the plan as his chief argument.

After the debate an informal discussion followed during which Dr. W. F. Woodring and Prof. B. J. Hovde made clear to the students the doubtful points concerning the Court.

ALLEGHENY HAS TWO REPRESENTATIVES AT STUDENT GOVERNMENT CONVENTION

Mary Alice Jackson and Ruth Hunter were representatives of Allegheny at a Student Government Convention held at Wellesley College, November 12, 13, and 14. The convention was composed of two women from each of sixty colleges or universities east of the Mississippi, who met to discuss problems of Student Government.

Freshmen privileges, smoking, the Honor System, and the aims, functions, chief difficulties, and necessity of a Student Government within the college were the subjects discussed. Conclusions reached were: the faculty should not control all the interests of the college, the work of the Student Government should be constructive as well as clerical, membership in a Student Government body is training for citizenship, the restriction of personal freedom resulting from the enforcement of Student Government rules furthers character development.

The delegates were entertained Thursday evening by a dinner and a reception at Alumni Hall, and Friday evening by the dramatic club of Wellesley College.

The representatives of Allegheny returned with several concrete ideas for advancing the Student Government activities on this campus.

DELEGATES TO VARIOUS CONVENTIONS GIVE REPORT TO WOMEN AT CHAPEL SATURDAY.

At the women's chapel held Saturday, November 21, reports of the various conferences and conventions attended during the week-end were given. Naomi Reisacher, Grace Minch, Virginia Hatch, and Mary Lou Murphy reported on the different sessions of the World Court Conference held at the University of Pittsburgh. Marion Wheldon gave a very interesting report of the convention held by the League of Women Voters in Erie. Mary Alice Jackson and Ruth Hunter told about their trip to Wellesley and the Student Government Convention held there.

The meeting was conducted by Mary Alice Jackson.

GIRLS OF HULINGS HALL HOLD HOUSE MEETING LAST WEDNESDAY.

A meeting of the girls was held Wednesday evening, November 18, in the living room of the Hall. Miss Rowley, the librarian, who is also President of the Meadville Art Association, invited all the women of the college to become members of the organization. Undoubtedly many of them will take advantage of this privilege.

It was also announced at the meeting that immediately after Thanksgiving the Freshman girls would be given an examination on Student Government rules.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA HOLDS ANNUAL FALL PARTY AT SAE- GERTOWN INN.

Kappa chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta held, as its annual Fall party, a formal dinner dance at the Saegertown Inn Friday, November 20. Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee were the chaperones and the music was furnished by Ted's Alleghetors. Japanese decorations were carried out very artistically. The guests were the Misses Dorothy Wise, Bertha Dickson, Isabel Challenger, Martha Wallace, Gertrude Paff, and Jean Aiken from Alpha Epsilon chapter, located at Westminster College and Elsie Reynolds, '24, who is now teaching at Syracuse University.

TOUCHDOWN DINNER.

The Junior members of the touchdown team, who were winners in the recent tournament, were entertained at a dinner, on November 15, by the Freshman and Sophomore members of the team. The tables were tastefully decorated and favors were given the winning team.

HARRIERS LOSE LAST MEET TO WESTMINSTER SATURDAY

BLUE AND GOLD RUNNERS BREAK
EVEN IN SEASON'S RESULTS.

Setting the fast pace of 29 minutes, 49.7 seconds over a 5.4-mile course of cinders and mud, at New Wilmington last Saturday, November 21, Westminster's harriers defeated Captain Rea's Blue and Gold cross-country team by a 21-34 score. This score is identical with the count by which Allegheny won from the Blue and White a year ago.

Early in the race Maxwell, of Westminster, and Jones, of Allegheny, took the lead and maintained it until Mertz passed them on the home stretch and finished in first place. Mertz was followed in rapid succession by Jones, of Allegheny, Maxwell, Wilson and J. McKelvey of Westminster. The Blue and Gold placed only one man among the first five, Rea and Bentley, who are accustomed to finishing in the first half, coming in sixth and seventh, respectively. Ellis and Richards finished ninth and tenth, with D. McElvey, of Westminster, taking eighth place. The teams were more evenly matched than the results would indicate, only three minutes separating the first and tenth men to finish.

Saturday's run with Westminster concludes a fairly successful season for Allegheny. The team broke even, holding wins over Geneva and Thiel, and losing to Pitt, intercollegiate champions, and the Blue and White of Westminster. Only one man will be lost by graduation next June, that man being Jones, who has starred in both track and cross-country for two years.

ALL COLLEGE STUDENTS COME!

BASKETBALL PRACTICE BEGINS AFTER THANKSGIVING VACATION

Coach Baker Has Strong Nucleus From Last

With the football season ended in a decisive manner by the 43-0 victory over Westminster, fans are turning the attention to basketball, and there is already much speculation concerning the outlook for the Blue and Gold floor squad this year. Varsity practice will begin soon after the Thanksgiving holidays, as much work is to be done in preparation for the opening game with Alfred on the home floor, January 5. The schedule, as arranged for the 1925-26 season, is an impressive one, including, besides the two Grove City battles, games with West Virginia, W. and J., and Pitt.

Coach Baker, who will arrive soon to take charge of the squad, has Captain McClurg, Cibula, Rhodes, Yengst, Thompson, and Westcott, all from last year's squad, as a nucleus for the team. McClurg, however, due to a knee injury received last year, may be unable to play regularly. Several new men, among whom are Slavin, Moon, Blackburn, Hughes, Davis are expected to give the varsity men plenty of competition before the regular team is finally chosen, while the preliminary basketball practice has brought to light several others of unusual ability.

Smarting under the sting of Grove City's football victory, Allegheny's aim in basketball will be to gain two wins over the Crimson and get revenge for that 27-0 walloping. But this is no easy task, as Blue and Gold teams have learned in the past. In fact, many hold little or no hope for Allegheny victories over Grove City this season. Coach Thorne never fails to produce a great team at the Mercer County School, and his teams, furthermore, have a habit of winning tri-state championships with startling regularity.

Then there will be the usual home-and-home games with the powerful West Virginia five. The Mountaineers have practically the same team as last year, and are out to beat Allegheny twice. The Blue and Gold team took two comparatively easy victories from West Virginia last season. W. and J., after a lapse of several years, is back on the Allegheny schedule, the Presidents being scheduled to appear at Meadville on February 9. Coach Baker's team will battle W. and J. at Washington on January 9. Pitt, holding a one-point margin over Allegheny last season, will be met at Pittsburgh on January 8. Other games will include the usual tilts with Geneva, Thiel, Westminster and Juniata, and the opening game with Alfred.

FACULTY NOTES.

Dr. W. A. Elliott was appointed to a second term in the University Senate of the Methodist Church at a recent meeting in Buffalo.

Doctor Ross, Doctor Henke, and Doctor Miles attended the Masonic Consistory at Pittsburgh, last week.

Mrs. Schultz and her young daughter are home from the hospital.

Miss Florence Harper, '92, of Meadville, returned to her home recently from a motor trip to Philadelphia, Pa.

The schedule is as follows:

Jan. 5—Alfred University at Meadville.

Jan. 8—Pitt, at Pittsburgh.

Jan. 9—W. and J., at Washington.

Jan. 11—West Virginia, at Morgantown.

Jan. 15—Geneva, at Meadville.

Feb. 3—Geneva at Beaver Falls.

Feb. 6—Thiel at Greenville.

Feb. 9—W. and J. at Meadville.

Feb. 12—Grove City at Grove City.

Feb. 16—Thiel at Meadville.

Feb. 18—Westminster at Meadville.

Feb. 20—West Virginia at Meadville.

Feb. 23—Westminster at New Wilmington.

Feb. 26—Grove City at Meadville.

March 6—Juniata at Meadville.

WESTMINSTER GAME.

ball was soon resting on Westminster's 5-yard line. Hanlon and Brace failed to make any headway on the next two plays, but Dahl took the ball on the third thrust and chalked up another tally. The scoreboard at the end of the third quarter read: Allegheny 21, Westminster 0.

The Blue and Gold Hurricane swept over the Westminster ranks with a vengeance in the final period. This quarter opened with the ball in Allegheny's possession on Westminster's 16-yard line, and in three downs Dahl had added another touchdown to his string. A few minutes later the ball was again resting on the Blue and White 5-yard line, and this time it was Hanlon who bagged another marker by hitting through left guard. After the kickoff, Westminster intercepted a pass on their own 6-yard line, but it turned out disastrously, for on the next play the pass from center was too high and the ball went over the goal line and was downed, adding a safety to Allegheny's score sheet. Then, almost before the stands could realize it, a Westminster fumble occurred, and Hughes answered the pleas for another touchdown by gathering the pigskin into his arms and romping, unhindered, behind the goal posts to swell the total count to 43.

During the course of the game Allegheny registered 31 first downs to Westminster's four, which were gained through passes. The Blue and White gained 100 yards by completing eight forwards out of seventeen attempts. Allegheny tried only two passes, both of which were incomplete, but one was declared good because of interference. The Blue and Gold gained a total of 433 yards from scrimmage, 274 of which are credited to Dahl. This remarkable sum is also twice as large as his best previous effort. It was very fitting that his last game should be the best of his career. Dolde also stood out with his best brand of generalship, while the whole team played a game, that in a measure, wiped out the sting of last week's defeat, and gave the fans of Western Pennsylvania a treat in offensive football.

Dahl, Hanlon and Brace featured for Allegheny, while McQuiston and Montgomery played well for the losers. McQuiston's passing was nothing short of remarkable, and Montgomery played a fine brand of defensive football.

Five of Allegheny's stars of the past three years, Dahl, Captain Hanlon, Dolde, Humeston, and Wolz have donned the moleskin for the last time, and the loss of this quintet will be most keenly felt by Coach Davies when the task of building his 1926 machine is begun.
