OF ALLEGHENY COLLEGE

HELLO, CLEO!

HARRY ELMER BARNES IS CHAPEL SPEAKER HERE

NOTED PROFESSOR SPEAKS TO STUDENTS ON LIFE IN THE TWENTIETH CENTURY

Last Wednesday at chapel Dr. Harry Elmer Barnes of Smith College spoke on "Living in the Twentieth Century." Dr Barnes is an authority on two important subjects: the treatment of crime, and the causes of the World War, but he is especially interested in the history of the development of technology. He is the author of several books and a great number of articles.

His method was to describe the present age by comparing it with the past century. He stated that there is more difference betwen this age and that of Lincoln than there is between that of Lincoln and the New Stone Age. In comparing the old and the new ages Dr. Barnes discussed briefly the differences between the two ages in the general belief as to the causes of the universe, the importance of the earth, and the nature of man, in the mode of life, in politics, in education, and in the attitude toward knowledge.

In the last century, he said, people believed in special creation as the cause of the universe and that the reason for creation was to provide a scene for the conflict between good and evil, the good finally to be victorious. The earth was considered the center of the universe, the oldest, the largest, and the most important planet. Man was held to be a theological entity, the supreme product of God's creation, not a member of the animal kingdom; the fundamental purpose of life being to gain eternal salvation rather than to provide a beter life here. The Holy Scripture was the guide to salvation, and the clergyman was the expert in gaining salvation. Life was dominated by theology, religion, and philosophy. It was a prescientific age, although a few notable discoveries were made. There were few factories; the aim of those few was to serve human needs rather than to make money for the owners. There was little travel or communication. Politics were simple, direct, and rudimentary, predominantly local rather than national or international, although the outlook on the world was nationalistic; it was the age of the nationalistic movements in Europe and of the Monroe Doctrine. Education consisted mainly of the principles of Christianity and the translation of classical works, the latter being for mental training and discipline rather than for the lessons contained in those works. Education was a distraction from life rather than a preparation for life. Finally, men thought that they had a grip on all of the problems of existence and that their conceptions of these problems would never be changed.

In contrast, the new age accepts the Spencerian theory of evolution (not the Darwinian) as the explanation of the origin of things. Change is the only thing which is static; the extent of time and space cannot be imagined. The earth has been found to be an utterly insignificant planet; the star Antares could contain the sun, the orbits of Mercury, Venus, Earth and Mars, and a space outside the orbit of Mars several million miles wide. The destruction of our universe or galaxy would hardly be noticed by an observer on Antares. Man, accoring to Spencerian evolution, evolved from his Simian ancestors. The cockroach has not changed for milions of years, while the species homo sapiens is only about 40,000 years old. Man is, therefore, a comparative newcomer, but he is the highest-developed and the dominant animal. He now conceives his destiny to be a gamble as to whether his intelligence will solve his great prob-

Four Parties and Smoker Open Social Season of Year

With the football season at a close the fraternity social season will open officially on Tuesday night, November 27, just before the Thanksgiving recess begins. Parties have been schedu'd by four houses for that night These are Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Beta Kappa.

Members of the fraternities will return to their houses officially Saturday after the football game so that these parties will be regular chapter parties. It is expected that the affa'rs will be rather open-house style. Couples from almost every house on the hill will be present at the four parties.

In addition to the four dances that will be held, the Alpha Chi Rho chapter will hold a big smoker at their chapter house to celebrate their return

The new spirit that has developed from the Allegheny plan will undoubtedly be present at the different dances on the hill.

Students Pleased By Glee Club in Chapel Monday

The Allegheny College Glee Club made their first college appearance on Monday, November 19, when they presented a very interesting program at the chapel exercises.

The name and nature of the first song was a mystery to everybody during the first part of the program, for it consisted of only about three lines of an unknown melody. However, Mr. Meadowcroft had his boys sing the same composition again at the latter part of the program and he announced that this was the song that they had "fluked out" on at first. It was apparent that all that the songsters had needed was the correct pitch to start out on.

The new college quartet, consisting of Messrs. J. E. Springer, J. E. Meadowcroft, C. W. Behrhorst, and J. F. Hartman, made its first appearance at the concert. They were enthusiastically received by the entire assemblage.

The program of the songsters was as follows:

The Son of God.....Glee Club
Crossing the Bar.....Glee Club
A Little Close Harmony.....Quartet
Thumb Marks .....Quartet
The Moonlight Night.....Glee Club
On the Sea.....Glee Club

ALUMNI LUNCHEONS WILL BE HELD AS PREVIOUSLY

DISCARDED THIS YEAR—TO BE RESUMED IN SPRING AND FALL

There will be an alumni luncheon in June and another at the annual Home-Coming Day next fall. That means the Alumni Department learned something on our last Home-Coming Day. There are a nice lot of reasons why the luncheon was omitted, but not one adequate excuse.

The necessity for all-college dinners, or the seeming necessity, add such a burden to the staffs of our two Halls that the noontime luncheon was out of the question from every humane standpoint. What should have been done, and what will be done if there is over a similar congestion, was the employment of an outside caterer to take care of the luncheon.

Now, another delicate, oh very delicate, matter to the Alumni Department was the segregation of the men and women at the evening dinners before the dance. That incongruity was stumbled into because on the evening of Home-Coming Days in the past they always have been segregated at dinner. Altogether the College prepared food for 700 people at two dinners. There was no one space available for such a gathering, so there resulted the two dinners. In the innocence of the Alumni Department's mind, there was a feeling that the segregation would be made up for by the all-college dance. But that was an error again.

After all, it's rather nice to make mistakes; otherwise we would hardly ever hear from anybody. We have several other good mistakes in mind. They will be different mistakes next time, rest assured of that.

Pep Meeting Will Be Held Friday Morning

A pep meeting in preparation for the Alfred game will be held on Friday at the regular chapel hour. Frank Phillips, head cheer leader, and Foster Alter and Judd Johnson will be in charge.

Songs will be sung and cheers will be cheered so that the Allegheny rooters will be full of pep on Saturday. As this is the last home game of the season it is hoped that the weather will be good enough to have a snake dance at the game but unless the field dries off there will be none.

DELEGATE ELECTED TO PI DELT CONVENTION

The Allegheny chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon held a meeting Tuesday noon, November 20, in the oratory of the chapel. The purpose of the meeting was to elect a delegate to the national convention to be held in Atlanta, Georgia, December 5, 6, 7, 8. Carl Reuring was elected delegate.

NOTICE

There are still a few seniors who have not had their pictures taken yet. They must have them taken by Thanksgiving or they will not appear in the Kaldron. This is final notice.

PRESIDENT ADDS TO TALK OF HOME-COMING DAY

More Statistics Given Out In Regard To Comparison of Scholarship Standings

To the Editor of the Campus:

May I ask permission to supplement at this late day of the address which I made on Home-Coming Day, particularly the paragraph on the seeming effect of "the new plan" on our scholarship.

One year ago at the end of the first month of school 87% of the fraternity men in the College were delinquent in scholarship; whereas this year at the end of the first month only 38% were delinquent.

One year ago at the end of the second month 107% were delinquent—that is, there was more than one delinquency per man; whereas this year at the end of the second month only 63% are delinquent.

Moreover, last year among the men of the freshman class, the delinquencies were 150% in November—one and a half per man,—while in November of the present year only 67% were delinquent.

Yet again, during the whole season only three members of the football squad have become ineligible to play on the team because of low scholarship.

There have been a few changes in our teaching staff, but none that would account for this radical improvement in scholarship. Nor would the new requirement in the course of study explain largely the new enthusiasm for study. In any case such effect as these would be felt chiefly by the freshman class.

Confessedly the freshman class this year is a good class, but it was not selected with any more care than the class of last year, nor did it make a notably better showing in the tests of freshman week.

It seems reasonably clear to me that the only other new factor in this problem of scholarship is the new attitude the fraternities are taking toward the College as a whole. They have been for eight weeks instruments to serve the College rather than ends to be served by the College, and one of the great results is that the courses of study now have the attention of the students to a degree that was not true a year ago.

We seem to be "getting an education" instead of merely "going to College."

Yours truly,
JAMES A. BEEBE.

FORUM INITIATES SIX MEN FRIDAY

The Philo-Franklin Forum held its regular weekly meeting in the Forum room at Bentley Hall on Friday afternoon, November 16, at 4:45.

At this time three new members presented short talks: Charles Shaw recited "For the Cause," Robert More read the well-known poem of Coleridge, "Kubla-Khan," and Nathan Morrison recited a short Dutch poem.

The latter part of the program consisted of the initiation of the six new members who have presented talks: Maurice Dunkle, Paul Cares, Harmon Gilbert, Griffing Garwood, Joseph Morrison, and Richard Marker.

A vote was taken by the Forum, and Shaw, Moore and Morrison were accepted, unanimously.

The meeting was concluded with discussions of future programs.

THETA UPSILON TEA FOR FACULTY LADIES

Eta chapter of Theta Upsilon entertained the faculty ladies at a tea in the chapter rooms on Tuesday afternoon. Other guests included Mrs. J. A. Boyd, Mrs. J. A. Rupert, and Mrs. H. Hodgkinson. Mrs. L. D. McClean, faculty advisor of the fraternity, poured.

New York Alumni Will Hold Dinner On November 23

The New York Alumni Association will hold a dinner on Friday night, November 23, 6:30 p. m., at the Town Hall Club in New York City at 123 West 43rd Street. All the alumni and ex-students living in the vicinity of New York are invited to attend. Communications should be addressed to P. A. Beck, 27 Pine Street, New York City. It is expected that this dinner will have a large attendance.

FACULTY AND CLUBS ARE HOSTS TO VISITING PROF.

Last Wednesday afternoon Dr. Barnes, of Smith College, spoke on "The New History and Preparation of the New Historian" before the History and Political Science Club and the Modern Problems Club at a tea at Hulings Hall. The tea began at 3:30 and was held in the Hulings Hall parlors. Miss Alice Stephens and Miss Gladys Button were the hostesses.

Ht also spoke at a dinner of the members of the faculty and their wives which was held in his honor on Wednesday evening, at the Saegertown Inn, on his visit to the ex-kaiser at Dorn, Holland.

GLEE CLUB SHOW TO BE GIVEN TOMORROW NIGHT

"Cleopatra" Expected To Draw a Large Crowd To High School Auditorium

Cleopatra, a musical farce, will be presented by the men's Glee Club in the High School auditorium, tomorrow night, Thursday, November 22. This will mark the first official appearance of the Glee Club in Meadville this year. The former appearances have been of more or less incidental nature. The Club has appeared at the All-College banquet on Home-Coming day and at the High School last Friday morning. This, however, is an appearance of both the men's and women's Glee Clubs.

The Women's Club will give an old-fashioned concert in costume and will sing a number of old-time songs which are familiar to most of the student body. There will also be readings and a few dances.

The Men's Club has been rehearsing on Cleopatra for the last two months and "have brought it to a state of excellence never before reached in any dramatic endeavor." This performance goes farther than a mere dramatic episode and combines music with acting. The show is called a musical farce and is really a comic opera. Cleopatra is a burlesque on college life.

Tickets admitting the bearer to both performances may be obtained from members of the Clubs and at the door The price is only fifty cents and it is expected that all the students will attend.

Cleopatra ..... ——?
William .....Jack Hartman
Anthony .....Jim Springer
Caesar .....Kip Behrhorst
Pompey .....Red Meadowcroft

CHORUSES

First Tenors—Wm. Joslin, T. W. Moss, P. E. Noonan, Ed. Tucker, H. C. Wilson.

Second Tenors—P. D. Blair, Harold Crandall, Guilford Jones, Donald Knapp, Dana Pringle.

Basses—Norman Ish, Thomas Mancell, Wm. Shaffer, Lloyd Thompson, Paul Younger, Frank Thurston.

The Campus will not appear until December 12. This is due to the annual Thanksgiving Recess which comes next week. The edition appearing on that date, however, will be the annual six-page edition and will contain write ups on each football player and on the cross-country men and will contain an article by S. S. Townsend, Graduate Manager of Athletics

All-College Dance Will Be Held In Cochran Hall Sat.

Saturday night, November 24, there will be held an All-college dance in Cochran Hall. The dance will start about 8:30 and last until 12 o'clock. "Dutch" Kress and his Olympians will furnish the music for the ocasion and the usual punch will be served. Who the chaperones are has not yet been announced by the committee but there will undoubtedly be come there.

The announcement that Kress' band is to play will please all the present generation of Alleghenians. This orchestra is well known in college circles and has played for many parties before.

The price of admission is $1.50.

MEN WILL RETURN TO THEIR OWN HOMES

CLOSE OF FOOTBALL SEASON TO SEE MOVING OF MEN OF COLLEGE

With the close of the football season Saturday, November 24, the men of the fraternities will move back to their own houses. At the opening of school the fraternity men of the college decided to co-operate with the Phi Gamma Delta Chapter, who were giving up their house as a headquarters for the football team, and mix themselves up in a potpourri. The plan was immediately carried out and has been a huge success. Men from all the different chapters on the hill have been living in each fraternity house and this did a great deal to break down the bad inter-fraternity feeling which has existed at Allegheny for the past several years.

The men are asked to move their trunks and the largest part of their baggage on Friday night and to finish Saturday after the football game. The men will spend Friday night in the houses that they have been living in during the season and will eat meals at those houses until Saturday night, at which time they will return to their own houses.

If the men all co-operate this moving process can be carried out without many hitches. If, however, the men move before they are supposed to or do not move when the time comes it will mean that difficulties will arise which other houses beside their own will have to cope with.

Several men who moved out into private rooms will move back at the same time as that when the other men move.

Glee Club Gives Program for Pupils Of Meadville High

On Friday morning, November 16, at 11 o'clock in the high school auditorium, the Men's Glee Club under Student Director J. E. Meadowcroft gave a short concert before a large group of high school students. The Glee Club consisted of forty-five members and was accompanied by Milton Brown on the piano. The College quartet, consisting of Messrs. J. E. Springer, J. E. Meadowcroft, C. E. Behrhorst, and J. F. Hartman also presented two numbers which were received most favorably by the large audience.

The Glee Club opened the program with the numbers, "Crossing the Bar" and "On the Sea." The quartet then presented the two numbers, "A Little Close Harmony" and "Thumbmarks." Folowing these two numbers, "Anthony and Chorus" and "Trio," two short sketches from the musical comedy Cleopatra, which is to be presented on Thursday, November 22, at the local High School building, were presented. Milton Brown, yielding to the demands of the audience, finally gave several interpretations of the popular number "Somewhere A Voice is Calling." This number brought the musical program to a close.

This concert marked the first appearance of the Glee Club before a strange audience this year and the program created a most favorable impression throughout the large assemblage. Both the Men's and Girls' musical organizations are hard at work preparing for the various concerts to be presented during the year. With the large group left over from last year's strong organizations, and with the unusual lot of talented freshmen, the Glee Clubs will again be able to present a most formidabe organization throughout the ensuing year and will undoubtedly prove a fine advertisement for the college wherever they appear.

Keep your eye peeled for the Athletic Review Edition which will appear December 12.

TEAMS PICKED FOR FROSH-SOPH DEBATE

SPEAKERS READY FOR DEBATE NEXT MONDAY NIGHT IN CHAPEL

Try-outs for the Freshmen debating team were held Tuesday afternoon, ovember 13, in the Philo-Franklin Forum room in Bentley Hall. All but six men had been formerly eliminated and these six tried out in the form of a debate on the question: "Resolved, that the principle of complete freedom of speech and press on economic and political questions is unsound."

The affirmative team consisted of Charles Shaw, Paul Cares, and Robert More; those on the negative team were Maurice Dunkle, Harmon Gilbert, and Richard Marker. The judges were Dr. Julian Ross, Professor Lavely and Professor Stinebower.

Many points were brought out in the constructive speeches of the debaters, and very interesting rebuttals were presented.

In the decision announced by the judges, the negative team was granted the victory, and the following men were selected for the Freshmen team: Messrs. Gilbert, Marker, and Cares, and Shaw as alternate.

The Freshman-Sophomore debate will be held Monday evening, November 26, in the chapel. This event promises to be quite interesting; it will again furnish the Frosh with an opportunity to get revenge for previous treatment. The constructive speeches will be eight minutes long and the rebuttals will be five minutes, with a three minute intermission.

MANY INTERESTING BOOKS ARE ACQUIRED BY LANGUAGE DEPARTMENTS

The German Department of the College has subscribed to several periodicals not hitherto received at the Library. Among these publications of special interest to students of German are: The Germanic Review, Die Neue Rundschau. Added to Die Woeche these give a variety of periodicals dealing with German life and letters. Beside these periodicals there have been received a number of books. One of these, the new encyclopedia, Der Grosse Brockhaus, in 20 volumes is a notable addition to the reference books in German now in the Library. This work is not entirely finished and has not yet been received but has been merely ordered. Only the first volume will be printed this year.

The Holiday numbers of the foreign weeklies have been received by the Library and are of especial interest and well worth reading. They are noteworthy examples of fine printing and illustration. Among these are: The Illustrated London News, L'Illustration, and Die Woche.

The Christmas issue of Country Life in America, which will be received about December 1, will probably be a very beautiful work of publishing. The International Studio is another periodical in which fine illustrations and printing are always combined.

The Romance Language Department is adding a number of new books and among the great reference works to be published is the set of Larousse and Siecle in six volumes. Volume I of this will appear this year. The Romance Language Department periodicals are always of interest. L'Illustration and Revue des Deux Mondes, representatives of French periodicals, are received regularly.

A slight correction is needed regarding the display of clay tablets in the Library during the past week. The tablets have been in the possession of the Library for several years but are each year put on display for the benefit of the students.

The display of some old-time text books and some very recent ones serves to show the advance in education in a century and the attractiveness of modern textbooks as well as their largely increased content.

The Library is receiving the weather reports from the Cleveland and Erie Weather Bureau Stations. These are posted in the vestibule of the Library and the files will be kept for reference.

The Library has received a copy of the United States Catalogue of Books in Print January, 1928, a huge volume for reference use which replaces several earlier ones of similar content. All prices have been corrected and the book is not only an example of modern bookmaking for a volume of more than 3000 pages, but a valuable help to anyone wishing to find information about books now in print.

The Campus hopes everyone will have a real, old-fashioned Thanksgiving dinner with turkey and fixin's, including the cranberry sauce.

THE PLAN

"Eight little weeks" ago the men of Allegheny College left their homes and moved into strange houses for the duration of the football season. The season is now coming to a close and the men will soon be moving back to their original homes again. That means that the whole school will be in a turmoil and that studies will probably drop off and be placed in the discards for a few days. This should not happen. As it is now planned, the men will all move on Friday night, as much as possible of their clothes and books and the larger part of their luggage. Then after they have spent Friday night and eaten two meals more in their temporary homes, and after they have seen Allegheny defeat Alfred University, they will complete the moving of their acoutrements.

It is up to the men of the College to give their utmost co-operation in this moving to make it go smoothly. Get your bags packed Friday and move them Friday afternoon and Friday night. Be sure you have only your own things. Don't pack in such a hurry that you won't be able to get everything of your in your trunk or that you might get things that aren't yours in it. Get those things moved that you can do without on Saturday, on Friday night and move them. Then after the football game, move the rest of your belongings. Don't give up seeing Allegheny win a good football game to move. You can get all moved without missing it.

Everyone must do his best to see that everyone else is co-operating. Don't try to be the big boss but lend him a hand with his trunk and help him to move and then you will be doing your whole share.

Now that the plan is over, don't let your new friends drift back into the haze of the unknown the way they were before you got acquainted with them. Keep on seeing them and you will find that the Plan has worked more than you will realize when you get back to normal again.

There is no reason why Allegheny College should ever go back into the rut she was in when the famous plan pushed it out last September. If everyone in school remembers the good times he had rooming with so-ond-so and talking with such-and-such and doesn't think about the petty things that happened once in a while during the eight weeks, he will find that the things around school will take on a rosier hue.

THE SCRUBBING BRUSH

Well, they are going to hold an All-College dance after all and when we chased them down and wormed the fact out of them that they were going to have one. No one seemed to know who was going to be in charge nor who was going to play nor who was going to chaperone. In fact, no one seemed to know who is doing anything. Dutch told someone the other day that he was booked for it so we know that much about it. Then one of the boys at Cochran said that he had been told that there would be a dance and he was supposed to give up his room for it. That was another clue. Finally we tracked it down by announcements, etc., in chapel. We were hot on the trail though when the cat was let out of the bag.

We "kind of figure" that Allegheny ought to start some night classes for those of us who can't get up in the morning early enough to get to class. You see, everyone could get up by noon and would be fully awake for class at seven o'clock. Then, too, no one would miss their breakfast because of an eight-ten.

The Senior Class finally met and elected officers. At the meeting on Thursday six were present and to five of those six goes the credit for having enough there Saturday to do business. The sixth person got all bothered about it and then forgot to go. However, he was apparently not missed.

Cleo should make a big hit this week. They are trying to keep it a mystery about who Cleo is in real life. Everyone on the hill therefore must pretend not to know who "he" really is. Give them a break and let them try to surprise you.

That is why his name was left out of the write-up on Cleopatra. You see it was by request. It wasn't because we didn't know who he was. We knew it as soon as you did.

In one edition of a college paper from the East was an ad which said: "We Clean Trench Coats exclusively." What ho! a new business.

Knute Rockne condemns betting on football games in an article in the December College Humor. He gives several reasons. We condemn it too after having tried five different teams in one week-end and losing every game. Boy, we just can't pick them to win.

* * *

Three large universities have extension schools in Erie now and it must be about time that some one put up a college there. There are also extension schools in Meadville. (Not the Commercial College.)

ALUMNI FUND STATISTICS

A comparative table of the Alumni Funds of American colleges and universities is printed below. Allegheny is making a good showing for the time elapsed since the establishment of the Fund. May we not keep it going? Twenty-five per cent of our graduates are subscribers. Let's aim towards the percentages of schools like Amherst, Dartmouth, Bowdoin and Rutgers.

lems or whether his mechanical civilization will destroy his ideals and so cause him to degenerate. The purpose of his life is to work out a better civilization. Science has changed our attitudes toward many things, but religion will continue to have an important function. Because of the great mass of scientific knowledge, no one can be a specialist in any science; he can only speialize in some small part of it. This is an age of machinery and labor troubles. Our outlook is a world outlook; we have the newspaper and the radio to link us with the rest of the world. There is free education for everybody, and special education for those who can use it. Nothing is certain now; the only thing one can be dogmatic about is that he cannot be dogmatic. We recognize that we cannot know the reasons for everything; man's finite mind cannot grasp the infinite. Therefore we are gradually leaving philosophy and turning to practical problems.

Wednesday evening Dr. Barnes addresed the Forum in Kingsley Hall on "Crime and Its Repression." In his discussion of the methods used at present in the Cnited States for the repression of crime, he stated that no worse system could be found than the jury system and the penal system. Dr. Barnes offered a substitute for these systems, consisting of the reform of the criminal code by the elimination of trivial ocenses and the inclusion of all serious offenses against society, the permanent segregation of hopeless criminals, a more intelligent, better-trained, and higher-paid police body, the examination of suspects by highly-trained experts in psycho-analysis to determine their guilt and their danger to society, and the scientific treatment of those who need it. The hopeless criminals would be sent to institutions for the incurables, those not needing institutional treatment would be paroled under competent officers and given whatever treatment they need and the rest would be placed in institutions where they would be treated by psychotheropy, taught a trade, imbued with modern social principles, and as soon as the experts deem advisable released on parole under expert social workers.

In answering questions from the audience after the lecture, Dr Barnes explained that the main idea was that a criminal should be considered a patient, and should be so treated. He also said that the experts would be more intelligent and less subject to bribery than the courts are at present.

Friends of Nellie McQuiston Gizzie, '23, will be interested to know that her husband, John Gizzie, has bought a half-interest in Mr. M. H. Curry's Meadville Granite and Marble Works. Mr. Gizzie hac been associated with the wholesale granite and marble business for the past sixteen years, traveling extensively in this country and in Europe. The firm name will be known as the Meadville Granite, Marble and Tile Company, with Messrs. Curry and Gizzie using their wide exeriepnce in continuing an already finely organized trade. The building of granite and marble memorials will continue as the chief line of the firm but a department for tile work has also been added.

Everett O. Black, '24, received his M. D. degree from Western Reserve University last June and is now serving his interneship in City Hospital, Cleveland. Mrs. Black (Virginia Pegg) is with her parents in Erie while Doctor Black completes his service as interne.

Former Football Coach Retires From Athletic Career

Many Alleghenians will remember "Doc" Stewart, a former football coach at the College. The Meadville Tribune of Novtmber 16 carried the story of his leaving his profession to become a hotel proprietor. "With the chack of a timekeeper's pistol at El Paso, Texas, on Thanksgiving Day, Dr. E. J. Stewart will retire as a football coach. After thirty years of pacing elevens on college gridirons from Oregon to South Carolina and Pennsylvania to Texas, 'Doleful Doc' has decided to leave his profession to younger hands." "Doc" was not a nickname, for Mr. Stewart studied medicine at Western Reserve Medical School in the last of the "90's" and prepared to become a practicing physician. "I was in debt when I got through college; I had a coaching offer, and, as I was always a lover of every kind of sport, I accepted," says Mr. Stewart. Before coming to Allegheny as coach in 1909, he coached at Mount Union College, and at Massillon, Ohio. He remained at Allegheny three years, then went to the "Oregon Aggies" for four years. Subsequently he served the University of Nebraska, and Clemson College (South Carolina). He was called to the University of Texas in 1923, and recently was transferred to the Texas College of Mines, a small branch of the University located on the Mexican border at El Paso. Allegheny congratulates Dr. Stewart on his accomplishments as a football coach and wishes him happiness and success in his new venture as a hotel proprietor.

A recent issue of the Greenville Record-Argus gave a very full and interesting account of the Centennial celebration of the First Methodist Church in Greenville. The climax of the week's celebration was the presentation of a pageant, "In the Days of Thy Youth," written by Florence Grauel Miller, of the Allegheny College Class of 1908. This pageant was undoubtedly one of the most ambitious community spectacles ever presented in Greenville, and again demonstrated the ability of Mrs. Miller to write this type of literature. It will be remembered that Mrs. Miller is the author of the pageant, "Paths of Righteousness," presented in 1925 during Old Stone Church's Centenary celebration in Meadville. Approximately 125 people took part in the Greenville pageant portraying the historical development of the church. The prologue was a conference between Christianity, Wisdom and Youth, in which Wisdom and Christianity promised to show Youth that both of them must guide him. The first episode showed the eleven disciples in the Upper Room after the crucifixion of their Christ, discussing His teachings, and preparing to spread His doctrine. The second episode dealt with the Pittsburgh Conference meeting at Salem in 1828, where a number of young people received the inspiration to organize the Methodist Church at Greenville. The third episode portrayed the presentation of the church lot deed on December 12, 1828. This lot was purchased for $10, and it was 180 by 120 feet in size. The fourth episode reproduced the dedication service at the log church in 1830, and the fifth the story of the completing of the frame church in 1842. The sixth episode pictured the great revival which occurred in 1870. The seventh episode showed the laying of the cornerstone of the present church building in 1884.The finale assembled the officers of many of the pioneer organizations of the church to pass in review before Wisdom, Christianity and Youth.

Mrs. Miller is to be highly commended, not only for this pageant, but for all her writings.

Ada Burris, '26, is Industrial Secretary at the Frankford Y. W. C. A., Piladelphia. Miss Burris was at the Y. W. C. A. in Elmira, New York, before going to Philadelphia.

Four Alleghenians on Southern College Administration Staff

A catalogue of Birmingham Southern College was received in the Alumni Office recently. It is interesting to note that on the staff of instruction and administration, there are four Alleghenians. The President of Birmingham Southern is Guy Everett Snavely, who though not a graduate of Allegheny won a place for himself among Alleghenians. He was a member of the Romance Language Department in Allegheny College from 1906 to 1919, and Registrar from 1908 to 1918. During that period he was given sabbatic leave of absence during the school year 1914-15 and a second leave of absence in 1918-19, when he became director of the Southern Division of the American Red Cross, with headquarters in Atlanta, Georgia. Doctor Snavely severed his connection with Allegheny College, though not his interest, in 1919.

Harrison A. Trexler is Professor of History and Political Science in Birmingham Southern. He was Acting Professor of History and Economics at Allegheny during the year 1910-11.

William Alonzo Whiting, now Professor of Biology in the Alabama College, was graduated from Allegheny in 1914. He earned his Ph. D. degree at Cornell University in 1921. Dr. Whiting recently was elected to the office of Grand Scribe of Theta Kappa Nu.

Gilbert Wilcox Mead, Allegheny '11, is Dean of Birmingham Southern and Professor of English. He was a Professor of English in Westminster College before going to the South.

The names of these four men appear also on several Faculty Committees.

Mrs. Anna H. Ziegler died Thursday morning, November 15, at the Franklin Hospital, Franklin, Pennsyvania, surviving but three days after an operation. She was born at Hill City, January 2, 1882. Mrs. Ziegler began her education in the Venango County public schools and then entered Allegheny College in 1901, where she remained but one year. In 1903 she was married to Harley J. Ziegler, ex-1904. With the husband are left a son and daughter, Floyd, of Franklin, and Oromel, living at home; also one brother, Gerald G. Hill of Hill City, and two sisters, Mrs. Olin E. Mark, of Rocky Grove, and Mrs. C. F. Adamson, of Meadville. Mrs. Ziegler was a member of the First M. E. Church of Franklin and the Willard W. C. T. C., and was ever busy making happiness for those around her.

On November 14, Miss Mary Marshall, of Aspinwall, became the bride of Robert L. Murphy '23. After December first Mr. and Mrs. Murphy will be at home at 22 Sheridan Avenue, Bellevue.

WE SEE THAT—

Everyone likes to encourage honest and intelligent enthusiam.

Children are keen observers, and by the time they are ten they know almost as much as their parents.

Isn't it amazing how a married couple can be perfectly happy one moment and madder than tigers the next?

Highbrows don't have much in common with the rest of the world except that they get hungry at the same hours.

Compromise may be cowardly, but it's better than driving head-on and wreaking yourself against a stone wall.

Look in a man's eyes for honesty; around his mouth for weakness; at his hands for temperment; at his nails for cleanliness.

It is an interesting fact that the same qualities which at first make you dislike a man will eventually make you like him, if he handles his work according to your way.

And then sometimes an instinctive dislike of a man is founded more on a misunderstanding than on any fault of his.

When a delivery is late, a good excuse is even more irritating than a bad one——a good excuse leaves no outlet for anger.

The more trifling the man the more patent pencils and fountain pens he seems to carry around in his vest pockets.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Miller, 684 Walnut Street, Meadville, at City Hospital, Saturday, November 10, a daughter. Mr. Miller is an Alleghenian, '20.

Alvin A. Jones, '27, and Mrs. Jones are at home at 1014 Lamond Avenue, Durham, North Carolina. Mr. Jones is a theological student in Duke University School of Religion this year.

C. M. Hatch and family are now at 370 South Berkeley Avenue, Pasadena, California, having occupied their new home there on October 17th. Mr. and Mrs. Hatch are both members of the Class of 1901. Helen, who was graduated from Allegheny in 1926, is at home, and Charlotte, who was at Allegheny for two years, is a senior in Leland Stanford University.

James A. Culbertson, ex-'26, and Mrs. Culbertson have moved from Ardmore, Oklahoma, to Duncan, Oklahoma.

Allegheny in Athletics

ALLEGHENY WILL MEET NEW YORK SCHOOL ON SATURDAY

Alfred University Outfit Will Appear On Montgomery Field For First Time

With the Alfred game on Montgomery Field next Saturday afternoon Allegheny will bring to a close its 1928 football season. A victory is needed in this game to finish up the year with a favorable margin in the matter of victories and defeats, for at the present time the team has experienced three o each—fvictories over Mt. Union, Westminster, and Geneva, and defeats at the hands of Dartmouth, Pitt, and Grove City. One game, the Thiel contest, resulted in a tie. So it will be necessary for the Blue and Gold to win over their opponents on Saturday if they wish to show a favorable balance on the victory side of the ledger.

For a time the Alfred game was looked upon as a real soft spot for the Merrittmen, for their record to date has been anything but impressive Word received here last week, however, changed the aspect of the situation considerably, for the reports state that the New York team will be strengthened a great deal for their contest with the Blue and Gold. In their games to date the Alfred team has been unable to use several promising freshmen because of a local ruling. In the game with Allegheny, however, these men will be eligible and are being counted on to bolster the team considerably. At least five freshmen will be found occupying the places of former varsity men when the team lines up against the Blue and Gold on Saturday. Because of the fact that these men have not been used before, it is impossible togive any estimate as to just how much strength they will add to Alfred's lineup.

The record that Alfred has compiled this year is anything but impressive. Only one game has been won, the New Yorkers having defeated Edinboro Normal by a score of 6-0. This was the first game that Alfred had won in three years and consequently the victory was celebrated at great length. New York University found the Alfred team to be rather easy pickings, running through them almost at will for a 71-0 victory. All of the other games on the Alfred schedule this year have resulted in defeats for the New York team, and Allegheny is hoping to hand her a final licking next Saturday.

To date Allegheny has registered 78 points to their oponents' 99. If the Blue and Gold team wishes to end the season with as many points to their credit as their opponents have scored, it will be necessary for the Merrittmen to take the game Saturday by a score of at least 21-0. After the Alfred fame all attention will be turned to backetball and a goodly number of the football team will be found competing for places on the varsity basketball team.

Inter-Class Swim Meet Will Be Held by Girls

The Girls' Inter-Class swimming teams will struggle for honors in a meet which has been scheduled for this week. Captains have been chosen for the various classes, and all swimmers are urged to participate in the contest. The captains are: Jane Eckert, Sara Dixon, Alice Luther, and Claire Rodkey.

An interesting program of events, including both individual and group contests, has been arranged. Following is the entire list of events: sixty-yard dash; handicap race, swimming with raised umbrella; plunge for distance; relay, four girls on a team; life saving; swimming for form; candle race; back stroke, least number of strokes length of the pool; diving, —front, running front, and jack knife.

T. U. SORORITY ARE ENTERTAINED AT TEA

Eta chapter of Theta Upsilon was a guest at a tea held at the home of Mrs. J. A. Rupert, Sunday afternoon, November 18. Miss Mildred Rupert, an ex-collegio member of Eta chapter and a graduate of Ohio State University, acted as hostess. Mrs. L. D. McLean poured.

Allegheny Natators Preparing for Heavy Schedule of Meets

With the close of the football and track seasons at Allegheny, our interests are now turned to indoor sports. And among the most important of these is swimming. The Allegheny team for this coming year has already been organized, with officers elected, and a certain few good meets booked for the winter season.

On the 8th of this month a meeting was held for all members of last year's team, and officers were elected. Burdell Sankey has been chosen captain, while George Ledger is manager, Mr. Ledger reports that meets have been planned with Thiel, Westminster, Oil City Y. M. C. A., and Pitt, but no very definite schedule is as yet arranged.

Of those on last year's team we have five lettermen: R. Young, E. Young, Phillips, Sankey, and Ledger. With a new crop of Freshmen we should even better our record of last year. All men wishing to try out should either report to Mr. Rumsey or Mr. Ledger as soon as possible, and begin getting into shape.

Prior to the main season there will be the inter-fraternity meet, which will be most exactly indicative of the ability of our athletes and will bring out the new talent necessary to a good team and a successful season.

New Point System Will Be Used in Girl's Athletics

The girls of Allegheny are going to have a chance to do something besides swinging dumbbells and Indian clubs when they want exercise. Miss Leroy, the physical director, has arranged courses in croquet, archery, skiing, horse-back riding, organized hiking, swimming and basketball. The point system will again be used, so modified that the new courses willl be included in the counting.

The awards under this system are:

Arm band with numerals	500 points
Bronze bar pin	750 points
Silver bar pin	1000 points
Gold bar pin	1250 points
Large college A and sweater	3000 points
Token with college seal	5000 points

Since only two or three points are given at a time in most of these sports, it is no easy matter to get an award of any kind.

SO

It will be necessary for the Blue and Gold to score what is usually termed a "decisive win" next Saturday in their game with Alfred if the team is to finish the season with a creditable balance in regard to the number of points that they have scored. If the team is to finish the season with a creditable balance in regard to the number of points that they have scored. If the team can turn in at least 21 points on Saturday the record for the year will not look bad at all, considering the fact that they have been up against such teams as Dartmouth and Pitt.

BOUND TO WIN

This is not a Horatio Alger story, but refers to the scheduling of an Allegheny-Alfred game. When the game was scheduled last year, neither team had won a single contest all season. The schedule-makers evidently thought that these two teams should get together in case there should be a repetition this year of the records made last fall. Then one of the teams would be bound to win, unless the game resulted in a tie. Fortunately, Allegheny has advanced out of the no-win class, by a three-victory margin, and their opponents have also been promoted, but only by a one-win margin.

A HOT FIGHT

We are looking forward with a great deal of interest to the start of basketball practice, which will occur shortly after the Thanksgiving vacation, for there certainly is going to be some fight for positions on the team this fall. There is a wrld of material in school, but just how good it is will have to be determined later. At center there will be a fight between Moon, Nesbitt, Conn, and Storrie. The forward fight will be centered around Bair, Dennison, Lane, Gillies, Heffrin, Mills, and several others. Perhaps the hardest fight will be for the guard positions, for there we find Rowlingson, Eighmy, Allison, Johnstone, Holly, Garbark, Berger, Massing, and several others. Ought to be intersting to watch.

"I'd rather have a Chesterfield!"

It is considered the height of bad form, they say, to carry your own sandwiches to a tea—or to pack your own blanket for the week-end—but luckily, no such outlandish conventions surround the smoking of your own cigarette.

"I'd rather have a Chesterfield," fortunately, is a phrase which not only remains "good cricket" in polite circles—but at the same time brands the smoker as a person of rare discernment and excellent discrimination.

And small wonder, considering all the remark implies. Good taste, top quality, the rare sparkle of tobacco goodness—all these combine to justify the choice of that man who thus shows his keen judgment.

"I'd rather have a Chesterfield"—a neat line, that—the mark of a real connoisseur and the password of six million smokers.
