My dear Miss Tarbell

Enclosed please find a correction in regard to Frances Wright - she was Scotch and not English.

I am very glad you are writing these articles on the American woman.

It is well for the young women to learn who blazed the way for them.

My mother was the pioneer woman doctor in Phila. 1850 so I have known many of the women you are writing about

Cordially Lucretia L. Blankenburg

You may read
On a monument in Spring Grove Cemetery Cincinnati Ohio.
" "Frances Wright born in Dundee Scotland Sept. 6th 1795 - Died in Cincinnati Ohio
Dec. 13th 1852. Also these quotations "1829 I have wedded the cause of human improvement, staked on it my fortune my reputation, and my life" 1835 - "Mankind is but one family. The education of its youth should be equal & universal"

Mrs Kemble was known to my mother & other members of my family as "Frances Ann Kemble & not "Aron"
