

February 9, 1923

Jerome Walker, M.D.,
258 Argyle Road,
Brooklyn, N.Y.

My dear Dr. Walker:

Thank you for your most interesting letter. Have I your permission to use what you tell me here? I don't want to do it if it would encroach upon your proposed article.

Of course there is no reason in the world why you should not use the incident in your book. It is your material. I used it only by your generosity.

Sincerely yours,