My dear Miss Tarbell,

I received for my twenty-first birthday, Oct. 23rd last, your book, "The Business of Being a Woman." I have just finished reading it and wish to tell you that, I prize it very highly. It expresses a great many of my own views on the subject of the present day woman and seems to fit into my way of life. My father has always taught me to be a woman, in the true sense of the word, regardless of whatever else I may be, and this book, coming at the very beginning of my womanhood will play a very large part in my efforts to be a true woman. I also wish to thank you most sincerely for the lovely autograph you placed upon the fly-leaf. I do hope you will continue to write more such delightful books and that I may have the great pleasure of reading them all.

Yours sincerely,
Alice J. Higgins.
