Miss Ida M. Tarbell,
120 East 19th St.,
New York, N. Y.

Dear Miss Tarbell:

Replying to your letter of March 26th, the costs on the LINCOLN series will be deducted monthly. That is the costs for each month will be deducted from the total sales for the same month before our fifty fifty division is made.

The monthly statements are due you between the 20th and 25th of each month, for the preceeding month. The February statement is now due you, and I will send it along just as quickly as possible. I would like to enclose this now, but our auditing work is not up to date, owing to a rush in closing our books for last year and income tax work, and the costs on the service for February are not complete.

The following is a list of the papers taking the service, and the price given is weekly. The amount I gave you the other day for the total sales you will find is figured on the basis that the service will continue for fifty weeks.
