ADELPHI COLLEGE
BROOKLYN, N. Y.

OFFICE OF
DEAN OF WOMEN STUDENTS

Brooklyn, N. Y., March 11, 1910.

My dear Miss Cooke:

It is more than kind of you to write me so encouragingly about Miss Tarbell. The students are so eager to meet her that they beg me to say that they will keep open every Friday in April after the 8th, in the hope that she may come; that is, the 15th, the 22d, and the 29th. I have tried to restrain their eagerness, lest a disappointment be inevitable, but in the hopeful way of youth, they speak of her coming as a settled fact.

Just as soon as you can let me know definitely, the president of the Students' Association will extend her a formal invitation as guest of honor, and arrange for her comfortable journey across the bridge.

With many thanks for your kind interest, believe me,

Cordially yours,

Margaret Sweeney
