

Soll
Springfield Ill.

May 13-1924

Dear Miss Tarbell.

I wired you as soon as I received your letter. I am just as enthusiastic as ever. Mr Klaw writes me that he has had difficulty in finding some one to write the play. I wrote him that he'd better wait until I return to New York and then we can get together on it. I have so much faith in this that I've made no other plans for next season. I expect to be back in New York about the middle of June and hope you will be there so I can see you.

I was out to Mr Dill's home last night, for a few minutes. He is just the sort of man I expected he'd be. I've met a number of interesting people here who knew Mr Lincoln, and tomorrow I'm going out to his grave.

When I left New York I expected to return the middle of May. But I was held over in Los Angeles and San Francisco and my season stretched out over another month.

Hoping to see you soon, and with my very best wishes I am.

Sincerely yours

Chic Sale