COLLEGE CONCERT SERIES HAS AUSPICIOUS OPENING

DOCTOR SPAETH OPENS ANNUAL SERIES WITH INTERESTING
LECTURE ON MUSIC

One of the greatest ovations ever given a speaker who appeared in Ford Memorial Chapel within the memory of a college generation was accorded Dr. Sigmund Spaeth, who addressed the student body on Thursday morning, October 22. Because of Doctor Spaeth's late arrival, the chapel hour was postponed from 10:00 until 11:10. Doctor Spaeth came to Meadville to present the first number on the College concert course, and his morning talk was a preliminary to the one which he presented that evening.

The speaker was introduced to the students by Dr. Henry Ward Church, who himself is a musician and a personal friend of Doctor Spaeth.

In the game of football nearly everyone knows the rules although all persons do not participate in the sport. And so in music, we cannot all be singers or instrumentalists, but we can all know the rules.

Doctor Spaeth's talk was not only instructive but also highly amusing. His piano illustrations made clear all of the points that he brought out and added much color to his talk.

Evening Lecture
The largest audience that ever attended the opening number of an Allegheny College Concert Course heard Doctor Spaeth lecture in the Chapel last Tuesday evening on "The Common Sense of Music."

Doctor Spaeth presented a very unique and intensely interesting and instructive address, and one which was a fitting opening event for the concert course, as it will enable all who heard it to understand the remaining numbers more intelligently. The speaker is not a man who hurls information at his hearers, but instead one who in a convincing and almost amusing manner instructs them in fundamental musical principles.

The common sense in music is inherent in all of us, according to Doctor Spaeth. He showed that the hearer's type of taste is not so important at first, if he will only listen to music to start with. We often get wrong ideas in regard to music as we talk of artists and instruments and not of the music itself. Music is more than the artists' personality or the material of the instruments. When a person goes to a concert with the primary idea of seeing the artist, rather than hearing what is to be played, then the wrong attitude is being taken.

The most important element of music is the tune or melody. A tune is a certain type or pattern that prevails all through the piece of music. "By their tunes you shall know them" is a good rule to follow in music. Without melody there can be no great music. The melody is the memorable part, as we remember a selection because we like it. Doctor Spaeth then dwelt upon the simplicity that a tune can take.

Two tones are all that are needed to make a tune. It is sometimes called the "come hither" tune or the "cuckoo call." A great number of actual melodies have been built up in this way, such as "The Japanese Sandman."

FOUR NEW MEN PLEDGED TO PI DELTA EPSILON

JOURNALISM FRATERNITY TO HOLD SMOKER AT PHI GAM
HOUSE THIS EVENING

At a meeting held after chapel last Wednesday morning, October 21, four men were pledged to Pi Delta Epsilon. The men selected are R. K. Evans, '26, editor of the Literary Monthly; R. O. Barber, '26, editor of the Alligator; Cecil Ross, '26, associate editor of the Alligator; and K. P. Williams, '27, athletic editor of The Campus.

It was decided to hold open house at the Phi Gamma Delta lodge this evening at eight o'clock, for all those of the college who are interested in journalism. A program will be furnished by the pledges.

Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity, selects its members from those students who have efficiently served on one or more of the College publications for at least two years. Fifteen members of the student body are now wearing its key as a reward for meritorious service.

SEVERAL ALUMNAE ACTIVE IN CHAPTER INSTALLATION

ALLEGHENIANS PROMINENT IN INSTALLING ALPHA GAMMA DELTA AT WESTMINSTER.

Several members of the Kappa Chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta were present at the installation of the Alpha Epsilon chapter at Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa., on October 23 and 24. About twenty Allegheny alumnae from Pennsylvania and Ohio also attended. Mrs. May Willis Whitney, of Cleveland, was the grand installing officer. She was assisted by the alumnae of the Allegheny chapter.

The installation service was held on Friday evening in the Little Theater of Westminster. Eighteen active members and twenty-one alumnae of the local sorority Delta Tau were initiated into membership of Alpha Gamma Delta. Delta Tau has been established as a well organized local since 1913, and the chapter has a large body of alumnae. Immediately following the services a reception was held in honor of the officers and visitors at the home of Mrs. Russell.

On Saturday afternoon a tea was held for the initiates, visiting delegates, and town friends of the new chapter, at The Hillside, the college dormitory for women. In the evening a banquet was held in the parlors of the Second United Presbyterian Church. Among the Meadville alumnae who attended were: Ethel Curry Reynolds, Olive Hammerton Irene Davenport, and Edith Rowley.

FORUM HAD INTERESTING WEEKLY MEETING FRIDAY

FIVE NEW MEMBERS INITIATED INTO FORENSIC SOCIETY
FRIDAY

On Friday afternoon, October 23, the Philo-Franklin Forum held its third meeting in the Forum room of Bentley Hall. The business of this week was the initiation of the new members, M. L. Himmeler, J. E. Meadowcroft, H. E. Garland, E. W. Hudson, and E. J. Deissler. The committee in charge of buying "Robert's Rules and Order" was then given the power to purchase these books through the Allegheny College Book Store. The reading of the Constitution by the secretary was the next business, after which Robert Kirkpatrick was elected member at large, to work in conjunction with the executive committee, composed of the officers of the club and the faculty advisor, whose duty is to present a suitable program to the Forum each week.

After the completion of the business for the week, an interesting program was presented. The four speakers for the afternoon were Joe Lopushansky, speaking on "The Stockholm Conference," T. H. Averbach, discussing "100% Americanism," E. W. Hudson, talking on "Condition of the Russian Peasants," and Bruce Middaugh, who spoke on "The Abolishment of Freshman Razzing at Allegheny."

The debate for the meeting next week will be, "Resolved, That the operation of the coal mines should be under the control of the United States Government." Mr. Averbach and Mr. Lopushansky will endeavor to uphold the affirmative side of the question, while Mr. Allen and Mr. Meadowcroft will argue the negative side.

INJURIES TO KINNUNEN AND ANNA WEAKEN ALLEGHENY LINE.

That Kinnunen, regular tackle, and Anna, capable substitute tackle, may both be lost to the Blue and Gold team for some time was the announcement made Monday after the extent of injuries received in the Boston game had been determined. Kinnunen, who was hurt early in the game and continued playing until the last quarter, is suffering from abdominal injuries. It is unlikely that he will be able to play Saturday. Anna received an arm injury which proved to be a severe sprain, and there is little hope that he will be able to play again this season.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd C. Gibson (Helen Andrews, '21) are now residing at Dallas, Texas, where Mr. Gibson is Engineer Revenue Agent of the United States Treasury.

Lafayette College celebrated its one hundred first birthday on Wednesday, October 21.

TWO BREAKS GIVE BOSTON TEAM 14-7 DECISION OVER ALLEGHENY

Blue and Gold Outplays Heavy Opponents At All
Stages of the Game

To gain 228 yards from scrimmage as compared with their opponent's 66, to make 15 first downs to their opponent's 5, and yet to be beaten by two unfortunate breaks! Such was the lot of the Blue and Gold football team in the Allegheny-Boston College game at Boston, Saturday, October 24. A recovered fumble and an intercepted forward pass enabled the heavy Boston outfit, one of the greatest major teams in the East, to win 14-7, although the Pennsylvania "Coal Miners" outplayed them consistently and completely, smashing through in the final period for a well-earned touchdown. Only in punting was the Boston team superior, and it was Cronin's kicking which kept Allegheny at a safe distance from the Boston goal throughout most of the game.

The powerful, line-crushing backs of the Boston team found the Allegheny forwards from end to end, impenetrable. Dower, Cronin and Smith, each reputed to be a great ball-carrier, helped at times by Crean and McNamara, could only gain 66 yards. Art Dahl carried the ball for gains totaling almost twice that number of yards, while Captain Hanlon and Johnny Brace both gained ground consistently. Dahl gained 116 yards, Hanlon 54 and Brace 35, and Bill Dolde contributed two ten-yard gains on forward pass plays and several gains on line plays. Allegheny had a decided edge in forward passing, even though one intercepted pass resulted in a Boston touchdown. Out of eleven attempted passes, four were completed, four were incomplete and three were intercepted. Boston attempted six passes, five being incomplete and one intercepted.

Dahl and Hanlon were the main cogs in the Blue and Gold offensive. The big Allegheny fullback showed beyond all doubts that he deserves to rank with the best line plungers in the country. Only on three occasions was he stopped for no gain, and several of his line plunges were good for 9 to 12 yards. Hanlon was at his best on off-tackle plays and fake passes, and contributed the longest run of the day in returning a kickoff 30 yards. Slavin, Morrison, and Behrhorst were outstanding on the defense. Anna played an excellent game after he relieved Kinnunen at the beginning of the final period, but the team received a severe blow when he suffered a severely sprained arm just before the game ended.

1926 ANNUAL TO SHOW SEVERAL IMPROVEMENTS

WORK PROGRESSING RAPIDLY—
COMPETITIVE RECORD CARDS ARE ISSUED.

Many new developments in this year's Kaldron were presented when Editor Taylor called his staff together in a meeting, held in the Quill Club room of the Library last Friday. All under editors reported favorably as to progress being made in their respective departments.

Work has been going on rapidly on the Senior write-ups and it is expected that they will be finished by Thanksgiving. Editor Taylor advised the athletic department to write up the football games as they were played, to avoid delays later on. Several action pictures have been taken of the football team that are to be developed and used as backgrounds for the football pictures. The women's athletics are to receive more attention this year than before.

There are several new features to be developed. The whole book is to have a historical background of the time of Washington and Lafayette. An engraving of Bentley Hall is to be used on the front of the cover. A full view panorama of the whole college is to be used inside of the cover, at the top of which there is to be a scroll containing the first two lines of the Alma Mater. The divisional pages are also to be illustrated in Colonial style. A panel suggestion has been offered, but not definitely decided upon. It consists of a group of two or three frontiersmen looking up at a group of buildings on a hill. Another addition to the book is write-ups of the Senior Hop and the Junior Prom.

Competitive record cards were distributed among the department editors, on which they are to keep a complete record of the work done by the freshmen competitors. One card is kept by the editor and one by the competitor. Editor Taylor announced that meetings of the staff would be held hereafter on Tuesdays of every other week.

Band Practices Semi-Weekly For Coming Football Games

The Allegheny College Band has been very active of late at the home football games. The Band succeeded in stirring up quite a lot of spirit at both the Geneva and St. Bonaventure games during critical periods. Practices are being held every Tuesday and Thursday at four o'clock in the Chapel in preparation for the Grove City game. Only those members who are regular at rehearsals can make this trip, as but a limited number can be taken. Arrangements are now in progress for the Band to accompany the team to New Wilmington for the Westminster game on November 21. The only thing in doubt about this trip is adequate finances.

After the football season is over, the Band will endeavor to arrange several concerts on platforms other than that of the College Chapel.

ALLEGHENIAN PUBLISHES NEW SCIENTIFIC VOLUME

SCHOOL READER ON HIS-TORY AND SCIENCE.

"Thinkers and Doers," a school reader written by Floyd L. Darrow, '06, head of the Science Department of the Polytechnic Preparatory Country Day School, Brooklyn, New York, has recently been sent to the press. Mr. Darrow is now living at Ashville, N. Y., where he is on leave of absence to write. He is also the author of "Masters of Science and Invention," "Through Science to God," and "Boy's Own Book of Great Inventions." The College Library will have a copy of his new book on display as soon as it is printed.

This new work portrays the main developments of scientific discovery in the fields of astronomy, chemistry, and physics from the earliest times to the present day. Woven about the lives of these great "thinkers and doers," this story of science and invention is vitalized with human interest. It gives just the needed background for later scientific work.

It is, however, much more than a history of scientific invention, for it has been written out of an experience of nearly twenty years in teaching science subjects and in obtaining first-hand information of the great industries which science has made possible. Many of the pages relate what the author has seen and learned from personal experience.

The fascinating style in which the book has been written fires the imagination and creates a desire to emulate the great thinkers and doers of the past and present. Illustrations including portraits of the great inventors, photographic reproductions of early inventions, the latest improved models of these inventions, and working diagrams make the book all the more valuable.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB NAMES NEW GOVERNING BOARD

EACH FRATERNITY REPRESENT-ED ON NEWLY ELECTED
BOARD OF CONTROL.

At the rehearsal of the Men's Glee Club on Tuesday, October 20, officers were elected for the year. The plan of the organization was similar to that of last year, a representative being elected from each fraternity to form a Board of Control. The following men were elected: Phi Kappa Psi, Charles Severn, Chairman; Phi Gamma Delta, John Louthan; Delta Tau Delta, James Hayes; Phi Delta Theta, Eugene Hartzell; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Willard Merrell; Alpha Chi Rho, Lee Reynolds; Beta Upsilon, Donald Leeper; Phi Alpha Kappa, Robert Frazer. Charles Severn was re-elected manager for the present year.

The club is progressing very rapidly, and new men are showing up especially well. Several trips are being planned into the Pittsburgh and Cleveland districts, but no definite dates have been set as yet.

The governing board especially urges the last year's men who have not tried out yet this year to do so as soon as possible. Tryouts are held after rehearsals.

ARTHUR BATES, '20, ELECTED
PRESIDENT OF BAPTIST GEN-ERAL CONVENTION.

Former Congressman A. L. Bates, '08, of Meadville, was elected president of the Pennsylvania Baptist General Convention, at the closing session of the convention, which was held at Norristown, Pa., last week. Mr. Bates defeated W. D. Ghergy of Philadelphia, who had been selected by the nominating committee. Next year's convention will be held in Erie, and the centenary will be celebrated the following year in Philadelphia.

PITTSBURGH WOMAN BEQUEATHS PRIVATE LIBRARY TO COLLEGE.

Word has been received here that Mrs. Norman M. Smith, of Pittsburgh, Pa., whose will was filed for probate in that city on October 21, has bequeathed her entire library to Allegheny College. The gift was made in honor of her first husband, John Kerr Holmes, who was a student at Allegheny. Several hundred volumes are included in the gift.

WORLD COURT DISCUSSED AT STUDENT CONFERENCE

ALL COLLEGES ASKED TO PAR-TICIPATE IN COUNTRY-WIDE CONTROVERSY.

In twelve conferences held in various parts of the country over the last two week-ends, students from every type of college and university studied the World Court. Plans for campus investigation on the subject were set up and the work is already under way in a number of schools. Approximately 450 of the keenest student minds decided that the educational campaign which is being sponsored by the Council of Christian Associations during the fall months is a worthy enterprise and that they will give their full co-operation.

The special World Court conferences of the past week-end included two in Nebraska, one in Oklahoma City, one in Galesburg, Ill., and one in Sioux Falls, S. D. An average of fifty students attend each of these regional and state gatherings and considered the World Court. During the latter part of October and the first half of November, between thirty-five and fifty similar conferences are planned in line with the accelerated interest in international affairs focusing on the opening of the Senate debate on December 17th.

During the first two weeks of December, a national poll will be conducted by the New Student and the Council of Christian Associations' World Court Committee which will be the culmination of weeks of study and discussion. In the poll, students will express their approval or disapproval of the entrance of the United States into the Court.

This intensive series of meetings has grown out of the resolutions passed at the recent annual meeting of the Council of Christian Associations in which the student leaders from campuses from all quarters of the country expressed the belief that the United States should enter the World Court at the earliest possible date. This conviction resulted from a study of the situation as it exists and was followed by a plan whereby students all over the country may have a chance to educate themselves on the issue and to mobilize whatever thought may result from the study done on local campuses and in conferences.

The conviction that students should take a continuous interest in things international and that they should exert a vital force in shaping of policies led to the purpose that the intensive educational campaign should be only the first step toward the continuous influence of an intelligent and active student opinion on all matters of international concern.

Raymond Fosdick, Ivy L. Lee, Irving Fisher, Manley Hudson, and ex-Governor Sweet of Colorado are among those interested in the stand the student movement has taken on the World Court issue, and are lecturing and supplying expert help in the regional and state conferences. The full-time speakers for the campaign include Kirby Page, Mrs. Laura Puffer Morgan, Chairman of the Women's National World Court Committee, Alden Alley, Frederick Snyder, J. Nevin Sayre and George Collins.

Those who have observed the interest springing up immediately among students wherever World Court has been mentioned attribute it to the fact that this is the first great national issue that has presented itself since the presidential election and that it carries a more vital interest since the presidential election was a more or less foregone conclusion. Student interest is increased by the fact that the outcome of the Senate debate may result in definite and far-reaching action on the part of the United States government toward the assumption of greater international responsibility.

NEW YORK CITY ALUMNI TO

THE BREAKS OF THE GAME

Two tough breaks enabled Boston to defeat our football team last Saturday. Even all of the Boston papers were loud in their praises of the Allegheny team and conceded Boston very little to become enthusiastic over. We are sorry the gods of football were not arrayed on the side of Coach Davies and his men. Alleghenians can say that such is rarely the case; we seldom get the breaks.

The element of luck on the football field is as large as in anything else. The law of averages is bound to work in the long run. The time is coming for Allegheny breaks. It is difficult, however, for all of us to maintain a peace of mind and untroubled temper in the face of unfortunate chance.

We of The Campus urge the football men to continue with their splendid spirit and good playing. The breaks will eventually take care of themselves. With half the season completed the record of the team shows two defeats and two victories, one of the latter being decidedly impressive. There are four games yet to be played. Victories with large scores in these contests will not only vindicate the team for Saturday's loss, but will incidentally bring with them greater prestige and another championship.

To Coach Davies and his men we would like to say that determination and a high morale in the face of tough breaks will in the end result in greater glory and greater satisfaction.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR EDUCATION.

While we come to college primarily to study our textbooks and lecture notes, it cannot be denied that there are other things of value connected with college life. Four years of study, unseasoned by athletics, activities, parties, and the like, would result in a very slim education, indeed.

The modern tendency, however, is to swing to an almost complete extra-curricular education. We are glad to say that we cannot in all fairness attribute this fault to Allegheny. There is a rather carefully preserved balance between books and other things in this college.

There is a phase of extra-curricular education that has not received its full share of attention, however. Allegheny students have not taken advantage of the intellectual education offered by the college and college environment. To be sure, we learn some appreciation of the arts in our college courses, but it is necessarily restricted. Cold, hard facts reign almost supreme in our modern world. One can go through college without becoming, the least bit intellectual.

Interest in and appreciation of the beautiful has had little or no place in the life of the average Allegheny student. Concerts and lectures have, been passed by; attempts of a few students and faculty members to interest the majority in music, painting, and literature have met with little response. Our opportunities for a broad extra-curricular education that includes an equal knowledge of Beethoven and Irving Berlin, Velasquez and Coles Phillips, Browning and Upton Sinclair are unlimited.

Student interest in the recently opened college concert series is, we hope, but a beginning in the right direction.

BORROWING BOOKS.

A practice that prevails at Allegheny in spite of all that has been said on the subject is the habit of "borrowing" books from the library without having a well-prepared lesson simply because one student does not have the only causes inconvenience for the librarian, but it also deprives one's fellow classmates from preparing a common assignment. Usually when some special assignment has been made for a certain book, with only a limited number of copies available, one or two students remove copies from the library for their individual use. Thus when the other students wish to do their reference work there are no source books from which to obtain their material.

It is unpardonable selfishness to rob several students of the chance of having them charged at the desk. Such abuse of the library regulations not patience to wait a few minutes until some other student is finished with a book.

A halfback, who can make two yards consistently, keep his marks up, and add something to the tone of his institution, will be a greater asset to his college in the long run than a tramp athlete of an All-American caliber.

A great football team and a few thousands of students are not infallible indicators of a college's quality.

Y. M. C. A. COLUMN

A SCIENTIST ON POETRY AND MUSIC

Most of us learned to repeat when we were children Robert Louis Stevenson's suggestion that the "world is so full of a number of things I am sure we should all be as happy as kings." One might be inclined in these days of tumbling thrones to question whether kings are or ever have been happy. Then, too, for the most of us the world is not full of a number of things. We eat, we sleep, we go through our little round of work and play, and the number of things in which we find pleasure and profit is pitifully small.

At least one of the angles of looking at the business of being a student is to say that he is engaged in the work of preparing himself for a larger, complete life in which he will be able to enjoy a great variety of the fields of endeavor. Hear the words of a scientist who had necessarily to live a restricted life in order to make his contribution to science: "If I had my life to live over again, I would have made a rule to read some poetry and to listen to some music at least once a week; for perhaps the parts of my brain now atrophied would thus have been kept active through use. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness and may possibly be injurious to the intellect, and more probably to the moral character, by enfeebling the emotional part of our nature."—Darwin.

LAST WEEK'S MEETING

Clarence Avey and George Fallon were in charge of the weekly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. held on Wednesday evening, October 21, in the Y. room of Cochran Hall. There was no speaker for the evening because Dr. Schultz, who had originally planned to speak, was unable to attend the meeting, and the entire service was given to a discussion of the correct amount of time a college man should give to religion.

Religion is just as important to college men as any other phase of college life. Because of this every student in college should give as much attention to Christian activities as he or she does to activities of any other nature. Various means for the expression of religion are open to Allegheny students. Probably the most prominent of these is the School of Practical Christianity introduced to Allegheny at the opening of this term. The churches of the town also are among the sources of Christian activities through which college men might express their religious inclinations.

WEDNESDAY EVENING AT "Y."

Why is it that a preacher ranked as one of America's twenty-five greatest in the Christian Century's most prominent American preacher ballot, and said by some to be among the first three American preachers, gets only ten per cent of the student body to hear him? Why is it that men who have been much interested in the work of the church and Y. M. C. A. at home come to college and immediately drop all their religious interests and connections? These are questions that need an answer and the meeting Wednesday evening will take the form of a discussion on these problems. Come out and have your say and hear what the rest say.

COACH HAMMETT WRITES ATHLETIC ARTICLE FOR HIGH SCHOOL PUBLICATION.

Prof. C. E. Hammett, Director of Athletics, has again branched out into the literary field by writing an article "Trying for a Position on the Football Team," for a high school magazine, "The Scholastic." This magazine is available at the College Library, and Professor Hammett's article appears in the October 3 issue.

During the course of his article, Professor Hammett states that all boys in trying out for a team should leave the matter of what position they are to play with the coach. The coach has the best interests of the team at heart, instead of individual preferences, and will place the player where he will do the team the most good. Every season western players are shifted to new positions in order to strengthen the team. If the player chooses his own position, he may waste a whole season trying for a position for which he is not qualified.

SPAETH LECTURE.

"Carolina in the Morning," "Pack Up Your Sins," etc., which Doctor Spaeth illustrated at the piano.

The three tone type is the bugle notes. From this we get "The Star Spangled Banner," "Over There," "Legionnaire," etc. Classical music is that music which is permanent because people listen to it over and over again without tiring of it; the latter fact being the test for good music. Three basic tones are all that comprised Rachmoninoff's "Prelude." "Hall, Hall, the Gang's All Here" is taken from "Il Travatore." One pattern leads to another in the musical field. "The Blue Danube Waltz" is also formed from the three tone bugle call. Three tones are by far the most important type used in making melodies.

From the four tone pattern, which resembles the chimes of a clock, "Three O'clock in the Morning," "How Dry I Am," and "Sweet Adeline" have arisen.

The five tone scale is one of the oldest and is that which is found in the popular piece called "Stumbling." Nearly all of the popular pieces of the past ten or fifteen years have a background of some permanent or classical music.

Rhythm goes in two or three beats to the measure. The "Funeral March" and "Here Comes the Bride" have identical rhythm. Only occasionally are there different and original tempos, such as in the "Cuban Dance," which has the characteristic rhythm of the Spanish dance music.

Doctor Spaeth stated that the music that people like is familiar music and to make good music popular it must first be made familiar. Unless a melody is of the best, it will not last. The radio has shortened the life of the popular song to about six months.

As the closing feature of his lecture, Doctor Spaeth repeated what he has done many times before audiences and over the radio: proved the origin of "Yes, We Have No Bananas" and illustrated very clearly that it is a combination of music taken from Handel's "Messiah," "O, Bring Back My Bonnie to Me," "Bohemian Girl," and "I Was Seeing Nellie Home." The only original notes are those which are played for the word "bananas."

Doctor Spaeth illustrated many of his points and thus made them perfectly clear to the music lovers in the audience. The Ampico piano was used in the reproduction of several selections which the speaker thought well illustrated the vital portions of his address.

WORK TO BEGIN ON NEW SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON CHAPTER HOUSE.

Work will soon begin on the erection of the foundations of the modern brick house of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity on North Main Street. The old structure was razed several weeks ago, but the inclement weather has delayed further progress. The contractors are planning to put in a solid concrete basement and to put up as much of the brick work and roof as possible before cold weather halts operations. If this can be accomplished the work can be continued on the inside construction, and the new chapter house should be finished by next fall.

AMONG OUR FRIENDS AND ALLIES

Rumblings of discontent are becoming louder and louder at Wabash College over the trustee ruling banning student-owned automobiles. When Dr. Mackintosh, president of the college, announced that no student would be allowed to drive a car after 8 o'clock on Friday night the student body voted unanimously to strike if some violator of the rule is expelled from college. When interviewed, the Executive Board of trustees refused to give their personal reasons for the abolition of the "Campus Cans."

The students of Ohio State University receive two and one-half tons of mail each week, according to reports from the postoffice in Columbus.

Although only beginning her junior year as an art student in the University of California, Miss Helen Willis, National Women's Tennis Champion, has recently been elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Records of Miss Willis' scholarship show that she has attained an average of "high B" throughout her college course. Few persons have ever looked upon our tennis champion in this capacity.

An organization which admits only those men who can raise a moustache that meets with the approval of the members of the club has been founded at Pomona College, Clearmont, California. To be eligible for admittance to the club, applicants must maintain one-half inch of genuine moustache, and 800 hairs to a square inch.

The honor system has been rejected by a unanimous vote of the same committee that referred it to Harvard University.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY AT HULINGS

Monday evening, October 26, the Women's Student Senate entertained the women of the College at a Hallowe'en party. Dinner was served, and afterward the Hall girls and town students met in the gymnasium, where Ted's Alleghe-tors furnished dance music.

The gymnasium was tastefully decorated in orange and black, and many clever and artistic costumes were seen. A feature of the evening's entertainment was a trip through Hades, during which screams and groans were heard coming from the lower regions, otherwise known as the cellar.

Later in the evening Cass Corbett and Mary Louise Murphy delighted the audience with a song and dance act, followed by a reading by Winifred Phillips.

Dr. H. W. Church spoke to the girls of the Hall, Monday, October 20, concerning the College Concerts. He discussed each number of the course, and explained that the success of the concerts, as college concerts, depended on the girls of Hulings. He concluded his talk with a suggestion for raising funds for the payment of the Ampico Piano, which he would personally supervise if one hundred tickets could be sold in the Hall. John J. Shryock Co.ALLEGHENY MEETS WAYNESBURG
IN HOME CONTEST SATURDAYVictory Over Yellow Jackets Will Be Great Step Toward Third Title

With the morale of the team running at high pitch after the good showing made at Boston, the Blue and Gold meets Waynesburg, Saturday, October 31, in one of the most important battles of the year. The splendid playing against Boston has given Allegheny a big boost and has put great confidence in the team itself, now that it realizes what it can do against real opposition.

The Yellow Jackets were easily subdued last year by the score 28-0. Great interest was shown over the game because it was the last step toward another championship for the Blue and Gold. Waynesburg was highly touted and many predicted defeat for Allegheny but the team rose to great heights in its decisive victory. Although defeated by Grove City this year, it was early in the season and since then the Yellow Jackets have steadily improved and have won all their games. Last Saturday Westminster was subdued 12-0. The small score does not indicate the superiority of Waynesburg however. Westminster only gained 41 yards from the line of scrimmage and if it had not been for the heaviness of the field Waynesburg would have run up a much larger score.

In Mark Davies, former star of South Hills High School, Pittsburgh, Waynesburg has uncovered a second Red Grange. He scored both touchdowns against Westminster on 95 and 65-yard runs. Both runs were made following the receiving of a punt.

Although several players have minor injuries, nearly every man on the Allegheny squad is in good condition following the Boston scrap. Anna, however, suffered a sprained arm in the game at the Hub. Coach Davies uncovered everything in his bag of tricks and had Boston bewildered with a slashing offense in which was a deceptive aerial attack and it is understood that from now on every play will be used against Allegheny's opponents. The remainder of the games on the schedule will all have a direct bearing on the championship and every one will be a real battle.

FOOTBALL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Waynesburg had a tough time with Westminster Saturday, winning finally by a 12-0 score. The Westminster players continue to maintain their reputations as fighters and defensive players.

Thiel walloped Duquesne last Friday by a 19-0 score. The Dukes are weak this year, and played poorly except in a few instances. Englebach, freshman fullback at the Greenville school, showed great promise as a line plunger.

Marietta took another bad beating Saturday at Grove City when the Crimson team won 26-0. Marietta is woefully weak this year, however, and has been losing regularly by big scores.

St. Bonaventure, finally won a game, when they beat Alfred last week, 7-0. That touchdown against Allegheny must have encouraged the New York outfit.

Pitt and Tech came together in the game following the dedication of the new Pitt Stadium Saturday, and Pitt finally overcame the Tech jinx with a 12-0 victory.

Herb McCracken's Lafayette team lost a hard game to W. & J. at New York. The final score was 7-6, a missed try for extra point deciding the game.

One of the three girls enrolled in the School of Engineering at Northwestern University was recently chosen president of the Engineering Society of that school.

Boston's first touchdown came early in the first period. McManus recovered a blocked punt on the Allegheny 30-yard line, but Boston could not gain and the Blue and Gold took the ball on downs. Morrison punted to Cronin, and the Boston halfback immediately returned the long spiral which Lundgren fumbled on the 10-yard line. O'Connell recovered on the 5-yard line, and Cronin carried it over for a touchdown after three thrusts at the Allegheny line. McManus made good the extra point on a place kick.

The Blue and Gold team displayed a real offensive power in the second quarter by carrying the ball into Boston territory for four consecutive first downs. The home team stiffened, however, and Morrison was forced to kick. Boston failed to gain again, and another exchange of punts took place. After Morrison's second punt, a pretty run from a fake kick formation by Cronin gave Boston the ball on her own 40-yard line. He immediately kicked to Brace on the Allegheny 22-yard line, and a few minutes later Dower intercepted Brace's attempted pass to Hanlon and ran twenty-five yards for the second Boston touchdown. McManus again made good the extra point.

Late in the third quarter Brace punted to Cronin on his own 42-yard line, and Murphy, who had been substituted for Smith, fumbled on the next play. Slavin scooped up the ball and took it to the 25-yard line before being tackled from behind. Brace hit off tackle for 5 yards on the first play, and Dahl followed with 4 at center. Brace made it a first down just as the quarter ended. Boston sent in four fresh substitutes at this point, but they were unable to stop the plunging Allegheny backs. For Allegheny Anna replaced Kinnunen, who had been hurt earlier in the game. Dahl smashed right guard for 3 yards and hit center for 5 on the next play. With fourth down and 3 to go, the big fullback crashed center for first down on the 5-yard line. In three more plunges, two at guard and one at center, Dahl was over the line for the Allegheny touchdown. Brace place kicked for the extra point.

In the last quarter play see-sawed back and forth in Boston territory, Allegheny threatening once when Cronin got off a bad kick to Hanlon on the Boston 33-yard line. An intercepted pass gave Boston the ball on her own 25-yard line and the final whistle blew a few minutes later.

TWO ALLEGHENIANS ATTEND Y. W. C. A. CONFERENCE AT EDINBORO LAST SATURDAY.

A Y. W. C. A. conference was held at Edinboro Normal on Saturday, October 24. The delegates met the traveling secretaries, Mrs. B. Kitchen, Miss Reid, and Mr. Veach, at Haven Hall in the afternoon. The banquet at 6:45 was followed by a discussion of the "World Court," led by Mr. Veach. In his talk, he emphasized three great factors in making the World Court effective. He said that we should believe only the truth about our neighbors; we should try to understand our neighbors, and should learn to co-operate with them.

After a meeting with Mrs. Kitchen early on Sunday morning, the delegates went in a body to the Presbyterian Church. The service was in charge of the local Y. W. C. A. Miss Reid inspired her audience in her address, in which her belief that the young people are worthy of the trust of making the Y. W. a really Christian organization.

Mildred Anderson and Fanchon Tompkins were the Allegheny representatives at the Edinboro conference. Lafayette students who were bumping to Pittsburgh to witness the Pitt-Lafayette football game were greeted on the outskirts of Carlisle, Pa., by signs asking them to spend the night at Dickinson as guests of the freshmen.
