Do it yourself

Dear Ida:-

I have read every word of your letter with the utmost interest, and am most anxious to talk to you about the "hows" and "whens". Unfortunately, as you probably know, father is abroad now, and will not be back before the summer. However, we might be able to approach him over there, and perhaps he might be more willing to listen.

Cannot you possibly arrange to come up to Cragston over Sunday? There will be only Bessie and myself, and we go up Saturday afternoon, returning Sunday on the 4.13 train which gets us in at 6.20.

I enclose this clipping from the Post, thinking that perhaps you may have missed it.

Affectionately yours,

Anne Morgan
