Dear Madam:

The assignees of the Concord School Company concluded an agreement a few days ago with Mr. R. L. Wilson of Concord, for the sale to him of that part of the property of the Concord School Company known as Nashoba Park. The property is to be conveyed on or before the first of March. This sale, and a loan which has been negotiated on the remaining property, will enable the assignees to pay off the existing mortgages so that the property will be conveyed to Mr. Wilson free and clear. His purchase includes the lot for which you hold a contract, and he buys subject to your rights under that contract, as modified by the agreement which you recently signed in response to the assignees' letter of December 9.

The assignees take a great deal of pleasure in being able to make this announcement, since the above transaction, if successfully carried out, will protect you against the danger of losing your rights through foreclosure of the mortgages, and whether you choose to complete your contract or to receive back the money you have paid in, you will avoid the loss of any of your investment.

Very truly yours,

HWD
