

There had been a doleful silence for at least a minute. Felissina broke it:-

"Girls, I won't endure it any longer. I'm going to housekeeping." I can't preserve my self-respect & board at that. I feel now as common as a port-cuppie." A quar arose, & "what will the rest of us^{do}?" "How can you keep house"? "It's all nonsense" "Nonsense" nonsense you're always planning impossibilities.

"Listen" and Felicissima sat upright before her on the rug where she lay. The Benefactor put it into my head to do. She is disgusted with my way of living. Says it's cheap & undignified. "Tell that to all my millionaires, the rich" was the impatient outburst of the Beauty. Well listen. Her says ~~we must~~ co-operate, that we are jointly spending more money to-day by living apart and boarding out and spending out washing and having to pay extra for company and all that ^{sort of} things than it costs any family of our size.

Station in town to live there. The ~~four~~ ^{four} of us have $15.00 and lots of people live miserably on ~~$20.00~~ "but" He says we must co-operate. Example. That's what ^{improves} ~~Elly~~ ^{calls} Elly says, ultimate solution of labor problem - if it will pass the ultimate solution of boarder house problem I'll not mind the labor. ~~Assured~~ ^{came from} the Pet's pillow before the ^{and it}

Well, How co-operate, I don't see. ^{grate} Where are people without a house or furniture, or linen, or even a tea-pot to co-operate, ~~at~~ "Utopia, & caria clouds & moonshine!" scoffed the Beauty.

~~Well this way. there's 'Pon Fidelity' and the mother keeping house down on the lettering room. Her mother. HE says sent things applied~~

Delissima, who like some married women who ~~Rent a furnished house, hire a girl, take turns in marketing~~

"Besides, where's the time? Teach all day, and then work all night? Not at all!"

"Now see her, listen. It can be done. We can hire a house. We can hire furniture where we cannot afford ~~a~~ to buy. We can hire a housekeeper and we can hire a cook. Now just there came to gether and you have ~~a~~ housekeeping. Of course it will take planning and labor, but it will pay. You may do as you please but I propose to keep house and I believe it will cost no more than it does to live now!"

The "Assembly" ~~know~~ as the small circle called dry knew that Delissima went business what she said when she looked that way and they looked into the fire.

"Ain't you afraid there would be a great deal of worry about finding a housekeeper Felix?"
suggested Pet."

And "Yes unless we could get Laneta's mother she would be lovely!"

"But do you suppose we could?"

"She'd never do it."

"It would be too hard for her"

was the chorus that arose.
I believe
