A Retrospect

The Games of the Season in Review. Hiram, Geneva, Buchtel, Mt. Union, Westminster, Grove City and Carnegie Tech Met.

The football season of 1909 ended with the Carnegie-Tech game, November 20th. At first glance, a record of two victories and five defeats may appear discouraging, but a closer survey will disclose more than one redeeming feature and many hopeful indications for next season.

In the first place, Coach Stewart was unacquainted with the material at his disposal. The methods used by him were a revelation of scientific coaching to the Allegheny men. Again, the work done by Mr. Stewart was done with the object of developing a team not for just one season, but for future seasons. It is a well known fact that the fruits of good coaching seldom begin to show until a season after the coaching has been begun. No Allegheny man need be ashamed of the team that beat Westminster and Hiram, scored a touchdown on Geneva and held Carnegie Tech to two touchdowns. The humbling of Westminster is in itself enough to wipe out a string of defeats a column long. Allegheny is proud of its team and is not afraid to say so.

Allegheny 15, Hiram 5.

On October 2nd, an ancient rival, Hiram, came to Meadville confident of an easy victory. Although the visitors boasted two stars, Bradshaw and Craig, at fullback and quarterback, respectively, they proved no match for Captain Kennedy's men. Weidler, Dotterrer, Baker and Bodenhorn all played their first 'varsity game, and stood fire like veterans.

Hiram was unable to gain consistently either through the line or around the ends, while the fast Allegheny backfield ripped off big gains. The one touchdown scored by the Ohio men was the result of a fluke, followed by a fine run by Craig. The little quarterback and the two Bradshaws were the Hiram standbys. Weidler, Lavely and Dotterrer were star performers for the gold and blue.

Geneva 14, Allegheny 5.

A team crippled by the absence of two of its best players met defeat at the hands of Geneva on the next Saturday at Junction Park, New Brighton. Not only was the team crippled at the start, but it was outweighed and pitted against a team composed almost to a man of seasoned football veterans. Baker, too, was injured early in the game and forced to retire.

In spite of these handicaps, Allegheny scored the only touchdown made by a Western Pennsylvania League team against the league champions. Lavely and Leffel played well, and Stidger made long gains by clever work in running back punts.

Buchtel 5, Allegheny 0

A see-saw game, which by rights belonged to Allegheny, resulted in another defeat on October 16th. Inability to keep a consistent pace and a muddy, slippery field proved the undoing of Captain Kennedy's men. Weidler was not yet back in the game, and the three six-footers in the Buchtel backfield proved themselves good mud horses.

A trick play, in which Zimmerman, of Buchtel, ran forty yards for a touchdown, decided the game in favor of the visitors.

Jackson, the best fullback in Ohio, proved a dangerous man, but Hawk, who made his initial appearance in an Allegheny game, nearly proved his equal. Ballinger made a fifty-yard run late in the game, and Stidger featured in catching forward passes.

Mt. Union 24, Allegheny 0.

Superior weight and a muddy field were contributing factors to a defeat by Mt. Union at Alliance on the next Saturday. At the end of the first half the score stood 6-0, but the second period was easier for the Mt. Union team. Straight football, with few end runs and no forward passes, marked the playing of the Ohio eleven. Allegheny worked the forward pass several times. Leffel and Lavely showed up well.

The send off which was given the team will be remembered long after the defeat is forgotten. It helped

Varsity Team

Captain "Ep" Kennedy has played two full seasons at left tackle in a way that has made him a stand by for Allegheny, feared by all opponents. Many of the big gains through tackle were made possible by Kennedy's work in opening up holes. On defense he has been a stone wall. Before he started to play college foot ball, Kennedy played on one of the famous "Prep" elevens and also on the 1911 class team in his Freshman year.

"Dago" Lavely, captain for 1910, has had two years 'varsity experience. Last year as a Freshman, he made a place as substitute halfback. This year he played either halfback or fullback. He was followed by bad luck throughout the season, injuries having kept him out of several games. As a sure tackler, ready interference smasher and reliable ground gainer, "Lave" has won a place for himself in the estimation of all Allegheny. His election as captain places the 1910 team in good hands.

"Dick" Baker, not content with possessing three basketball and three baseball "A's," won a football letter this year as quarterback. Even if this was his first year on the 'varsity he made good and distinguished himself for cool-headed generalship. "Bake's" never failing words of en-

Coach Stewart

A football number of the Campus would be incomplete without special mention of Coach Stewart, who came here for the first time, this year. His record in previous years has been a brilliant one, both in collegiate and amateur work. The son of a Methodist minister, he came in contact with high schools and colleges in several prominent Ohio cities. He represented Steubenville, Ohio, High School in every branch of athletics. At Scio College, at Western Reserve and at Mt. Union he won enviable athletic honors. As a professional, his connection with the famous Massilon Tigers, and the M. T. team is a record of success. Mt. Union and Purdue teams are today continuing to show the results of his work.

Space is lacking to do Coach Stewart justice. He has not disappointed the expectations of faculty and students and has today established himself at Allegheny as one of the workers of the school. By tireless labor and superior skill he did his best and turned out the best team possible.

As has already been stated, his work was not entirely done for a day or for a season, but for future seasons as well. Meanwhile no tribute is too great for the best coach that Allegheny has ever had. As a gentleman and as an athlete, he commands respect and admiration and is the embodiment of all that a well-rounded college man should be.

The Reserves

A new departure in football this year was the organization of a second team and the arrangement of a schedule for it. Only two games were played, one of which was won, the other lost. On the whole the experiment proved a success, and will doubtless be repeated next season.

The first game was played against the heavy Edinboro Normal team, October 23rd, and was won 6-0. The field goal kicked by Hendricks was the first kicked for an Allegheny team during the season.

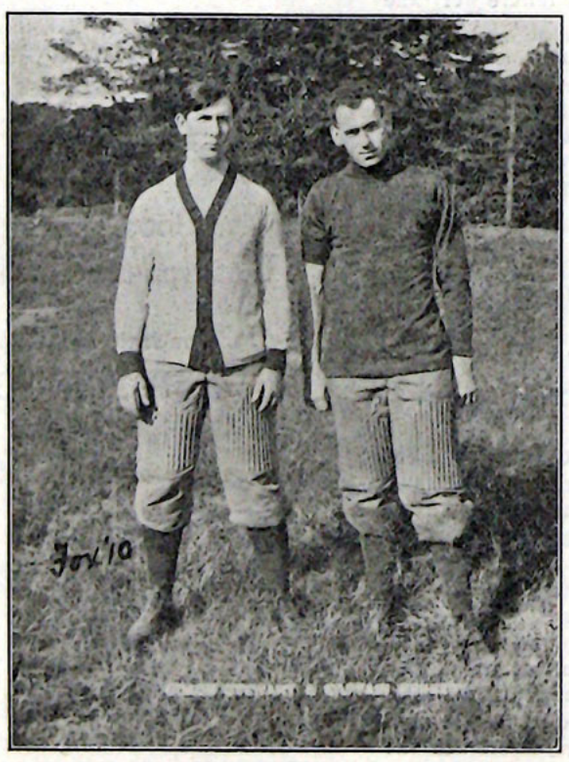

The full strength of the second team was not represented in the men who went to Sharon November 13th. As it was the Sharon team was held to three touchdowns until the last five minutes of play, when three more were made. Firestone kicked a pretty goal from the field in the first half, so that the final score stood 31-3.

Harry Firestone had charge of the team after Piper's advancement to the 'varsity. An injured leg prevented Harry from taking as much part in 'varsity football as he did in 1907 and 1908.

Leitzel at center was a steady player, who always did his share and more, if possible. "Dutch" played on the "Prep" team for two years before entering college.

"Red" Small was another faithful standby, who could always be relied

Case Scientific

First Basketball Game of Season Tonight—Phillips, Leffel, Hawk, Baker and Maxwell the Probable Allegheny Lineup.

Tonight at the gymnasium Allegheny will begin one of the hardest basket ball schedules in recent years, by meeting the team representing Case Scientific of Cleveland. To begin the schedule before Christmas is a rare and dangerous undertaking, and the game tonight will not be slow. The Case team will represent better basket ball than Allegheny saw here in an opposing team all last season.

The visitors are bringing men who have starred in football, and who are consequently in excellent basketball condition. The forward positions will be played by Randall and Brandt. The former was the star end of the Case football eleven, and the choice for the All-Ohio team two years in succession He has never been the star in basketball that he is in football, but he can, when in shape, play a good game. Brandt has played the other end for Case in football two years, and was on the baseball team last year.

Abbott, who will play center for Case tonight, was chosen by many as the All-Ohio center in football this year. Twitchell also plays center, and was a star halfback this fall, and is the captain-elect of the 1911 football team. He should be a drawing card for tonight. The guards will be played by Burrell, a former high school star, and McLaughlin, another football man. Johnson and Perry are the subs, the latter having played basketball durng his course here at Allegheny as most of the students will remember.

The Allegheny lineup will not be announced until this afternoon. Phillips, Leffel and Firestone have been

THE FOOTBALL NUMBER.

In honor of the 1909 football team of Allegheny College, this number of the Campus is dedicated.

Was the season a success? In games won and lost, in the relative number of points scored by Allegheny and by her opponents, no. And as scores mean standings in the college world, the answer of others to that question is no. But as scores do not necessarily mean standings to those who know the men who played, the answer here is, yes.

We have seen men work for weeks in training. We have watched the games; our hopes rose when Hiram and Westminster were beaten, and fell at Grove City. But we never lost faith in the eleven. Too much cannot be said in acknowledgement of the work of the coach, the captain, the manager and the team. Each individual is to be commended for himself and for the part he had in the work of the season. There is no apology to offer for anyone. The games have been characterized by "squareness" on Allegheny's part, a fact which is recognized everywhere. More than that, there is a good outlook for another year. While the scores do not show it, the season past is a step forward. The time is not far distant when Allegheny will take her rightful place in athletics among the larger schools of Pennsylvania.

IS THE LEAGUE VALUABLE?

The close of another football season and the fact that the representatives of the colleges of Western Pennsylvania are to meet at Pittsburg next Tuesday, make the present an opportune time for a brief consideration of the eligibility rules in the following six Pennsylvania schools Washington and Jefferson, Carnegie Tech, Geneva, Westminster, Grove City and Allegheny. Is the renewal of these rules desirable, and should Allegheny continue to bind herself by them?

In this connection it might be well to quote a recent statement by Professor Edwin Linton, chairman of the athletic committee at Washington and Jefferson College. While he cites no specific instances, he says:

"The most discouraging feature in the conduct of athletics in this region during the past year was not so much the failure of individual players to conform to the rules of the game as the carelessness or indifference of eligibility committees."

Coming as it does from a representative of a college which has, so far as is known, observed the eligibility rules well, and from a school which, possibly because of this fact, lost the game it wanted most, the above statement interests all Allegheny. Allegheny knows what it means to lose to schools which do not play fair, schools to which an agreement means as much as no agreement at all. Of course Allegheny did not win her fair proportion of games this season. That is a penalty she has imposed on herself by trying to do the square thing.

There comes to the Campus a letter from a man in a position to know affairs at Westminster. He says in part: "It is unfortunate that Allegheny permitted Geneva to play McCarter, for it was contrary to both the spirit and the letter of the law." In the same letter the writer continues. "As to our (Westminster) playing with McCarter in the lineup, it was simply a question of strengthening our own team. I am sorry that preparatory students were permitted to play in the Geneva-Westminster game. but such was the case."

This is the method of observing the rules in two of the schools supposed to be bound by the agreement. At Grove City, it is a notorious fact that anybody can play, there being no classification of students until the Junior year. The enforcement at Tech is also lax, men of all departments, even from the night school, being allowed to play without regard to scholastic standing. While it is not a member of the Association, and consequently not literally bound by these rules, it is certified that the Mount Union team included only three men of college rank, the rest being registered in the commercial and music departments.

Such is the attitude of other colleges toward their agreement. Is it any wonder they have won when Allegheny has lost?

Allegheny is to be represented at the meeting next Tuesday, and it is expected that the above facts will be laid before the committee, and that some permanent correction will be made. It is evident that Grove City, Geneva, Westminster and Tech have played men below collegiate rank. Preps must be barred, and a system of classification insisted upon which cannot possibly be dodged. The question is, "Is the league valuable as it is?" In our judgment it is not, unless the conditions are met. If the conditions are not met, Allegheny should be free to meet colleges under the same rules as she would meet any city or club athletic team.

COLLEGE NEWS ITEMS.

Miss Fraser entertained a number of faculty members at dinner on Tuesday evening in her private dining room in Hulings Hall. The occasion was in honor of Dr. Crawford.

The members of the old Chautauqua Club had an informal reunion recently. D. S. Thomas, '08, who was then visiting his parents in this city, was the guest of honor. A special table was reserved in the Cochran dining room for the club members.

The regular monthly meeting of the Quill Club will be held at the Country Club, north of Meadville, next Monday evening. The party will leave here on the five o'clock car, and reach the club grounds in time for dinner. The program is in charge of Professor Armstrong.

Duzer Du met on Tuesday at five for an important meeting. Ten men answered to the roll call. The competition for the caste of "She Stoops to Conquer" was the matter of most importance. Those who are going to try out for parts in the play will get an opportunity either this week or next.

In their discussion of methods of publishing the Kaldron, the fraternities are considering a plan whereby the system of management will be similar to that of athletics. In such a case, only those who buy Kaldrons will have a voice in the selection of the board for the following year. Since no definite action has yet been taken, suggestions are in order.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ballinger entertained the active members of Phi Gamma Delta Thursday evening at their new home on Walnut street. The event was in honor of their son, who is a member of the fraternity. Music and some clever entertainment features were a part of the program for the evening. Light refreshments were served.

The committee which is revising the rules of Campus competition announce that after a meeting held last Monday morning they will soon be prepared to submit a report There have been many revisions suggested to the code of rules which at present govern the competition, and it is the intention to formulate a set of rules which will stand for years under every possible condition.

The program of the Scientific Club last Tuesday evening was of a high standard. Miss Lena Bly read a paper regarding a certain volcanic crater in Arizona, illustrating her description with magazines. Mr. Ballinger presented a report regarding bacteria in milk, accounting for their existence. His remarks represented original research work. Twenty members of the club were present.

Miss Alice Huntington Spaulding has again been honored with a request for a recital, this time by a prominent Pittsburg society. The event is to be charitable, the proceeds to be used toward establishing an outdoor school for tubercular children. Miss Spaulding will be assisted by Miss Christine Miller, a soprano of note. The recital will be held on the evening of December 18th at the Rittenhouse. The list of patrons and patronesses includes many of Pittsburg's most prominent citizens.

The magazine list at the library has been increased by the addition of Everybody's. There are three or four new books for the German department, one of which is "The Life of Goethe," by Bielschowsky. A neatly bound volume comes from the University of Missouri, describing in detail the inauguration of President Hill. A report of the Pennsylvania Arbitration and Peace Conference for 1908, and several new pamphlets relating to this subject have been received.

A study of missionary methods and of the way in which obstacles are surmounted was taken up by the Mission Study Class Thursday evening. The chapter studied was "Pioneer Methods," and was of such a nature that the interest of all was excited. Some of the early experiences of the missionaries were decidedly humorous, others showed the pathetic side of heathen life. An animated discussion of the relative merits of the press, hospital or college in the aid of the work was a feature of the meeting. The last meeting of the class before Christmas will be held next Thursday evening. A large attendance is desired.

An interesting and lively meeting of the Forum was held Thursday afternoon at the new time of meeting, four-thirty. It was voted that hereafter only those members present at the beginning of the debate will be permitted to vote on the question. The question, "Resolved, That the United States should establish a central bank of issue, constitutionally conceded," was upheld on the affirmative by Hunt and Breene and on the negative by Swick and Hillman. A majority decided in favor of the affirmative.

The Freshman class met last Tuesday afternoon, and several important subjects were considered. Football numerals were voted, the Washington's Birthday banquet, basketball and track were discussed. It was also voted to ask the editor of the Campus to correct an error in the account of the football game whereby it seemed that a certain member of the class was blamed for the failure of the class to score.

The Glee and Mandolin clubs will leave Tuesday for their Christmas trip. This is the first that has been taken for two years and is looked forward to with a great deal of interest. The club will fill the following engagements:

Tuesday evening, December 14.—Beaver.

Wednesday evening, December 15.—Parnassus.

Thursday evening, December 16.—Braddock.

Friday evening, December 17.—Irwin.

Pi chapter of Phi Gamma Delta entertained about thirty college and town friends at dinner at the Riverside Hotel, Cambridge Springs, last Saturday evening. The trip was made by trolley early in the afternoon, and dinner was served at seven o'clock. The tables were appropriately decorated for the occasion, heliotrope, the fraternity flower, being used. At each place was a rose and a hand-painted place card. The party returned at eleven o'clock. Hon. and Mrs. F. J. Thomas were the chaperones, and Dr. R. S. Breed and Miss Spaulding were guests from the faculty.

The Classical Club, at its meeting last Tuesday evening, discussed the benefits of classical study in different lines of modern activity, law, English literature, theology and science being considered by Mr. Barkley, Mr. Lore, Miss Smith, Miss Metcalf, Mr. Fisher and Miss Strickland. The plan of the evening was a symposium, discussing papers of the classical conferences which have from time to time been held at Ann Arbor, and, carrying out this idea, considerable time was devoted to discussion. Dr. Elliott was chairman of the evening.

A UNION SERVICE.

President Crawford Addressed Christian Associations Wednesday Evening.

President William H. Crawford led the union prayer meeting of the two Christian associations in the chapel Wednesday evening. The theme of the evening, "The Supreme Task," was treated in a way that made it particularly helpful to the men and women present.

The supreme task of each one was outlined by Dr. Crawford as consisting of two relations, the first of which is the right relation to Jesus Christ. It is this that leads eventually to conversion. In one way or another it comes to almost every man, and is an important factor in changing the lives of men.

Dr. Crawford named as the second part of the supreme task, the relation of each man to the service of the world by contributing towards its redemption. As a notable example of the way in which men are today engaged in this task the President spoke of the annual report of the National Anti-Saloon League which he had just heard in Chicago. In other fields, too, men are striving just as earnestly for the uplifting of the poor; for the suppression of the liquor traffic, and for the claiming of the West, the South, the city and the foreigner for Christ. Then, in the work across the sea, men are laboring at their supreme task, both among the heathen people and with the nations touched only in a formal way by divine teachings.

BURIAL OF ABDUL ASIS OF TURKEY.

Solemn Ceremony to Occur at Cochran Hall Monday.

Bordered by a broad rim of deepest black, invitations of a very solemn nature have been issued to the men boarding at Cochran Hall and to the members of the faculty. They read:

"You are requested to be present at the solemn ceremony of the burial of Abdul Asis of Turkey. 'If you have tears to shed prepare to shed them now.' Cochran Hall, Dec. 13. 1909. A eulogy will be pronounced paying tribute to the departed.".

TWO CHAPEL ADDRESSES.

Missionaries From Umtali, Africa, Addressed Students Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Springer, missionaries from Umtali, Africa, gave very instructive talks in chapel on Tuesday morning. Professor Dutton, in introducing the speakers, told how knowledge of the Dark Continent has broadened within the last few years and how a great field for a great work is now open.

A COLLEGE MUSICALE.

The Musicale given by college students in the gymnasium on Tuesday evening, proved a success, both as to the merits of the program and financially. The gymnasium was well filled and a large crowd was present especially in consideration of the auspices under which it was given, the Student Volunteer Movement. After the program had been rendered refreshments were served in the trophy room. The program was as follows:

The Pittsburg Gazette-Times for November 24th prints a large cut of St. Andrews church and rectory in the East End of Pittsburg. Rev. Joseph H. Vance, '83, is pastor of this church which consecrated a beautiful parish house last Tuesday morning. A very impressive service was observed, in which the Rt. Rev. Cortlandt Whithead, bishop of the Pittsburg diocese, took a prominent part. In the afternoon a collation was served in the parish house and in the evening a special mission service was held.

St. Andrews church is one of unusual beauty, and is situated in one of the best residential districts of Pittsburg.

THE WAKEFIELD CONTEST.

It will be welcome news to all that Dr. Crawford was able, while in Pittsburg last week, to prevail upon Mr. James W. Wakefield to continue his $50 oratorical prize for another year. Last year Mr. Wakefield had decided that the interest in oratory was not great enough to warrant offering the prize again. Whether he will continue his offer as a permanent arrangement depends entirely on the interest shown in the contest.

working at guard, and the first two named will probably start the game tonight. Phillips is an A man of last year. Hawk, the Meadville star, will play at center, appearing in 'varsity basketball for the first time. Baker, Maxwell, M. Croasmun and Firestone have been playing the forward positions, and the first two named will doubtless play them tonight. They have been often described as the speediest forwards in Pennsylvania.

There is football material in the Allegheny line-up, Leffel, Hawk and Baker having won their A's this year.

'VARSITY TEAM.

couragement were invaluable in steadying the team. In his Sophomore year he piloted the 1910 eleven

"Joe" Piper, another Senior, is one of last year's veterans. Right tackle was his specialty this year, and he filled the place exactly as it should be filled. Early in the season he was elected captain of the second team, but by virtue of good work was soon advanced to the first team. "Joe" starred in "Prep" and played on the 1910 team in his Sophomore year.

"Pogie" Weidler, left half, was able to get the consent of his parents to play football, for the first time, this year. During the whole season he was an unsurpassed ground gainer and a valuable man. In fact "Benny's" old place at left half has found a worthy successor in "Pogie." Besides being a football artist, Weidler is fast earning the reputation of being one of the finest all around athletes seen at Allegheny in recent years. He is an Oil City product, and while there played on the high school team. In 1907 and 1908 he played on the 1911 class team which he captained as a Sophomore.

Warren Cole has snapped the ball back to the quarterback for the last two years, and has steadied the whole team from this position. Like his brother, "Venus," he takes to football as a duck takes to water. Silent and smiling, he has always been on hand to do his share and more if necessary. Cole hails from Andover, O., and once played on the Andover High team. He was a member of the 1911 team as a Freshman.

"Fat" Leffel, who had the distinction of making the team last year while still a Freshman, was one of the most valuable men on the team this year. His wonderful place kick in the Westminster game will not soon be forgotten. Then, too, in that game, practically every gain was made by "Leff" or "Pogie." He played right half throughout the season and was a worthy side partner of Weidler and Lavely.

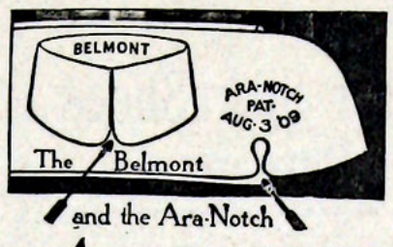

"Wes" Abbott is another Sophomore who made the team in his Freshman year and who looks good for two years more. Right end would look lonesome without Abbott. In two games he was used to good advantage as fullback. A forward pass seldom got away from his grasp. Before entering college he played on the "Prep" team.

"Bill" Dotterrer made his appearance for the first time at Allegheny this year and started to play 'Varsity football from the very beginning. At right guard, right tackle, and fullback, he was a terror to all opposing teams. His permanent place seems to be either guard or tackle where his combination of weight and agressiveness counts for much. "Bill" came here from Clarion Normal with something of a reputation, and has made a still bigger one for himself at Allegheny.

"Louie" Hawk did not secure consent to play until the beginning of the third week of the season. He is considered one of the "finds" of the season and has gladdened the hearts of the Allegheny supporters by his whirlwind playing. He filled in admirably as a punter, in addition to his being valuable on both offense and defense. Fullback and left end have been looked out for by him in a creditable fashion. He seldom missed a tackle, and could gain his distance whenever called on to do so.

O. H. Bodenhorn, better known as "Bodey," is another player who made the team this year. "Bodey" is somewhat husky, and has held left guard down most of the season. He looks very good for the rest of his course as a steady line man. Two years on the old Allegheny Prep team gave him some valuable preliminary training for college football.

'VARSITY TEAM.

"Red" Hickernell, although a Senior, engaged in 'varsity football for the first time since 1906, this year. At guard or tackle his work was good and helped strengthen the right side of the line. An earnest worker, "Hick" always kept loyally pulling for the team. In his Sophomore year he played for the 1910 class team.

"Dud" Ballinger played both fullback and end this season and did well at both positions. This was not "Dud's" first experience and his previous training helped to increase his efficiency. His 50-yard run in the Buchtel game was one of the longest seen on the local field this year. Meadville High claims the credit of having sent him to Allegheny.

Wendell Ball is one of the old guard who played on elevens 'way back in the past. It is recorded that this is his fourth year on the 'varsity squad as a lineman. He played a steady game and will be missed after graduation.

Hendricks is a new man, who by dint of hard work transformed himself from a scrub to a first team man. At first, he was tried as an end or a back, but later developed into an astonishingly good center. He looks very much like a comer.

Mirl Gibbs is the name of a freshman giant who made himself useful as a lineman. An unfortunate Mt. Union quarter can testify to the abilities of Gibbs, and he ought to know. A Buckeye, he served his football apprenticeship on the New Lima, O., High School team.

CAPTAINS FOR 1910.

College and University Elevens Choose Leaders.

Most of the big elevens have already chosen their captains for 1910, and the results show that a large number of backfield men have been honored. Daly won at Yale, but it is expected that Kilpatrick will get the track captaincy.

MANAGER MOORE.

Owing to the inability of Manager Nelson to return to school, N. R. Moore, the assistant manager was called on very unexpectedly to perform the duties of manager. He rose to the emergency and proved himself efficient and capable. The schedule was arranged to the satisfaction of all and the schools which Allegheny wanted to play were met. The trips were also cared for in the best possible way.

Pittsburgh's Foremost Up-to-Date Dry-Goods Store

WE desire to say to young men and women that fashionable clothes for young people are the dominant features of this store.

Next to variety is that other important matter—close-to-cost prices.

Our new lines of Suits for young men, and our new lines of Suits for young women show that perfection which can only be attained by faultless workmanship.

Then, all young people are interested in the accompaniments of correct dress, the furnishings as they have come to be called. Rely upon us for up-to-the-minute styles.

Best way to judge a store is by its catalog.

If you will send us your name and address we will mail you our Autumn and Winter issue.

A RETROSPECT.

make the long, tiresome trip more endurable for the players.

Allegheny 21, Westminster 11.

The one game of the season which will take a permanent place in the traditions of Allegheny was won from Westminster on the sixth of November. No one who saw that game will soon forget the magnificent work done by every man on the team, the superb fighting spirit of the line and the sensational work of the backs.

Westminster was no easy prey and made the game one of intense and sustained interest throughout. It is almost useless to attempt description, for it is hard to do it justice. Weidler gained at least three hundred yards, Leffel kicked a phenomenal field goal, and Hawk tackled in a way that made Captain Everhart's men shiver. In fact, every man on the team could be selected as a star and given praise for some feature of his work.

Grove City 54, Allegheny 0.

Although the game at Grove City brought no laurels home, there was such an example of the ever-loyal Allegheny spirit displayed that it won the admiration of our rivals and the good will of a college. Every man of the ninety who went along yelled and supported the team to the best of his ability until the game was over. Our team was not in the best of condition, and was paralyzed by the weight and speed of the team captained by Marks.

Carnegie Tech 10, Allegheny 0.

Fresh from a remarkably good record in games played against some of the leading teams of the State, Carnegie Tech came to Meadville expecting an easy victory. Instead, the wearers of the plaid were forced to play the game every minute, and had to be content with a low score.

Hawk and Weidler were able to star by excellent work in defense. Hatcher and Hittner played a good game, although Hatcher proved more of a star than Hittner.

THE RESERVES.

on for effective work at all times and in all places. "Red" played for 1911 in his freshman year.

Another auburn top, "Red" Grant, held down one of the ends very successfully. Experience on previous scrub elevens and two years on the 1911 team made Grant an experienced man at all times.

"Irish" Strawn was one of the best ground gainers on the team. At Edinboro he crossed the line for the counting touchdown.

Sheffer played consistently and regularly all season, and was able to give a very good account of himself in every way.

Wieler was a fast and sure end, who, had he come out sooner, would have made some of the 'varsity men hustle.

"Sam" Rossiter starred in a double role, as an official and as a player. When not acting as the head linesman in a 'varsity game, he would be officiating in a second team game or else playing. "Sam" has won renown by piloting the 1911 team in past years.

"Tad" Kulp, as quarter, directed the team for a part of the season. Sickness interfered with his playing in the latter part of the season. "Tad" has played some class football for 1911.

'Bob" Stockdale played at end or tackle until, after two serious injuries, he was forced to retire. Always plucky and a faithful worker, "Stackpole" was one of the mainstays of the team. He played in 1907 for the '10 class team.

"Len" Harris was at half for part of the time. Harris played 'varsity football in his Freshman year, but was forced to stop by a bad knee. He is another former 1911 player.

Fife played in the Sharon game as fullback, but did come out until late in the season.

Palmer is a husky Freshman who was a big support on the line. He has the marks of 'varsity material.

McNulty is another 1913 aspirant who helped uphold the honor of the scrubs. "Mac" played a good game on the line.

McKay claims the distinction of being a husky lad who can make good use of his weight.

Hofelt, Brigham, Hammond, Goodwin and Kightlinger were also among the names of the second team. Every one proved of value in helping out their team and in aiding the 'varsity by stiff opposition.
