MELVIN A. TRAYLOR
PRESIDENT

January eighteenth, 1932

Dear Miss Tarbell:

I appreciate very genuinely yours of the fifteenth and can think of no honor I would appreciate more than an opportunity for a visit with you, and especially on the subject of our mutual friend, Owen Young.

My plans for visiting New York are a bit uncertain but undoubtedly I will be in the city within the next thirty days, in which event I will arrange my schedule in such way as to enable me to call on you at your office. If, however, you should wish to see me before that time I expect to be in Chicago continually and will be delighted to see you at any time.

Very sincerely yours,

M. A. Traylor
