OLD ALLEGHENY'S SECOND CENTURY ENDOWMENT CAMPAIGN PROGRESSES

ALPHA CHI SIGMA WILL INITIATE TEN

PROFESSIONAL CHEMISTRY FRATERNITY COMPLETES CEREMONIES TONIGHT.

"I am in search of the philosopher's stone" was the only reply of the group of men gathering stones from the Campus drive, as a portion of the Alpha Chi Sigma initiation, culminating tonight. Pledge pins were to be seen last Wednesday on the lapels of Frederick Pond, '20; Walter Swanson, '22; Hamblen C. Eaton, '22; T. W. McCreary, '22, and G. Byron Hafer, C. R. Wimmer, George Chaplin, R. D. Bacon, C. H. Wills, and Charles E. Kinney, all of '23.

Attempts during the remainder of last week and the first part of this resulted in baskets well filled with suspected gems, and on last evening the chapter rendered its decision. Tonight will complete the initiation and the membership of the professional fraternity will then be augmented to thirty.

Phi Chapter was instituted at Allegheny in 1913, mainly through the untiring efforts of Dr. Lee. At that time the Chemistry department was occupying cramped quarters in the former Alden Hall. Thirteen men, comprising the Alden Alembic Club, applied for and received a charter from the national fraternity of Alpha Chi Sigma.

As an organization restricting membership to those who intend to pursue chemistry as their profession, Alpha Chi Sigma was considered the most desirable addition to the local fraternities and the college that could be available. Starting at the University of Wisconsin in 1902, it has pursued a steady growth, so that now, there is a total of thirty active and no inactive chapters. Its expansion has been impartial and chapters have been located at the best universities, colleges and technical schools in the country. To mention its groups at the state universities of Ohio, Pennsylvania, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois and Colorado, at Case and the University of Cincinnati, Massachusetts Tech, University of Pittsburgh, Cornell, Northwestern, Harvard, Yale and Stanford, places it as a professional fraternity of wide discrimination. The total membership has now reached nearly twenty-six hundred.

Only about eighty men have been elected into the local chapter in its nine years of growth. A spurt of the Chemistry department, caused largely by better facilities at the new Carnegie Hall, caused a corresponding growth in the fraternity, until during this year, the chapter felt itself able to take in some fifteen prospective chemists, five last fall and the remaining number at the present time. As careful choice has characterized the chapter this year as in preceding ones, and with the completion of tonight's ceremonies, the thirty men will maintain the national fraternity's high standard.

CHESS CLUB IS FORMED BY 20 ALLEGHENY MEN

New Organization Will Schedule Tournament With Pitt Club

Under the name of the Allegheny College Chess Club, a group of men of the college have effected an organization during the past week which will take its place among the clubs on the Hill. About twenty men have joined the club, and half as many more, have expressed their desire to become members.

The organization took place at a meeting held in Cochran Hall on the evening of March thirty-first, at which time the club effected a temporary organization. A constitution was drawn up, and officers were elected. The results of the election were that P. S. Dwyer was made president; H. H. Buchanan, vice-president, and J. R. Ross, secretary-treasurer.

The purpose of the club is to promote interest and proficiency in the game of chess among the students,

ST. CECILIA CLUB WILL PRESENT INDIAN PLAY

ORGANIZATION WILL PRODUCE "NAWADAH AND HIS TRIBE" ON APRIL 19.

ST. CECILIA.

Tuesday evening, April 19, the St. Cecilia Club will present the Indian playlet, "Nawadaha and His Tribe," in the Chapel. The part of Nawadaha, which is the Indian name for "Legend Bearer" and about whom the story centers, is to be taken by Mildred Ellis. He is the medicine man or master of ceremonies and the one to whom all the tribe look in reverence and awe.

The whole club will be in Indian costume. Many scenes of Indian life will be portrayed and some of the beautiful traditional songs of the Indians will be sung. There will also be a couple of characteristic Indian dances. The costumes, the real Indian blankets of beautiful colors and designs, the camp fire, and the teepee will be features of the production.

CAST IS CHOSEN FOR BARRIE PLAY

KLEE-O-KLEET WILL PRESENT "QUALITY STREET" IN CHAPEL ON MAY 3.

Tryouts for "Quality Street," to be given by Klee-o-Kleet on May 3, were held Tuesday, March 15. The cast chosen is as follows: Valentine Brown, Helen Shaffer; Sergeant, Clara Weller; Lieutenant Blades, Dorothy Mussler; Spicer, Mildred Steele; Arthur, Helen Bowman; Phoebe, Elouise Fink; Miss Susan, Elizabeth McLaren; Miss Willoughby, Mary Whitfield; Miss Fanny Willoughby, Wilhemina Traut; Miss Henrietta Turnbull, Grace Running; Charlotte, Virginia Grenelle; Harriet, Eleanor Diffin; Patty, Marjorie Lillie; and Isabelle, Mary Kathryn Barnes.

Rehearsals are being held daily under the direction of Dr. J. R. Schultz. The play has been successfully produced in many sections of the country.

"OUR CAMPUS" IS SUBJECT OF DISCUSSION.

"Our Campus" was the subject at the Y. W. C. A. meeting, led by Elizabeth McLaren, '22. "Though years may come and go, Allegheny College, our cross section of the world, will always remain the same."

Dorothy Kurtz, '24, talked of "Our Campus and Its Problems." Studies are not the most important part of college life; rather, the contact with people and development of character. Janet Budy, '24, sang a solo, "Open the Door of Heaven."

Dr. and Mrs. Swartley are now in their beautiful home at 565 Williams Street.

OFFICES OPENED IN BENTLEY HALL

PUBLICITY WORK IS UNDER WAY

Doctor Dayton McClain of Philadelphia Is Now In The Field

Work is well under way in the raising of the Allegheny Second Century endowment fund and the task of organization has nearly been completed. Committees for development here at the college and in Pittsburgh already have their headquarters established while the general organization work is being rapidly carried on by experts in that line of work.

The committee in charge of the development here at Allegheny has its offices in Bentley Hall. These offices are now open and will be furnished with telephones, desks, and other necessary equipment to carry out the program.

Already one expert solicitor, Doctor Dayton McClain, of Philadelphia, is in the field. Others of the Department of Finance will come as soon as things are ready.

Publicity material is being prepared and will be sent out to the large mailing list of fifty thousand people—all friends of Allegheny College.

Arthur W. Thompson, President of the Board of Trustees and General Chairman of the Campaign Committee of One Hundred Five, has been preparing charts and making preliminary surveys of the Pittsburgh district. As Mr. Thompson has said, "We are entering upon a new era, a five-year period having just closed and with these additional funds Allegheny will be able to increase her faculty and broaden her education program together with other needs." He is indeed doing his best to make the movement a success which those in charge claim it must be. Mr. Thompson has very capable aides in the Board of Trustees, representatives of the alumni of the college, representatives of the faculty and of the student body, the Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Pittsburgh, the district superintendents of the Pittsburgh and Erie Conferences and prominent laymen in each community in Western Pennsylvania, eastern Ohio, New York, and upper West Virginia.

When it comes to the Pittsburgh development the committee will be able to take the friends of the college, located in that city, by storm, as full preparations are being made. The committee will establish its headquarters there in the Arcade Building.

President Hixson and other members of the faculty are also working earnestly to make this great movement the big success of the New Allegheny.

Meeting in Des Moines, Iowa, last May the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church approved of certain Methodist schools, academies, colleges and universities for financial development within the next eight years.

FRENCH CLUB PLAY COMING APRIL 15

CAST PREPARING UNDER GUIDANCE OF DR. CHURCH AND MISS DAW.

What would you do, young woman, if you were married to a "Prince Charmant," and his rich uncle and only source of income should cut your newly acquired husband's allowance to nothing a year, refusing even to see you, and giving you no chance whatever to plead your case?

Would you, for instance, enter his household under the guise of his housekeeper's niece, and then deliberately make love to the old boy? Would you even make him propose to you? Well, you might, but it is to be doubted.

Adrienne, enacted by Claribel Belknap, does just that in "Ete de la Saint Martin," which will be presented in the Chapel on April 15. If you don't believe that Wilbur Thoburn can impersonate a grouchy Uncle, or that Marion Morrison is an efficient housekeeper, you will at least admit that H. Merrill Maitland can be a charming lover—is a charming lover, and for all that, probably always will be a charming lover.

ALLEGHENY GRADUATE BECOMES A MEMBER OF THE FACULTY

The college has added another instructor to the faculty in the person of C. A. Mulfinger A. B. Mr. Mulfinger is a graduate of Allegheny of the class of '15. Before coming to Allegheny Mr. Mulfinger was an instructor at State College for two and one-half years and at Illinois Medical School for three and one-half years. Professor Mulfinger will teach Comparative Anatomy and Embryology for the remainder of the year.

DUZER DU SCORES IN LATEST PLAY

"NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH" GIVES EVIDENCE OF CAREFUL COACHING.

Presenting "Nothing But the Truth" in the Gym on Thursday evening, March 17, the Duzer Du Dramatic Club gave its eleventh play before a large and appreciative house. Various local thrills aroused considerable merriment at the start, and excellent interest was maintained from that time. Ably directed by Dr. J. R. Schultz, the play was a marked success. With M. W. Hartman and Thomas Francis at the managing end, and N. W. Kerr and J. E. Larson in charge of the stage and properties, the entertainment was well conducted from every point of view.

DUZER DU ELECTS NEW MEMBERS

At a meeting of the Duzer Du Club on last Friday evening, the following men were elected into the organization because of manifestation of some histrionic or managerial ability: G. F. Dunbar, '21; E. H. Bacon, '21; Houser, '24; Severn, '22; Bates, '23; Davis, '24; Gealy, '24; Shirer, '23; Wills, '23; R. Russell, '23; Knapp, '24, and P. W. Clark, '23.

The scenes were laid in the office and home of E. M. Ralston, a hard-headed business man, and much was the applause caused by F. H. Bacon in his representation. The action centered about a bet contracted by Bob Bennett, that he would be able to cease preparations for a period of twenty-four hours, and he was able to do so, in spite of the combined efforts of the rest of the characters. As Bennett, George Dunbar was able to display this histrionic ability. Sidney Carlson played very amusingly the part of the Bishop with his appalling ignorance of business and its ways. As Van Dusen, Samuel P. Bates, and as Dick Donnelly, William Severn, were able to put several spokes into the wheel of Bennett's bet.

As Bennett's fiancée and E. M.'s daughter, Theodore Brookhouser, as Gwen, adapted himself well to the part. At times his softly modulated voice, exercised, however, in some

DR. CRAWFORD SENDS HIS REGARDS TO COLLEGE

PRESIDENT EMERITUS PRESENTS ALLEGHENY WITH RARE SPECIMEN.

Dr. Darling received a letter from Dr. Crawford, president emeritus of Allegheny, during the last week, in which he and Mrs. Crawford send their kindest regards to the college. Dr. Crawford stated that they are in the best of health and enjoying the sunny California climate. Dr. and Mrs. Crawford have been touring from Pasadena to Imperial Valley, California, and report many beautiful and interesting sights along their trip.

While touring through Southern California the former president picked up a specimen of agatized wood. On a close examination this specimen was found to be one of a very rare variety and of considerable value. Dr. Crawford has presented it to the college and it now may be seen in the college museum. He writes that he hopes to make a visit to Meadville in the near future.

COMBINED CLUBS WILL PRESENT COMIC OPERA

GILBERT AND SULLIVAN PRODUCTION WILL BE STAGED IN GYMNASIUM.

When W. S. Gilbert and Arthur Sullivan conceived the idea, and got their heads together to write and compose "The Gondoliers, or the King of Barataria," a new level for cleverness and originality in comic opera was attained.

Were it not for the fact that that combined glee clubs of the college are at work day and night, preparing to produce this highly amusing two-act comic opera, students of Allegheny College would be only slightly interested in the results of the collaboration of these two men. But since Alleghenians are to have the privilege of seeing the production on the evening of May 17, a complete account of the opera and the plans for its production is quite pertinent.

In producing the opera, advantage will be taken of the splendid opportunities afforded by the gymnasium for the staging of so large a production. The stage will be built much the same as for the Duzer Du play, except that it will of necessity be much larger. Settings and costumes will be secured in New York. Those who have attended functions in the gymnasium realize the almost perfect acoustics of the hall, and the added pleasure it would give to the hearing of a musical production such as this.

Mr. Frank Hardman will direct. Miss Spalding will assist with the dramatic coaching. Miss Elna Daw will coach the clubs in the preparation of the dances, one of which is an Italian Cachucha, occurring in the

SAM MAXWELL IS SPEAKER SUNDAY

FORMER Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY HERE TALKS AT WEEKLY SERVICE.

Rev. Samuel Maxwell, formerly Y. M. C. A. secretary here, preached the sermon Sunday morning. His subject was "Love Thy Neighbor."

"Master, what is the greatest commandment? Jesus gave two principles from which three words, 'Love thy neighbor,' may be considered the greatest of all commandments. Today many give a social interpretation to religion. They take it as a guide in their political and economic interests, but we owe something to every one. Thus religion should light the pathway for individual acting. Humanity has been a big religious word of the world for the last few years. Charities and organizations of various kinds have been formed to help in the progress of the race. These are institutions which aid our neighbors as a mass, and when we give to them we are doing Christian deeds.

The most effective way of giving and loving is in the form of scientific service. We all cannot go as missionaries to foreign countries nor aid in social work in other lands, but we can give our money and at the same time be helping our neighbors all over the world. But we must not do all our serving by proxy, individual work is needed, and this with personal sacrifice, has in many cases resulted in the awakening of true religion in the heart of the individual. In the book "Queed" the doctor is trying to write a book on altruism but he is not interested in humanity nor any of his neighbors as individuals, so he makes a failure of his writing.

When Christ said: "As much as ye have done it unto the least of these, ye have done it unto me," he did not mean that this should be taken as anything but a vital truth of reaction. If no individual work is done, the only way we will know Christ is by our proxy serving. If Christianity is to be a vital part of our lives we must do more than discuss theology by our firesides. Sunday school teaching, social service work or any manner of service where individual contact takes place has the greatest of influence on our lives, although at the time the deeds are done they seem trivial. Loving the individual changes ones viewpoint, but the only thing we can truly love is a human; thus our lives are constantly changing. In a certain Sunday school there was a man who had charge of a class. He was not a Christian and often would commit a wrong deed. The superintendent was a very devout man and each time the teacher would commit a wrong he would encourage him to do better and go back to his class and, under this influence, after some time he overcame his de-

DOCTOR BROWN CONDUCTS SPECIAL SERVICES HERE

Allegheny Graduate Speaks Daily On Problems Of College Life

With Dr. Brown's talks in the chapel yesterday there opened a series of special services which will continue throughout the week. Dr. Brown will talk at the regular chapel service each day and every evening in the chapel from 6:45 to 7:30. The general subject matter of his talks concerns the problems of college life. In view of the fact that the speaker is not only a college man but a graduate of our own institution, Dr. Hixson is of the opinion that what he has to say will be of direct and valuable application to life on the Hill.

This is the first time for a number of years that such an opportunity has been given the students for personal contact with a man of like experience. Any questions which naturally arise as to the practicality of Christianity will be discussed. The time set aside for the meetings is arranged so that all may attend. Special musical numbers for the program are provided by Mr. Stewart. Dr. Brown also speaks at the regular chapel service.

Dr. Brown came to Allegheny from Albion College, graduating in 1901. He has been pastor successively of the Grace M. E. Church, Meadville; of the First M. E. Church, of Fredonia, N. Y.; of the First M. E. Church of Franklin, Pa.; of the Asbury M. E. Church of Rochester, N. Y., and at present is pastor of Richmond Avenue Church of Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Brown is a member of the Sigma Chi and Phi Beta Kappa fraternities. Three years ago he took a trip around the world as a sort of missionary enterprise. With this wide field of experience, Dr. Brown cannot fail to hold the interest of every wide-awake student.

BRAVE MEN BURGLARIZE HULINGS.

"I know something about you I won't tell," says the little 8-year-old when she is trying to bother her schoolmate. The men who broke into Hulings Hall and stole diaries and letters remind one of the little girl. Such a trick shows the mentality of a child.

To say that this deed was unworthy of college students who flatter themselves by the appellation of "men" is stating the case very mildly indeed. There have been times when men have broken into the hall during the school term. However, these men might be excused in part by assuming that their act resulted from a craving for excitement, perverted though it might be. So far as a rational person can discern, though, there is no excitement to be had by breaking into a deserted building unless, indeed, one is afraid of ghosts.

The stealing of the diary and letters is so despicable that it makes a college student ashamed that the act can be attributed to any of his schoolmates. Heretofore the men of this college have found excitement in class scraps and athletic contests but this means appears too boisterous for the men who burglarized Hulings Hall during vacation. For individuals who consider this kind of a trick excitement knitting and embroidery must be their milder pastimes. They will undoubtedly turn out some beautiful sweaters before the year is over.

RUSHING AND PLEDGING.

The fact that at their recent dinner the fraternity traveling and field secretaries unanimously expressed themselves in favor of an entirely unrestricted rushing and pledging season is very significant. These men have made a study of various systems in many different institutions at close hand, have watched their working and results and their opinion is that of well-informed experts.

We have never yet known of a system of restrictions that by the most optimistic could be called a success or that has given general satisfaction. Where the rules are imposed by the local Interfraternity Council, as is generally the case, the Council is sooner or later disrupted by squabbles engendered by infraction of some of the rules by one or more of its members. Then there is resulting bitterness and enmity between different groups, charges and countercharges and finally a general "donnybrook fair" in the local fraternity field—to the great edification of the non-fraternity element and the bewilderment of the freshmen.

Restrictions are harmful to the entire student body life. The fraternity men can not settle down to their college work nor escape the unsettling effects of uncertainty and expectation. The freshmen drift around in a bewildered freedom, equally uncertain and expectant, while the swing of college activities and the communal life of the fraternities is largely in a state of suspense.

The standard argument in favor of deferred rushing and pledging is that it affords the freshmen an opportunity to look all the fraternities over carefully and make a wise selection. This sounds fine. But in reality it is the veriest tommy-rot. At the end of three months the freshman knows no more about the fraternities than he did at the end of three days. Until he is a member he can never know anything but the outside life of a chapter, and in his intercourse with its members they are always, consciously or unconsciously, on parade. His safest guide in selecting his fraternity is to trust to his instincts and intuition. The group that naturally attracts him by the congeniality of its home life and the similarity in tastes and character of its members is the one he should select. And this decision he can reach more certainly in a few days than if he muddles his brain for months weighing one fraternity against another in the balances of his immature and inexperienced judgment.

The other argument that deferred pledging permits the fraternity to study the man and look up his antecedents has very little real value. A fraternity is generally informed about a man before he enters college, or can quickly secure this information through its alumni. His qualifications for membership and conformity to the fraternity's type can be as safely judged in a few days as in several months. At his age a freshman has not yet learned to conceal his real character as he may in later life; besides, the greater part of his character is yet unformed and is plastic for the fraternity to mould according to its ideals and principles. He will always erect a certain barrier of reticence; but fraternal association, not time, is the only thing that will break through this. He himself will unconsciously evidence the culture and refinement of his home life and training.

While our years of observation and study have strongly convinced us of the value of an unrestricted rushing and pledging season, we believe that initiation should be deferred until the end of the first semester—and then restricted by scholastic eligibility. This gives the freshman a strong incentive to apply himself diligently to his college work and he will receive the supervision and assistance of the older men in the fraternity of his choice.

It also protects the chapter from the risk of initiating a man who by indifferent work will lower its general scholastic standing or become one of its prematurely born alumni—by faculty request—without having given any value to the chapter or spent time enough in its ranks to receive the training and inspiration that would make him of any value to the fraternity as an alumnus.—The Rainbow of Delta Tau Delta.

The Campus Staff meets every Friday at 1:15 o'clock in the Campus office in Bentley Hall.

sire for doing wrong and became a Christian. If it had not been for the superintendent's individual interest,

ALUMNI

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Anna Bishop, of Versailles, Pa., to Dr. W. T. Thoburn, '14, which occurred on April 2.

Earl Hall, '19, and wife made a short visit to Meadville on Saturday. Lowell Drake, '17, is now coach at Ashtabula Harbor High School. He visited some friends in Meadville over the week-end.

C. L. Mulfinger, '15, of Chicago, has been engaged as a special instructor in the Biology Department.

G. H. Stetson, who is principal of the Titusville high school, spent a few days here last week.

E. P. Booth spent several days here with friends last week. He is now a student at the Boston Theological Seminary.

Miss Florence Pappenham, who is now teaching at Cherry Creek, N. Y., spent the Easter recess with her parents and friends here.

second act. It is considered to be one of the most delightful parts of the entire production. An "augmented" orchestra, under the baton of H. Merrill Maitland, will furnish accompaniments and the entre-actes.

The scene is in Venice and in Barataria. A certain grandee of Spain goes to Venice to find the King of Barataria, who in his infancy had been pledged to Casilda, the infant daughter of the Grandee. The scene changes. The audience sees two gondoliers making love to flower-girls along the banks of one of the Venetian canals. Enter Don Alhambra del Bolero, who announces that one of the gondoliers is the "long lost king" of Barataria. Announcement is also made of the troth of this prince. One of the gondoliers is engaged to two girls, but which of the two, since it is not known which is the King of Barataria? What will be the outcome of this seemingly impossible situation? Will the gondoliers rule jointly? Will the situation eventuate in two husbands and three wives, with no means of determining which is the polygamist? Will the Grandee relent and let his daughter marry the man to whom she is already secretly engaged (even as in Allegheny)? These are interesting questions, their solution is unique and startling.

The production is scheduled for Tuesday, May 17.

FRENCH CLUB PLAY

The play, written by Meilac and Helevy, who also wrote the libretto of the opera "Carmen," has become a classic on the stage of the Theatre Francais. It is clever and refreshing, and thoroughly French both in atmosphere and dialogue. Miss Elna Daw and Dr. H. W. Church are coaching the production. Helen Shuster is in charge of the stage arrangements, and Helen Milhoff will officiate as "souffleuse." Members of the caste have genuine histrionic ability, which the coaches have succeeded in developing to a remarkable degree. If enthusiasm and hard work are indicative of success, Allegheny has never had a more successful event than the presentation of l'Ete de la Saint Martin.

Y. M. MEN HOLD INFORMAL DISCUSSION.

The Y. M. C. A. meeting last Wednesday evening was given over to informal discussion. J. O. Russell led the meeting, and gave a short address on the topic, "Our life tomorrow is determined by our thoughts of today." The fact that we make a success of our lives only by making each day better than the one previous was also emphasized. There were many axioms and practical sayings given by various men which made an impression on all those present. Among such quotations were "Close up the gap between purpose and action," "We are the products of our thoughts," "If you aspire to be great, you are becoming great," and "Nothing succeeds like success."

A week from tonight, April 18, election of officers for the ensuing year will be held. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance at the election. The officers for the past year are as follows: J. O. Russell, president; C. M. Neely, vice president; C. H. Cochran, secretary; and I. O. Fleming, treasurer.

This evening there will be a joint Y. W.-Y. M. meeting held in the Chapel. A more definite announcement of this special meeting has been given from the Chapel rostrum.

CLEVELAND ALUMNI BANQUET.

The Cleveland Alumni are holding an Allegheny banquet at the Hotel Statler on April 8. Banquet plans have been directed by A. C. Wade and Prof. Lemuel Brown is to be toastmaster.

DR. BROWN ADDRESSES STUDENTS ON "REALITY"

CHAPEL GIVEN TO FORMER ALLEGHENIAN WHO LECTURES HERE THIS WEEK.

Dr. Robert Brown, of Buffalo, N. Y., gave the first of a brief series of talks to be given this week in chapel yesterday morning dealing with "Reality." "Everyone in business must take account of his stock," said Dr. Brown. The value of this inventory depends wholly upon the intelligence and honesty of the man; there can be no rough estimates, no carelessness. The so-called "hopeful" inventory is made when man is too much enamoured with what he wants to see—a big balance on the right side of the ledger. Built upon good will and fanciful estimates, the over-estimated stock must some day come face to face with the underestimated indebtedness.

As in this inventory, the danger facing man today is to put too much emphasis on the fact that he has been brought up in a Christian home, rather than face the truth as to what he is. Christian and moral work is being done in a wholesale fashion at present and somehow the matter of personality is being lost sight of. Reputation and Character are of real value only as far as they correspond to actual truth.

Man must sooner or later face his debts. Is man made by outside forces or does he build his own character by using the great things of the world? Man must pay his debt to society.

VETERANS GATHER AT DINNER.

The last three men remaining in college of the Lakeside Base Hospital Unit, which sailed for France May 8, 1917—the first detachment of American troops to cross the Atlantic after the United States entered the war, held a reunion and party in Saegertown Saturday night at the Inn. Those present were Sara Peabody, W. E. Severn, Margaret McCune, Guy Lawhead, Winifred Britton, and I. K. Davis.

Favors in the form of souvenir booklets containing snap-shots, and other items of interest brought back from overseas were presented to the guests. There were no formal or set orations, but the War, in all detail,—brilliant victories and official blunders, was fought once more.

The evening, although highly enjoyable, was tinged with a deeper sobriety, for these three men who left college together in their Freshman year, and side by side did their share in the great cause, are graduating this June.

Allegheny Boxers Defeat Case at Cleveland

EASILY WIN FIVE OUT OF SIX BOUTS

BLUE AND GOLD MITMEN SCORE SIGNAL VICTORY IN FIRST MEET.

Returning to school from the Easter vacation with less than a week in which to prepare for the Case meet, the local mittmen covered themselves with glory when they decisively defeated the Forest City artists, five bouts to one. Two of Allegheny's victories were kayos, Kirkpatrick stopping his man in the 125 pound class in the first round, and Captain Leffingwell putting his man out for the count in the second round of the 158 pound division. The closest bout of the day was the 135 pound scrap, an extra round being necessary to decide the winner between Parent and his opponent. The only match on the wrong side of the page was that in the light heavyweight class when Dale was shaded in a tight battle. Van Gorder, in the bantam-weight, and Tubby Leffingwell, in the welter classes, won about as they pleased.

The Summary.

Bantam weight, Van Gorder, won. Decision, Three rounds.
Feather weight, Kirkpatrick, won. K. O. One round.
Light weight, Parent, won. Decision. Four rounds.
Welter weight, L. Leffingwell, won. Decision. Three rounds.
Middle weight, H. Leffingwell, won. K. O. Two rounds.
Light heavy, Dale, lost. Decision. Three rounds.

ALLEGHENY SECOND CENTURY

Careful and thorough surveys were made of the situations in the various localities, under the supervision of the Board of Education and the Educational Association of the Methodist Episcopal Church. After these surveys, the amounts and needs of the different institutions were understood and approved by those in charge of the movement.

Allegheny College was one of the institutions in this survey which were taken into account and approved. In celebration of its One Hundred Fifth Anniversary, Allegheny College is undertaking the raising of a new permanent endowment of one million two hundred fifty thousand dollars. This money is to be raised by mid-night of June 30, 1921, and is to be used for endowment, maintenance, campus betterments and other good purposes.

Allegheny is only one of the many colleges doing work of this sort. Oklahoma City College is now in the midst of a movement to raise the sum of one million two hundred fifty thousand by June 8. The College of Puget Sound is to have one million at the close of its campaign at mid-night of June 14. Baldwin-Wallace College of Cleveland is to have a million dollars pledged by the fall of 1921. Illinois Wesleyan, Bloomington, Ill., now is staging a county development which closes June 30. There are at least a half dozen others on the schedule for the next few months. The various Methodist Institutions which are demanding college operation and expansion are more than taxing the capacity of the Department of Finance of the Board of Education which is assisted by a very competent staff.

DUZER DU SCORES

very impertinent questions, conveyed to the audience the firm impression that the player was one of the other sex. Another of the same ability was J. W. Shirer as Mrs. Ralston. Undoubtedly a militant, he was successful in highly pleasing the house with his feminine management of the Ralston household. Wendell Gealy as Ethel, Thomas Francis as Mabel, and Richard Davis as Sabel, contributed their share to the action of the play. The performance showed the result of much preparation on the part of the cast and coaching from Dr. Schultz. All of the parts were portrayed with an accuracy and a finesse which marked the players not as amateurs but as professionals. The eleventh in the life of the organization, this last production has been affirmed by many critics as the best.

INDUSTRY REWARDED.

[Special to The Campus.]
MEADVILLE, PA., April 6.—We have just learned of a teacher who started poor twenty years ago, and has retired with the comfortable fortune of $50,000. This was acquired through industry, economy, conscientious effort, indomitable perseverance, and the death of an uncle who left an estate valued at forty-nine thousand, nine hundred ninety-nine dollars, and fifty cents.

BASEBALL FANS HAVE HEAVY SCHEDULE ARRANGED

GREAT INTEREST DISPLAYED
OVER SEASON'S DIAMOND ACTIVITIES.

The Block A Club will conduct the Inter-Fraternity Baseball Championship this year. These games aroused more interest last spring than any other athletic event and resulted in some stirring contests. This year they should be better than ever. There will be eight clubs, counting Beta Upsilon, the new one. The contest will be a round robin, each team playing each other, 28 games in all, four games a week for seven weeks. The schedule has been arranged by a committee of the Block A Club. The games will be nine innings this year instead of seven as last, and they will start at 4:30 on days except Saturday. On Saturdays there will be two games, at 2:30 and 4:30 respectively.

Schedule.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Phi Kappa Psi, April 7.

CHESS CLUB IS FORMED

ness and of short talks on different phases of chess. After the discussion the members will participate in the playing of the game. The club is a result of the realization of the fact that there are enough men on the Hill sufficiently interested in chess to warrant the formation of such a club which could arrange for tournaments with other institutions. A challenge has been received from the chess club of the University of Pittsburgh and it is stated that probably such a meet will be arranged. The club is preparing for the regular tournament at which a varsity team of four men will be chosen. Further plans are for the arrangement of interclass and interfraternity tournaments in the near future.

Senior Hop To Be Held on April 14

GYMNASIUM WILL BE SCENE OF FIRST SENIOR DANCE IN THE COLLEGE.

The Senior Hop, originally scheduled for March 29, will be staged in the gymnasium April 14. Up to the present, only one reason has been found for not having the Hop March 29—there was no floor in the gym. But on the 14th, there will be a floor—new in every detail, and until then unused for dance purposes—virgin timber, one might say.

Arrangements for the Hop are much the same as before. The best dance music available, refreshments, expense, and a bona fide carnival spirit for the students; the same for the faculty, except for the expense item—they are to be the guests of the Senior class.

Tickets will be handled by the dance committee of the Senior class: Dot Kerr, Peg McCune, Mugsy Blass, Tommy Francis, Mutt Hartman, and Hal Ruse; also by Jimmy Russell, Stan Plumb, Jack McCreary, and Merrill Iams.

REPAIRS ON GYM FLOOR COMPLETED

NEW FLOOR MEETS ALL REQUIREMENTS; CLASSES STARTED MONDAY.

Repairs in the Gymnasium floor, which necessitated the postponing of the Senior Prom, have been completed.

When the building was approved the floor was found to be in need of some changes, but due to the basketball season being at hand they could not be made until Easter vacation. The tennis team are to have the use of the floor for the period when the weather will not permit of practice on the courts. Physical training which was suspended for the week, will begin again Monday. The floor is now in first class condition and has been approved.

READER PRESENTS "MR. ANTONIO"

MISS BUCKLEY IS WELL RECEIVED IN HER PORTRAYAL OF POPULAR PLAY.

Presenting "Mr. Antonio," a Booth Tarkington play, which experienced a successful run starring Otis Skinner several years ago, Miss Beryl Buckley won the admiration of her audience in her appearance as the last number on the Y. M. C. A. Entertainment Series which was held in the Ford Memorial Chapel Wednesday evening, March 16.

Miss Buckley interpreted the play throughout with a cleverness and charm that made one feel the presence of the characters revealed, especially so of "Tony" whose kind, sunny disposition radiated the pure, simple ideals for which he stood. "Tony" was not unreal in his altruistic spirit of life but a character uncommon and distinctive. It was the strong contrast between "Tony" and the others that made Miss Buckley's portrayal striking in its effect. Her lack of mannerisms, her ease and grace on the platform, her wide range of the speaking voice, all made the reading an impressive reality.

The Series this season has been a decided success and has warranted the selection for next year's course which is said to be better than ever in its variety of entertainers.

FACULTY NOTES

Professor Ross represented the college in reference to the endowment fund in Harrisburg, Warren and New Castle.

Professor Littel took the oral examination for his degree of Doctor of Philosophy at Columbia last Wednesday. He was a special student of John Bassett Moore.

General opinion states that only five percent of the students in the universities of Holland are total abstainers. In spite of that several strong anti-alcohol societies are to be found in the different universities. The club at the University of Amsterdam, the "Academia", is making itself felt in both educational and social activities.

NEW SPRING STYLES

All the latest style ideas are here. You'll like them. You'll notice the qualities are much better and prices much lower.

What the right clothing store should do for you

It should give you good merchandise; quality should be the chief consideration; such clothes as Hart, Schaffner & Marx make.

It should give you the lowest possible price for good quality.

It should give you pleasant, willing service. It should be more eager to give than to get; a service that seeks your best interest.

It should give your money back if you're not satisfied.
