

ELABORATE PROGRAM MARKS DEDICATION OF ATHLETIC FIELD

Dr. Watson L. Savage, of Pittsburgh, Made Main Speech of the Day
Keys Formally Accepted by President Crawford

On last Saturday Allegheny College celebrated an event which places her on an equal footing in regard to athletics with any institution of her size in the country—the dedication of Montgomery Athletic Field. This field has been erected at an expense of $40,000, and is one of the most up-to-date of its kind to be found anywhere. It occupies the entire block between North Main Street and Highland Avenue opposite the college buildings, the field proper being 470 feet long and 312 feet wide. It is surrounded by a concrete wall seven feet high which encloses the bleachers, 260 feet long and eight seats high, on the north side, and the running course, 1,220 feet long and eight feet wide, around the football-baseball field in the center. The field has been named for Dr. James H. Montgomery, an alumnus and former professor of the college, and one of the most popular men ever connected with it, who died about eight years ago.

President Crawford had declared a holiday in honor of the event, and with this in view, the annual contests between the Sophomores and the Freshmen had been postponed until this day. The program of contests began at 9 o'clock with a football game between the two under classes, and at 11 o'clock the program proper started. A platform had been erected on the field in front of the center of the grandstand, decorated in gold and blue, and on this platform were seated all those participating in the exercises.

The program was as follows:

HIRAM WINS FIRST GAME ON NEW FIELD

Allegheny Fails to Break Down Opponent's Defense.

In the opening game on Montgomery Field, Hiram defeated the Blue and Gold eleven by a score of 6-0. Although the game was hotly contested at every point, much of Allegheny's work was far below the usual standard. The inability of the line to hold the heavy Hiram men as well as the apparent misunderstanding of signals and fumbling in the backfield were largely responsible for the defeat.

In the earlier periods of the game both teams attempted line-plunging with but little success, and in the last half Hiram resorted largely to forward passing. The excellent work of the Hiram ends, Foltz and Braund, in bringing the forward passes to successful completion, as well as the skill which Moore displayed in carrying the ball for the Ohioans, brought well deserved applause from the rooters. The game was without sensational features, except for a long run by Thomas through a broken field. Ricker and "Chuck" Dotterer were the stars for the Allegheny team.

Probably the most notable thing in connection with this game was the excellent rooting under the direction of the cheer-leader. The fact that the women as well as the men took an active part in this rooting was especially pleasing and gives promise of a new era in Allegheny spirit. Several new songs and yells were used with great success.

The first quarter was largely taken up by line gains and end runs on both sides, the four downs of this year enabling both sides to make their downs quite often. In the second period it was seen that a hard and grueling contest was on between the two elevens, although the local boys seemed to have the advantage and keep the ball in Hiram's territory. Once the ball got within good striking distance and a field goal was tried, but failed. The first half ended with the game a scoreless tie.

Both sides came back on the field in the second half determined to score. A large variety of plays were put into use and during the third and fourth periods both sides punted quite freely. Near the middle of the third quarter Hiram's quarter-back, Foltz, got away from the line, and went up the field for what looked like a touchdown. Ricker was diagonally across the field and the only defensive player within reach of the runner. But a hard sprint across the gridiron and a sure tackle dropped Foltz on Allegheny's 10 yard line. On a blocked pass Allegheny got the ball on downs and punted to safety. Thomas made his 55 yard run back down the field with a good interference and was not headed off until near the Ohio team's goal.

The fourth quarter was even a faster game, and Allegheny's goal lay in danger several times. On a fumbled pass for a punt, Braund recovered the ball for Hiram on the 20 yard line. After several unsuccessful attempts without any large gains, Hiram worked a fake play and Moore rounded Allegheny's left end. He was hard chased across the field, but crossed the goal line just inside of bounds and scored the coveted touchdown for Hiram. Braund missed the goal. Allegheny now took up the fight for a tie or victory, and in the last five minutes of play gave the Ohio team a hard run. On a long pass from Ricker to Fugate on Hiram's 15 yard line a touchdown was almost possible, but Fugate was downed in his tracks after catching the pass for a big gain. The timers' whistle blew without further score.

Prof. John R. Allen, head of the mechanical engineering department at Michigan, is spending a year at Roberts College, Constantinople, organizing an engineering department there. This school receives nearly $2,000,000 from the Kennedy estate, New York.

SOPHS WIN IN THE STRUGGLE FOR UNDER CLASS SUPREMACY

Football Game a Tie But Obstacle Race and Rope Tying Contest Won by Fifteneers—Prize Accounts of the Event

F. H. Sanner, '16.

Although professors have failed to impress important dates upon the minds of their pupils, yet there is a day in the history of Allegheny College which none of its students will soon forget, and to which the memory of each will return with varied emotions. That memorial day and date is Saturday the fifth day of October, nineteen hundred and twelve.

First, it was a holiday; there was a football game in the afternoon; the new athletic field was formally opened just before dinner, but the chief event of the day—at least to the minds of the Freshmen—was the struggle between the Freshman and Sophomore classes for class supremacy.

This contest opened at nine o'clock Saturday morning with a football game, and although neither side kick was tried, but failed. After that no chances were taken, a defensive game being played. In the second half the reverse of the first was true, the playing being mostly in Sophomore territory. Once the ball was on the 15 yard line, but to no avail for the 1915 defence was impregnable. In a few minutes the contest was over with the ball in the center of the field. Needless to say, 1915 was as much pleased with a tie score as with a victory.

Between halves the tug of war occupied the minds of everyone present. The 25 picked men from each class bade fair to make the contest a battle royal, and so it was. At the sound of the referee's whistle both teams were on the alert and the pull for supremacy began. A start at the beginning gave the "freshies" an advantage which was never overcome scored, the Freshmen had a fine game of "push ball" out of it.

Preparations for the tug-of-war nearly filled the ten minutes intermission between the first and second half of the football game, but when the Freshmen settled on their marks, it took but twelve seconds to pull the Sophomore colors past the goal,—and to think that the class of '15 spent a whole afternoon in practice for this particular contest.

To be sure, the Sophomores won the obstacle race, but it must be remembered that they had the pole throughout the race, and that they have had more experience in overcoming obstacles than have the Freshmen.

The rope-tying contest, which was the last event in the struggle, was won by the Freshmen, but the Sophomores were credited with the victory. Witnesses upon the field state that more Sophomores than Freshmen were tied in the given ten minutes, but that the Freshman rope was of an inferior quality, and was easily broken.

However, splendid spirit was displayed by both classes and the only thing for which we are sorry is that we cannot meet them again and make them prove their boast of being able to repeat the performance.

C. L. Mulfinger, '15.

Nineteen-fifteen added another scalp to its heavy belt of victories over 1916 when it defeated the "freshies" in the majority of contests held last Saturday morning. The ceremonies of the day commenced with the annual football game between the respective elevens. The Sophomores waited with anxiety for the 50 to 0 score which the neophytes expected to pile up, but with such determination and skill did the team representing the red and white play that the game ended 0 to 0. In addition to their disappointment, 1916 failed to show any superiority in a single department of the game.

Both teams played consistent ball and only once was there a big gain made, and that was when Munhall broke through the "centennial" line, which had heretofore held like a stone wall, for a 25 yard run. In the first half the playing was mostly in the territory of the "freshies," and while on their 20 yard line a place and they gradually pulled the white handkerchief over the center line to win their first and last contest of the morning amid the "rah, rahs" for 1916.

The Sophomores, believing in the old slogan, "Whoever laughs last laughs best," proceeded to literally take over the next two contests and the victory for the day. The obstacle relay race afforded chances for the "centennial runners" to show their heels to the "New Alleghenians." A small lead at the start increased with each succeeding lap made the affair a walkover for 1915.

Now that the victories stood even, the rope tying contest became the deciding battle of the day. With fiery eyes the contestants lined up at opposite ends of the field determined to do or die. The conflict began to rage as soon as the on-rushing hordes met in mid-field. From the outset it could be plainly seen that the Sophomores were sadly outnumbered, but the indomitable courage of "old centennial" again evidenced itself when three "freshies" were carried over the line before the neophytes got started. For ten minutes the battle raged, sometimes as many as four or five of the "New Alleghenians" were perched on a Soph's neck, but never would he give up. Towards the close the men dragged over the line became more numerous on both sides. It was then with bated breath that the sound of a whistle was heard to declare 1915 victors for two successive years, while the good old yell, with a C, with an E, with an N, re-echoed among the hills.

Manager's Talk

Whether you ever took Biology I. or not, you probably know what a parasite is. As far as The Campus is concerned, a parasite is a fellow who is too tight to subscribe himself but reads the other fellow's paper. The manager doesn't like to be too personal, but he would just like to know if you are one of those creatures. Hand him your dollar or your subscription blank before he makes a rash decision as to your biological classification.

OCTOBER 12, 1912.

To the friends and alumni of Allegheny who have made possible the purchase and completion of the Montgomery Field.

The Athletic Field, The Campus desires to express for the student body their sincere thanks for a gift which means so much for the college. With its completion, Allegheny now has a field that is second to none in the state and one that is worthy of the high ideals set for athletics in this school. It is the addition of such things as this that have been tending toward the broader development and growth of that spirit which has characterized the "New Allegheny."

College loyalty is hardly a thing that can be estimated in mere rooting on the athletic field or by the enthusiasm displayed after a hard earned victory. It is the thing that will bring a representative crowd out to hear a guest of the college or a lecturer when four classes are scheduled for the next morning and it is absolutely essential that all these be well prepared. It is the same thing that will see that more than half the students are in Chapel the first Sunday of each month when the noted ministers of the country are brought here to preach primarily to the students. It is the thing that will support the Forum, Y. M. C. A., and all other worthy college causes with as much spirit as is displayed at the athletic contest. It is the thing that will foster and encourage in every way those things which tend toward the development of college men and women.

In the past Allegheny students have been accused—and often justly—of being discourteous to visiting lecturers and speakers in not giving them the necessary cooperation by their attendance. Great men in every field have been brought here and perhaps only a handful of students appeared to hear them, so that the college authorities are sometimes at a loss whether or not they shall bring any speakers here. In other years, both the Forum and Y. M. C. A. have showed a lack of interest on the part of a number of men but this year every activity seems to be receiving its just share of notice and support. It would seem then that the best thing is to lend that same support toward the betterment of the attendance at every thing with which the name of Allegheny might be connected.

MODERN PROBLEMS CLUB.

The Modern Problems Club stands for what is of the most vital importance to the American people at the present time and for this reason it is having representatives of the three most prominent political parties address the club at these meetings. October 1st, Hon. Arthur L. Bates (Republican) was present and explained the platform of his party. Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock the second meeting of the club will be held in Cochran Hall, for which occasion Mr. E. A. Hempstead has been invited to speak on "The Principles and Platform of the Progressive Party." Two weeks later at the last meeting before the election Judge Thomas is expected to give an address from the Democratic viewpoint.

First College Sermon

To be Preached Tomorrow by President Crawford—Other Speakers Announced.

The series of monthly college sermons which were delivered in Ford Chapel last year is to be continued throughout the present term. All but two of the speakers have already been secured for these occasions, and only one has been heard here before. Dr. Chas. M. Stuart, who was so wonderfully enjoyed in his sermon last year and in his three lectures on journalism the year before, is to return again to deliver the second of the series. The first sermon of the series will be preached by President Crawford tomorrow afternoon. He announces as those secured for the following months:

November—Dr. C. M. Stuart, of Chicago.

December—Bishop William Burt, of Buffalo.

Three of the other dates are promised but are not definitely decided upon. Those who are expected are: Bishop W. F. Oldham, ex-'84, of New York; Dr. David McClenahan of Pittsburgh, and Dr. S. S. Marquis, '90, of Detroit.

Mt. Union-Scio Today

Strong Ohio Eleven Here for Second Game.

After losing to Hiram last Saturday, Allegheny's football team will have to exert strenuous efforts if any kind of a showing is to be made in the game with Mount Union this afternoon. This team caused the surprise of the Ohio Conference by defeating Reserve 9-0 last Saturday. Coach Dunlap has been putting the men through a thorough drill of scrimmage, rules, forward passing, and signals this week, because the loss of last Saturday's game was undoubtedly due to fumbling and ignorance of signals.

Mount Union has an exceptionally strong team this year as they demonstrated last Saturday by defeating Western Reserve whose reputation in football is almost unchallengeable. The policy used by Mount Union against Reserve and likely also to be used again at Allegheny was to use the line smashing in the first quarter and then if the defence is too strong to resort to the forward pass and punt.

The lineup in general will be as follows:

Mount Union. Allegheny.
Carson, C. Thompson L. E. Thomas, Campman
Beck L. T. C. Dotterer
Thorpe L. G. Baker, Munhall
Pritchard C. Gilbert
Bletzer, Stauffer R. G. Murray, M. Dotterer

NEW HEATING PLANT.

The new heating plant which is being built on the campus has caused a great deal of grave concern on the part of those who reside in the various halls it is intended to warm during the last few days when cool evenings and frosty mornings have been the rule. However, it is practically finished now, and smoke was seen to pour from the large chimney the other day. The two old boilers of sixty H. P. have been replaced by two new ones of the return tubular type of 180 H. P. each, thus increasing three-fold the steam supply capacity of the plant. These boilers were furnished and installed by the Phoenix Iron Works of this city and were purchased through Mr. Percival

Cullom, '82. The huge brick chimney, which is one hundred feet in height, was erected by the Heine Chimney Company, of Chicago. It is hoped that by another year the college will be able to build a new boiler house which will be in keeping with the new chimney. The plant, when completed, will involve an expenditure of from $10,000 to $12,000.

Professor Dewey has sold athletic tickets to almost every student in college. About 340 have already paid their share and the other 50 will soon apply for their tickets or will pay for them by working for the Athletic Association. This is a remarkable showing at the beginning of this new democratic movement.

It will undoubtedly cause much disappointment to many of the students to know that Dr. R. E. Brown and Rev. H. L. Smith, who for the past several years have conducted the Men's Week will not be here this fall. Dr. Brown goes to Lawrence College, Appleton, Wis., to do similar work, while Rev. Smith will have charge of the meetings at Albion College, Albion, Mich. The leader for Men's Week in Allegheny has not as yet been selected.

The first meeting of Petit Salon was held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Miller on Prospect Street. The program was in charge of Miss Beulah Grauel, '13, and Miss Florence Griswold, '13. Each member wrote a steamer letter for Miss Josette Beebe which was hermetically sealed and is not to be opened until Miss Beebe is "en mer." Then recipes were compared in French which whetted the appetites for the delicious and seasonable refreshments. A number of new members were elected.

The annual reception of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. to the new students was held in the Gymnasium last Friday evening, October 4. The interior of the building was decorated with various college and fraternity pennants and presented a very appropriate sight to the guests. In the receiving line were H. J. Wieler, president of the Y. M. C. Association; Miss Dorothy Sansom, president of the Y. W. C. Association; J. D. Van Horn, Miss Elizabeth Lord, Paul W. Johnston, Miss Ethel Bayard and Miss Ruth Dodd. Punch and wafers were served for refreshments.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING.

On Wednesday evening the regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held in the Association's room in Cochran Hall, at which more than fifty men were present. J. D. Van Horn, '13, was the leader and spoke of the "Opportunities In Our College Life." He emphasized the fact that it is the use of the little opportunities of life that count most in the building of character. We do not all have great opportunities presented to us, but we all can make our lives worth while by making the most of those opportunities that come to us from day to day. After Mr. Van Horn's talk, several men responded to the invitation to express their ideas on the subject.

The presence of so many men on such a bad evening is distinctive of the enthusiasm shown in the Y. M. C. A. work this year. The membership of the Y. M. C. A. is now 123. This is a splendid showing, but it is the determination of the officers of the association to increase this to 150. It is hoped that all the men of the college who are interested in religious activities, but who have not as yet joined the Y. M. C. A., will do so at once.

FOOTBALL TO GO.

The first regular meeting of the Forum was held in Philo-Franklin Hall Thursday afternoon with about thirty-five members present. The debate: "Resolved, That Intercollegiate Football Should be Abolished at Allegheny," was won by the affirmative. After the regular debate an opportunity was given for each man present to speak on either side of the question. A number responded and the meeting was enlivened by the many viewpoints from which the question was discussed.

The next meeting of the Forum will be held next Thursday afternoon at four o'clock in Philo-Franklin Hall, and the subject for debate, "Resolved, That the State of Pennsylvania should Adopt a System of Compulsory Voting." The affirmative will be supported by Rea and Enright, the negative by Sweetland and Rose.

The question for debate at the third meeting, to be held on Thursday, October 24, will be: "Resolved, That Candidates for Federal Office Should be Compelled to Render an Itemized Account of Money Expended During the Campaign for Office." Affirmative, McGowan and Armstrong; negative, Johnston and Hoffman.

The purpose of giving out these subjects in advance is to enable those who are interested to become acquainted with them before the time of the debate. After the regularly scheduled debate, all will have an opportunity to speak for two minutes, and it will add much to the interest of the meeting if a few of the other men besides those on the program are well informed on the questions under discussion.

PROGRESSIVE ALLEGHENY.

My Dear Fellows:

I can hear Mr. Durston, the man who has charge of the Newspaper Department of the Progressive Party, dictating a letter concerning Old Allegheny. He says that Allegheny is one of the most Progressive Colleges in the United States. The letter he is dictating will go to over eight hundred newspapers throughout the United States, so you see I feel a little proud of our Old School.

The Progressive Party is peculiarly a young people's party and especially a college students' party. The preaching of social service in a class room is finding its application in the larger world of politics. We can feel here at National Headquarters the pulse of the Political Nation more accurately perhaps than any place else. It is our impression the Progressive movement will be a success this year, so allow me to congratulate Allegheny on the leading place it has assumed among the colleges in the Progressive movement.

Cordially yours,
A. B. Hines, '10.

CLASSICAL CLUB BOOKLET.

A booklet has recently been published by the Classical Club giving the history of the club from its founding in 1897 to the present year, and the constitution and rules. The club has been one of the most thriving and prosperous in the college. During the fifteen years of its existence, 165 meetings have been held, and 196 men and women have been enrolled among its members.

The club has had the benefit of such men as Dr. Elliott, Dr. Morey, Professors Ross, LaBounty, Thomas, Gilmore and Christie. Prof. Hop and Prof. Platner, of Johns Hopkins University and Western Reserve respectively have delivered interesting and scholarly lectures before the Classical Club. The booklet also tells of the meetings, the subjects and the leaders of the entire period of the club's history.

ATHLETIC ELECTION.

On last Saturday the first athletic election of the year was held in the ticket office of Montgomery Field, the polls being open from 11:30 to 12:30. One hundred and thirty-six votes were cast which is a rather smaller number than usual. Those elected were C. S. Carr, '14, assistant basketball manager, C. G. McNulty, '14, assistant baseball manager and B. B. Breckenridge, '14, secretary-treasurer of the Athletic Association.

MONTGOMERY FIELD.

portunities because of the variety of men that may participate; rugby football, the least because of the very limited number of men that may successfully play it. On the other hand, association football would be the game of greatest utility in the developing of the mass of the student body.

"Physical training should be compulsory; intra-mural games should be fostered and practiced, requiring every student to take part in some one of the many kinds of sport that are open to students. With this plan of physical training introduced into Allegheny College it can readily be understood why I say the responsibilities increase with the advantages that are offered."

Dr. Savage's address was followed by one by Hon. Arthur L. Bates, '80, member of the House of Representatives. Then the formal presentation of the field to the college was made by Prof. W. T. Dutton who was the chairman of the Board in charge of the building of the field, he taking the place of Hon. F. A. Arter, president of the Board of Trustees. President Crawford in accepting it in the name of the college, said:

"In formally accepting the keys to this field, I do so with a deep sense of gratitude to the generous donors whose gifts made the field possible, and also with at least some appreciation of what Montgomery Field is going to mean in developing the life of this college. We have long needed such a field and greatly needed it. The men of the college have been at a serious disadvantage in attempting to represent us in intercollegiate contests without the facilities which such a field furnishes. The college has been at a disadvantage in not being able to provide adequate grounds for the meeting of teams which have come here representing other institutions. Besides, the students have been deprived of any general participation in athletic sports. Because of our limitations, participation in the more familiar sports has been confined to the various teams and the men contesting for places on these teams. Under former conditions, there was much loss of time in going more than half a mile from the college for practice. Under present conditions, our athletes will walk from the door of the Gymnasium out on the athletic field. This will tend to make athletics a more vital part of our program.

"This field which we are about to formally open is named for one of the most popular and one of the best loved professors Allegheny College ever had—Dr. James H. Montgomery. He it was who a quarter of a century ago rallied the boys of the college to grade a part of this field where we are now gathered and build a fence about it. May I express the hope that the type of manly character for which Dr. Montgomery stood, the type which he so truly and beautifully exemplified in his own life, may be the type for which this field shall stand. Sport we shall have here, but let it be clean, honorable, manly sport, the sport of manly men with red blood and high purpose.

"In the interest of sound, strong, healthy bodies, for sound, strong, healthy minds, in the interest of wholesome college spirit of the finest quality, in the interest of increased loyalty to the standard of Blue and Gold, which gathers to itself the devotion and affection of all true Alleghenians, in the interest of all which will contribute in any way to a better, truer and more beneficent Allegheny, I now declare that Montgomery Field is formally opened to the uses for which it has been built."

Following this formal ceremony of opening the new field, a number of prominent men in Meadville and several of the Faculty spoke in a congratulatory and appreciative manner. Hon. Francis M. Graff, Mayor of Meadville, was the first one of these and expressed the sentiments of the citizens of the city on what the new field will mean to it. Mr. Jesse H. Pardee, president of the Chamber of Commerce, also spoke in behalf of the Meadville business men. From the Meadville Theological School, Dr. Southworth, its president, brought a word of greeting. A most interesting talk was that of Prof. Ross. He recalled the time, over twenty-five years ago, when he at the call of Prof. Montgomery with other students did the first work of grading this field. Prof. Edwin Lee, who is chairman of the Faculty Committee on Athletics, gave the official Faculty attitude toward the field and spoke the appreciation of their leader, Dr. Crawford, in bringing about its erection. From the new Coach of Athletics, Dr. David L. Dunlap, came the statement that ours is one of the best he has ever seen. Last among these speakers, Claude A. Eckles, '13, president of Students' Athletic Association, spoke for the student body, and at the close of the talk his words were affirmed by a loud "Alleghereu" from the students.

At 2 o'clock the men of the college gathered in front of Bentley, each wearing a paper hat, a different kind for each class, and formed for the parade before the football game with Hiram. The College Band and the football players of both teams were in automobiles, the others marched two abreast behind them. The line of march led down through town and back across the campus to the field for the football game with Hiram, an account of which is given in another column.
