Our Primary Duty Is To Become Mature Individuals Says Mook On Founder's Day

by Pat Riesenman

"According to the law, if no specific time is set for the payment of a debt, it is considered to be payable on demand." Judge Herbert A. Mook, '29, speaking at the Founder's Day Convocation held in Montgomery Gymnasium Monday morning, April 23, stated that this is the time for us to pay our debt to Allegheny and the pioneers who founded it 136 years ago. "We can nullify our debt in part by supporting the Allegheny College Development Program," he said; "however, our most important duty is to become mature individuals, capable of intelligent leadership."

Judge Mook quoted from historical accounts of the early days of Allegheny, citing the difficulties encountered by Timothy Alden, and mentioning the ceremonies which surrounded such events as the first commencement, Alden's inauguration, and the laying of the cornerstone of Bentley Hall.

Immaturity in three fields was cited by the speaker. The more than 500 divorces which have been granted during his three years on the bench was given as an example of lack of maturity in person-to-person relationships.

"Capital-labor relations have progressed beyond the master-servant idea which prevailed in the early days of industry; however, immaturity is shown in the failure of both employers and employees to attempt to understand one another as groups," he continued.

"In the organization of society we must work out the relationships of people to groups and of one group to others. Political immaturity is wide-spread. It is evidenced," said Judge Mook, "by two groups of citizens, those who constantly make demands of the government without contributing anything constructive, and those who regard government as a complicated business which is best left to the other fellow to handle. This illustrates the great American attitude that things always come out all right in the end."

Communism has spread because of a political and moral vacuum in Europe and Asia. It cannot be destroyed by name-calling or by sedition trials. He emphasized that unless we in America eliminate want, poverty, racial discrimination, and any of the other conditions which breed and nurture Communism, we run the risk of having it infiltrate our own country. "Communists proclaim the truths for which America actually stands," asserted the speak-

Music Department Will Present Vocal Concert In Ford Chapel Tonight

Allegheny's Music Department will present a program of "More and Less Familiar Songs by Familiar Vocalists" tonight in Ford Memorial Chapel at 8:15.

The program includes:

Barbara Bacon: "The Lord's Prayer", by Sir George Henschel, and "Si Mes Vers", by Hahn.

Charles Hollerman: "Where E're You Walk" and "Where the Foaming Billows Roll", by Linley.

Ralph Intorcio: "In Questa Tomba Oscura", by Beethoven, and "Zueigning", by Strauss.

Evelyn Koester: "Connais Tu Le Pays" from Mignon, by Thomas.

Eleanor Kuhlman: "Song of the Open", by La Forge, and "Sounds", by Klemm.

Diane Luvaas: "I Wonder in the Stilly Night", by Franz.

Patricia MacEwen: "Serenade", by Strauss, and selections from the song cycle by Leonard Bernstein, "I Hate Music But I Like to Sing."

Sophomores Will Treat Freshmen On Saturday

As a result of the rope-pulling contest held last fall between the men of the classes of '53 and '54, the sophomore class will treat the freshmen to a picnic at Bousson on Saturday afternoon, April 28, from 2:00 to 7:30 p.m.

Those students planning to attend must sign the transportation and food lists posted in Brooks lobby and the Grill before Friday night.

IFC To Sponsor First Dance Tomorrow Night

"Lamplight Rendevous" is the theme of the first Inter-fraternity Council dance, to be held tomorrow night in Brooks Hall from 9:30 to 12:00.

Music for the informal dance will be supplied by Benny Jones and his Orchestra, according to Bill Cooper, dance chairman.

The decoration committee, under the direction of Dave Knapp and John Waite, will carry out the theme with lamplights representing each of the seven fraternities on campus. Refreshments will be served at intermission.

Tickets may be purchased for $1.50 from any IFC member, or may be obtained at the door.

First Class Rating Awarded By ACP To "The Campus"

The Campus was awarded a First Class rating in the forty-fourth Associated Collegiate Press All-American Critical Service, Editor Sam Bates announced today.

This rating was based on judgment of issues of The Campus published between October and January of 1950-51.

The rating was based on The Campus standards of news values and sources, news writing and editing, headlines, typography and makeup, and department pages and special features, as compared to the standards of the other seventy-six student newspapers entered in the 1,000 to 2,499 circulation, weekly publication class.

Of the standards of student newspapers, the Associated Collegiate Press staff says, "Each year improvements are noted and standards are higher. This constant improvement means that no matter how good a paper may have been yesterday, it is surpassed today, unless it too has improved."

This is the first year since 1948-49 that The Campus has held membership in the A.C.P. Critical Service, at which time it received a Second Class rating.

Annual Terrapin Show To Be Held May 2 To 5

The annual Terrapin Show, this year entitled "Atmospheric Antics", will be held nightly in Montgomery Pool from Wednesday, May 2, to Saturday, May 5, at 8:30 p.m.

"Sunrise Serenade", the opening number, will feature the twenty-four major and minor Terrapins. Marty Nelson will perform a solo act, and freshmen Chet Hearn, Dick Atkinson, and Al Case will supply the humor for the show. Don Skinner, as "weather man", will be master of ceremonies.

No admission will be charged.

Student Leaders Assume Office

Jeff Hopper and Barbara Stacy officially ended their terms of office in ceremonies on Sunday and Monday and presented gavels to next year's student government leaders.

Allegheny Selected For Air Force ROTC Unit To Be Activated Here Next Fall

President Louis T. Benezet announced last week that Allegheny College has been selected for an Air Force Officer Training Corps unit, which will probably be activated at the beginning of the 1951 Fall Semester.

The announcement came upon the arrival of a telegram from Senator James H. Duff informing the president of the selection.

Air Force representatives will visit the Allegheny campus in the near future to assist in the installation of the program.

Concerning the responsibilities involved in this selection, President Benezet said: "This is very important news to us. We are grateful that we were selected. We realize the selection brings with it a very great responsibility both for fulfilling the program and providing the facilities for the unit."

Out of the sixty-two colleges selected, Allegheny is one of the few liberal arts colleges to receive an R.O.T.C. unit. Because of this fact, Dr. Benezet said that it is probable that the Allegheny unit will be used for administrative rather than technical training.

Other schools in this area chosen for units are Grove City College and Kent State University at Kent, Ohio.

President Arnie Lewis Officially Installed At Annual AUC Dinner

The annual Allegheny Undergraduate Council dinner for new and ex-members of the Council was held Sunday evening, April 22, at Schuster's Restaurant near Greenville.

Following the dinner, speeches by four members of the Council were delivered concerning different phases of campus activity. Barbara Stacy spoke on "Scholastic Stimuli Inside the Classroom"; Barbara Bounds followed with the "Scholastic Stimuli in Extra-Curricular Activities"; Bob Zuberbuhler spoke on "The Athletic Phase"; and Arnie Lewis finished with an address on "Atmosphere at Allegheny."

The official installation of the evening took place following the speeches when Arnie Lewis, the 1951-52 Council president, received the gavel from the retiring president, Jeff Hopper. Jeff congratulated the outgoing Council members for their service during his term of office, and wished the new council good luck in the ensuing term.

Faculty guests attending the dinner were President and Mrs. Louis T. Benezet, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Timmons, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Byers, Miss Ruth Williams, Mr. Philip Benjamin, Dr. and Mrs. Chester A Darling, and Dr. and Mrs. Julian Ross.

Chairman of the committee planning the dinner and speeches was Linda Baum.

Mrs. Virginia Henderson Is Annual AWS Speaker

Mrs. Virginia R. Henderson, from the Philadelphia Marriage Council, has been named as this year's AWS speaker, and will be at Allegheny on May 2 and 3.

On Wednesday, May 2, Mrs. Henderson will deliver a speech at 8:15 p.m. in the Chapel on the topic "Marriage Today." On Thursday there will be two informal sessions in the Pine Room of Brooks. At 10:00 a.m. the discussion will be on "Making Marriages Work", while at 2:30 p.m. the subject will be "Physical Aspects of Marriage". After the latter two speeches there will be informal question and answer periods.

Each year the AWS Program Committee brings a speaker to the campus. The speaker for this year was selected as the result of a pool of the women students taken early this year. Out of a list of topics including science, politics, theater, and personality, the one receiving the majority of votes was marriage. Last year the Program Committee arranged the Career Day programs, which were taken over by AUC this year.

Warren A. Bugbee To Be Sunday Chapel Speaker

Reverend Warren A. Bugbee, brother of Professor Robert L. Bugbee and pastor of the First Methodist Church of Erie, will speak in the Ford Chapel Sunday morning on the subject "The Will of Our God: Faith".

A native of Bemus Point, New York, Reverend Bugbee graduated from Allegheny in 1933 and is a member of Phi Gamma Delta. He attended Union Theological Seminary and has held pastorates in New Castle and Westfield, New York.

Dr. Tyler Thompson will lead the service.

It's A Mess

"These are the times that try men's souls." No matter that Tom Paine wrote this back when it began to look as if the corner cop would wear a red coat, people have shouted it ever since. Alleghenians are mumbling it down in the Grill right now. Seniors shuddering under looming comprehensives, juniors, sophomores and freshmen, faced with piling hour tests, past-due papers, and finally finals, glance from their books to the activities calendar and back to their books. Both are imposing. Some students dig into their books. Some, into the activities calendar. Most just plunk down a dime for another cup of coffee, knowing it will soon be all over until September. Then it will begin again.

This school year is about shot. What will be, will be, and won't be changed now. But now is a good time to take an Allegheny inventory. Now is a good time to start laying some plans for next semester.

We might begin by asking ourselves the question that most people like to ask college students. Why are we going to college? General Hershey still thinks that we are the promise of a future good America. Part of the American public stands behind the General. But these people expect college students to produce. They are not willing to see college students secure draft postponement in order to have fun. They believe the times are too tense to give one select group the privilege of having fun. They are right.

If we want the right of draft postponement, we must be willing to accept the duty it carries with it. This duty we can only fulfill by training ourselves to carry the load of the future good America. The decisions of how to pack this training must be made individually.

Exhorted by our professors to apply ourselves to our studies —six hours a day is considered adequate; urged by the same professors to attend lectures, concerts, and special meetings; forced by social pressure to attend dances; urged to participate in fund drives; scathed because we are not aware; and told that every one of these is the most important.

The goal of Allegheny College, according to the student handbook, "embodies a broad, yet essential education which will equip the student with the tools to enrich his life in a modern world." The question is, and it has never been more pertinent, what are these all too vague "tools" and just how do we go about acquiring them.

This is a time for re-evaluation of our goals and of our purpose in being at college. Are we here to play? Then let's play. Are we here to work? Then let's work. As things now stand we work at our play and play at our work and don't have the time or the energy to do either adequately.

The activities calendar must be cut. But who will cut it? The administration? We wouldn't like that. Where must it be cut? How deeply must it be cut? There is only one way. It is the only way we would accept. We must decide. We must stop and decide what is expected of us, and then go ahead and get it. And when we decide this we must keep in mind our duty to secure the training we are expected to get. And the choice must be mature.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

Dear Sir:

May I take this opportunity to thank you and your staff for the splendid cooperation in the Allegheny Student Drive. It was a pleasure to work with the planners, solicitors and the organizations, like The Campus, that showed so much enthusiasm.

On behalf of all the committee members I want, also, to thank everyone in the student body who supported the campaign. It is because we as students wanted the drive to be successful that it was successful. Again I should like to thank all who supported and worked in making the drive go over the top.

Sincerely,
John S. Culbertson,
Chairman

CAMPUS CAPERS

By
SAL & SPEED

With so much to do and with things in such a general hub-bub we're a bit more cockeyed than usual this week.

Prof. of the Week: F. F. Seely, patron of the arts, connoisseur of literature, and esteemed critic—who makes this newsy nonsense an integral part of his weekly reading habit. He's one of the fans!

This and That Dept: Condolences to the sympathetic Sigs who've lost one of their brothers (a psych major) to North Warren Mental Institution. And orchids to the widow of same who is bearing up wonderfully . . . . All the out-going AUC members got nice Zippo lighters with their signatures on 'em . . . . Last weekend was especially for the parents of the Alpha Xi's, Alpha Gams, Kappas, and Phi Delts. In addition to being a fine visitation occasion, many spring things arrived and many winter duds left . . . . Better not get caught parking in Brooks' Circle anymore . . . . Lamont Cranston, our own Boy Draftee, has emerged from the Okifinoke Swamps and applied for the special college deferment test. Have you, hey?

On Friday night the "Shower Shag", sponsored by the freshman class, took place in Brooks Gym. Decorations were right in time—raincoats, hats and umbrellas, whilst the stuff was on records.

Johnny Martin and his band played melodiously for the Phi Gam Spring Formal on Saturday night at the Riverside Hotel, Cambridge Springs. The order of the Purple Garter, now a tradition, was awarded to each date, personally, by her escort. Thus the Fijis inaugurated the Spring Formal Season.

The Chi Rhos held their annual "Swamp Dance" Saturday night. Good dance music was supplied via loud-speaker system. The guys and gals were dressed in scummy old clothes, and impressionistic swamp drawings adorned the walls. Donuts, coffee and milk were menu items, and everyone had a fine time.

Things have gone far enough! Heretofore the most pressing campus problem has gone unanswered. We decided this had to cease and have taken it upon ourselves to bring forth the long sought answer. For weeks on end people have been giving the "Goodies", receiving the "Goodies", applauding the "Goodies" and so on ad infinitum. Campus Capers (being a liberal organ of Allegheny College) has taken a poll on the question: "What are the Goodies?"

Here are the answers: Evie Koester: Too much of everything!; Mildred Ludwig: He has what it takes!; Bill Blackburn: IT.; Carol Krier: It isn't lacking.; Joe Devlin: The best that Allegheny has to offer.; Norma Petritz: Depends upon what vein your mind is in.; Teddy Dodds: I'll never tell!; Will Dicome: Those are the joys that little people look forward to on the night before Christmas.; Barb Woodward and Bill Vaughan: The right things at the right time that swing you right up to the top.; Nan Neilson: What we look for in the lunch line—and never find!; Barb Stacy: What everybody wants and nobody has.; Bob Blomquist: From where I stand, there goes two of them.; B.A. Graf and Bobby Mills: Too much hot stuff!; Corinne Ewing: Can't think of an answer, I'm witless today.; Bobbie Morse: Oh gad!

In case you're still confused, this column has the GOODIES!

If you have a poll or question you want answered (make them dynamic, now) why just let us know. After all, this is just for you, gang, so don't be shy.

Well, be goody-good kids on this goody-good day in this goody-good college. From your goody-good friends. The Authors.

er. "They use them as a 'Trojan Horse' to infiltrate into the government. Those whose judgment is not sufficiently keen to perceive that their promises are just so many hollow words are likely to be taken in by their high-sounding philosophy. Maturity of judgment and nobility of judgment needed to fight this evil can be developed at a college such as Allegheny.

Deploring the loss of the idealism since the early days of our country, Judge Mook concluded, "We must stop wondering whether God is on our side, but rather whether or not we are on God's side."

With Mrs. Hokanson at the organ, the Allegheny Sinfonietta conducted by Dr. Neurath, participated in the program, as did the Allegheny Singers, under the direction of Dr. Morten J. Luvaas. Arnie Lewis described the college seal and explained its mottoes by reading the scriptural passages from which they are taken. President Benezet offered the prayer for the college, written by William H. Crawford, former Allegheny President, and Dr. Tyler Thompson, College Chaplain, pronounced the benediction.

Russel Twiggs Paintings In Reis Library Show Orderly, Deliberate Individualism

by Nova June Pierce

A collection of paintings by Russel Twiggs, Pittsburgh artist, was on exhibit in Reis Library for two weeks, ending April 21. The artist has received top awards in both the National Serigraph Exhibition in New York, and the Associated Artists Show in Pittsburgh. Twiggs is middle-aged, and has been for years the friend and helper of young Pittsburgh artists.

Mr. Douglas Pickering, a friend of Twiggs, reports that the artist's studio is extremely neat and orderly —every brush is carefully cleaned and wrapped, the easel is spotless, and the whole room appears to have more the atmosphere of a hospital than an artist's studio. This desire for the immaculate and orderly is clearly evidenced in Russel Twiggs' work. His paintings are composed of precise and clearly defined attempts to strip away the superficiality of life; he is deliberate and definitely individualistic, with an aversion to the mere repetition on canvas of nature.

The two most interesting works shown here were The Stargazer and Demon in Full Dress. The Stargazer (which hung on the right above the new books table) is a composition of rich, glowing colors arranged in a series of swooping visual pathways which give one the feeling of movement into vast space; different shades of blue suggest the heavens. The eye of the onlooker is carried in and out of the composition in an intriguing manner. The color scheme, with its blues, blue-reds, browns, and greens, is dynamic. Each segment of the painting is rich in textural effect as well as in color, but the overall design is compact.

A silk screen print, The Oriental Traffic Guide (on the right side of the door to the Periodical Room), is another bit of cleverly designed whimsy. The design of the print, mat, and frame is the work of a skilled craftsman, and the print itself is artfully done in a combination of blues, blue-greens, and bright sparks of red. The color harmony is close, the design is beautiful in its flat simplicity, and the whole effect achieved is one of lilting pleasantness.

The Emperor is far less successful. The emphasis here is on odd textural effects. Twiggs has used here a formal type of composition, and seems to be poking fun at his subject. The august emperor holds his symbols of power before a background of comparatively dead greens, blues and browns.

Russell Twiggs' art is representative of a type of painting comparatively new to this area. All of the paintings seen here are interesting; each is completely subjective from the point of view of both the artist and the appreciator. The paintings are to be enjoyed, not analyzed. Appreciation must be purely personal, and can come only through enjoyment of fine textures, radiant colors, interesting compositions and subject material.

German, French Clubs

A picnic will be held at Bousson on Friday, April 27, from 4:00 to 9:00 p.m. for all members of the German and French clubs.

The program scheduled for the picnic will include dinner, singing, and games.

"Kaldron" Pictures

Thinclads Open at Washington and Jefferson Saturday

Gator Tracksters Hopeful For Initial Victory Against "Prexie" Opponents

by Bob Siemons

This Saturday, April 28, Coach Al Werners cindermen will trek to Washington, Pennsylvania where they will compete against Washington and Jefferson College in the initial dual meet of the current campaign. The Prexies who last season bowed to the Wernermen in both dual and district competition are not expected to do any better in the impending skirmish.

Starters Announced

Coach Werner announced the tentative Blue and Gold entries shortly after the time trials held last Saturday afternoon at College Field. The times turned in by the Gators runners were in general the poorest since the cinder sport was inaugurated at Allegheny. This, however, is no indication of the potential of Werner's aggregation. Hampered by adverse weather conditions and a limited training period the Gators have not yet been able to round into form.

In both sprint races Jack Mitchell,, Skip McIndoe and freshman George Culberson will be entered while Jack Bozic, Dick Penwell and Fritz Fielding will compete in the quarter mile. Rick Kozicki and Al Van Why are slated to represent the Gators in the half mile.

The mile presents a problem since all four hopefuls are of about equal ability and only three can be entered. In all probability Paul Roese, "Bunky" Simons and either Glenn Jones or "Corky" Bonner will run with the extra man competing in the two mile event along with Dave DeGrange. The mile relay team will be selected from the following runners: Simons, Kozicki, Penwell, Bozic, and Zach Taylor.

Javelin Strongest Event

Taylor, Don Paish and Dick Welsh are expected to carry the weight in the hurdles as they did last season. The javelin, which is probably the strongest event for Allegheny, will be tossed by Hub Ocamb, Dick Reasbeck and Kozicki. Freshman Al Spears, McIndoe, Reasbeck and Jack Sapper will be entered in the shot and discus.

Chick McCrea and Skip McIndoe have been selected to compete in the broad jump as have Jack Potter, Bob Buck and Frank Desko in the high jump. Both Desko and Buck are freshmen. Sapper and Wes McDaniel are scheduled to do the Gator pole vaulting.

Coach Werner and his assistant, Bill Hanson, have been working feverishly during the past week in preparation for the rapidly approaching meets with Washington and Jefferson, Carnegie Tech, Geneva-Edinboro, and Grove City as well as the District meet which will be held at Slipery Rock State Teacher's College after the close of the regular season.

Allegheny has a well-rounded and talented squad and anything less than a successful season will prove disappointing to Gator followers.

Gator Nine Drops Opener To Powerful Slippery Rock, 16-2

by Ken Smith

The Allegheny baseball team got off to a non-flying start in their season's opener, as they were trounced by Slippery Rock last Monday by a score of 16-2. The game was played on the latter's home field.

Confined to the gym for most of their pre-season training because of the weather, the Gators were only able to get in four outdoor practice sessions prior to the opener and play was definitely below par. Five errors were charged to the infielders and almost as many unofficial miscues were committed by the bewildered outfielders who misjudged a number of easy flies. The three hapless Allegheny pitchers were touched for 14 hits and 10 walks, and uncorked several wild pitches.

Veteran Carl Herrmann started for the visitors, and after pitching two scorless innings, was blasted for six tallies in the third and forth frames. Four hits, five walks and two errors accounted for the scores. Herrmann's fast ball retired five Slippery Rock batters via the strikeout route, but the blond southpaw was hampered by wildness throughout his four inning stint.

Don Baer worked the fifth and sixth innings, and was belted for a total of six runs before he was relieved by Benson. By then it was too late to matter.

The only Allegheny show of offensive strength came in the third inning when freshman Hap Lynch tripled home a run, and then scored on an infield out.

The season's home opener was slated for yesterday against a strong Rochester outfit. The Gators meet Youngstown Saturday and with more work under their belts they figure to improve over the Slippery Rock outing.

Gator Golfers Down Behrend Center, 9-0 At Oakland Course

In an exhibition game played last Friday Allegheny's golf team defeated Behrend Center of Erie 9-0. The match was played over the Oakland Beach Golf Club course.

Coach Bill Daddio's golfers played well, considering the opportunities to practice they have had. Each of the six golfers came through with flying colors to defeat their opponents.

Graffam Shoots 41

Allegheny played the meet without one of its four returning lettermen, B.A. Wright, who was attending a fraternity conference at Penn State. The other three returning lettermen are Chuck Krueger, Bob Zuberbuhler, and Bill Lowe. Teaming up with this group in their initial exhibition were three promising newcomers, Joe Clancy, Steve Graffam and Nancy Johnston. Clancy and Graffam are sophomores. Miss Johnston is a freshman. Graffam posted the lowest score of the exhibition shooting a 41 for 9 holes.

The summary of the meet which is found at the end of this article, will undoubtedly be as much a puzzle to most of the student body as it was to this writer at first. The following explanation may clarify it somewhat.

Allegheny plays what is called "match play" in its golf meets. In "match play" it is the number of holes that a golfer wins that determines the winner. Total score for eighteen holes has no bearing on the final score. The golfer with the lowest score for a hole wins that hole.

Scoring Explained

Whenever one golfer wins ten of the eighteen holes to be played, he has won his match. The way this is indicated in the summary is by stating first the number of holes the victor defeated his opponent by, and then the number of holes that remain to be played. For example, Krueger defeated his opponent 5-4. This indicates he had won five more holes than his opponent, and since they had only four more holes to play, he was the winner.

Players play in groups of four, each group consisting of a pair of rival players. There are three such foursomes. In a college match there are nine possible points, three per foursome. In each foursome there is a match between each Allegheny player and his opponent. Each of these accounts for a point, making a total of two. The third point hinges on team play. The two Alleghenians comprise one team and play the opponents from the other college. It is again match play with the best ball of the Allegheny team being compared with the best ball of the opposing team, and the hole is won, lost, or tied as in individual match play.

Allegheny commences its regular golf season by playing Geneva College at Beaver Falls on April 26.

Summary:

Chuck Krueger (A) defeated Mike Romzy, 5 and 4.
Bob Zuberbuhler (A) defated Done Kline, 9 and 8.
Allegheny wins best ball, 5 and 4.

Joseph Clancy (A) defeated Giles Schutte, 7 and 6.
William Lowe (A) defeated Pat Ferritto, 8 and 7.
Allegheny wins best ball 8 and 6.

Steve Graffam (A) defeated Robert McCabe, 10 and 8.
Nancy Johnson (A) defeated Jack Lawley, 8 and 6.
Allegheny wins best ball, 10 and 8.

Phi Psis Top Theta Chi; Phi Gams Edge Sigs In Belated Softball Opener

After a week's postponement due to the inclement weather, play in the Interfraternity Softball League commenced with two games on Tuesday evening, April 24. The Phi Kappa Psi nine, winners of last years softball toga, outslugged the Theta Chi team 17-7, while Phi Gamma Delta took their opener from a stubborn Sig team 15-13.

Lefty Cash Elston, twirling his first game for the Green, limited the Theta Chis to a pair of safties, both singles, while fanning eleven batters. However, the Theta Chi nine took advantage of Elston's wildness to score their seven tallies on fourteen free passes and two errors.

Third sacker Howie Trace led the Phi Psi stickmen at the plate with three singles. Paul Zavarella and "Ozark" Sample each garnered a pair of bingles while Dino Nellas contributed a booming triple off the left field fence.

Bill Schane and Jim Donner collected the only two Theta Chi hits. Batteries for the game were Lee Adey and Bill Schane, Theta Chi and Elston and Rog Hemer, Phi Psi.

A four run sixth inning enabled the Phi Gams batters to better the Sig nine in a 15-13 slugfest.

The Fijis got off to a quick five run lead, but the Sigs came right back with six markers in the second frame, and picked up three more in the third and again in the fourth. Not to be outdone, the Phi Gams, behind the booming bats of "Erk" Rylander and Deem Schoenfeld, jumped right back into the game with six runs in the fourth.

With the Sigs leading, 12-11, going into the big sixth, the Phi Gam powers drew together to score their game winning four runs. The Sigs managed one run in their half of the seventh.

Norm Clyde and Bill Courtney did the hurling for both teams, with "Monk" Myers and Rick Best handling the catching chores.

Seventy Attend Psych Convention Friday; Dennis Praises Undergrad Enthusiasm

Over fifty delegates from ten area colleges attended the Allegheny Undergraduate Psychology Conference held on campus Saturday, April 21.

In his welcome at 10:00 a.m., Gerald McClearn, president of the Psychology Club which sponsored the conference, told the delegates, "We fledglings should be given the opportunity to try our wings and accomplish something constructive at the same time." Three papers, submitted by undergraduates attending the meeting, were read to the delegates in the morning session.

A tour of Dr. John T. Bair's office, the psychology library, the preschool center, and the animal laboratory followed lunch. According to McClearn, "The visiting delegates were very favorably impressed with our psych facilities."

At the afternoon session, two of the four papers read were submitted by Allegheny students. Robert Gibson and McClearn gave a "Study of the Effects of Electroconvulsive Shock on Adrenalectomized or Gonadectomized Albino Rats." Walt Strahl's paper was entitled "Results of a Testing Program at North Warren State Hospital".

Dr. Wayne Dennis, head of the Psychology Department at the University of Pittsburgh, was guest speaker at the dinner culminating the conference. He praised the undergraduates for their interest in attending the conference and for their enthusiasm to make the event an annual one.

Of the day's activities, Dr. Dennis said, "The quality of the papers would do credit to professional psychologists. They compared favorably in content, research, and grasp of problems of research and delivery."

Booth Has Confidence In Civilization, Man

Dr. Edwin P. Booth, professor of Historical Theology at the Boston University School of Theology, was guest speaker in Chapel last Sunday morning, April 22. A graduate of Allegheny in 1919, Dr. Booth delivered the sermon entitled "More Light".

"Believe in the human race and in history; do not believe that this is a disasterous time," he said. Dr. Booth likened life to traveling through a subterranean passage, from which we shall eventually emerge into the valley of peace.

"No civilization has given the human race what our capitalistic protestantism has," he said, "and every line of reasoning calls us to go forward." This is the light that lighted every way into the world, and the Lord has yet more light, he concluded.
