OF ALLEGHENY COLLEGE

VOLUME XXXV—NUMBER 16 MEADVILLE, PA., FEBRUARY 20, 1917 PRICE FIVE CENTS

ALLEGHENY TAKES EASY GAME FROM GENEVA, BUT BY ONE POINT LOSES TO LAFAYETTE

Inability to Locate the Basket When Opportunity Offered Was Responsible for Loss

Allegheny came through with a victory over the Geneva College five Tuesday, February 13, in which they played the most consistently brilliant basketball of the year. Their team work was all that could be desired of any team, their passing was of the highest order and Geneva seemed entirely unable to break it up. Most of Allegheny's baskets came from short shots made possible by splendid passing, this co-ordination of effort on the part of the Allegheny men resulting in every man on the team making at least one basket with no one player rolling up a high score.

The Geneva team evidently went into the game determined to repeat their last year's feat in bringing down the Blue and Gold colors and they played a close guarding game at all times. As is usual in such games, the scrimmages became rather rough as the game progressed but it was due to the hard playing and not to any unfair tactics on the part of the players. In this connection the good work of Referee Merriman should be mentioned, for according to the Allegheny players, he was the most impartial and efficient official that they have met this year. His impartiality was especially shown at the first of the game when he compelled the Geneva captain to leave the game for continued rough work.

Geneva took the lead at the start of the game and for a time Allegheny seemed a little confused by the strange floor conditions. Soon, however, they found themselves and started the machine-like team-work that the Geneva aggregation could not stop. There was no passing into the hands of the opposing players or inaccurate passing which has characterized so many of the previous games. At the end of the first half Allegheny had secured the lead by a one-point margin.

At the beginning of the second half Allegheny rolled up six additional points before Geneva again broke into the scoring column. It was seldom in the first seven minutes that Geneva had the ball, Allegheny securing it soon after the toss and by consistent team-work retaining it until they could score. Only one basket in the second half came as a result of independent playing and that was when Bianchi picked an opening and dribbled the length of the floor for a basket. Toward the last of the game the Geneva men made desperate efforts to overcome the Allegheny lead and the play became fast and furious. The Blue and Gold team was able to meet this spurt, however, with an extension of effort, and instead of resulting in a closer score for the home team, this spurt only increased the visitors' lead. The Allegheny men guarded especially close in the entire second half, allowing their opponents only two field goals.

Loeffler, starting at forward but changing to guard when Perrott was forced to leave the game, put up a fine game for Geneva. He scored 19 of his team's 36 points, scoring 15 out of 21 fouls and 2 goals from the field. His passing and dribbling were also of the highest order. For Allegheny, every man played a star game, but Captain Bianchi's dribbling perhaps entitles him to the highest honors. In this respect Bianchi is even better than last year. Several times as in Tuesday's game he has dribbled through the entire opposing team and scored well-earned baskets. Volk deserves credit also for his foul shooting, getting 14 out of 20 fouls.

The score:
Geneva—26. Allegheny—32.
Loeffler L. F. Kerr
Edgar R. F. Shaner
Miller C. Lane
Forbes C. Volk
Perrott (C.) R. G. Bianchi (C.)
Substitutions: Loeffler for Perrott
Dodds for Loeffler, Stringer for Miller, Wilson for Edgar.

Field Goals: Loeffler 2, Forbes, Dodds, Wilson; Kerr, Shaner 2, Lane, Volk 2, Bianchi 3.
Foul goals: Loeffler 15 out of 21, Miller 1 out of 3, Volk 14 out of 20.
Time of halves, 20 minutes.
Score at end of first half: Allegheny 14, Geneva 13.
Referee, Merriman.

Lafayette Game.
With a complete reversal of the form shown in the Geneva game, Allegheny went down to defeat before the Lafayette College team in the gymnasium last Friday night. The only thing in common to the two games so far as Allegheny was concerned was the excellent passing, which was of the type that placed the ball frequently within easy scoring distance of the basket, but here the parallel stops. The Blue and Gold men were unable to find the basket even when inside the foul line, and shooting practically unguarded. The visitors had played two hard games in the two nights before and in addition had to make a trip here from Pittsburgh the day of the game. In every department they showed the effects of their experience and did not play the game which from advance reports we know they are capable of playing. In their guarding their weariness made them rather lax and it was not due to any lack of opportunity that the Allegheny team can charge their defeat. While the visiting team fought gamely in spite of the hardships they were under, they could not guard closely enough to keep the Allegheny men from advancing the ball or to keep them from shooting, but the defective aim of the men resulted in few baskets being made even from under the basket.

Manager Tarr was notified two days before the game that the regular referee whom he had engaged had been taken ill and would be unable to officiate and at that late date he was unable to secure a man listed under the central board of officials, but John Wirt, of Meadville, after considerable opportunity on the part of the management consented to act as referee. It was unfortunate that this had to happen at this time, for as it subsequently developed, the game was at times rather rough and at least two of the visiting players expressed unfavorable opinions of the refereeing during the game, Captain Taylor becoming so forceful in his statements that Wirt was compelled to demand his retirement from the game. The employment of a town man in this capacity gave the visitors an opportunity for contesting decisions which it was only natural that they

Preparations for Banquet Call for Track Men Are Well Advanced

COMMITTEES AND CLASSES ARE HARD AT WORK, AND PROGRAM IS ANNOUNCED FOR COLLEGE DINNER.

Preparations for the annual College Banquet, which is to be held in the Gymnasium next Thursday night, are now well advanced. The general committees have been selected and are hard at work. The classes are organizing for the event and the under classes are busy planning the particular "stunts" which are always a feature of the banquet.

The General Committee this year is as follows: Charles M. Miller, Jr., '17, Chairman; M. J. Scannel, '18, Treasurer; Julia Brooke, '17, Secretary. Program Committee: C. M. Miller, Jr., Chairman; Prof. C. F. Ross, Helen Kulp, Pearl Horth, Scott Laskey Finance: M. J. Scannel, Chairman; Prof. H. P. Stemple, Anna McConnell, R. E. Mason, M. W. Frishkorn, A. E. Williams, A. D. Andrews, '08. Decoration: Julia Brooke, Chairman, Dr. O. P. Akers, Hildur Johnson, Harold Smith, S. L. Eberlee.

Dr. C. J. Ling will serve as toastmaster and he will have for the principal speaker L. W. Sherwin, '08. Rev. Mr. Sherwin is one of our most active alumni and is very well fitted to serve as alumni speaker. It will be remembered that this "Oil City Preacher" was one of the leaders during the recent Men's Week and his return will be a very welcome.

There will be as usual two speakers from the Senior Class, and the Junior and Sophomore Classes will each have one speaker. The complete toast list is as follows:

L. W. Sherwin, '08.
"Acclamations for George"
R. L. Yost, '17. "Allegheny in Action"
Ruth E. Pitt, '17. "Ancestors"
Selection by combined Men's and Girls' Glee Clubs.
Gus E. Engstrom, '18. "America"
Louis A. Root, '19. "Amazing Axions"
President W. H. Crawford.
"Allegheny Ahead"

Tradition requires that the Seniors appear in their black caps and gowns, and the Junior Class in white caps and gowns with hoods of their class colors. The under classmen appear in fancy costume. The singing of the classes is in order of seniority—the Seniors always first, then the Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen. After the banquet is served the under classmen parade in turn in order to display their costumes.

Tables will be reserved for the alumni of whom a large number are expected to be present. Tickets have been sold for seventy cents and visitors will be admitted to the gallery for fifteen cents.

The decorations this year will be similar to those of past years. The rules which were adopted two years ago will be retained. The various classes cannot fasten decorations to the roof beams or build up platforms from the floor. The General Committee will decorate the room in blue and gold while the class will employ their own colors for the decoration of their sections.

Call for Track Men Has Been Issued

CAPTAIN McKINNEY HAS STARTED WORK FOR INDOOR SQUAD. DESIRE FRESHMEN TO COME OUT.

The call for all candidates for the 1917 track team has been issued by Coach Hammett and all men working for a position on the team are reporting to the Coach daily. The work-outs actually started on Monday, February 19, and there is apparently material for an exceptionally good year. The Coach and Captain McKinney will be in the gymnasium each day from 2 to 3 p. m. to direct the training. The indoor practice is in full swing, especially in the starts for the sprint candidates. The distance men are running on the mats, and the hurdlers are beginning to round into form on the hurdles. Indoor jumping and vaulting are being practiced for form, and the weight men are putting the shot and throwing the hammer in the gymnasium.

These indoor work-outs are the only possible form of early season training which is practicable, and does much to condition the squad, and also has much to do with deciding the personnel of the team; so all men seriously expecting to try for track should report regularly, especially Freshmen, who require more time to become acquainted with the Coach's system of training than the men who have had one or two seasons' work under him.

The indoor meet will probably be off some time in March, and the winners in this meet naturally stand the best chance for the regular team. There are several positions open, and competition for them is keen, with all looking forward to the indoor meet to tell the tale. There is room for some good material, though there are several of last year's varsity men back in school, among whom may be mentioned Captain McKinney in the middle distances; Drake, '17, in the sprints and hurdles; Curtis, '17, in the distance runs; Powell, '17, and Hall, '19, in the vaults; and Coulsan, '18, in the weights. To these may be added Hauch, '19, in the weights, who has just returned to school after being at the Mexican border with his company.

The schedule for this year is very good, there being three meets:

May 19. Geneva College at Meadville.
May 26. Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh.
June 2. Washington and Jefferson at Meadville.

MEN OF COLLEGE UNANIMOUSLY PLEDGE SUPPORT TO WILSON IN CASE OF POSSIBLE WAR

Letters Have Been Sent to Secretary of War Baker Asking Information in Regard to Military Training

In the national crisis which is facing the American people, a patriotic stand which gives full recognition of the seriousness of the situation, but which is yet free from mawkish sentimentality has been taken by the men of the college. No steps are being taken which will interfere with the continuance of regular college work or which will remove the men from the college without sufficient necessity, but at the same time word has been sent to Secretary of War Baker that he can depend upon the unanimous support of the men of Allegheny and asking what action can be taken by the men to make themselves of most service to the government in case of war.

With the breaking of diplomatic relations with the German government following their announcement of a policy restricting the rights of neutrals upon the seas and with the growing danger of war, there has been a gradually increasing sentiment in the college that some action should be taken to prepare for the duty which the nation might require. The first public expression of this sentiment was made in chapel on Wednesday morning by President Crawford, who had returned from Battle Creek to Allegheny for the day to transact certain college business which required his presence. Dr. Crawford described briefly the situation of national affairs, pointing out the gravity of the situation, and urging the students to face the facts seriously and intelligently, with sentiment but without sentimentality. He recognized the sentiment of some in the college that a plan of preparedness for national service should be adopted, and said that while it was as well that no action had been hastily and thoughtlessly rushed into earlier that he would not consider any action toward military training which might be taken at any time by the men as amiss, but rather as showing a proper consideration of national duty. In conclusion, President Crawford mentioned the patriotic record of the college and expressed not only the hope but also the conviction that whatever the outcome of conditions might be, the men of Allegheny would do that service which the nation needed.

On Friday at noon a meeting of the men was held in the chapel to consider what action toward preparedness seemed to them advisable to take. Dr. Snavely had charge of the meeting. After reviewing the situation as it then stood, he told the men that in his opinion some plan of training should be adopted. Dr. Snavely had seen the steps taken in France for the raising of troops at the beginning of the present war and was in a position to see the advantages of a previous preparation. He suggested that through the Secretary of War, with whom he is personally acquainted, some better system of training might be secured than the students could obtain without governmental help. A resolution was proposed that a communication be sent to the Secretary of War placing the men of Allegheny on record as promising their unanimous support and asking for information as to training which can be secured. When put to a vote the resolution was passed unanimously.

In accordance with the resolution passed, Dr. Snavely wrote on Friday afternoon to Secretary Baker. In the communication he told of the action taken by the men and of the number of men in the college having any military training. Inquiry was made in regard to arrangements for securing an army officer to conduct drills and for forming a Reserve Officers Corps such as has been formed at Harvard. A request was also made for the use of an aeroplane for the purpose of training an aviation unit. A reply from Secretary Baker is expected today.

J. G. Castle, '18, Wins Wakefield Contest

WINNER WILL REPRESENT ALLEGHENY IN ANNUAL INTER-COLLEGIATE CONTEST IN PITTSBURGH NEXT MAY.

Thursday evening, February 15th, the annual Wakefield Oratorical Contest was held in Ford Memorial Chapel before a fair sized audience. Considered from both the critical and the entertaining side, the speeches of all the participants were excellent and showed the result of much thought and preparation. Dr. Darling, in his capacity as chairman, introduced the speakers in their turn, outlining in his introductory remarks the purpose of the contest and the awards accorded to the winner.

The Wakefield Oratorical Contest was founded by James Wakefield in honor of his grandfather, the Reverend Samuel Wakefield, and as a stimulation to effort in the contest he established a fund, the income of which is awarded each year to the winner, and amounts to fifty dollars. Also, as a reward on the part of the college, the winner is elected to represent Allegheny in the Intercollegiate Oratorical League Contest, to be held in May between Ohio Wesleyan, Colgate, University of Pittsburgh, Wooster, and Allegheny.

At the close of the program of addresses, the judges, after some weighty consideration, awarded the first place to J. G. Castle, '18, who, in a most effective portrayal of the evils of the liquor traffic, appealed most forcibly for the abolition of the menacing saloon. His introductory, comparing the saloon to a magician with the power of destroying life and vitality, but without the power of restoring that which was withdrawn, was of especial merit and held its powerfully pictured comparison, firing the imagination and awakening thought. The orations of the other participants were all of the best and a more entertaining and instructive series of addresses could not have been desired.

The speakers and their respective orations were as follows:

H. L. Castle, '18—"The Machine—Master or Servant."
J. S. Ogden, '18—"Preparedness and the College Man."
D. D. Zuver, '17—"Galileo."
J. G. Castle, '18—"The Menace of the Saloon."
The Reverend Doctor Irwin, of the First Presbyterian Church, Doctor Elder and R. W. Caldwell acted as judges.

"Football is more expensive than a private yacht or a polo string," says Manager Lovett, of the Pennsylvania eleven. He has estimated that each player costs approximately $52.55 before the kick-off of the opening game.

BIOLOGY CLUB.

The Tingley Biological Club met Tuesday evening in Alden Hall. Miss Ruth Pitt, '17, and Miss Elizabeth Sykes, '17, were in charge of the program. In considering the subject of the evening, "The Economic Uses of Marine Algae," Miss Ruth Pitt discussed brown algae, and Miss Elizabeth Sykes, red algae. Mr. Fred Myers, '19, and Mr. Othello Beatty, '19, were initiated. Light refreshments were served.

Don't think that Veiths' can't please you.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. held its first regular meeting of this semester last week at the usual time in Cochran Hall. There was not a very good representation of men present; but it is expected that more will come out, both to give as well as to receive some good from these meetings. After the opening services, Charles Miller, '17, gave a very interesting talk on "Temptation and How to Overcome It." Miller mentioned seven points in overcoming temptation, some of which were: 1. Write down in black and white the things that tempt you. This will help you to see your faults and give you a definite foundation. 2. Have an intense desire to overcome the temptation. 3. Allow no lapses to occur. 4. Substitute something else for the temptation. 5. Run from your temptation at first, if you are sure it will overcome you. The last and most important of his points was: Never say die. Mr. Spear has written a very good book on this subject and Miller suggested that we read it. Dr. Cobern gave the benediction, and the meeting was dismissed.

You will never regret if you spend your money at Veiths'.

LE PETIT SALON.

Le Petit Salon held its regular meeting at the Delta Tau Delta House Monday afternoon. An interesting musical program was given, in charge of Professor Ward. Those who took part on the program were the following: the Misses Bessie Preston, '17; Pearl Mondereau, '18; Mr. McCafferty, '20; Mr. Ogden, '18; and Mr. Tuttle, '17.

With this issue the appearance of the Campus is changed for the first time in many years.

The New Sized Campus like the change and the size of the pages will seem awkward to those who are used to the five-column size.

Perhaps some will not like the change and the size of the pages will seem awkward to those who are used to the five-column size. The members of the staff realize all this and hope in time to be able to remedy the fault by lengthening out the columns in proportion to the width.

Clearly the Campus has outgrown the old size and it is necessary to enlarge in some way in order to keep up with the demand for space which the amount of news and advertising at present deserves. The first step in doing this was the addition of another column. Further enlargement must come slowly, but the members of the staff can safely promise that as soon as the conditions warrant it, the columns will be enlarged and the paper will appear in a much less awkward shape.

When down for your mail, stop at Trace's for your tobacco.

There is little need for either a boxing or a wrestling instructor here at present. Anyone of a pugilistic temperament may be satisfied if he can get into a class basket ball game. Nevertheless they are worth seeing.

The college as a whole is to be commended for the splendid support that has been given the Good Spirit team during the Showed at Games present basket ball season. Coach

Hammett has been up against a real proposition in trying to develop a characteristic Allegheny quintette from what was almost a green team. Considering the conditions from all sides, he has accomplished wonderful results. We must admit that the team has not been a winning team—that is, in the sense that a winning Allegheny team has been in the past—but the college has been with every player and defeats have been taken in the best of spirit. Suggestions and requests from the referee have been complied with at once, the opposing team has just as fair a chance for a foul shot as the home five, and no matter how low is the Allegheny score, the cheering seldom stops, but the crowd continues to cry for a victory.

The team, too, should come in for its share of praise. What defeats we have had have been only by a chance of fate. When a game goes like the Lafayette game, one side forging ahead only to be passed by the other a few seconds later, and with a difference of one point in the final score, it shows that the team is fighting to the finish. These conditions are good; victory or defeat, we are with the team; and we can well be proud of the true Allegheny spirit which shows up so well.

If you wish to save money, buy at Veiths'.

One organization around this college that doesn't get full credit for its work is the band. What could pass the inactive moments at the game any better than this collection of musically inclined students? What they lack in harmony they certainly can make up in volume.

Read your home paper—Trace's will deliver it to you.

Allegheny College alumni may well be proud of the spirit which exists here at the present time among the students. The recent diplomatic situation which has developed from the German trouble has shown that the traditions of old Allegheny will be followed just as loyally as in the past years. Never since the founding of this institution have the men who composed the student body or the faculty ever failed to respond to the call of their country when they were needed. In every war, Allegheny's men have been among those whose services have been most valuable to the government, and now even before the actual call comes, arrangements are being made with the secretary of war, whereby every man may be well prepared and trained to give his best services in defense of the flag. If fate decrees that the call must come, the tradition will be fulfilled and the faith of those who marched away in the early sixties will be kept.

A student of the University of Nebraska attempted to stop a trolley car that he might use the step for a foot rest while he tied his shoes. No doubt the institutions for the feeble minded in that section of the country are overcrowded.

"A penny saved is a penny earned." Ask Veiths', you know.

For the past few years a certain matter has arisen in regard to the Washington's Birthday Banquet which in itself is a minor affair but has resulted in considerable friction. The arranging of congenial couples and the added cost of the ladies' tickets seemed to be a cause for some people to remain away from this annual dinner. There is no doubt but what this added cost does mean much to some of the students and is perhaps a cause for this slight lack of interest.

A very good suggestion along this line can be made from following the example set last year by the present Senior Class when, to avoid this evil, it was decided in the class meeting that in as much as this was a college affair, the bill for the banquet would be assessed the same as class dues, to each person who attended. As to the seating, the gentlemen were supposed to pick out the ladies with whom they were congenial, reporting it to the committee, and any who did not care to do this were assigned places by the committee. In this way the greatest good for the greatest number was accomplished, and in general, every one was satisfied.

When it was suggested and partially tried out this year that instead of permitting the seating for the only big social college event of the year to be congenially arranged by the students, that an arbitrary ruling must be followed whereby a lottery among the young ladies should decide who should have the pleasure of their company at the banquet, it is no wonder that a general spirit of dissatisfaction arose among the men as well as women. The solution seems to be in the action of last year's Juniors and the future student senate, if successful, may well incorporate that idea among its by-laws.

FIRST YEAR MEN TAKE GAME FROM JUNIORS.

The second of the inter-class games was staged last Saturday afternoon when the Juniors dropped a bloody game to the Freshmen. Neither team showed an over amount of team work but both teams showed lots of fight. It took five minutes of the first half for either team to find the basket, but after that it was much easier. Severn found the basket for the Frosh before Smith caged a long one for the third-year men. Engstrom followed Smith's lead and caged a long one from scrimmage. Severn ended the half by dropping in a short one after a brilliant display of passing on the part of his team-mates.

The first half ended 9-5 in favor of the Frosh.

The second half started with three new men in the Freshman line-up and the team soon showed the effect of new blood. The passing of the Freshmen won the game, while the gameness of the Juniors caused comment. Engstrom showed up best for the Juniors while Meredith was by far the Freshman star. Ontko played a good floor game while H. Castle and Graham gave good account of themselves.

Score:
Juniors—11. Freshmen—18.
Graham..... F. Ontko (Capt.)
Smith..... F. Booth
Wiley..... C. Meredith
Engstrom..... G. Lawhead
J. Castle (Capt.) G. Severn
Substitutions: H. Castle for J. Castle, Clough for Booth, Rowley for Lawhead, Kinneer for Severn.
Baskets: Graham, Smith, Wiley, Engstrom, Ontko, Meredith, 3, Lawhead, Severn, Kinneer.
Fouls: Smith 3 out of 6, Graham, Wiley and J. Castle 0 out of 3, Ontko 4 out of 6, Meredith Clough and Booth 0 out of 3.

Prison Relief Campaign Ends Successfully

OF THE SEVEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY DOLLARS RECENTLY PLEDGED NEARLY ALL IS PAID.

Seven hundred and fifty dollars was the sum pledged by the student body and faculty of Allegheny College in the campaign recently undertaken by the Y. M. C. A. under the leadership of Mr. William Miller, College Secretary of the Middle Atlantic States, for relief work in the prison camps of Europe. Of this money pledged, almost the entire amount has been paid into the hands of J. W. Harbaugh, treasurer of the fund, and only a small part of the pledges are yet to be met.

The campaign was carried on systematically and well by the Y. M. C. A. and met with very enthusiastic and willing support from the entire student body. Over a hundred dollars was pledged by the cabinets of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. before the matter was presented to the students as a whole. The morning after this action Mr. Miller addressed the students in chapel, telling them of the conditions which exist in the war prisons of Europe and of the work which the Y. M. C. A. is doing through its secretaries for the physical, mental and moral welfare of the prisoners. The subject was presented again at noon in the dormitories and fraternity houses, and the students were given an opportunity to pledge themselves to assistance in the work. The response to the plea on the part of most of the students is worthy of praise as it meant for many of them some personal sacrifice. Over five hundred dollars was pledged during the day. Secretary Miller left the college; the remainder of the sum was secured through the work of the members of the Christian Association cabinets, who interviewed personally all of the students who were not reached the first day.

One thousand dollars was the amount set by the Y. M. C. A. before the campaign as the goal which it hoped to attain. While this hope was disappointed, the Y. M. C. A. felt that the result was in general satisfactory and that the college had given good support to the movement.

Some few of the contributions have not been paid, but have been allowed to extend beyond Feb. 1, the date set for their payment. No effort is being made by the Y. M. C. A. to collect these subscriptions, but it is being left to the subscribers, as was announced at the beginning of the campaign, to see that their subscriptions are paid to the treasurer of the fund, J. W. Harbaugh. The Y. M. C. A. is very anxious, however, that the subscriptions be paid immediately in order that the full sum may be turned over to the general organization to be used in the work of alleviating the suffering of the prisoners in the war camps.

Secretary Miller, who launched the campaign here, has been carrying on since leaving here, as he was before coming to Allegheny, similar work in other institutions. A very successful campaign was carried on the week before last at Franklin and Marshall; and almost all of last week was spent at Lafayette College, where the students gave able support to the movement.

Bowling Schedule for Rest of Year Announced

CONSIDERABLE INTEREST IS BEING TAKEN BY GROUPS—COMPLETE STANDINGS BELOW.

Since foot ball season there has been great interest shown in the bowling tournament. This year for the first time the Faculty has had a bowling team in the tournament. So far this season they have had rather hard luck by losing a number of games by a close score, but before the season is ended it is quite likely that they will be ranking high. At the present time the Delts are leading the tournament, with the Phi Dels second. Last week the Phi Dels won two games out of three from the Faculty and if they continue their present rate of winning games, they will soon be ranking first. The bowling cup was won last year by the Delt team. This cup must be won three years in succession before a team shall have permanent ownership of it.

ALLEGHENY TAKES EASY GAME.

should take advantage of, and as the visiting captain himself afterward admitted, it was not due to any partiality on the part of the referee that friction developed between official and visiting players.

Allegheny started the scoring when Bianchi slid down the side line and scored a short basket from the side, and a long one by Volk and a foul shot gave the home team 5 points before Lafayette broke into the scoring column. The play at the first of the game was almost entirely in the Allegheny section of the floor and many easy shots were missed. Anderson for the visitors missed the first foul shot, but an instant later Weldon scored an easy basket. Pretty passing by Allegheny again gave them the opportunity to score but the ball was again thrown wild of the basket. A long shot by Kerr and a foul by Anderson placed the score at 7 to 3 with the home team in the lead. Kerr was injured but gameily insisted that he be kept in the line-up. When play started again, Allegheny again secured the ball under her own basket but missed the shot. A Lafayette foul and a basket by Paulson placed the score at 7-6. One basket by each team increased this two points and then followed the period in which Allegheny should have won the game. They worked the ball down the floor by fine team-work but always missed the resultant shot. A foul by Lafayette tied the score at 9 and a field goal by Anderson put his team in the lead as the half ended.

Allegheny started the scoring in the second half with a foul but a field goal by Anderson made the score 13-10 for Lafayette. Scott scored from the center of the floor and the visiting team had a five-point margin. Allegheny again missed several shots and Anderson again scored a foul and field goal, while Allegheny made but one foul, making the score 18-11. Two Allegheny fouls made their count 13, but Paulson scored from the field so the 7-point difference was held. The Blue and Gold shooting was improving and with gilt-edged team-work and quick shooting, Kerr and Shaner each scored from the field. Fouls by each team made the count 21 to 18 with Lafayette still in the lead. Allegheny was coming strong and a long basket by Kerr brought them within a single point of the leaders, but the whistle cut short the rally and gave the victory to the visitors.

For the Lafayette aggregation, Anderson and Paulson played the best ball. Both were sure in their shooting and very clever in advancing the ball by dribbling. Anderson scored ten of his team's 21 points and was also very good on defense. Bianchi and Kerr put up a fine game for Allegheny. Bianchi was especially effective on the defense, breaking up Lafayette plays time and again and either starting the ball down the floor to the forwards or, cleverly eluding the opposing players, carrying it down himself. Kerr was at his best and made two of his four baskets while under guard and the other two from well back in the floor.

The score:
Lafayette—21. Allegheny—20.
Anderson..... L. F. Kerr
Weldon..... R. F. Shaner
Paulson..... C. Lane
Taylor (C.)..... L. G. Volk
Scott..... R. C. Bianchi (C.)
Substitutions: Lehr for Taylor, Keating for Lehr.
Field goals: Anderson 3, Weldon, Paulson 2, Taylor, Scott, Kerr 4, Shaner, Volk, Bianchi.
Foul goals: Anderson 5 out of 6, Volk 6 out of 12.
Time of halves, 20 minutes.
Score at end of first half, Lafayette 11, Allegheny 9.
Referee, Wirt, Pitt.

Spanish teachers for New York City high schools are in great demand. They must be college graduates and must spend at least a half a year in training before being eligible for the examinations. The salaries range from $900 to $2,650, according to their length of service. Men are especially desired but there are also openings for women.

Mr. Edward Ogden, of Rochester, N. Y., is the guest of his brother, Mr. Jesse Ogden, '18.

Misses Bessie Preston, '17; Norene Saxton, '18; Ernestine Sprong, '19; Esther Averill, '19; Mr. M. B. Clendenien, '17; and Mr. D. B. Brown, '20; made a visit to the County Farm Sunday afternoon.

The Junior Class held a sewing bazaar Tuesday evening at the Phi Gamma Delta House. The costumes for the banquet were made and light refreshments served during the evening.

A short note to the Campus from the Reverend W. Rufus Hofelt, '13, says that the people of the First Methodist Church of McKeesport have been anticipating for some time a splendid talk from Dr. Cobern who was to fill their pulpit last Sunday.

That there are eighteen different religious denominations and faiths represented in the student body of Allegheny is an interesting fact discovered in connection with the preparation of the new catalogue for 1916-1917, which will appear in a couple of weeks. The different churches which have members in the college are: Methodist Episcopal, Baptist, Presbyterian, Episcopal, Evangelical, Roman Catholic, Greek Catholic, Congregational, Reform, Free Methodist, Lutheran, Unitarian, Jewish, United Presbyterian, Christian, Christian Science, United Brethren, and Swedish Lutheran. That so many and so widely different faiths can be found in a college the size of Allegheny is of particular interest in view of the impression to be found among many people not well acquainted with the college that it is denominational in the sense of being a college almost exclusively for educating Methodist students, and in particular for training men specifically for the Methodist ministry.

An address by the Honorable Ferdinand Buisson, Honorary Director of Elementary Education for the French Republic, is a treat which may be expected by the students in the near future. Monsieur Buisson is making a tour of the leading universities and colleges of the Eastern States, and arrangements have been made by Dr. Snavely to have him visit Allegheny and address the student body at the chapel hour. No definite date for the visit has as yet been made, but it will be within a short time. In the meanwhile Dr. Snavely is corresponding with Monsieur Buisson and will be able to announce the address in advance.

More than two thousand students at the Pennsylvania State College have volunteered their services to the government in case of war with Germany. All of these students have had military training, ranging from four months for the freshmen to three and a half years for the Senior officers in the college regiments.

Annual Alumni Game to be Next Saturday

LARGE NUMBER OF OLD FAVORITES
 HAVE PROMISED TO LINE UP AGAINST 'VARSITY.

The annual basket ball game between the 'Varsity and Alumni teams will be played in the gym next Saturday, February 24, and from all reports Captain Douglas Dunbar, '15, will lead the best team that has ever represented the alumni on the floor that night. At least five men have been secured who played star games while in college and who have since leaving been playing almost constantly and who are at present in the best of physical condition. Captain Dunbar has been playing every week with a Meadville team as well as acting as coach for the Meadville High School basket ball squad. Cox, '16, who will be at one forward, is coaching at Brad-dock High, and has written saying that he is in the best of condition. McKay, '16, is coaching at Edgewood and has given the assurance that he will be back Saturday to take his old place at center. Mates, '13, has been playing all year with the fast "Feeley Five" in Pittsburgh, and will hold up his part of the game opposite Dunbar at guard Sam Maxwell, '10, has also been playing all year on an independent team.

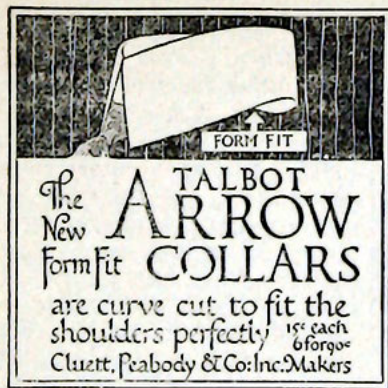

the Parkers Landing aggregation, and is said to be in as good condition as when he starred on the Allegheny team seven years ago. Three men of known basket ball ability will be available in case of need: Ramsey '14, Hawk '13, and Phillips '10.

Three of the men who will start the game for the Alumni have been in school with at least one member of the present team and so will be somewhat familiar with the style of play of the 'Varsity. Cox and Bash have played with both Volk and Bianchi and Cox. Bash and Dunbar have played together on the same team in college, so should have the team-work which is necessary to a successful aggregation. We are familiar with the great ability of several of these men and those who have seen the others play say that they are equal in ability to those with whom the present college generation is familiar. With five men of such ability in the best of condition to make up a team, the only thing that will be lacking will be team-work and that will be in a measure supplied by the three men who have played together.

The 'Varsity will spend a hard week of practice in preparation for the game, realizing that it will be one of the hardest games of the year. They showed in the game with Lafavette that they needed shooting practice and more time than usual will accordingly be devoted to this work. In that last game, however, the team was simply a little off in this shooting as they have shown in previous games that they have ability in this direction. With a little practice this condition should be restored and with the team-work that they have exhibited in the last two games, should put up the best game of the year.
