THANKSGIVING WEEKEND FEATURES . . .

Lettermen Visit On Wednesday

Highlighting the activities of the forthcoming Thanksgiving Weekend will be a performance of The Lettermen, a nationally-known vocal trio, who will appear in the David Mead Field House at 9:30 p.m. on Wednesday.

The Lettermen come from diverse backgrounds; one is a former missionary, another a part-time songwriter, and the third a former football player. Bob Engemann and Jim Pike met at Brigham Young University, Utah, where they had sung with local groups, and a year ago met Tony Butalo, a native of Sharon, Pa., in Los Angeles.

Together they have appeared on several California television shows and first drew national attention with their 1960 recording "Their Hearts Were Full of Spring," with later hits including "The Way You Look Tonight" and "That's My Desire."

Students will be admitted free upon the presentation of their ID cards. Non-students will be charged $1.50 apiece.

'Bullfight' Stars Koesling, Skoy

Domingo del Cristobal Salamanca and his brother de la Cruz Cristobal will take the stage in the Playshop at 8:20 Wednesday through Saturday next week.

The two bullfighters, played by Fred Koesling and Art Skoy, respectively, head the cast of "The Bullfight." The play is directed by Mr. William Walton and also stars Joan Thergeson, Marlene Brown and Elton Bagley. Misses Thergeson and Brown play Indian sisters, Josefina and Pilar Tecos. Bagley is their uncle, Herman Tecos.

The Chistobal brothers are of Spanish descent, living in Mexico. Domingo is a former bullfighter whose career was ended when he was gored five years ago. Estevan is on his way up on the profession, with his brother for a manager. Estevan is married to Josefina Tecos, a fact which greatly disturbs Domingo, since she is an Indian and, therefore, he feels inferior to the Spaniards.

Fee Announces College's Policy On CD Program

President Curt Fee reported on the campus Civil Defense program at ASG Tuesday evening. His report was based on information from Dr. Pyle who has been serving on a local Civil Defense committee for only two weeks. Thus far Dr. Pyle has learned that shelters will be designated in buildings on campus as a first step. Drill and signals will come as soon as possible. Radio coverage by the Meadville station is considered a doubtful possibility.

Several faculty members will participate in a course which will train them to provide medical care. Two or three of these trained people will be assigned to each shelter area. There are no immediate plans for the provision of water and food supplies.

In further action, the Council gave student body recognition to the Allegheny College Young Republican Club and held a lengthy discussion of the final exam schedule.

Bob Cincala was approved as an addition to the Cultural Affairs Committee and Bob Beck and Al Cummings were added to the Activities Committee.

Treasurer Joan Ruffing distributed statements of revenue and expense for ASG-budgeted organizations and programs for the period Sept. 26 through Oct. 31. Monthly statements will be distributed regularly from now on. President Fee stated that these statements are distributed to representatives for their advantage in familiarizing themselves with student government organizations and activities for budgeting purposes.

Liaison between independent students and the Council was questioned. Specific reference was made to the way the poll about next year's academic calendar was taken. Hank Drucker stated that a projection was made, but that there will be a mass meeting for Independents next Monday to help alleviate the program.

Hank Drucker, coordinator of the Independent Seminar program, announced that the seminars on the Freshman required reading list books will be taped. These tapes will be presented again next week for the benefit of those students who have labs or are unable to attend the seminars this week.

Exam Schedule Revised; Friday Made Study Day

The examination period for the first term will be Dec. 8 to 13 and not Dec. 7 to 12, as previously announced. This change has been made to accommodate a study day, Friday, Dec. 7.

Three hours will be allowed for each examination, but not all examinations will require the full time. Examinations will be given 9 a.m. to 12 noon; 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.; 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Author of 'The Greeks' To Lecture at Chapel

G-7 students to the fore! One of your favorite authors is coming to Allegheny Nov. 27.

He is H. D. F. Kitto, professor of classics at the University of Bristol, England, and author of the G-7 classic "The Greeks." Professor Kitto will lecture in Ford Chapel on "The Meaning of Divine Justice in Greek Tragedy." He is the Visiting Scholar under the national Phi Beta Kappa program begun in 1956.

Also coming to Allegheny will be Professor Kitto's wife, Ann, a concert pianist who will give an informal recital.

Evans Memorial Started at Library

Friends and classmates of Allen George Evans '63 are gratified to learn that a Memorial Book Fund in his honor has been established in Reis Library.

Allen Evans was born May 5, 1941, and was graduated from Great Neck (Long Island) Senior High School in June, 1959. With his twin brother, Jerome, he entered Allegheny College to prepare for the study of medicine "and receive a more general education," as he wrote on his application. On July 23, 1962, Allen was killed in an automobile accident.

Allen described himself as having "a natural curiosity and a stick-to-it attitude that should get me over many hurdles." He enjoyed his years on campus, and, as an idealist, worked for a "new America of culture and brotherhood."

Those who would like to have a part in the Allen George Evans '63 Memorial Book Fund should send their contributions to Reis Library, Allegheny College, where the gifts will be acknowledged and the family informed.

African Exchange Offered; AC Plan Termed Unique

Allegheny's proposed African Studies Program is again to be discussed at a student-faculty meeting set for 1 p.m. Tuesday in Conference Room A of the CU.

At this time definite plans are to be decided upon in establishing a program with Royal College, Kenya, in which between 10 and 20 Allegheny students will be able to study at the African college during the third term of the present academic year and in future years.

According to plans presented by Dr. Samuel Lindley, associate professor of philosophy, at a preliminary meeting this week, students would take two courses at Royal College in addition to a special project worked out beforehand with their departmental advisors here at Allegheny, and full transfer credit could be arranged. Royal College is on a three-term program similar to Allegheny's.

Estimated costs for a term of study in Kenya are about $250 more than a term at Allegheny. This figure includes tuition (paid only to Royal College), room, board, and transportation ($280 round-trip by air). Dr. Lindley hopes that foundations may support the program, lessening the financial burden on students.

Dr. Lindley has emphasized the advantages of African study, which, besides seeing first-hand a rapidly-developing continent, enable the student to do much traveling in Africa, the Middle East, and Europe.

Students are asked to check their own examination schedules carefully. Any student with three or more consecutive examinations should report to the Registrar's Office immediately. Arrangements will be made to postpone one of the examinations until Thursday afternoon or evening, the last day of finals.

A lengthy discussion of the examination schedule took place at ASG Tuesday night. Several members of the Council expressed the belief that exams should last only two hours instead of three. With three-hour exams in half the number of days the members thought that there will be too much pressure on the students.

Dean McKean explained that about half the faculty wanted three-hour exams. To satisfy these professors three-hour tests were scheduled, but there will be no pressure on the faculty to utilize the full amount of time. Many of them will gear their exams to two hours.

The foreign language tests were singled out as specific exams which need the full three hours.

Dean McKean stated that we will have to live through this exam schedule and see what happens. He suggested that the Council discuss the results at the first meeting in January.

A question was also raised about the exam periods on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons during the term. One representative stated that these periods are wrecking labs since they can't start until 2:10 even when there aren't any tests scheduled. Dean McKean stated that if mass courses such as G-5 and G-7 are eliminated, these exam periods will also be eliminated.

Kenya's Royal College Serves Much of Africa

Royal College in Nairobi, the capital of Kenya, is presently the only college in that east African country.

Established in 1956 as Royal Technical College, it has been re-designated in accordance with plans to make it a college in the proposed University of East Africa, together with Makerere College in Uganda, according to the book "The Educated African" (Ruth Sloan Associates, 1962).

In addition to intermediate courses in the arts and sciences, Royal College offers courses in architecture, domestic science, applied art, commercial subjects, surveying and engineering. It gives examinations which can lead to degrees from London University and from the projected University of East Africa. An interracial interterritorial institution of its 290 students in 1959, 135 were African, 143 Asian and 12 of other nationalities.

Royal College's main building is an impressive five-story modern building.

A New Frontier

A rare opportunity to view first-hand the development in one of the most significant areas of the world today is being offered to Allegheny College students through the proposed African Studies Program.

Certainly more light has been shed on the "dark continent" during the past few years than ever before, as profound changes have taken place. Colonialism has suddenly ended, and the fledgling nations of Africa are emerging to take a place in the world and in the United Nations on a par with countries whose history of self-government goes back for centuries. Education is vital to these emerging nations.

Allegheny is fortunate in having graduates who are playing key roles in this development, and it is heartening that they continue to show a live interest in their alma mater and that we are attempting to utilize what they have to offer. In fact, Allegheny seems to be continuing the lead in the national and international studies field which it established in 1947 when Allegheny was one of six colleges to initiate the now-widespread Washington Semester program.

This time its leadership is even more imaginative and dramatic, and it may reap far-reaching rewards for Allegheny.

But we can hardly under-emphasize the value that participation in such a program would have for the students involved. In addition to being on the scene as African nations eagerly seek to develop their tremendous potential, in the native student body Alleghenians would meet students who, with the still fairly rigid African class distinctions, will soon be important leaders in Africa. Once in Africa, it would also be easy to travel through adjoining nations and regions. Problems in sociology, political science, communications — all would suddenly become very real.

We strongly urge that each student, whatever his major and, however far his present thoughts might be from Africa, consider for a few moments the great opportunities that a term at Royal College offers him.

Independents' Voice

To the Editors:

In your article today on the student reaction to a longer Christmas vacation next year The Campus quoted Powell Arms as stating that "Independent men and women's vote . . . is difficult to determine accurately and can only be estimated."

The first half of this statement may be true to a certain extent. However, is it fair that the large numbers of Allegheny students who do not belong to social organizations for many different reasons should not have proportional voice in college affairs? Some polling system could and should be set up for the non-fraternity and non-sorority students.

If this is not done, the many complaints that "Social organizations run this campus" will have some solid ground on which to stand.

Sincerely,
Mary Lee Glenn

Drs. Freeman and Merrick At Republican Meeting

Wednesday night the Young Republicans Club held their November meeting. Dr. Lieper Freeman and Dr. Wayne Merrick were present to discuss the recent off-year election returns from both points of view, Democrat and Republican, respectively.

Both men agreed that any analysis would have to approach the results on both the state and national level. They also agreed that the state trends had to be based on the economic and population trends within the state.

For example, the voters were dissatisfied with the conditions under the administration in New England and so voted in a "new look." In California, on the other hand, a state in the middle of a virtual economic and population boom, the voters were satisfied and therefore the "ins" stayed in.

Dr. Freeman said that on the national level, the election reflected a satisfaction with the Kennedy administration. He also stated that Rockefeller ran 300,000 votes behind the expected majority, but Dr. Merrick pointed out that this could well be explained by the split in the conservative Republican gathering Democratic and conservative Republican votes in upstate New York.

Dr. Merrick also said that the Republicans gained votes in the South because of anti-administration and anti-Kennedy votes resulting from the University of Mississippi incident.

The next meeting of the Young Republicans will be held the first Wednesday in December for the adoption of the organization's constitution.

Socrates Club

"Do Liberals Need a Creed?" will be the topic of discussion at the next meeting of the Socrates Club, Sunday night, November 18 at 8:00 p.m. The meeting will be held at the Pommer's, 263 Jefferson Street. All students are welcome.

There is a Quaker Meeting for Workshop held each Thursday afternoon at 1 in the English Seminar Room on the second floor of Arter Hall.

Newman Club

Newman Club will begin a series of talks by guest speakers invited from the Erie and Meadville areas, Tuesday night, November 20. The first speaker is Mr. Paul Knowl, president of the Erie County Laymen's League, who will speak on "The Role of the Catholic Layman." Mr. Knowl is also active in the Christian Family Movement in Erie. The meeting will take place at 8:15 p.m. in conference Room A in the C.U. All members of the college community are invited to attend.

'Trials and Tribulations'

To the Editor:

In your editorial "Trials and Tribulations" in The Campus of Nov. 9, you express concern that most freshmen "are not kept busy with the basic courses. Many freshmen delinquent grades at mid-term stemmed from the lack of pressure and the excessive time for goofing off." You recommend, among other things, "a closer student-faculty adviser relationship."

I suggest that you, and the unfortunate freshmen, may have a mistaken idea of what a college faculty does. The faculty's obligation is to promote an interest in study, not primarily to apply pressure "to keep students busy. But just how busy are those students"? Far too many delinquent students are in that position because they have not applied pressure to themselves, and you are condoning or excusing their lack of self-respect.

In these circumstances, what additional advice does the student expect to get from the faculty? It seems to me that at Allegheny, he gets a large amount already.

Sincerely yours,
John B. Henderson

Announcement of College Reading Tests
The examination on the first term of College Reading will be given on Monday, Nov. 26, at 7 p.m., the place to be announced later.

Foreign Students Sing

The Department of Modern Languages is sponsoring an International Songfest to be held Tuesday, November 20, at 8 o'clock P.M. in Henderson Auditorium. Students from the language classes will present songs which are typical of the countries where the language is spoken. In addition, several of the foreign students will sing.

Refreshments will be served in Peters Lounge following the Songfest. Everyone is cordially invited.

PAY UP!

All bookstore accounts are due monthly. December bookstore charges must be paid by the end of the 1st term. All other balances — deferred payment, fines, etc. — must be paid by the end of the term. If the above balances are not paid, the student will not receive his grades or be allowed to register for the 2nd term. There will be no EXAM PERMITS this year. (See p.p. 14-15 "Policy & Procedures.")

ASG Recognizes Young Republican Club

Student body recognition of the Allegheny College Young Republican Club was granted by ASG Tuesday. The organization was approved by the Student Affairs Committee last Thursday, Nov. 8. Final approval must be granted by the faculty.

Sandy Spence, Vice President of the Young Republicans, explained that the group must be officially recognized on campus in order to affiliate with the state Collegiate Council of Young Republicans. The local club believes that state affiliation will help promote a more permanent organization which will remain active between elections. It will also give Allegheny members an opportunity to participate in statewide Young Republican activities such as the annual Collegiate convention in Harrisburg. The state organization provides greater resources and sends a monthly newsletter to college chapters.

Among the purposes of the club are those of providing practical political training and experience, stimulating discussion, interest, and a feeling of responsibility in political and government affairs; and educating students about the philosophy and belief of the Republican Party.

Membership is open to all interested students. Dues are fifty cents per year. Meetings are held once a month with additional activities and programs during election campaigns. Presently there are 70 members.

Officers of the club are: President, Bill Cutler; Vice President, Sandy Spence; Secretary, Connie McCleery; Treasurer, Ed Thornblade and Publicity Chairman, Diane Shafer.

Dr. Wayne R. Merrick, Chairman of the Political Science Department, is faculty advisor.

Japanese Movie Tonight

Ikiru, the second Cultural Affairs Committee film, will be shown tonight at 7:30 P.M. in Henderson Auditorium. There will be a discussion afterward in the Faculty Lounge. This powerful Japanese film concerns a man who discovers he has cancer and his approach to death. According to the New Republic, Ikiru (to live) involves "the knowledge that the world has already discarded you, the revelation that once a man dies, death is finished and all that remains is the man's life — as it was — now unalterable and complete."

Gridders Take Fifth Loss 21-12

by Kent Sanders and Joe Zaccari
Campus Sports Writers

The desire to win has often been the deciding factor in a football team's success. It certainly was the quality that made the 1961 Gator gridgers tough enough to capture the PAC title.

Such is not the case this season. The Gators, basically, have the identical personnel which compiled a 6-1 record in 1961, but they are not a team this year. The AC gridgers play as individuals, each interested in personal gain and glory.

It was never more evident than in last Saturday's 21-12 fiasco with the Presidents of W & J at Robertson Field. The Gators played good football for the initial six minutes of the contest only to fall apart after the opponents' first tally.

Gators Take Lead

The Gators jumped off to a quick 6-0 lead, taking the opening kickoff and marching 66 yards in eight plays, with Phil Crichton blasting seven yards to pay dirt with nine minutes remaining in the first quarter.

From this point on, the sparse Allegheny crowd watched the Gators disintegrate into little more than a sandlot team with considerably less enthusiasm.

The Presidents took the ensuing kickoff and fumbled on their first play from scrimmage, giving the Gators an opportunity to take an early commanding lead as Ernie Gaiser recovered the pigskin on the W & J 22.

Gridders Fumble

The Gators, playing the hospitable role, fumbled the ball after picking up a first down, and W & J took over again on their 8-yard line.

The ball exchanged hands two more times before the end of the first period with neither team especially interested in showing any offensive prowess.

The Gator defense found the second quarter rather tiring as W & J dominated the football for all but five plays. AC's pass secondary saved scores on two occasions with interceptions by Chris Brown and Pat Butler.

Butler Intercepts

The half didn't come too soon for the Gators as the Presidents were trying to climax a sustained drive but were thwarted by Butler's interception at AC's 5 as time ran out.

The second half was ridiculous from the standpoint of Gator supporters. The offense was non-existent which meant a considerably overworked defense that finally was unable to contain an inspired W & J offense.

The Presidents tallied early in the third quarter, plowing 72 yards for a TD and taking the lead 7-6 with little more than six minutes elapsed.

The drive was climaxed by a 47-yard scoot by the high-stepping W & J halfback, Jerry Angell, during which he outran the apparently motionless Gator secondary.

Gilliland Grabs Fumble

W & J, obviously feeling compassion for the Gator eleven, tried to lift the home team's spirit by fumbling a punt on their own 11 which was grabbed by Allegheny's Roy Gilliland.

Four plays later, Dave Wion plunged across the goal from the 2-yard line to give the Gators a 12-7 lead late in the third period.

The Presidents wasted little time in regaining the lead which they held for the remainder of the game. The Gators offered little resistance during this march as quarterback Ken Mason completed three passes, the last to Pete Eaton, good for six yards and the game-winning TD.

Gators Fold

This raised the score to 14-12 and, for all practical purposes, this was the end as far as the Gators were concerned. They were unable to mount anything in the way of an offense which could have threatened a high school defense.

The Gators fumbled the ball away once and, finally, handed a TD to W & J as a Steve Simington aerial found the waiting arms of Harry Ludwig, President's defensive halfback, who scampered 45 yards for the final score.

AC will attempt to salvage a disastrous season in their final contest of the year against arch-rival Thiel. The Tomcats captured the sole victor against Allegheny last season 35-22. The Gators, we hope, have not forgotten that loss.

The game will begin at 2 p.m. at Robertson Field.

Campus Clashes

The Allegheny College Interfraternity football season came to a close this week with Phi Kappa Psi retaining their championship.

At the beginning of last week, there were four teams still in contention for the title. The Sigs beat the Phi Deltas, the Independents edged out the Sigs, the Chi Rhos whopped the Indies, and the Phi Psis defeated the Chi Rhos for the championship.

The final standings are:

Phi Kappa Psi	4-0
Alpha Ghi Rho	3-2
Independents	2-2
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	2-2
Delta Tau Delta	1-2
Phi Delta Theta	1-2
Phi Gamma Delta	0-2
Theta Chi	0-2

In the first game the Sigs eliminated the Phi Deltas by a 14-8 score. Mike Staren threw two touchdown passes, one to Mike Lipitz and one to Hank Mathis, and the Sigs added a safety for their fourteen points. Barry Sullivan threw to Ralph Bennett for the Phi Delt touchdown, and they also had a safety.

After beating the Phi Deltas, the Sigs lost 12-6 to the Independents. Brian Hathaway caught two passes from Jim McDonough for the Independents while Staren connected with Don McNeiley for the three scores in the game.

The Chi Rhos promptly turned around and blasted the Independents 24-6. Vic Nery threw three touchdown passes to Dave Reynolds, Dave Spencer and Ron Holl and ran 10 yards for the Crows' fourth score. Jim McDonough hit Jim Gordon in the end zone for the Indies' lone tally.

The Phi Psis had to come from behind to win the championship. Chi Rhos had an 8-0 lead at the end of the first quarter due to a run for a score by Nery and a safety. The Phi Psis, on passes from Frank Pugliese to Neil Johnson and Hank Kachelriess, and a safety, came back to win the game and the title 14-8.

'09 Alumnus To Pakistan In Peace Corps Position

This article on Allegheny's newest member of the Peace Corps is by Bob Fenley, a staff writer for the Dallas (Texas) Times Herald in which this article originally appeared.

Ralph Cole, U.S. Peace Corps, 1962.

Ralph Cole of Dallas was second-year center for Allegheny College when Coach Branch Rickey told the team it would have to learn that new play, the forward pass.

This dates Mr. Cole at 76 — an age which would seem to make a man a likely candidate for a rocker.

But the unlikely Mr. Cole recently was personally congratulated by this nation's most famous rocking chair enthusiast, President Kennedy.

The reason? Mr. Cole is on a new team — the Peace Corps.

"Phillip says I'm crazy," laughs the oldest member of the corps about the analysis of his 8-year-old grandson.

Mr. Cole returned to Dallas Saturday with four notches taken up in his belt, 18 immunization shots, a working knowledge of the Pushto language and a 10-day leave to spend with his daughter and three grandchildren before leaving for Pakistan.

He passed the 10-week training course at the University of Minnesota in good style. Thirteen of his class of 84 failed.

Why did he join?

"I don't know. I just thought it'd be a good deal. I didn't think they'd take me, but I thought I'd try them out."

Mr. Cole, says his daughter, Mrs. Joe Hill Jones of 3636 Maplewood, is of "pioneer stock." One of his forebearers fought in the Revolutionary War.

Mr. Cole is a civil engineer who has a solid background of utilities work. He will be attached to the town of Mardan in northern Pakistan.

He never has retired: "I'm feeling real good. I don't have anyone depending on me and the only real time I was out of the United States was on a trip to Canada. This will be a good opportunity to go halfway around the world," he said.

Mr. Cole, a Dallasite since 1924, is a veteran of the legendary days of football when one played the entire game. "I played all the games for all four years at Allegheny," he said.

Mr. Cole has been a fisherman in the years since and he has heard there is some of that near Mardan. But mostly he will be busy with Corps work.

The Peace Corps training was pretty rigid, said the engineer. "We worked 60 hours a week, mostly in class."

The next oldest Corps member is 69.

The contingent of 10 Corps members left for Pakistan via chartered plane in late September. They will work in that country for two years.

31 Pints of O Positive Donated to Bloodmobile

Tuesday's visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile was termed an "outstanding success" by Red Cross officials.

Of 88 would-be donors, 76 pints of blood were collected, 12 being rejected for health reasons. Included in the total were 31 pints of O Positive type blood, more than enough to insure that the open-heart operation at Buffalo's Children's Hospital could be performed as scheduled on Wednesday morning, barring other complications.

The Red Cross has expressed its thanks to all those donors and workers who helped make this life-saving program a success.

AWS Dinner Thursday

The A.W.S. Thanksgiving Banquet will be held Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 22, at 1:00 p.m. in Brooks and in South. Sunday dress will be appropriate.

Don't forget to sign-up for the banquet beginning Monday, November 19, if you plan to attend.

Marksmen Lose

Allegheny College lost its opening rifle match, 1347 to 1361, to Grove City. The home match was held at Allegheny's new rifle range in the wrestling room of the field house. Top man for Allegheny was James Balent with a score of 275 out of a possible 300. The next home match will be on Nov. 30, against Indiana.

Although students majoring in history, political science, economics and sociology are particularly urged to apply, all students are eligible.

Allegheny's proposed program is unique among American colleges and universities, most of which have focused their attention only on programs with crowded European universities.

The idea for the program was brought up last spring by a group of seniors working with Dr. Lindley and other faculty members. The class of 1962 has specified that its gift to the college of a bond, which will be worth $80,000 at its maturity in 20 years, be used to support such programs.

John Clark, a 1962 Allegheny graduate from Kenya, last summer visited Lawrence Sagini, Allegheny, '59, who is now Kenya's Minister of Education, and found Sagini enthusiastic about the project. Sagini offered his full cooperation.

Cowgirls to Face Fijis

The number one women's professional basketball team in the country, the Texas Cowgirls, will appear Tuesday evening, Nov. 20 at 8 p.m. to face the Fraternity of Phi Gamma Delta for the College Fund drive in the David Mead Field House.

The Texas Cowgirls have appeared all over the world and in every major gym and arena in this country.

In the 11 years of their existence, they have beaten their all-male competition in over 70 per cent of their games, including a victory over football's invincible Green Bay Packers.

Aside from their basketball prowess, the girls are reknown for their comic antics that have led them to appear with the Harlem Globetrotters on occasion.

Tickets may be purchased from any Phi Gam at 50 cents for students and $1 for adults. Get out and support your fund drive on next Tuesday evening.

There will be a special added attraction at halftime.

The Arnold Air Society Squadron here at Allegheny is called the Don H. Blyth Squadron in memory of this Alleghenian. For many of the members this was the first time the origin of the squadron name had been explained.

After the meeting, the group was served doughnuts and cider by the Angel Flight.

Kappas Challenge Phi Gams

On Thanksgiving afternoon at 3:00 the Kappas will be matching brains and female craftiness against the brawn and experience of the Phi Gam football team. The Kappas have already been practicing for nearly two weeks and co-captains Gaye Cushner and Sue Werner say that their team is really having fun getting ready for the game.

Dean McKean and Dr. "Skipper" Knights will be refereeing the game on the field behind the Odd Fellows Home. A sample of the rules show that there will be eight Phi Gams matched against a fullteam of eleven Kappas, and the boys will be considered "tackled" when they are touched, but the girls not until a sock is pulled from the pocket of their jeans.
