

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON WINS FRATERNITY SING

Four Fraternities Show Lack of Cooperation in Not Competing.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon was judged the winner of the second annual Interfraternity Sing at the contest held last Monday evening before the steps of Bentley Hall. Four fraternities were represented at the meeting, the other three being Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Delta Theta, and Delta Tau Delta.

At the drawing before the Sing, Phi Gamma Delta drew the first position, Phi Delta Theta second, Delta Tau Delta third, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon fourth.

The Phi Gams sang "Fiji Honey-moon" first and followed by "Near The Vale" and "Softly Now." The Phi Deltas sang second with "A Medley of Old Time Songs," "Let Us Quaff a Stein," and "Near The Vale." Then came the Deltas with the required number, "Now To Delta Tau," and "Delta Shelter."

The winners appeared last with "Near The Vale," "The Sigma Alpha Epsilon Marching Song," and then "Violets."

After the four groups had concluded their singing, the Men's Glee Club entertained with several selections. Then the judges—Mr. Luvaa, Mr. Dennis, and Mr. Boettcher—announced the decision, and the cup was presented to Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

The Sing on Monday was the second ever held at Allegheny College, several faculty members being responsible for the institution of the event last year. This year, the Interfraternity Council took charge of the event, and a committee appointed by the organization was responsible for all arrangements. The first winner of the contest was Phi Gamma Delta, who relinquished the cup to Sigma Alpha Epsilon this year.

Although only the same groups as participated last year entered again this year, the event was entirely more successful. Practically the entire student body witnessed the Sing which was culminated in a fitting manner with the rendition of the Alma Mater.

Iroquois Club Scene of Annual City Pan- Hellenic Luncheon

A very enjoyable gathering of sorority alumnae of the various Allegheny sororities and other Greek-letter women of the City assembled on Saturday, May 16, at noon for a luncheon. It was the occasion of the annual Pan-hellenic luncheon which was this year held at the Iroquois Club House. There were in attendance fifty-five women, and the program was most interesting. It had been painstakingly arranged by the committee, which consisted of Mrs. Josette Beebe Dennis, chairman, member of Alpha Gamma Delta; Mrs. Mabelle Ewing, Kappa Alpha Theta; Mrs. S. S. Swartley, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Mrs. B. F. Miller, Alpha Chi Omega; Mrs. J. L. Ross, Theta Upsilon; Miss Thelma Karlen, Alpha Xi Delta; and Mrs. B. E. Nelson, Delta Alpha Theta.

The tables were decorated with bouquets of sweet peas in pastel shades. Mrs. Mary Post, General Secretary of the Erie Y. W. C. A. and a member of the Committee on the Cause and Cure of War, most interestingly discoursed upon "The Place Women Hold in the Changing World." Following the luncheon was a brief business session and a social hour. Mrs. Julian Ross was elected president of the association for the coming year.

NEW MEMBERS NAMED TO Y. M. C. A. CABINET

William Boettcher and Joseph Lockley were recently named to the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet. With the officers of the organization, including John Coffin, president; Paul Cares, vice-president; William Ross, treasurer; and Robert Brakeman, secretary; and with the faculty advisor, Dr. Irwin R. Beller; Lockley and Boettcher will be in charge of the executive affairs of the College Y. M. C. A.

CARY CHOSEN AS NEW HEAD OF QUILL CLUB

At its final meeting of the year on May 12 in Hulings Hall, Quill Club chose S. F. Cary, Jr., as president for the coming year. Miss Edith Fox was named secretary. The retiring officers are Miss Margaret Sullivan, president; and Miss Lenore K. White, secretary. Miss Edith Rowley is permanent treasurer.

The program for the evening included four papers on as many "Literary Incomparables." Kenneth Winterbottom selecting Max Beerbohm; Miss Edith Fox, Ogden Nash; Miss Katherine Millhoff, O. Henry; and Miss Lois Gardner, Eugene O'Neill.

Interfraternity Council Holds Last Meeting at Chi Rho House

Allegheny's Interfraternity Council held its last regular meeting of the year last Tuesday evening at the Alpha Chi Rho house when several matters of importance were discussed. The discussion concerning the deferred rushing program was brought to a close at that meeting when the members decided to investigate into more systems before any decision be made. A committee composed of one member from each fraternity was appointed to continue work on rushing matters and report at an early meeting next year.

Because of the apparent dissatisfaction of some of the students with the present social system, a committee was appointed to recommend certain changes to the Council or to report in any manner it sees fit. Under the scope of this committee falls the suggestions as to the limitation of price and number of all fraternity parties during the year.

The senior members of the Council, most of them founders of the organization, were replaced by the newly-elected members at the Tuesday meeting.

A complete write-up of the activities of the Council since its organization at Allegheny College is to appear in an early issue of The Campus.

Allegheny Singers to Go to New Castle Friday Afternoon

On Friday afternoon, May 22, the Allegheny Singers will leave for New Castle on what will be their final spring tour. At eight o'clock in the evening they are to give a concert before a Masonic group assembled from New York, Ohio, and Northwestern Pennsylvania, and expected to number two thousand.

A number of the faculty plan to accompany the group, among them Dr. Church, who is to take part in the program.

The Singers will be entertained at a banquet at six o'clock in the evening, after which they are to conduct the concert. Dancing will follow from nine until twelve o'clock.

CARES ELECTED HEAD OF FORENSIC SOCIETY

Officers of Delta Sigma Rho for the coming year, elected May 17, include the following: Paul B. Cares, president; Miss Ruth Birkner, secretary; and Harmon H. Gilbert, treasurer. Cares and Miss Vera Dawson have also been selected as delegates to the national convention of the forensic fraternity, which convenes late in June at Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois. The meeting is held once every five years.

PI TAU INITIATES NINE NEW MEMBERS

The Allegheny Chapter of Pi Tau Epsilon, honorary professional economics fraternity, initiated nine new members preceding a banquet held at the Kepler Hotel, Tuesday night, May 12. John Underwood, John Werle, Jack Hartman, John Coffin, Wilson Kelley, Donald Wilson, Theodore Harper, Arthur L. Bates, and James Bryan are the new members, and with their admission into the organization a change of policy takes place. At the beginning of the junior year four or five of the candidates, outstanding in scholarship, will be selected. The remaining eligible men are to be taken in at the close of the junior year.

Doctor Church Will Lead Local Chapter of Phi Sigma Iota

Dr. Henry Ward Church was elected president of Alpha Chapter of Phi Sigma Iota, succeeding Miss Doris Potter, at the organization's annual banquet held at the Kepler Hotel on May 6. Mr. George Bernard Roessing was named vice-president, and Thomas R. Knorr, only student member to be in school next year, was selected as treasurer. The group will choose a secretary next year, following initiation of new members.

Dr. Church, the new presiding officer, is chiefly responsible for the founding of the honorary Romance language fraternity, establishing the initial chapter at Allegheny, and later carrying the organization over into the national field. At the Biennial Assembly of Phi Sigma Iota at the University of Iowa on May 1 and 2, Dr. Church was re-elected national president, his office since the founding of the group.

TWELVE GIRLS HONORED BY CWENS LAST FRIDAY

Sophomore Society Holds Tapping Exercises in Chapel.

Tapping exercises for the Cwens, national honorary Sophomore society, were held in chapel, May 15th. Carol Moore, president of the Cwens, had charge of the ceremonies.

The freshmen girls who were tapped were: Dorothy Holsinger, Grace Bunker, Mary Ann Fees, Mary Jane Anderson, Judith Roessing, Helen Morrow, Betty Henry, Dorothy Day, Edna Mae Bruggeman, Virginia Slacum, Jean Holman, and Martha Demmler.

The Allegheny chapter of the Cwens was founded in 1928. One fifth of the women of the freshmen class are eligible to membership on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and personality.

Membership is for sophomores only. Consequently the new officers are chosen from among the newly-tapped members. Dorothy Day was elected to fill the post of president, which Carol Moore leaves vacant. Virginia Slacum succeeds Wilma Kuhnert as vice-president, and Dorothy Holsinger replaces Ruth Staples as secretary-treasurer.

Initiations will be at six o'clock on Wednesday morning, May 20th, which is May Day. Following initiations will be a breakfast at the Lafayette Hotel. The new Cwens plan to sell ice cream sundaes on May Day afternoon beside Bentley.

Following are the names of active Cwens and alumni who participated in the tapping exercises: Mary Katherine Klingensmith, Wilma Rogers, Wilma Kuhnert, Cleo Duffield, Ruth Staples, Carol Moore, Ruth Bowden, Anne Diffenderfer, Margaret Cabaugh, Ruth Birkner, Alice Luther, and Lois Gardner.

O. D. K. MEMBERS ELECT OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR

At the Alpha Chi Rho House on Wednesday evening Phi chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa conducted its final monthly session for the current year.

Warner White, retiring president, presided as the new officers were elected. Those chosen to head the group next year were Tom Lawry, president, and Harry Dennison, secretary-treasurer.

Interest centered about a discussion of the proposed initiation of a number of alumni of the College. The fraternity hopes to add a number of graduates to the group at commencement time.

MAY DAY PROGRAM WILL INCLUDE NEW FEATURES

Under the sponsorship of a number of women's organizations, the third annual May Day festival of the college will take place on the campus this afternoon and evening. The Women's Athletic Association has planned a short program to occupy the daytime hours; and the twilight events are under the joint supervision of Student Government and Omicron Epsilon Delta. The climax of the day's activities will be the crowning of Miss Margaret Wood as May Queen, with the attendant appropriate dances and the novel Lantern Scene.

Miss Wood, the Queen of the May, will proceed to her throne during the early part of the pageant, which will be staged beginning at 8:15 P. M. in the natural amphitheatre in front of Bentley Hall. Attendants to the new sovereign will be the other senior beauties nominated to the honor won by Miss Wood.

The Lantern Scene, grand finale of the program, is the outstanding innovation of the pageant. Groups of singers from each class—seniors to freshmen in order—will mount Library Hill carrying lighted lanterns, will form the numeral of their class, sing an original song especially composed for the occasion, and then hand down the lanterns to the next class.

Four group dances will also be presented during the evening by girls in Miss LeRoy's gymnasium classes. In addition three feature ballets are scheduled. "The Spirit of Progress," and with Miss Grace Ralston offering a skit called "The Enchanted Flute." Miss Margaret Carpenter has also consented to give a solo dance number. At dusk Miss Kathryn Moritz, talented local violinist, is to entertain the audience.

The athletic program includes tennis, archery, and baseball, in that order, the girls of the freshmen and sophomore classes presenting the various exhibitions. The tennis meet will take place on the new courts back of Arter Hall, and the other sport demonstrations on the new women's field next to the courts. The baseball contest promises to be especially noteworthy, for the young ladies will endeavor to depict the game as played by the elegant tom-boys of the well-known "Maude Decade."

Corcoran, Phi Delta Theta; Knighton Waite, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Howard Lauffenberger, Alpha Chi Rho; William A. Boettcher, Beta Upsilon; Wilnot Craig, Beta Kappa; William Hunter, Non-Fraternity.

The retiring senate has made an outstanding contribution to the new scheme of intra-mural athletics by providing the trophy to honor the winner of the all-round championship, which closes in about two weeks. The fraternity with the highest point-total is to receive a handsome plaque. Other activities of the Senate during the past terms have included largely routine matters of administration, including all-college dances and student elections.

At its last business meeting on May 12, the local chapter of Alpha Chi Sigma, professional chemical fraternity, re-elected its entire slate of officers, the list headed by James Vensel, president, and Hasson Rockey, vice-president. The organization concluded the year's activities last night when it held an informal smoker at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house.

THOBURN CLUB NAMES HARTUNG PRESIDENT

Viscose Process Is Explained by Representative of Company

Last Monday H. O. Davidson, Chief Engineer of the Meadville Viscose plant, spoke before the chapel audience on "The Viscose Process." Mr. Davidson began by explaining that all rayon silk was essentially cellulose; therefore it contained the same chemical elements as wood and other vegetable matter but in different physical form. The problem of the chemist has been to regenerate the cellulose in wood to create the finer product, rayon. By observing the silk worm they discovered that the cellulose must first be dissolved, then spun into very fine threads after an "aging process." Four processes have been developed by which this may be done. The Viscose process, however, is the only one used in the Meadville plant.

The first step in this process is to soak cotton, a form of cellulose, in acetic acid. It is then placed in acetic anhydride. In these two steps the cotton is dissolved forming what is called "acid dope." This solution is left for some time in a glass-lined tank after which it is saturated with water. This causes a precipitate to be formed. Acetone dissolves the precipitate leaving a solution which can be forced through the small openings of a spinneret. As the acetone evaporates from the thin filaments coming out of the spinneret, we have the thread from which artificial silk is woven.

FURTHER COMMENCEMENT ANNOUNCEMENTS MADE

Coach Way Plans an Alumni Mushball Game for June 8.

Several interesting announcements concerning the preparations for the annual Commencement Week, June 6 to June 9, have been made recently. The following additions to the program released last week, are to be noted:

Professor Way, Director of Athletics, is hoping to have an alumni mushball game on Monday morning, June 8, if he can secure the contestants. The program for the Alumni Luncheon has not been arranged as yet.

The Reverend Hartley J. Hartman, who has charge of the vespers service on Sunday afternoon, June 7, is a member of the Class of 1915. He married Janet Ellis of the same class. Mr. Hartman is pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Amityville, New York.

The selection of the Reverend Lucius H. Bugbee, D.D., of New York City, to deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon is particularly appropriate, inasmuch as Dr. Bugbee has one son, Robert, in the graduating class, and another son, Warren, in the college. Incidentally, Dr. Bugbee was pastor of Stone Church, Meadville, Pa., from 1901 to 1907.

Dr. Bugbee is editor of the church school publications of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He served in the World War at military camps and in the Y. M. C. A. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Beta Theta Pi. Dr. Bugbee wrote the following books: "Flutes of Silence," 1920; "Living Leaders," 1923; and "Christ Today," 1926.

"Who's Who" gives a complete account of the life of the Reverend Earnest Fremont Tittle, D.D., of Evanston, Illinois, who will deliver the Commencement Address on Tuesday, June 9th. Rev. Tittle graduated from Ohio Wesleyan University in 1906 and secured his B.D. degree from Drew Theological Seminary in 1908. His last charge was in Evanston, Ill.

Miss Anna Holbrook Donates Fund For Ministry Students

By the will of Mrs. Anna B. Holbrook, who died April 9 in Norristown, Allegheny College has been given two funds of five thousand dollars each, one establishing a scholarship and the other to be held as an accumulative endowment fund. The will, admitted to probate on May 14, specified charitable bequests totalling $20,000, although the estate is listed at only $15,000. Most of the grants were to religious institutions.

Mrs. Holbrook's first gift to this school of $5,000 purposes to establish a scholarship fund in honor of her parents, the income to be awarded to "a member of the senior class who is to give his life to the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church." The second sum, a memorial of Mrs. Holbrook's mother, is in the nature of an endowment. When the fund shall have doubled itself, one half is to be used to aid students preparing for the ministry, and the other half is to be kept in trust, a similar division to be made each time the fund shall have doubled.

TRUSTEE OF COLLEGE HONORED BY SCOUTS

At a meeting on May 6 at Memphis, Tennessee, of the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America, Dr. George W. Olmstead, of Ludlow, a trustee of this college, was awarded the Silver Buffalo, one of the most important honors in the field of work for young people. Each year about half a dozen men are granted this decoration, and at the present time there are only about thirty persons in the country so recognized. Charles A. Lindbergh and Richard E. Byrd are among those recently admitted to this select group.

In reporting the qualifications of Mr. Olmstead, the first item on the long list of his activities was his position as a Trustee of Allegheny College. The new wearer of the Silver Buffalo is also widely known for his sponsorship of camps, particularly those of the B. S. A.

PAUL SIPLE NEW HEAD OF PHI BETA PHI

Paul A. Siple is the new president of Phi Beta Phi, honorary biological fraternity, whose other officers recently installed, are Alice McClelland, secretary, and Margaret Cabaugh, treasurer. The society closed its season's activities yesterday with a picnic, at which time a gift was presented to Mr. E. A. Dennis of the faculty, in appreciation of his work for the club.

ALLEGHENY'S STUDENT PLAYSHOP

Often has it been said that the Allegheny Student Playshop is the one genuinely cultural activity to be found on the campus of the college. We beg to number these as two, the other being the newly stimulated Music Department. Tribute has already been paid in these columns to the Music Department, and as the academic year fast draws to its close it is only fitting that we flash the editorial spotlight upon an institution of which every Alleghenian can be justly proud.

Culture as it is presented through the medium of the theatre is brought within the scope of the uncultured in such a way that it is easily grasped and long retained. The theatre holds unlimited opportunities and new and unforgettable experiences come with each production. It is in the Playshop Theatre that we see the cultural life of the college brought to a peak. The flimsy and worthless activities of the honorary cubs are put to shame by the Student Playshop. Conducted on the high plane that it is, it is so far in advance of those puny organizations that it more than makes up for their deficiency.

The Student Playshop is largely a personal organization, and the great amount of credit that is due falls to the lot of Miss Spalding and Mr. Boettcher. Through their efforts and love for drama Allegheny has an organization which ranks highly among similar groups in the collegiate world. Miss Spalding has collected around her as associates in the Department of Speech a group of students who are extremely enthusiastic and have a genuine love for the drama, an achievement which has not been approached by any other organization on the campus. If all of our extra-curricular activities could attain to half the excellence of the Student Playshop, what a school Allegheny would be!

During the course of the past school year Allegheny audiences have been given the opportunity to witness plays, the excellence of which is not often attained by even professional companies. The elements of the true drama are to be found in the Playshop, where work is carried on in a professional and detailed manner. Organization has been perfected, and as a director Miss Spalding is particularly suited to Allegheny. Every play that she places upon the stage of the Theatre represents an unbelievable amount of hard work and dramatic instinct. Her actors and actresses have been inculcated with a "stage sense" which is so essential to the perfect drama.

Let other Allegheny activities draw a lesson from the Student Playshop, and strive to achieve its worthiness, and thereby justify their existence upon the campus.

ONE ORGANIZATION WITH A KICK

Not without reason have critics declared Allegheny a school of dead organizations, but none have ventured to attach this stigma to the Interfraternity Council. Either because of, or in spite of, its youth—the latter, we trust—the inter-Greek body has a record of real accomplishment. It has from the first set itself up not as an activity, but as a government; and in this capacity it has been able to attack problems which, though obvious, were inaccessible to other groups. Cooperation in financial matters, for example, was practically impossible to the various fraternities under the ancient system; ruthless methods of rushing and pledge-breaking were quite beyond control. Since the advent of interfraternity government much has been accomplished in both lines.

Great success has greeted the Council's entire program, until the recent check to the scheme for deferred rushing, a setback which should be quite for the best. Confident in its hot young blood, the Council has sought to cleave old prejudices too suddenly; with the rashness of a patent-medicine hawker it has howled the mere idea of deferred rushing as a panacea for all ills in freshman relations. Hence the necessity of delaying action on so important a step in pledging activities until next year cannot but be beneficial, for, after all, deferred rushing has not been everywhere an unmixed blessing. The Greek groups are entitled to go into this matter with their eyes open. The above comments are not, however, intended as criticism of the Council's excessive hot-headedness. At its worst, such an attitude is preferable to the supine state of mind now prevailing on the campus. And the very momentum of its fast start should carry the Interfraternity Council much farther along the road than the rest of our antique organizations.

THE PRESTIGE OF OLIVER B. INCHES

"You're not eating your lunch, Oliver. Do try some of this nice, fresh spinach."

"I don't care for any, Elda. What do you suppose I heard at Chapel this morning?"

"What's wrong now?"

"At that dinner last night the President told the guests he couldn't understand why I wouldn't let his son transfer to Wheeler's section last fall. He's still harping on Wheeler's 'excellent work'—that's an insult to me!"

"Never mind; you know how he talked to us about Wheeler's high standing on that silly Alumni Rating of the Faculty—what does that prove about good teaching?"

"Well, I must find some way to get rid of Wheeler as soon as possible. As Head of the Department, I won't stand for the President's implying that my assistant is a better teacher than I."

"Oh, everyone knows that he's partial to the lower ranks. It's an outrage that he's donating so much to those young couples in the dormitories—think what we got when we first came! It's high time someone drops a few hints to the trustees that the man must be out of his head."

"He can't last much longer, anyway. I ought to give him an ultimatum now. I won't have him offering to share my assistant with the Astronomy Department without even consulting me. I must persuade him that Wheeler hasn't any ambition, or he wouldn't have stayed here this long. At Cornell an instructor has to leave at the end of six years—there's the precedent! Our younger faculty must move on."

"Why not let the young upstart believe that it's the President's idea to dismiss him, and get a Ph.D. for the position?"

"That's a good suggestion. Then to play safe, I'll offer to do all I can to help him locate elsewhere. He'd better not protest if he wants any recommendations from me. If I refuse to recommend him that will kill his old references, too. In this depression he

Allegheny in Athletics

ALLEGHENY DEFEATED BY GROVE CITY ON SATURDAY

Pusch Stars as Grove City Takes 73-62 Win in Close Meet

Allegheny's trackmen dug their spikes into the cinders of the Grove City College field last Saturday and fought gamely, but were finally forced to submit to a narrow 73 to 62 defeat. Tradition says that when the Blue and Gold contest the Crimson for athletic supremacy a real battle will usually result; Saturday's encounter was no exception.

True to expectations, Allegheny held her own in most of the running events. She held the upper hand in the 880, the mile and the two mile runs. However, the sprints were almost disastrous for Allegheny due to the combined efforts of Pusch and Kammer, Grove City stars. Conn loped skillfully over the high hurdles in the 120 to add five more points to Allegheny's total. Thus, out of the eight track events, the Blue and Gold made four firsts, seven seconds and three thirds for a total of forty-four points, exceeding the Crimson by sixteen points.

The field events were not quite so fruitful for the Alligators. Gregory, Grover javelin thrower, took first place in his event when the wind hit the spear just right to sail it 187 feet. Kerr made a toss of 177 feet to earn second place easily. Connors, wearing the Crimson, was victorious in the high jump, clearing the bar at 5 feet, 10 inches. Lawry did some good jumping to tie for second place. Gregg soared over the bar beautifully at 11 feet, 6 inches for a first place in the pole vault. Poole tied for second with Day of Grove City at 11 feet, 3 inches. Considering the strong wind into which Gregg and Poole had to vault, the height was excellent. The best that Allegheny could do in the running broad jump was Boetchers' second place. In the weights the Blue and Gold was somewhat outclassed. March obtained a third place in the discus and the hammer throw, while McManus earned a third place in the shot-put. Winning firsts in the shot-put, discus, 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, and taking a second place in the hammer throw, Pusch accumulated 23 points to his credit to be high score man for the meet.

Perhaps the outstanding and most impressive feature of the contest was the "do-or-die" fighting spirit of the Allegheny men. In the 440 yard sprint, Smith, Horn, and Beers gave everything they had in a final burst of speed to press close on the heels of Kammer in the home stretch. The 120 yard low hurdles contained a similar occurrence; Boetcker, who got off to a slow start, hit his true stride on the last three hurdles and shot ahead at such a pace that he was only beaten to the tape by a matter of inches.

The summary of the meet:

Boetcker, Allegheny; and Daugherty, Grove City. Time, 10.2.

Phi Psis are Crowned Mushball Champions; Defeat Phi Gams 8-2

Last Thursday afternoon Intramural Mushball was brought to a climax when Phi Kappa Psi, champions of League A, defeated Phi Gamma Delta, winners of League B, by a score of 8-2. Early in the game the Phi Psis secured the first run, and from then on were never headed, although the Phi Gams were in easy striking distance until the last inning, when the victors clouted in four runs and definitely clinched the championship.

In the tilt between the clubs of Delta Tau Delta and Alpha Chi Rho for the third place honors, the Deltas secured a five run lead in the early innings, but were unable to keep up when the Chi Rhos hit a batting streak, and the game and honors went to Alpha Chi

Rho, 13-8.

These two games brought to a successful conclusion the Mushball Tournament, which was marked from the outset by a spirit of wholesome rivalry between all the teams, and by a keen interest in the game itself throughout all the play.

'GATORS TO END SEASON WITH GENEVA SATURDAY

Covenanters Will Place Powerful Team in Action Against Allegheny.

Saturday will see the close of Allegheny's track season when the Blue and Gold team will journey to Beaver Falls for the final meet with Geneva. After the defeat suffered last week at the hands of the Grove City squad the team will be out to finish the season with a victory, but it will be a hard task to beat the Geneva outfit.

During the season the Geneva team has met some of Allegheny's opponents. It will give a fair estimate of the strength of the Beaver Falls outfit to compare some of the results. Geneva defeated Grove City 101-44, and Grove City defeated Allegheny last week 73-62. This gives Geneva a distinct advantage. Then last Saturday Geneva took the powerful Carnegie Tech team into camp with an 81-54 score. In doing this, Geneva gave Tech its first defeat of the season.

Throughout the meet Geneva had things well under control, taking first places in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, the half-mile, the mile, the two-mile, the high jump, pole vault, and javelin throw. In the two-mile and the javelin throw Geneva took all places, and took first and second in the 100 yard dash, the 220, the half mile, and the pole vault. This showing seems to justify Geneva's rating as one of the most powerful and well-balanced teams in the tri-state district.

Allegheny's squad is in good condition with the exception of Tom Lawry, who injured his leg during the Grove City meet last Saturday, and Collins, who is suffering from a bad ankle. It is expected that both men will be in condition to compete Saturday, however.

can't get another place without my help."

"You ought to have driven him out long ago, when the students began flocking to his classes. Remember I wanted you to object to President Dixon that the man he hired over your head was too undignified—the idea of an instructor smoking a vile pipe, and courting a student! At least he might have picked one out of our Department."

"She's from the country. Marrying her didn't give him any influence here. He always went his own way too much to have any. He wasn't wise enough to get a fraternity back of him."

"Oh, that reminds me—here's a letter for you from Renny. He's not satisfied down there; he'd like to come back. Why not let him return on the grounds that he was here first? He'd be grateful; that would please his influential fraternity, too."

"That's so, but it would be easier to fix up if he'd earned that doctor's degree. He ought to have done it in four years; he didn't even finish it in six."

"So much the better for you. You'll have more power over him because he failed there."

"He always was easy to handle. He taught his classes my way. I'm tired of Wheeler's wanting to change things from the way I've had them so long."

"If only you hadn't told the neighbors that Wheeler was the best man you ever had. Maybe you'd better ask them to keep it quiet."

"No, it's safer to count on their forgetting that. I never pay any attention when they tell me how good their departments are."

"You don't suppose Wheeler will dare tell that he had another offer last summer, and you urged him to stay? I told you that you shouldn't have told him he could have the position as long as he wanted it."

"How can he prove it? If I refuse to remember any such promises, no one will believe him. I wish I had told him to go, in spite of my foot, and that other last minute vacancy. I never dreamed that the President would go so far as to give him as much of a raise as he gave the full professors. How unfair!"

"Of course he should have given you at least $500, but we'll get along somehow. We've come a long way from that little country school in Kansas."

"Yes, and I'm safe here, on indefinite tenure, but you were right—I shouldn't have kept a man that endangers my popularity. Though Mrs. Byers found she'd made a mistake in believing campus gossip, and taking her son away from my class to put him in Wheeler's that time. That was insulting, but I believe it was all for the best. I'll convince him that he made a costly error when he didn't have sense enough to pass the boy, after all his family did for the school."

"Speaking of popularity, I always said that Brand was a good boy, in spite of his cutting classes, and acting up with the fraternity boys. While they made fun of him, they respected you all the more, and appreciated your work."

"I know, but the President picked on him. I believe I'll go to the office, and make the first move to dispose of Wheeler; then I can see about Renny later."

"That can wait. You'll have to take me over to my Board meeting now. I must give Mrs. George a good calling down for violating By-laws. She had no business buying any sheets for the hospital before the Board voted on the matter. When you come back, wash up these dishes; then you'll have to start supper, for I must hurry to that Missionary meeting tonight. I get so tired of all this church and charity work, but it's worthwhile, for it upholds our prestige in town."

NIGHT AND A FAST TRACK!

A TRACK man will tell you that records are broken when the track is fast. Think of this setting—a cool evening, the stands overflowing, the whole spectacle brilliantly lighted with G-E floodlights, and a fast track—a record simply couldn't stand the "gaff."

Nighttime, when people naturally turn to diversion, is the logical time for a track meet. Lack of support will be a thing of the past. And just watch the athletic fund grow.

G-E floodlighting projectors, largely the development of college-trained men, are easily adapted to any occasion whether football, track, tennis, commencement, receptions, or plays. Efficient G-E illumination promotes athletics and builds school spirit.

IN congratulating the winners in the great Camel contest we want at the same time to thank most cordially the approximately million men and women who displayed their friendly interest by sending in an entry.

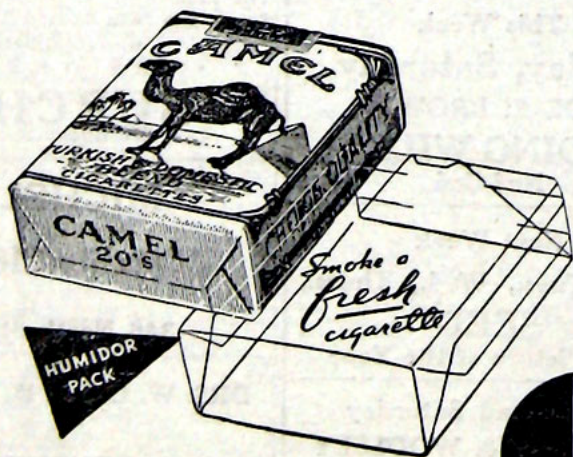

We wish also to thank the millions of smokers throughout the country for the appreciation they are showing for our new Humidor Pack as is evidenced by the notable increase in the sale of Camel cigarettes.

By means of this dust-proof, germ-proof, moisture-proof Cellophane wrapping the rich aroma and full flavor of choice Turkish and mellow Domestic tobaccos have been air-sealed in Camels for your enjoyment.

If you have not tried Camels in the Humidor Pack all we ask is that you switch over to this brand for one day.

After you have learned how much milder, how much cooler, how much more enjoyable it is to smoke a perfectly conditioned fresh cigarette, go back to the harsh hotness of stale cigarettes if you can.
