Dear Mr. Putnam:

I have been doing for the Pictorial Review a series of two thousand word editorials - six of them - the four published enclosed. I had not thought of them, enlarged of course, for a book, but I have been asked for them. I said I wanted to ask you if you cared to consider them, which I have no idea you will. If you do not I shall go ahead with the other gentleman.

Mr. Schlesinger will get his manuscript this week my secretary assures me. As for the autobiography I am looking it in the face. I do not know that I shall ever have the courage to let you do that!

Very sincerely
