OFFICE OF EXECUTIVE SECRETARY
AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN

Miss Ida M. Tarbell
120 East Nineteenth Street
New York City

My dear Miss Tarbell:

When you replied to my request, some weeks ago, for the text of your talk to the College Club of Youngstown, Ohio, for publication in the Journal, you stated that there was some possibility of your developing the theme of that talk for publication at some later date. I hope very much that you may feel it is worth while to do this. The American Association of University Women has stressed the obligation which college women owe their communities, and we should welcome a more telling presentation of the subject. I may say frankly that we should feel particularly indebted to you if you would undertake to impress our membership with this responsibility, for they would read what you write ! As our membership now numbers some 37,000 ~~members~~, you would be reaching a large audience.

Do you think you might find it possible to set down your ideas along this line for us to publish next winter? If we could count on an article by November we should consider ourselves extremely fortunate. The date is remote, but we should be glad if we might know whether we may count on having the article ultimately.

Very sincerely yours,

Ruth Wilson Tryon
