ALLEGHENY LOOKS TO "NEW ERA"

Dr. Benezet Officially Assumes Duties Oct. 15

With the inauguration of Dr. Louis T. Benezet as president on October 15, Allegheny College will be looking to a new era in education. At the age of 33, President Benezet will be bringing a youthful viewpoint that should work well in harmony with the traditions and customs of the past that have made the college such a fine institution.

Guest speaker for the inauguration ceremonies, according to plans announced today, will be President Carter Davidson of Union College. The installation of Allegheny's fifteenth president, which occurs at the beginning of the college's annual Homecoming weekend, will open with an academic procession at 1:30 p.m., followed by the induction ceremony to be held in Montgomery Gymnasium. Presiding will be Sumner E. Nichols, president of the Security Peoples Trust Company, of Erie, and chairman of the college's board of trustees. The invocation will be delivered by Bishop Lloyd C. Wicke, Resident Bishop of the Pittsburgh Area of the Methodist Church.

Following the address of Dr. Davidson, who will speak on "The Profession of College Administration", Dr. Benezet will be formally installed as president and will deliver his inaugural address. After the singing of the Alma Mater, the benediction will be given by Ralph G. Dunlop, college chaplain.

A reception for President and Mrs. Benezet is planned after the ceremony, and the inaugural dinner for delegates, trustees, faculty, and guests will be held in Brooks Hall in the evening, when greetings will be extended to the new president. The program for the dinner is as follows:

Toastmaster—Dr. C. A. Darling.
Invocation—Dr. Albert Marriott, pastor of the Stone Church.
Greetings to Mrs. Benezet—Hazel Lou McIntosh.
Greetings to the new president:
Trustees—Gwilym A. Price.
Faculty—Lee D. McClean.
Student Body—Raymond G. McCall '49.
Alumni Association — G. Alfred Palmer.
Methodist Church—Bishop Lloyd C. Wicke.
Community of Meadville—Robert S. Bates.
Association of American Colleges—President Kenneth I. Brown, Denison University.
Response—President Benezet.

Representatives from more than 150 colleges and from 12 learned societies have accepted invitations to attend the ceremonies.
Dr. Benezet, who assumed his duties at Allegheny on September 1, came to the college from Syracuse University, where he had been assistant to the chancellor. At the age of 33, he will become one of the youngest college presidents in the country. He was elected to succeed the late Dr. J. Richie Schultz, who died in August, 1947. Since that time Dr. C. A. Darling, Professor Emeritus of Biology, has served as acting president of the college.

The committees of faculty and staff members responsible for the inaugural arrangements are:

General committee: Prof. J. L. Ross, Prof. Frederick Steen, Professor Emeritus C. A. Darling. Subcommittees are working under the following chairmen: Inauguration ceremonies, Dr. Steen; Reception, Dr. Elizabeth Stadlander; Dinner, Dr. L. J. Long; Entertainment of Delegates and Guests, Prof. Philip M. Benjamin; Publicity, Dr. F. F. Seely.

Admittance to the inauguration of President Benezet will be by ticket only. Since there will not be enough tickets for all students, they will be given out on a priority basis according to class.

Seniors may call for their tickets on Monday, October 11 in Mr. Sturley's office, 209 Bentley. Juniors may get passes on Tuesday, sophomores on Wednesday and freshmen on Thursday. One ticket will be given to each student.

Bigger Faculty, More Courses Aid Huge Enrollment

Twelve new faculty members have augmented the various departments on the Allegheny campus. Joining the staff of the English Department are Mr. B. Frank Hammet and Mr. Sydney A. Kneebone. Appointed to the Speech Department are Miss Mildred Ann Ditty, Mr. John C. Collison, and Mr. William W. Snyder, who will also assist in the Dramatic Art Division.

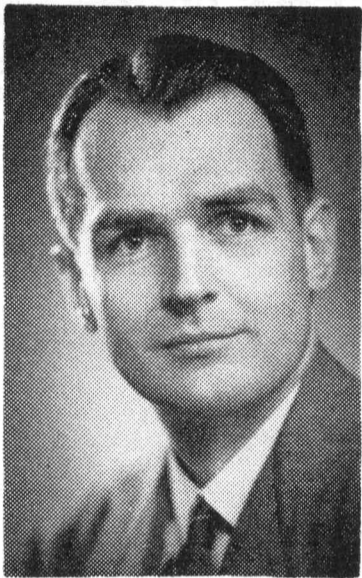

Mr. Francis H. Palmer has joined the Allegheny faculty as Assistant Professor of Psychology, Mr. Henry M. Muller as Assistant Professor of Sociology, and Mr. Robert Clemmer, Assistant Professor of History.

Taking his place in the art department is Mr. A. Douglas Pickering; Mr. Joseph F. Devlin is an Instructor in the History Department as well as Mr. George S. May; and Mr. John J. Maxwell has joined the Biology staff.

The additions to the curriculum include courses in mathematics of finance, background of statistics, statistics, eugenics, climatology, glacial geology, and earth science. The latter replaces general courses in geography and geology. Augmenting these are newly organized musical groups, such as girls' chorus and boys' glee club.

Dr. Charles S. Miller disclosed late last week that 1068 students registered for the fall term at Allegheny College. He also revealed that nine courses were added to the curriculum.

Men students outnumber women students, 677 to 391. Because of the large number of 1948 graduates, the freshmen class is 71 students stronger than last year's class. There are 341 freshmen, of which 63 are veterans. At the present time, 368 veterans are enrolled at Allegheny.

NSA Delegates Attend State Meet

The Allegheny student body, enabled by the ratification of the constitution of the United States National Student Association on May 28, 1948, was represented during the summer months at both the regional and national convention of the association.

Convening at Pennsylvania State College on June 10, the regional convention of N.S.A. was notable for its discussions of national and international problems common to many of the representative schools. At a sub-regional meeting, Ray McCall, of Allegheny College was elected to the post of Chairman of the western division of Pennsylvania for the coming year. Other Alleghenians in attendance were: Hugh Crawford, Don Hamilton, Barbara Laffer, Charleen Lindsley, Louis Meyer, Deenie Rassis, Phyllis Rosen, and Bill Shields.

Plans Completed For Religion Week

Religion in Life Week will be observed at Allegheny College from Sunday, October 17, through Thursday, October 22. According to Connie Callahan, student chairman, "The purpose of a religious emphasis week is to enable the college student to realize the importance of religion in everyday life." A student-faculty committee, under the guidance of Mr. Ralph W. Dunlop, religious director, and Mr. Glenn Timmons, executive secretary, hopes to accomplish this through a series of lectures and special worship services in Ford Memorial Chapel.

Athletics Get Big Boost With New Sports Site

By JAMES HALL

Athletics at Allegheny take a tremendous jump forward this Saturday when the college's new quarter-of-a-million-dollar plant on Park Avenue is officially opened with a football game between Amos Alonzo Stagg's Susquehanna University eleven and the once-victorious Gators of Bill Daddio.

Those who set in on the all-important contest will see a composite athletic area that ranks as one of the finest sports sites of any school in the country of comparative size.

AUC Assemblies Feature Alumni

The first in a series of A.U.C.-sponsored assembly programs was held today, featuring a talk by Dr. Robert Byers, college physician, who explained the purpose of X-rays which will be given to all students by a mobile Red Cross unit in the very near future.

In addition, Dr. Byers explained the present hospitalization plan in operation at Allegheny and called for questions, suggestions, criticisms and general discussion on the whole health program at the end of his speech.

Dr. Byers is well familiar with the problems of the Allegheny undergraduate, having earned his diploma here with the class of 1936. He was the first president of the then-infant Allegheny Undergraduate Council, was active in sports and other campus activities. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Next Wednesday, October 13, two other Alleghenians will talk on subjects essential to college life. The title of the entire assembly will be "Great Allegheny Events." Mr. Leo H. McKay, class of 1916 will be the first speaker. Now one of the college trustees and chairman of the committee that selected our new president, Mr. McKay was, in his college days, very active in sports and other campus affairs. He played football and basketball, was captain of the track team, and was a Phi Gamma Delta member. His topic for the assembly will be "Allegheny's Presidency," explaining the varied duties of our college president.

The second alumni speaker on the program will be Mr. John McFarland Jr., class of 1938, whose topic is "Homecoming"—an explanation of that college institution. Mr. McFarland was also prominent in Allegheny activities, participating in basketball and football, the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, and as a member of A.U.C.

Of special interest to the new freshmen is a forthcoming freshmen meeting arranged by A.U.C. At this meeting the freshmen will nominate their class officers, hear more about N.S.A. and the functions of A.U.C. This meeting is scheduled for sometime within the next two weeks.

Still a third field is incorporated in the new setup—one that is comprised of two large riding rings and a golf driving range. Available to the patrons of Allegheny athletic contests are two huge parking lots that will accommodate approximately 700 cars. Some work remains to be done on landscaping, while the under part of the grandstand still is not completely enclosed. This construction will provide rooms for dressing and equipment.

Formal dedication of the field will not take place until next year, although a simple ceremony is scheduled Saturday to mark the first contest played on the gridiron.

Probably a more fitting person couldn't be found to participate in these ceremonies than the man who is coming to Allegheny on Saturday. Amos Alonzo Stagg, Sr., who acts as assistant coach to his son at Susquehanna, and who is often referred to as the "dean of American football coaches," will be the featured guest. Now over 70 years old, he has been a coach of football some 50-odd years, during which he has coached at some of the finest colleges in the country.

His appearance here will not be looked on as the contrast between the old and the new, but rather as the revival of the spirit of competition that flares again on new fields of athletic battle. Just as Allegheny has moved ahead to new quarters, so has Alonzo Stagg moved on to greater heights in the sport world of football.

MONTGOMERY OPENED
Many Alleghenians who attend this Saturday's inauguration may remember another field-dedication 36 years ago this month. On October 4, 1912, Montgomery Field—now the Gator practice field—was formally opened, with the Gators meeting Hiram College. And when the affair was all over, it was an unhappy band of Hilltopper rooters that trooped out through the now-dismantled gates of that brand-spanking new field. Hiram had triumphed 7-0. Bulletin Board
"On Being Made Whole" is the topic for the Sunday, October 10, chapel program at 11:00 a.m. in Ford Memorial Chapel. Mr. Ralph G. Dunlop, Allegheny chaplain, is the speaker.
This chapel program Sunday morning will continue to be a regular feature throughout the semester.

Any student interested in working on the Kaldron business staff should contact Jack Henry, business manager, phone 31-111.

Dr. Carl Heeschen of the art department requests that anyone wishing to do modeling for two art classes contact him at his office, phone 239. These classes meet from 10-12 and 1:30-3:30, Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

All freshman and upperclassmen who are interested in debating should attend the first meeting of both the varsity and freshman groups on Thursday evening, October 7, at 7:00 p.m. in Arter 16 and 17. Debate meetings will be held every Thursday night at that time.

Upperclassmen who would like part-time jobs off campus can obtain registration blanks in the veterans placements office.

Tickets Please!

All students attending the football game are reminded not to forget their activities tickets. Those students who do not have tickets WILL POSITIVELY NOT be admitted to the stadium. Frosh please note — it's a long walk back!

Success Key Not Φ BK, But RCA, Senior Says

by Alice Koklauner

Having just completed three years in an educational institution, I feel myself qualified to advise all incoming freshmen on the course of study that they should pursue while they, too, serve their time.

When I entered my alma mater's ivy-covered halls three years ago, I set great goals for myself. In my sights, I glimpsed a Ph. D. "Doctor," I would be called someday. Later, I investigated the financial benefits that accrue to me of learning. I soon came to the conclusion that perhaps I had been a little too hasty in planning for the future. After all, as the daughter of a middle class worker, I cannot expect much of an inheritance, and eventually it will be incumbent upon me to make my own living. The professions are grossly underpaid. Therefore, I feel it my duty to advise you on a course of study which, though on a rather low educational plane, will prepare you for life's financial battle. A Phi Beta Kappa key is all very well, but it will not buy you a house and lot, an automobile, an icebox, a Gruen Precision watch, a Sweetheart diamond ring or a year's supply of Palmolive soap.

There's nothing you can learn in Cornell, Stanford, or the University of Chicago which will enable you to complete 25 words or less, "I like Bride and Groom because. . . ." There's nothing you can learn in Harvard, Vassar, Yale or Wellesley which will enable you to distinguish "secret sounds"—sounds of a squeaking mouse, a person breaking graham crackers, a popping tulip blossom or a lame cricket—sounds which stand to make you much money in ten minutes on a certain radio program than you could make as a trial lawyer or college professor in a whole year of conscientious application. No college, no matter how liberal in its curricula, teaches you how to write clearly and concisely on the back of cereal box panels, cigarette wrappers or toothpaste carton; at least, I can't find such a course in any freshman requirements.

However, many promoted bobbysoxers will find themselves doomed to a four-year college stretch by parental orders unaffected by the new economic standards. To these misdirected youth, I say, "Spend your time assiduously studying your almanac. Eschew the romance languages, higher mathematics, chemistry and physics and prepare yourself for "Everybody Wins," "Stop the Music," "Go for the House," "Try and Catch Me," "Strike It Rich," "Winner Take All," "Break the Bank," "You Bet Your Life," and the dozens of other dazzling giveaways which will face you the rest of your life. Study your almanac as if it were the Einstein Theory, Shakespeare, or English History. It contains a gold mine of quiz information. Visit the juke-box joints, record shops and music stores so that you will be well versed in all the old songs which crop up on a dozen quiz shows every day in the week. When the "emcee" asks you "On a bicycle built for—how many?" let not economics, science, history or mathematics cloud your memory and keep you from answering "two."

"Learn to be polite and courteous, not necessarily to ladies or old people—there's no money in that—but to masters of ceremony. Polite and conciliatory contestants always get a second chance. Learn, too, that honesty (in quiz shows) is the best policy. If someone in the audience hollers "Sullivan" to the question, "Gilbert and ----," you must say "Sullivan, but I can't accept the money—I was prompted." You'll get the money every time.

"Be frugal; invest your savings well—not in gilt-edged stocks, first mortgages and railroad bonds, but in

Debators Increase Club Membership

Philo-Franklin, honorary speech fraternity, voted to enlarge their membership at a regular meeting of the group last Wednesday.

Under this new regulation, ten new members were elected by a two-thirds vote of the group. They are Dave Feigert, Mark Funk, Virginia Gooding, Jean Isherwood, Al Krall, Charleen Lindsley, Charles June, Greta Samzelius, Todd Taylor, and Don Wargo.

Previously membership in the Philo-Franklin Union was limited to nine members of the upper three classes. Now the group is open to all upperclassmen interested in speech activities. Candidates for membership must remain active participants in college debate, oratory, and intercollegiate speaking events throughout the year.

Ray McCall will continue his duties as president of Philo-Franklin this year. Assisting him will be vice-president, Frank Fitch; secretary, Barga Bounds; and treasurer, Jeff Hopper.

At a meeting of all interested students, members of Philo-Franklin and instructors of the speech department explained college speech activities for the coming year. After the meeting refreshments including cider and doughnuts were served.

Film Series Start Sun. at Playshop

"Man Hunt" the movie thriller starring Walter Pidgeon, Joan Bennett, and George Sanders will open the Playshop film series on Sunday, October 10 at 7:00 p.m.

Other films coming to the Playshop screen include "Anna and The King of Siam" on October 17. Irene Dunne and Rex Harrison lead the cast in the dramatization of this novel. "A Bell for Adano" with John Hodiak, William Bendix, and Gene Tierney will be presented on October 24. Next in the series is "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" starring Dorothy McGuire, James Dunn, and Joan Blondell. This is scheduled for October 31. Last in this series is Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables" to be given Sunday, November 7. The cast includes Charles Laughton, and Frederick March.

Season tickets for the entire series are available at the Playshop box office for $1.50. Individual seats will be sold for fifty cents apiece.

Fresh-Soph Tilt To Decide Fate Of Dinkwearers

A Freshman-Sophomore athletic contest to be held "sometime in the near future" will decide the fate of the freshman dinkwearers. If the freshmen win in competition with the upperclassmen, they can doff their dinks for the last time. If not, blue dinks and name tags will be very much in vogue until Thanksgiving.

Unlike former years, a revival of co-operative spirit has appeared in customs this fall. Very few freshmen are seen bareheaded or cutting across campus. Even the 46 veterans raise their caps in respect as they pass Bentley Hall, although they are exempt from following any of the customs set up by A.U.C.

On the evening before Homecoming day the tinder, which dinkwearers assemble, will be set afire, and the traditional bonfire will illuminate Montgomery field during the pep rally.

AWS Lays Plans For Coming Year

Setting up a brief program for the coming year, both the Senate and Activities Board of the Associated Women Students opened their official campus activities with organization meetings last Sunday. Committees were also chosen at the brief session.

A.W.S. will sponsor a Parent-Student-Faculty Tea in the last week in October as one of their first big social events, president Hazel Lou McIntosh has revealed. The association prexy is desirous of having as many parents as possible at the event and hopes that students will encourage their parents to come for visits on the weekend of the tea instead of the next weeks.

Three Students Offered Study In Capital City

Three Allegheny juniors will have the opportunity to study, tuition free, at the American University this year in the capital through the Washington semester program. The students, selected on the basis of their scholastic work and a background in political science will be enrolled in the School of Social Sciences and Public Affairs.

Together with students from Oberlin, Hiram, Wooster, and Westminster colleges, the Allegheny representatives will do seminar work in the fields of governmental history, economics, sociology, and related subjects. Each student must also do an individual project on a subject of special interest.

According to Mr. Paul Cares, political science professor, the Washington semester is valuable to the students for the opportunity it offers to come in contact with leading government figures and for unexcelled library and statistical facilities.

All students interested in the Washington semester may obtain application blanks from Mr. Cares at the history and political science office. These are to be filed with him by October 15.

Social Whirl

After a week filled with parties and entertainment of every kind, campus life is back to normal and new pledges are sporting shiny pledge pins and bright-colored ribbons.

Among the fraternities on campus, Alpha Chi Rho announces the pledging of the following fellows: Earl Brevoort, Richard Giles, Martin Hanson, Henry Heig, Carl Jensen, Wendell Mickle, Harry Mueller, Edwin Nelson, Theodore Oakley, Serge Popper, Darrell Shark, James Sheffer, Oscar Somers, Ignatius Stanko, James Stokes, Austin Swanson, David Thurston, Joseph W. Vigrass, and James Young.

Delta Tau Delta announces the pledging of John J. Anderson, Philip W. Choquette, Donald L. Clark, Albert S. Diaz, Fred Fielding, John W. Gibson, John F. Glosser, Thomas Hares, James Paxton Hart, Maurice E. Kofford, Robert N. Moyers, John Olofson, Robert Schneider, Numa Vidal, William Walker, and John J. Wine.

Robert O. Barkley, Nevin T. Brenner, Donald D. Case, Harold E. Cooley, John B. Davies, Jacques Gouter, Rodger E. Hare, James D. Hileman, Roy S. McEwen, Ralph C. Merriman and Robert B. Mowry are the new pledges of Phi Delta Theta.

Life Photography Exhibit On Display in Reis Library

Allegheny College has arranged to show "Fine Arts Under Fire," a photographic exhibition prepared by the editors of Life magazine illustrating the work of Allied Armies in preserving and salvaging Western Europe's historic monuments and works of art in combat areas. The exhibition opens October 1 and will continue through October 14 in the Reis Library.

The American Commission for the Protection and Salvage of Artistic and Historic Monuments in War Areas collaborated with Life's editors in assembling photographs, many hitherto unpublished, from sources. Consisting of thirty panels of enlarged photographs, a short running text reveals the care of fine arts during the war and the methods, extent and variety of work carried under the little-known program, unique in the history of war, for the protection and salvage of the cultural heritage of Europe.

Beginning with a few examples of the extent and type of damage to historic buildings during the war, the exhibition emphasizes the application of the Allied program for the protection of those monuments within the limits of military necessity, for the saving of whatever remained of war-works of art. Specialist Monuments, Fine Arts and Archives officers, attached to the Armies, are shown at work in Austria, Italy, France, Belgium, and Germany inspecting and assessing damage, directing salvage from rubble and exposure, taking measures to prevent further deterioration to damaged buildings, and to frescoes, such as those of the Campo Santo at Pisa.

The second part suggests the magnitude and detail of the army's problem in returning the 100,000 looted displaced works of art. It deals with the discovery of some of the 700 caches for German art plunder, and the recovery of some of these possessions from salt and copper mines, farmhouses, bunders and churches. It shows some, like the bronze horse of Verrocchio's "Colleoni" being returned to Venice after the war, and others like Michelangelo's "Madonna and Child" being evacuated to safety under combat conditions. It also shows the devastation of modern warfare to those monuments which the enemy placed in the line of fire; the Cassino Abbey, St. Lo, and the Frauenkirche at Nuremberg.

Red Cross Here To Entertain Vets

Allegheny's chapter of the American Red Cross has been receiving very good co-operation from the student body, chapter chairman Hazel Lou McCafferty has revealed. She has announced that there was good response to the information blanks distributed at registration, with a large number of the men students signing up for the disaster committee.

The Chapter is also making plans to entertain the patients at Deshon Veteran's Hospital at Butler, Pa., sometime in the near future. The type of show that will be given has not been decided upon as yet.

K.D.E. Will Initiate Members Oct. 12

Formal initiation for new members will comprise the business of Kappa Delta Epsilon, honorary educational sorority, at the first meeting, Tuesday, October 12, at 7:30 p.m. in Ruter Hall. Eligibility to membership in K.D.E. is determined by the number of education hours the prospective teacher has secured. Officers for 1948 are president, Martha Hopper; vice-president, Reba Garvey; secretary, Janice Miller; and treasurer, Geraldine Ware.

Outing Club Has All-School Dance

Swing your partner round 'n round at a barn dance to be held on Friday evening, October 8th, in Montgomery gym. The shindig, sponsored by the Outing club, is open to all who enjoy square dancing. Andy Graham, president of the Outing club, urges the students to come in jeans and calico to "get into the spirit of the thing."

The dance, which follows a Pep Rally, will begin at 8:30 and last until 11:30.

Announcements of the first meeting of the Outing Club will be posted throughout the college.

Library Features Work Of Alumni

Included in the future "New Books" exhibited at Reis Library will be four volumes written by Alleghenians. John J. Pershing, General of the Armies, by Frederick Palmer, '93; The Husband Who Ran Away, by Hildegarde Dolson, '30; and Murder in Any Language, by William A. Roos, '33, are three books written by former students here. Mr. Paul H. Giddens, head of the history department, who is now on leave of absence, has written Early Days of Oil, which deals with the Standard Oil Company.

New books are constantly being added to the Reis Library collection, and every Friday throughout the semester, under the direction of Mr. Philip M. Benjamin, head librarian, some of these new editions will be shown on the "New Books" table.

Special displays are also used with topics of current interest. Pennsylvania Week, September 26-October 2, was observed with a showing of pamphlets and books on the history of the state. During Religion in Life Week, books chosen by clergymen of all faiths will be displayed.

Other exhibits now are Recent Books on the Theatre; Movies, Reviews, and Plays; and Fine Arts Under Fire, a display of art work.

Allegheny Challenges Susquehanna Saturday

Gators To Undergo Severe Test After Swamping Hamilton, 19-0

Unleashing a powerful running attack which emerged from the most deceptive formations in football, the "T" and the single wing, the Allegheny College gridmen rolled up their highest score since 1942 to wallop the Hamilton Continentals, 19-0, at Clinton, New York, on Saturday.

A real initiation will come Saturday in the inauguration of Eberhart Field. Susquehanna College will field a strong aggregation determined to revenge the insult of last year's tie game. The men from Selingsgrove, Pennsylvania, had been heavily favored in that contest. They finished the 1947 season with a record of three victories, one defeat, and three ties. They are coached by Amos Alonzo Stagg, Jr., and his father who was chosen "Coach of the Year" at College of the Pacific three years ago.

SIX MINUTES—SIX POINTS

On Saturday, the Daddio-coached squad struck hard and fast. Their usual speed was combined with a brilliant display of deception and ball-handling. Within six minutes of the opening kickoff, the Gators had gained 71 yards, five first downs, and six points.

After Bob Carman returned the kickoff to the Allegheny 29-yard strip, the Gators utilized a series of crisp, hard-blocking T-formation ground plays. Five consecutive first downs, engineered in nine plays, left the ball on the four yard line. After bucking the line for half of this yardage, Frank Pollard swerved around left end for Allegheny's first touchdown of the year.

In the second period, the Blue and Gold passing attack brought the second score of the day. Though Gator slingers completed only three passes in all, they bunched two of them for a total of 36 yards. Carl Hermann, freshman quarterback, hit Rimer for 16 yards, and then Jerry Watson, a rugged first-year man, found Bill Jack in the clear on the goal line. Frank Pollard converted, and Allegheny led, 13-0.

OPPOSITION POOR

Though the Hilltoppers added even another touchdown in the third period on an intercepted pass and Bob Tiett's line smash, predictions of undefeatable seasons and the like were kept at a minimum. The reason was the lack of sufficient opposition. However, if Allegheny should perform as well against Susquehanna here Saturday, much more may be determined. Injuries were almost nil, except for a recurrence of Dave Zurbrick's old knee aggravation, and the Gators did not fumble once, despite all the intricacies of the T-formation.

The passing was disappointing. Only three tosses out of thirteen gained yardage for Allegheny, while three were intercepted. Carl Hermann is reputedly the best passer on the team, but he and a few other dinkbearing varsity men suffered from buck fever, a well-warranted malady.

A highspot of the Gator performance was their blocking, especially downfield blocking. This was a definite weakness of last year's eleven. Chuck Rimer had his claim to glory erased by the referee's whistle. He sprinted 68 yards for a touchdown in the second period behind crushing interference, but an off-side penalty annulled the play.

The Gator's mastery of the play in the first half was so great that Hamilton never entered Allegheny territory throughout the two periods. Their most dangerous penetration was in the third stanza, when they reached the Allegheny 24 yard line.

Allegheny made ten first downs to Hamilton's six. The Gators gained 183 yards rushing, and lost 31 for a net gain of 152 yards.

Bob Carman averaged 56 yards for his five punts.

Sixty Report For Soccer Practice.

The enthusiasm of the freshman class has overcome the air of pessimism and defeatism that prevailed throughout last soccer season, as no less than twenty-six dink bearers went through the first day of practice on Monday, in which Coach Hanson noted slight improvement over last year.

Graduation seemed bound to devastate a team which succeeded in gaining only one victory in 1947, but the positions which were most affected have been quite amply filled. Ken "Fuzzy" Gladd, a tall, well-built veteran of the booting division, seems experienced enough to hold down a first string berth at one of the fullback posts vacated by Ralph Roberts and Doc James. Frank Steinle, a halfback last year, might be moved back to occupy the left fullback position. Other possibilities are Bill Lowe, a first year man with a potent punt, or Bob McCune.

Sum Nichols will receive opposition for his varsity goalie slot from Roger Seiler, a tall freshman. Ralph Ketcham, Gene McClure, and Captain Frank Ferraraccio should play a lot of halfback. Glen Dunmire, Steve Mergenhausen, Bob Blomquist, and Ed Werley, all sporting that all-important requisite, experience, will see action in relief of these halfbacks. On the whole, the defensive situation is quite good.

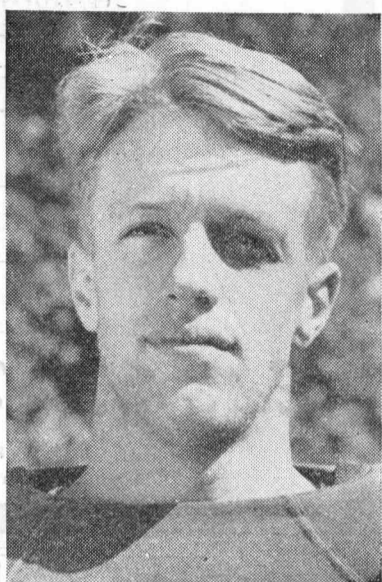

The traditional plague of Allegheny soccer teams in the past has been their inability to score goals. That trouble will probably remain this year, though the reserves are stronger. Paul Leahy is a sure starter at right wing, with Paul Miller his competition. John Ruggiero, Hal Fleischfresser, and Dick Welsh, all three experienced but mediocre, are battling for left wing.

Virgil Sayre, Steve Davis, Jay Huff, Rog Christopherson, Bill Tillotson, Arnold Lewis, Charlie Adamson, Vic Miceli, Rog Hare, Art Lowry, Joe Callahan, and Don Clark are competing as linemen. Of these, the first four will probably see the majority of action. Tillotson has had three years of high school experience, and Adamson played for Allegheny two years ago. Arnold Lewis has been particularly impressive among the freshman group.

Allegheny's 10-game soccer schedule includes only four away games as compared to six last year. The first game is with Edinboro on the soccer field below Eberhart Field on Tuesday, October 12.

The remainder of the schedule is as follows:

- October 15—Buffalo State at Buffalo, N.Y.
- October 20—Westminster here.
- October 22—Grove City at Grove City.
- October 26—Thiel here.
- October 29—Slippery Rock here.
- November 3—Rochester U. at Rochester.
- November 6—Oberlin here.
- November 9—Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh.
- November 13—Kenyon here.

DAVE ZURBRICK, who was the sole Gator entered on the disabled list during the initial game. His knee, which was badly injured last year, was hurt again. He now has a plaster cast on the leg.

New Setup of Intramurals Released

The fall intramural program will be inaugurated this Sunday, October 10. The opening event is a golf tournament with each fraternity and the independent men. Only the scores of the three low men of each foursome will be counted. The tournament will be held at the Hailwood Golf Course.

The main intramural event for the fall will be touch football. Several changes have been made in the rules of play since last year. These changes were suggested by Coach Garbark, head of the intramural program, in the hopes that they would eliminate much of the chance for bodily injury. A schedule will be posted in the next few days and it is hoped that play may begin next Monday. The intramural contests will be held at Eberhart Field.

A new system of awarding points for the intramural events has been set up which may prove more satisfactory than that used last year. Several new additions to the intramural program are being planned for this year in order to insure a wide variety of competitive sports. Plans are also being made for the annual Turkey Race which will be held in November.

Last year, the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity walked away with the intramural trophy by winning the basketball and softball championships and rating high in all the others.

The Phi Deltas won the volleyball tournament, and the Deltas won the ping-pong tournament. Paul Shannon is reigning ping-pong champ of the college. He is only a sophomore.

Allegheny Sports Show Gradual Improvement

By comparative records of the last two years, it can be proved that Allegheny sports have improved gradually. However, the "new era" at College will not be satisfied with the mediocre record established last year. The fact that Allegheny won its first football game decisively and that sixty men reported for soccer warrant this statement.

The enthusiastic freshman class has much to do with the "new era" in sports.

ATHLETICS GET LIFT

An interesting parallel could be drawn concerning the game this weekend. With the Daddiomen off to an auspicious start of their 1948 grid campaign with a 19-0 win over Hamilton College, this weeks fray—against a team that may prove to be one of the most dangerous on the Gator slate—has a fifty-fifty chance of either being caught by the tenacious tide of repeating history or of upsetting the dope sheet to make the Blue and Gold a two-time winner for the first time in many years.

Win or lose, the Gators are off to the football races this year with a determined will to show northwestern Pennsylvania that they have come of age. Backed up by the spirit of the student body, and possessing the finest in equipment and facilities, a new era in football can't be too far around the Allegheny corner.
