

February 11, 1927.

Mrs. C. C. Sniffen,
The Ontario,
Washington, D.C.

My dear Mrs. Sniffen:

How good of you to write me about the recital of my "He Knew Lincoln". I was disappointed not to have heard it myself. You say that you did not catch the name of the gentlemen who read it. It was Mr. Edgar W. Burrill. I am sending him a copy of your letter. This is the fourth year that he has broadcast the story and I have heard from many people how effectively he does it.

I suspect that Mildred Rutherford would have put down the ear phones as soon as she heard what was going on. Some day I am going to take up that lady, dear Mrs. Sniffen and pay her full respects.

With all good wishes, believe me,

Sincerely yours,

LMT BRK.