

Allegheny To Sponsor Chamber Music Festival

A two day chamber music festival on November 7 and 8 sponsored by the Allegheny College Music Department and the College Union will provide an unusual opportunity to hear trios and quartets carefully selected from this most satisfying field.

Much of the finest music ever written is in the form of chamber music. After years of listening to symphonies and other types of serious music, many lovers discover that the greatest listening experiences are to be found in instrumental trios, quartets, quintets, and sextets to which Beethoven, Brahms, Mozart, Haydn and other masters of music through the ages have contributed their richest talents.

The musicians are all experienced professionals who are at this time rehearsing a varied program for this two day event. Some are members of our Allegheny Music Department, and others are being brought to the Allegheny Campus from the faculty of Baldwin Wallace Music Conservatory.

True chamber music is played in a small room in which the musicians and audience may become one in

Migration Day Sees Gator Rooters Move

On October 18, after classes, Allegheny students will board cars and busses for the annual Migration Day. This year the 'migrators' will go to Grove City and have the opportunity of seeing that college's Homecoming Game.

Mimi Jackson is chairman of the Migration Day committee. Others on her committee are Pat Hawk, Don Nicholson, Ken Garner, and Jay Seaton, who will handle the ticket sales and arrangements for busses.

Busses will leave Brooks Circle by 1:00 in order to arrive by game time, 2:15. As this offers a welcome change in routine and a real chance to support the Gators, it is hoped that about 140 students will be at Grove City for this game.

Washington Semester Meeting on Tuesday

A meeting for all students interested in the Washington Semester will be held Tuesday, October 24, at 3:00 p.m. in the English seminar room of Arter Hall. Applications will be handed out at this time.

The Washington semester program is specifically designed to permit second semester juniors to observe the American government in action. The program is not limited to history or political science majors, but is open to any junior, regardless of his or her major.

The four students who will represent Allegheny will attend the American University in Washington, D.C. While at the University, the students will carry 12-15 hours. Required hours include the Washington Semester Seminar and the Washington Semester Seminar project. At the Seminars, students discuss various phases of the government. Each student also does an individual project for which he must interview people for opinions and comments. This is not a library research project.

The rest of the hours may be taken partly in the student's major field, or in fields relating to the Washington Semester program.

Frosh Display School Spirit At Goal Post Rising Ceremony

by Trish Schreiner

When the Allegheny Homecoming game came to a blood-tingling close, a swarm of blue-beaned men rushed onto the football field and tore down the goal post. The 'trophy' was carried down from the field and displayed on Baldwin's porch roof. This was the first time in twenty-two years that the goal post had been torn down.

This particular incident resulted in the question as to whether it was school spirit or wanton destruction. The title of "school spirit" has been for years traditionally limited to the incoming freshmen. This year's freshman class introduced the idea of ALL-SCHOOL SPIRIT. Therefore, to prove that this spirit was not destructive, a "put up the goal post" rally was held Thursday night before the Allegheny vs. Bethany game. Also, many nights before the rally, busy freshman men sandpapered, painted and put together a gleaming white goal post.

At seven o'clock Thursday night, cheerleaders and Allegheny students met in front of maintenance to begin the triumphant march. The procession of cheerleaders, freshman men shouldering the goal post, and Allegheny students, wound down Senior Walk to Brooks. Here cheers were given to those who weren't coming. Then it was on to the field chanting and singing. Behind the marching students was a trail of Upperclassmen's cars.

Everyone arrived at the field, winded but exhilarated, only to find the gates locked. A rally was led by the cheerleaders until the gates could be opened.

Meanwhile several athletic men climbed the fence. The others handed over the goal post, which was raised to the singing of FAIR ALLEGHENY.

The group then walked back to campus singing FIGHT, ALLEGHENY. Brooks was again serenaded. The Freshman women had to be in by 8:30 so the cheers were ended and the students went back to their individual dorms singing the Allegheny College Alma Mater.

Honors Convocation For Alden Students

Eighty-three students, to be designated Alden Scholars, will be honored at an Honors Day Convocation in David Mead Fieldhouse on November 5. The Rev. G. Bromley Oxnam, bishop of the Washington Area, Methodist Church, will be the principal speaker.

Students who have achieved an academic average of 85 or better for the year 1957-1958, will be presented certificates at the convocation by President Lawrence L. Pelletier. Students with 90 or better averages will receive special recognition. To conclude the day's activities a dinner will be given that evening for the honored students.

Bishop Oxnam has received a number of honorary degrees, among them an LL.D. from Allegheny in 1946. Ordained to the Methodist Episcopal ministry in 1916, he has been president of the Federal Council of Churches, 1944-46; a presiding officer in the organization of the National Churches of Christ, 1950; and president of the World Council of Churches, 1948-54.

He has authored fourteen books, among which have been Preaching in a Revolutionary Age, 1944; Labor and Tomorrow's World, 1945; Personalities in Social Reform, 1956; and The Church and Contemporary Change, 1950.

Planning for the convocation is under the direction of a faculty committee, with Philip Benjamin, librarian, acting as chairman. The committee members are: Dean Ross, Professors Brown, Jay Luvaas, Day, Katope, and Wagner.

Julie Katzemann, president of the local group, Dorothy Robinson and Maity Shirer will be delegates to the national KDE convention in Chicago November 20-22. Carol Sofield will go as an assistant to national, and Miss Garvey will accompany the delegates.

Religion-In-Life Week Returns On Oct. 26-29

"Gumption, Government, and God" is to be the theme for this year's Religion-In-Life Week, October 26-29. There will be many different activities during the four days, including guest speakers, discussions, and coffee hours.

The week will begin Sunday with a Chapel service at which Dr. William Muehl of Yale Divinity School will speak. Dr. Muehl will also be featured at the Monday Chapel service at 10:00 a.m.

Sunday afternoon at 4:00 p.m. President Pelletier will moderate a panel discussion on "Principle and Power." The panelists will be Dr. Muehl, Rabbi Bergman of Sharon, Pennsylvania and Dr. Klienfelder of Pittsburgh. Also on the panel will be representatives from the Republican and Democratic parties. The topic under discussion will be: "Should an individual follow set principles strictly at all times, or should he make exception to rules in order to gain power, either political or personal?"

Monday morning the first of the series of Chapel Services at 10:00 a.m. will be held, with Dr. Muehl as speaker. The Tuesday service will feature Rabbi Bergman, and the Wednesday service will be a summary panel of Dr. Muehl, Rabbi Bergman, and Dr. Klienfelder.

Other events include a lecture by Dr. Muehl Sunday evening at 7:00 p.m., followed by a question and answer period and a Coffee Hour in the Pine Room, and a lecture by Father Ford Monday at 8:15 p.m., also in the Pine Room. Monday afternoon from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. there will be a Coffee Hour with Dr. Muehl, Rabbi Bergman and Father Ford in North Lounge of the College Union. Communications

As each year goes on, the enrollment of the college increases, but not following along with this increase are the outside telephone lines. At the present time, there are only 7 outside lines for Baldwin, Caffisch and Brooks Halls. With the majority of the students living in these buildings, it is evident that 7 outside lines are definitely inadequate.

On any evening during the week it is a trying task to reach the Brooks Hall operator because all the lines are busy. As far as trying to get an outside line from the dorms, it is as difficult.

The present telephone system is outrageously outdated, and there is no conceivable reason why extra lines cannot be put in or switchboards be placed in the individual dormitories.

One operator handling all the on-campus calls has also become inadequate. Possibly at one time the present switchboard system was able to handle the needs, but with the expansion now going on, it has become imperative that a more up-to-date and practical system be initiated.

Posters are to be placed on bulletin board which are provided in every building on campus and not on the doors or walls.

Student Aid Needed

There have been complaints as of late that the Campus is not presenting all the news. Unfortunately, we do not have the time nor the staff to go around to all the organizations to find out their news.

The only remedy that we can suggest to this problem is that each organization desiring publicity should contact us either in person, by phone, or by mail.

ACF

The Allegheny Christian Fellowship will hold a retreat at Bousson this Saturday for all interested students. Those who are going should meet in Brooks Circle at 1:15, Saturday afternoon.

Because of Religion - In - Life Week, there will be no regular meeting on October 26. There will, however, be a meeting on November 2. Dr. Douglas Pickering will speak on "Religious Symbolism and Art."

Socrates Club

The Socrates Club will listen to a recording of A. Powell Davies' sermon entitled "They Asked About God," on Tuesday, October 21 at 7 p.m. in Conference Room B of the CU.

Playshop

Anyone interested in reading for the December Playshop production of "The Glass Menagerie" may sign up in Mr. Hulbert's office.

Grooveology

Joel Kohut, president of Booster Club, will be interviewed Monday night, Oct. 20, by Briscoe Stephens and Al Redding on Grooveology 10:00 to 11:00 p.m. over WMGW.

Senior Class Party

There will be a senior class party, Friday, October 24 in the College Union. Further details will be announced later.

Kaldron Meeting

There will be a regular staff meeting of the Kaldron, 7:15 p.m., Tuesday, October 21, in the Kaldron office in the CU.

ACF

ACF is holding a retreat at Bousson on October 18 and 19. The Rev. George Reese will take part in this weekend of fun, fellowship and thought.

Student Chaperones

Several new student chaperones have been approved. They are: Bill Faber; Judy Royer Patterson; Jean Straka; Harry Blaney, Bob Naylor, Jack Kloff, and Bobbie Heller. The student chaperones may serve only on college approved property at social functions other than those to which they themselves belong.

CU Corner

by Sue Tigertt

Sunday evening, October 12, the large dining room of the CU was crowded by students and faculty to hear the performance of Pete Seeger and Sonny Terry. The folk songs and versatile instruments of Pete Seeger and the outstanding harmonica of Sonny Terry provided entertainment for a three hour session of fun and relaxation. The program was a real success and something to be remembered for a long time by everyone.

Next Thursday, October 23, at 4 p.m., the Union will present the first in a series of Allegheny Chamber Music Workshop concerts in the North Lounge of the College Union. The Chamber Music Workshop was a big success last year and will be of interest to old attendants as well as to freshmen. The first program for this year will include Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Neurath and Mrs. Ruby Cooper playing Beethoven's Trio 3 in C Minor and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn playing Telemann's Sonata for flute and piano.

Faculty Profile

Among this year's new faculty members is Miss Georgianna Scovil, teacher of solid states physics. For the benefit of the unenlightened, solid states physics deals only with the individual atoms in the solid state of elements. Miss Scovil is especially interested in the transition element of titanium and all other electrical properties.

Born in Bingham, New York, Miss Scovil comes from a family of six brothers and sisters. After graduating from high school there, she entered William Smith College. Later, she earned her M.A. and Ph.D. at Bryn Mawr.

Before coming to Allegheny, Miss Scovil taught at Vassar for four years. Since her teaching and learning experience has been limited to all-girl colleges, Miss Scovil is looking forward to the coeducational atmosphere here.

Miss Scovil expressed an interest in math but added that she prefers physics. She also enjoys sailing, golf, swimming, and is fond of good music.

Jr. Year In France

Students interested in spending their junior year in France, 1959-60, should begin making preparations now, it was announced. The program is administered by Sweet Briar College and is open to men and women students from accredited colleges and universities.

The itinerary includes a six week study of French in Tours followed by eight months study at the University of Paris. Students will live with French families.

The minimum requirements are: two years of college French with a B average or the equivalent, and a general academic average of B. Students from almost any field of concentration may apply. The 1958-59 group includes students majoring in Art, Comparative Literature, English, French, Government, History, International Relations, Music, Philosophy and Political Science.

Application must be made after the first semester no later than March 15, 1959. Address inquiries to: Professor R. John Mattew, Director, Junior Year in France, Sweet Briar, Virginia.

Letters to The Campus...

To the Editor:

Last year about this time four unsuspecting students applied for Washington Semester, having little idea of what they were getting into. Because of this we would like the student body and especially those juniors who might be interested in going this year to have a little better idea of what is involved.

Perhaps the most misunderstood fact is that this opportunity is not limited to just political science and history majors, but those persons majoring, for example, in English, economics, sociology, education, or any other major at Allegheny who has had a basic course in history and political science. Applying involves attending the meeting which Dr. Cares, chairman of the Washington Semester Program here at Allegheny, will call at the end of this month. At this meeting applications will be passed out to those interested. About a week after the applications are turned in the applicant will be interviewed by the Washington Semester Committee, which consists of the heads of the history, political science, English and economics departments and Dean Ross.

We four who participated last semester feel that it was one of the most enriching and enjoyable experiences of our college careers. We found after arriving in Washington in February, that among the ninety other students participating there were many different interests and backgrounds of learning, but with one thing in common: an interest in seeing government at the working level. The whole purpose of the program is to let students see at first hand the operation of the government. In doing this we had seminars approximately 5 times a week with men in government and in other organizations connected with government. Among them were Senator Monroney, Senator Clark, and Justice Douglas of the Supreme Court.

The whole Semester Program is such that each individual is able to concentrate his study in the area in which he is most interested. Aside from the governmental institutions in Washington, the city offers many cultural advantages.

We had a rather privileged status with many government officials. This facilitated making many other personal contacts which helped us with our research.

Another advantage of living in the city is that we became a part of a metropolitan way of living so different from the college atmosphere we are accustomed to here at Allegheny.

We learned a great deal about government and enjoyed ourselves very much at the same time. We want anyone interested in the Washington Semester Program to know what a unique and rewarding experience this was for all of us. We would be glad to talk to anyone who would like to know more about the program.

Sincerely,

Mickie Gittings

To the Editor:

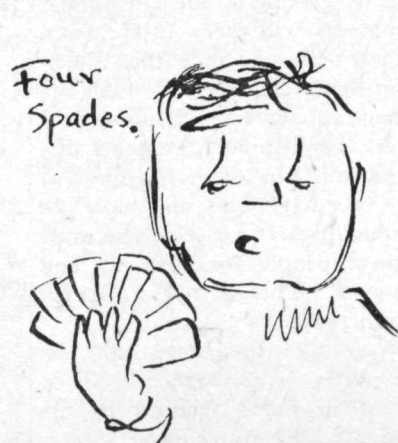

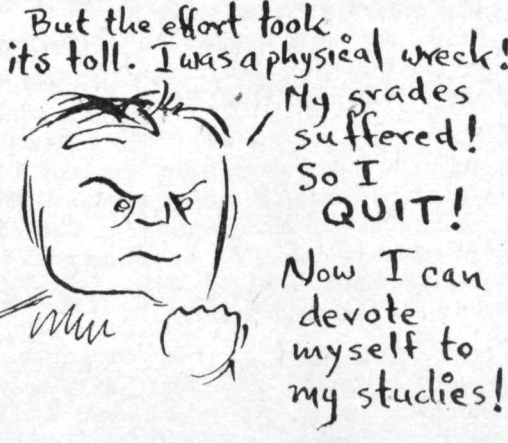

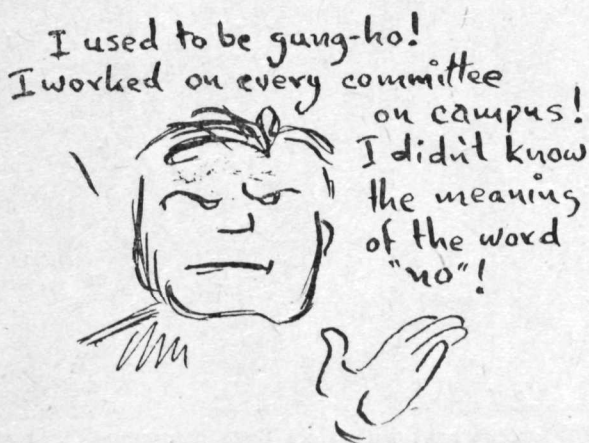

In the last issue of the Campus Mr. Kim posed three questions which were aimed at my brief statement of policy made at recent ASG elections.

Mr. Kim questions what was meant by too much concentration on the national and international scale. It would seem that he is not fully acquainted with campus opinion of NSA, if there is a so-called opinion. In the past the main portion of NSA publicity has been focused on certain resolutions passed in ASG concerning not a local campus issue but issues concerning some remote area, as Mr. Kim stated. I question how many people really know what NSA is, in fact I challenge Mr. Kim to find 50 students on campus that can define what NSA is and what it has done, etc.

This leads us to the second question posed by Mr. Kim. He questions what I mean by bringing NSA closer to the campus. The main point of my program is to acquaint the campus with what NSA really is, what functions it can perform on both the local campus and the national-international scene. I propose utilizing a weekly column in the Campus explaining NSA, its structure, its functions and its worth. Furthermore an extensive program has been outlined to the NSA committee which will concentrate on (Continued on Page 6)

Functions And Purposes Of NSA

It appears that the new ASG vice-president of National and International Affairs is attempting to bring NSA closer to the campus and the student. Recently the Campus had a letter on this topic, so perhaps the student body will be interested in knowing exactly what NSA is. The United States National Student Association is basically a federation of a number of autonomous student organizations from all over the United States, and today represents over a million college and university students all over the country.

In answer to the inevitable question, what is the function of NSA, no one answer can be given. In general, however, it can be said that NSA does on the national level what ASG does on the local campus level.

Article Two of the constitution of ASG says, "The purposes of this organization are: to organize and co-ordinate programs of co-curricular nature; to actively promote the educational goals of the college; to crystallize and reflect undergraduate opinion; to cooperate effectively with faculty and administration in areas common to us as a college community."

While in the preamble to the constitution of NSA one finds, "We, the students of the United States of America, desiring . . . to develop better educational standards, facilities and teaching methods, to improve student cultural, social and physical welfare, to foster the recognition of the rights and responsibilities of students to the school, the community, humanity and God . . . do hereby establish this constitution of the United States National Student Association."

The similarity is too great to need any comment. The student body of any institution of learning which has been recognized by the U.S. Office of Education may affiliate with NSA provided they accept the constitution and by-laws.

NSA functions through a legislative body known as the National Student Congress. The congress meets each summer, and is the final authority on policy, staff and all executive matters. Voting powers at a Congress are proportionate to the number of students each college has registered for the year. The details of elections, officers, policy declaration, etc., are handed down amended or changed in the prescribed way.

There have been various opinions about NSA, and its so-called political activities. Students here will recall the petition that NSA sponsored last year against Apartheid in South African Universities. Much has been said both in favor of and against this type of student activity. One student at Allegheny was heard to remark, a few days after the Eleventh National Congress this summer, that NSA was a "Pressure Group". Although various critics have said various things, NSA has yet to be called "undemocratic". If there is any dissatisfaction with any role that NSA chooses to play, members can, and do, protest. However, in concluding this article, perhaps it would be comforting to anyone who fears that NSA may exceed their own ideas as to the powerful Article X of the NSA Constitution to quote it.

"Nobody acting on behalf of USNSA shall participate in sectarian religious activities, or partisan political activities; they shall not take part in activities which do not affect students in their role as students."

"No substantial part of the activities of the national and regional bodies of USNSA shall be devoted to carrying on propaganda or otherwise attempting to influence legislation."

"The Congress, between sessions of the National Executive Committee, may declare the action by anybody other than the Congress acting on behalf of USNSA to have violated sections A or B above and shall prohibit and disassociate the USNSA from such action".

Dance In Stables Features Crofut

Tonight from seven to eleven a dance will be held at the College stables, just below the football field. This will be sponsored by the Boots and Saddles Club and the College Union.

A colorful and rustic atmosphere will be provided by having Japanese lanterns and bales of hay placed in the vacated horse stalls to serve as seats for those who want to relax.

Local talent will entertain and Bill Crofut will lead a song fest. Refreshments consisting of fresh country cheeses, crackers, cider, coffee and cake will be served. The dress is very informal (slacks, bermudas, etc.) and all are welcome — stag or drag. Plenty of parking space is available at the football stadium.

So if you are interested in having a lot of fun in the old fashioned way come out to the old barn tonight.

Stadtlander Books Donated To Library

Over a period of several years, Miss Elizabeth Stadtlander donated more than five hundred volumes to Reis Library and greatly strengthened the role of the library in the educational program.

In 1947, 1952, 1954 and 1956, Miss Stadtlander donated many fine editions, both classics and modern fiction, from her own library. If these both proved to be duplicates, Reis Library was free to use these in needy libraries or give them to worthy students. In 1950, her mother also presented the library of her uncle, Mr. P. O. Menke.

Besides her donations of books, Miss Stadtlander's enthusiasm for children's literature led to the establishment of the collection of juvenile literature which serves as the laboratory for Education 9, the Language Arts for the Elementary Schools.

spirit. The atmosphere is far from the stiff presentation of a formal concert and in contrast the players and audience relax and let themselves be carried away by the music. Plans at Allegheny are in the process to retain this important aspect of performance. The audience will be limited in size by the number of tickets available. This is a two day program and the audience will gain the most from this opportunity by attending on both evenings to hear the two completely different programs.

Tickets are free and available while they last. Beginning Monday, October 20, tickets will be available at the College Union desk in Cochran Hall. The program will be presented in the College Union, Cochran Hall.

Pederson Receives Wilson Fellowship

Douglas Pedersen, a June 1958 graduate of this college, has received a Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship to do graduate work in the history of art at Princeton University. The Fellowship carries a living allowance of $1,400 for single students, with increments for dependents, and pays the full cost of tuition and fees.

Pederson began college at Princeton as a student in the engineering school. Deciding to major in English literature, he transferred to Allegheny. Here he became a contributor to the Kaldron and the Literary Magazine. Then he withdrew from school to spend several months in Florence and Rome, writing and visiting museums. On his return to this country he became editor of a trade journal. Returning to Europe, this time to study literature at Manchester University, he became more and more attached to the visual arts, and became an assistant to an art dealer in New York. Finally he returned to Allegheny to complete his undergraduate work and then to work for a doctorate in the history of art. He plans to enter college teaching after he finishes his graduate work.

Pedersen is one of the thousand prospective college teachers in the United States and Canada who are entering graduate schools this fall on Woodrow Wilson National Fellowships. Recently, the Ford Foundation gave the Fellowship Foundation $25,000,000 to aid outstanding first-year graduate students. In order to be considered for a fellowship a student must be nominated by a faculty member.

Nominations for Woodrow Wilson Fellowships for next year must be made by Faculty members by October 31, 1958. Those interested in more information should see Dean Julian L. Ross, or write directly to the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, Box 642, Princeton, New Jersey.

Horoscope predictions may come true tomorrow night, if the girls take advantage of the opportunity provided for them by the annual Pan-Hellenic dance. This girl-ask-boy affair will take place from 9 p.m. until 12 p.m. in the College Union.

The astronomical theme, "Greek Galaxy," will be developed through the use of multi-dimensional stars. Each star will bear the Greek symbols of one of the campus sororities.

Highlighting the evening will be the introduction of the pledges for each sorority at 10:30 p.m.

All girls are urged to bring a date and dance to the music of Pat DeLessio's orchestra. The dress is Sunday clothes.

Gators Nip Bisons 12-8; Grovers Next

Bethany Second Gator PAC Victim; Steiner, Mann, Baker Lead Offence

by Walt Boehme, Sports Editor

At College Field for the first three quarters of last week's game, the Gators pushed Bethany all over the gridiron, but weakened a bit in the fourth quarter, almost allowing the Bisons to emerge with the victory. However, Allegheny was able to stave off the Bison threat, and win by a 12-8 score, their second straight PAC victory giving them first place in the conference. The score was certainly not indicative of the difference between the two teams. Viewing the game, one would think that a three touchdown Allegheny victory would have been a more probable conclusion.

Ron Steiner, the starting sophomore quarterback replacing the injured Dick Buerger, did a machine-like job in directing the Gator offense to the game's first touchdown. He returned the opening Bethany kickoff to the Gator 41, and eleven plays, four first downs later, handed off to Larry Gould who scored from the one on a plunge over right guard. With this display of finesse it seemed that the Gators were going to make a rout of the game, but the smooth appearing offence was to sputter later.

Bethany Threatens

Bethany, after receiving the Gator kickoff, formulated two threats in the first half but were stopped both times. The first threat came about the first quarter when Bob Goin, Bethany fullback, took a hand-off on the Allegheny 39 and ran to the 20 before being hit and fumbling. An alert Larry Gould recovered. The second threat occurred near the end of the second quarter when the Bisons moved from their 47 to inside the Allegheny 10. During this drive, Coach Chuckran made liberal substitutions as he was leading 12-0, and the replacements could not contain the Bisons. However, the first string returned and halted the Bethany drive on the six.

The second Allegheny touchdown was scored during the second quarter, with a drive featuring a 21-yard run by Baker to the Bethany 19. During this drive Maglisceau, filling in for Steiner who was shaken up on a play, handled the ball very neatly. However, Steiner was in to direct the second touchdown scored by Baker on a short plunge from the one.

On the first play from scrimmage in the second half, Chauncey Mann ran for 68 yards and a seeming touchdown but it was claimed that he stepped out of bounds on the Bethany 16. Here the ball was located and the again sputtering Gator offence could not score, relinquishing the ball on the seven.

Fourth Quarter Rally

In the fourth quarter all seemed in the bag for the Gators and the pressure they had kept on Bethany for three quarters eased. Here, Bethany took the play away from the Gators. Goin, the fullback who led the other Bethany threat, was instrumental in the only Bethany

Bill Baker
Co-Captain — Gator Team

Baker Comments On Rising Team Spirit

by Ralph Macek

Bill Baker, Allegheny's starting right halfback, has been a big asset to this year's Gator team. Bill, who scored one of the Blue and Gold's two vital touchdowns on Saturday, has been chosen to be one of this year's co-captains. His football career began in East Aurora, N.Y., where he was a member of his high school team, and it has continued through this, his fourth successful year at Allegheny.

Bill, who is a 21 year old senior, is treasurer of Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity. He is also the treasurer of the Block "A" Club. When asked about the team's chances for winning the PAC crown this year, he replied that if the spirit that the team showed at the Bethany Game continues, Allegheny has a very good chance of ending up on top. Bill also said that the team's spirit was just beginning to come on at Rochester, and that which they displayed during the Bethany game was the best that he

by Bruce Herold

The Gators will go for their third straight victory of the season tomorrow when they travel to Grove City College. They will attempt to ruin Grove City's Homecoming game and avenge last year's defeat at the hands of the Grovers.

While Allegheny humbled Bethany last week, Grove City was edged by Edinboro, 19-14. Tomorrow's game should prove to be a fairly even match between Allegheny and Grove City, on the basis of the scores of their previous games.

Grove City's team this year is a big veteran team with a line averaging 210 pounds. This team has a solid backfield which includes two men, Maraffi and Lamatta, who run quite well; another back to watch is the quarterback Thompson who will be passing to the big end Hayes. Hayes weighs 235 pounds and is six feet four inches tall. Last year in compiling a 5-3-0 record, Grove City defeated the Gators by a 14-0 score. So far this year Grove City stands 1-1, defeating Washington and Jefferson in their first game 15-11.

In an interview with the athletic director and football coach of Grove City, Mr. Behringer, a number of opinions on some of the players on the Allegheny team were answered. Mr. Behringer felt that Allegheny has one of the most improved teams in the PAC. He felt that with players like Mann, Baker, and Gould, the team would be hard to stop. He said that Mann and Baker are good runners and Gould is dangerous on plunges through the line. He also gave credit to the great line that Allegheny has this year.

The race in the President's Conference is shaping up into a good battle. Allegheny is now leading the conference with a perfect 2-0 record. But Wayne State or Case Tech could move into second place depending on which one wins the game tomorrow. John Carroll, which is supposed to win the crown this year can gain some ground if they can defeat Bethany tomorrow. Thiel will also be trying to improve their record when they face W & J. The important game tomorrow will be the one between Wayne State and Case Tech. But regardless of the outcome Allegheny will still have the best record.

has witnessed in his four years of playing for Allegheny.

In Bill's own words: "I think that the team exhibited more determination, aggressiveness, and competitive spirit in the game with Bethany, than I've seen from any Allegheny football squad in my four years. With the victory over W & J, this attitude became more pronounced and proved to be a major factor in our win over Bethany. If we continue to exhibit this spirit, I feel we will defeat any opponent that confronts us.

"As for the possibility of taking the PAC championship, our chances are very strong if we continue to play in the manner of last Saturday."

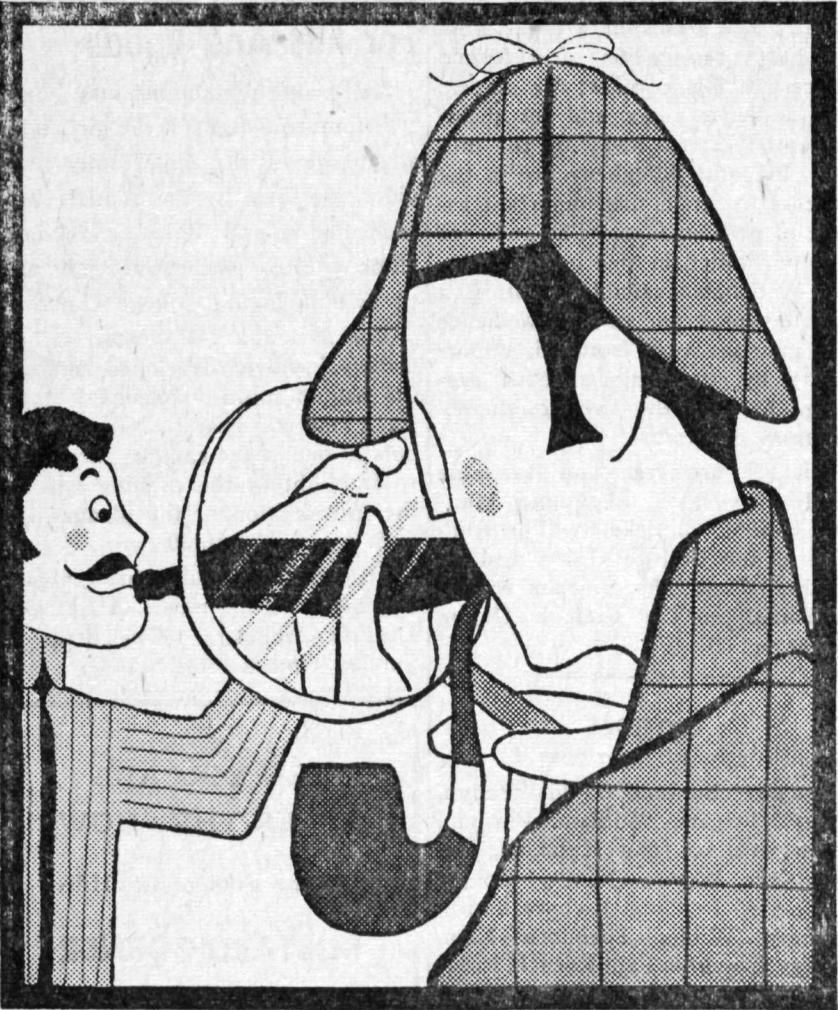

By beating W & J and Bethany, the Gators have maintained a perfect conference record. They have yet to face Thiel, Case Tech, and John Carroll within the conference.

Blue And Gold Soccer Team Tied By Western Reserve Booters

by Dave Stitely

Although returning from Rochester last Friday with their spirits deflated after a very disheartening game, the Gators took to the field Tuesday afternoon full of pep and a real desire to win. With a few minor changes coach Bill Hanson fielded the same team as at Rochester, but it was improved over last week and showed signs of shaping into a good all-around team. Even when on the short end of a 3-1 score at half time, the team didn't quit, but fought back to a 5-5 tie after overtime.

Mike Boyle, with three goals, and Tom Bastian with one were the scorers for Allegheny, while we must give thanks to a Western Reserve player, who accidentally kicked the ball into our goal, for our other tally. For Western Reserve the big guns were Glyniadakis with 3 and Miller and Kiparski each scoring one.

Talking with Boyle after the game, he expressed the opinion that with better play in the first half of the game Allegheny might have come out on top instead of tie. The Gators scored twice in the third period and once in the fourth while holding Western Reserve to only one goal during this same time to make the score 4-4 at the end of the regulation time. Coming out for the overtime, Allegheny quickly booted in one goal and led 5-4, but victory just wasn't to be had as Western Reserve also came back to score making the final score 5-5.

Today the team goes to Grove City for a non-conference game.

Campus Clashes

At the conclusion of the second week of intramural football, only the Phi Psis remained unbeaten. This team scored their first win of the week when they beat the SAEs 14-6. In this game Ronnie Watson made two touchdowns for the Phi Psis and George Riley scored for the SAEs. In their second game the Phi Psis won 12-6 over the Phi Deltas. In this game Watson passed to Barker and Fleming for two touchdowns. Moore ran twenty yards for a touchdown for the Phi Deltas.

The Phi Deltas ran over the Theta Chis 24-4. Roger Lund, Sykes Reed, Bob Stubbe and Tom Smith made the scores. The Theta Chis made two safeties for their only score. The Phi Deltas also defeated the Chi Rhos 20-6 as Reed scored two touchdowns and Patterson one. The Chi Rhos scored their touchdown by Koegel. In this game there were numerous injuries and 150 yards of penalties awarded.

The SAEs scored an impressive win over the Deltas 32-2. The scores were made by Riley who scored two, and Cady who did likewise. Pelfer also scored for the SAEs. The Deltas only score was a safety. Again the SAEs scored an impressive win as they smothered the Phi Gams 36-6. Szoszorek scored two touchdowns on runs and Cady made

Mike Boyle Leads Gator Soccer Scorers

High scorer for Tuesday's game and one of the mainstays of Coach Hanson's soccer team is Mike Boyle. Mike, a native of Haifa, Israel, has grown up with soccer, for soccer in Israel is the national sport like baseball is in America. It is played on every vacant lot by almost every child in the neighborhood.

Mike's father works for the foreign department of a New Jersey Construction Co. explaining Mike's residence in various places throughout the world. After his freshman year in high school, Mike's family came to the United States for a year, then moved to Capetown, South Africa where he finished high school. In Capetown, he was on the first string hockey team, played hand ball, ran cross country and took part in various other athletics, including tennis which he likes very much. Mike has a philosophy about sports, and that is: he will try any sport once, even if he can't master it, he'll try and play as best as he can. Mike pointed out that in South Africa, a player wins a jacket of the school colors instead of a letter as is the custom in the United States for participation in athletics.

It was while in Capetown that Mike wrote to several colleges here in the U.S., and on the basis of letters received from each decided that Allegheny was the one for him. Another factor in the decision was that this section of the country was within a reasonable distance of East Orange, N.J. which is his father's employer's home base. Mike started his freshman year with the idea of going through the 3-2 plan majoring in science, but has since decided to switch to sociology. During his two years at Allegheny, Mike has been and/or is in the International Relations Club, R.O.T.C. band, the Spanish Club, the Outing Club and is now feature editor of the Campus.

This is Mike's first year of varsity soccer competition at Allegheny for he felt that time didn't permit him to put all that was needed into soccer during his freshman and sophomore years. He did however take an active part in intramural sports during his first years on campus.

Asked about soccer in the U.S. as compared with other countries, Mike stated that he wished that it was a more popular sport and that more people would try to understand the game. Except for a few minor differences, the rules are the same as everywhere else but Mike did wish to say that he thought sportsmanship could be a little better in the U.S. In Israel a player wouldn't think of arguing with a referee or another player as is often done here.

Mike wants to express his and the team's thanks to all the students and teachers who were at the game Tuesday and also to the cheerleaders for a very fine job. He hopes that the interest will continue and maybe grow as it is a big help to the squad when the attendance for games is good.

touchdown. He passed from the Allegheny 49 to the 22 to Frankel and alternating carries with Frankel moved the ball to the Allegheny seven. Hoffman carried to the two and Harry McKinley scored. Goin passed to Anderson for the two extra points.

The yards gained leader was again Mann for the Gators with a 161-yard total. The Gators dominated the ground game, a credit to the at times efficient offense. The already recognized stalwart defense was excellent. The Bison team which had scored three touchdowns through the air against Western Reserve, was held to four completions out of ten attempts. The two fill-in quarterbacks Steiner and Maglisceau, did excellent jobs handling the ball with Maglisceau contributing a great deal on pass defense.

trate its efforts on orientation of the freshmen. Pamphlets will be distributed to the freshmen explaining NSA and later on in the year members of the committee will meet with freshman groups to further explain NSA. An extensive publicity program will be started to acquaint the campus with NSA scholarship files and NSA travel grants. This poses another interesting question—how many people realize that NSA has a travel program which enables students to travel abroad at much cheaper rates than can be had elsewhere? How many people realize that NSA is no mere “do nothing group”, but a powerful lobby group which in a sense is the only voice a student has in the creation of federal legislation? How many people know that NSA lobbied for the Federal Aid to Education Act and helped to gain so vital an aid to education?

Mr. Kim unfortunately terms some of the people on our campus as “lifeless living beings . . . who don't care what's going on around them.” I feel that perhaps Mr. Kim has misinterpreted the student feeling as being apathetic when it is not. How can one care about an organization if one doesn't know what it is or what it does? He states that NSA has done something on campus but he fails to cite what it has done in relation to what it can do.

In short my policy is to try to create some awareness of what NSA is, what it can do and what it has done. There is an old saying which is appropriate at this time. It states “Clean your own house before you try to tell someone else how to clean up theirs.” If this is provincialism and localism then so be it, but this is my policy and on this I stand.

Respectfully yours,

Veteran and Transfer Group by the Alpha Xi Delta Sorority.

The evening's festivities began with a scramble to find jumbled tags, pinned on both boys and girls, each person trying to find his or her own tags containing name, hometown, etc. This gave everyone a good chance to meet all the people and started the party moving at a fast pace. After everyone had found themselves, at least in tag form, a series of skits was performed by several of the Alpha Xi Delta members. A fashion show, displaying the latest in male campus styles, was held to further orientate the new Alleghenians. Mr. Ambercrombie, a gentleman of strikingly female characteristics, modeled clothing from bedwear to winter wear with the help of an able wardrobe assistant. All of a sudden the party was invaded by a visitor from outer space, a real, live “Purple People Eater” complete with one eye and purple feet. After the invader was evicted came record pantomimes, selections by the Alpha Xi mixed chorus, and a final entry of the current Hula Hoop craze in contest form.

A solemn ceremony ended the evening. Each veteran and transfer student present was officially sworn in as a He-Xi, the male satellite of the Alpha Xi's.
