Room Rules Ready for Exam Period

Deanne Blyth, president of A.W.S., has announced the following "rooming" rules which women students must observe during the examination period.

1. Rooming begins the evening before the examination period.
2. All women students must be in their rooms from 7:30 until 10 and from 10:30 on.
3. Women students may obtain permission to study in rooms other than their own from the Senate member or quiet proctor in the section. No more than three students may study in a room.
4. Women students may leave the dormitory if they are out by 7:30 and do not return until 10. They may come in from 10 to 10:30 and at 11.
5. All women students may leave the dormitory at 10 to stay until 10:30 without signing out.
6. Students may study in the library if they leave the dormitory before 7:30 and return at the designated hours. (rule 4).
7. Women students not having examinations on the following day may take free 11 permissions.
8. No twelve o'clock permissions may be taken. Blanket 12's will be given on Saturday night.
10. The penalty for minutes late during the examination period is twenty-five cents a minute. Any student who feels that her tardiness was unavoidable may submit her case to the Senior Court.
11. No telephone calls are put through during quiet hours nor is the dial phone to be used.
12. No hairdryers may be run during quiet hours.
13. Typing must be done away from the living quarters.
14. Radios and phonographs may not be played during quiet hours.
15. Second-semester senior women receive 12 o'clock permissions after their individual examinations are over.

Bulletin Board

The treasurer's office has announced that examination permits will be issued three days only—Friday, May 23, 10-4; Saturday, May 24, 10-noon; Monday, May 26, 10-4—at Montgomery Gymnasium. All bills must be paid in full before examination permits will be issued.

All library books are due on June 2.

The sophomore girls chosen to be junior advisors for next year will be announced at a mass meeting Thursday, Dean Laila Skinner has announced. The list will be posted on the bulletin board next week.

Organizations desiring to submit requests for dates on the 1947-48 Social Calendar must submit them to Dean Lavelly by 3 p.m. today.

The Senior Banquet will be held tomorrow night at 6:00 p.m., Cochran Hall. Dr. Chester A. Darling will speak.

Any conflicts in the completed examination schedule should be reported to the Registrar's office immediately.

Once again the Campus has a co-ed editor. Sally Miller, above, is the new editor-in-chief. Esther McPayden, below, has been appointed associate editor.

Zook to be Annual Boss

Joan Zook was appointed editor of the '48-'49 Kaldron at the regular meeting of A.U.C. on Sunday evening. She will replace Betty Crabbs. Miss Zook served as business manager on the Kaldron staff for two years and was editor of her high school yearbook.

She was treasurer of A.W.S., a junior advisor, vice-president of W.A.A., and a member of Chemii Club, the band, and Terrapin. Joan is also a member of Alpha Gamma Delta social sorority.

The assistant editor and the remainder of the staff will be appointed in the near future.

Lit Mag Post Filled by Marsh

Summer Jobs Offered

Students interested in summer positions as bell-hops or waitresses at Conneaut Lake Park should get in touch with Mrs. H. W. Johnson, General Manager.

Bell-hops receive $25.00 per month plus room and board, and tips, while waitresses receive $50.00 per month plus room, board, and tips. All employees are issued a free pass to the Beach.

Bad News Here Soon

Final grades for this semester will not be available at the Registrar's office during the examination period. Students will be notified of failing grades as soon as they are reported to the office.

Seniors may procure their grades at the Registrar's office from 2:00 to 5:00 o'clock on Friday, June 6. Students who attend summer school will be given their grades when they register on June 10. All other grades will be mailed to the students' homes.

Stay Home Kiddies

By Tom Johnson and Chuck Thompson

Now that the hot breath of exams, ough, can be felt on everyone's neck, varying degrees of test-hysteria can be seen on the campus. The acute symptoms of this well-known malady, other than disorganized individuals running around screaming, "What'll I do?" consist of many incoherent abnormalities. First of all, the male's care for his appearance ebbs into obscurity so that his carefully disheveled clothes look well slept in. (It has been discovered that some of the lazier students adopt this outward appearance as a plea for pity and for the impression it creates.) The shirt is usually soiled, wrinkled, and a few irregular rents are casually torn in it. The pants are baggy and unpressed, several belt loops are torn off, and the cuffs are rolled to a different height on each leg.

The female also has peculiar dressing habits during this trying exam period. It is to her advantage to wear sweaters, for the sake of making impressions on the test proctors. These sweaters need not, and usually aren't, immaculate or even pretty, but are usually two sizes too small. She also wears slacks that failed to meet the requirements for the European clothing campaign. If she wears shoes, they are kind that can easily be slipped off so that crib notes may easily be flicked back and forth with prehensile toes while the proctor's attention is held elsewhere.

As to physical appearance, the male and female closely approximate each other. The eyes are not only bloodshot, they are so swollen from lack of sleep that a row of toothpicks are inserted between the upper and lower lids to keep them apart. This innovation gives the test taker the idea that he is looking through prison bars, which is almost the actual case.

The hair is never combed at any time during the examination period. The female ties hers up in any manner she so desires; the crudest method is with a shoe lace or a piece of clothes line, and the cleverest is with bits of colored cloth holding each ringlet. The male just doesn't give a good happy darn.

Each sufferer from this type of hysteria seems to wander about listlessly, but this is understandable. Obviously his mind is on other more important things than his immediate whereabouts, no matter where those abouts happen to be.

He usually has lost his voice completely or speaks in low, husky tones. The reason for this is obvious when it is considered that the victim has probably talked most of each night to all other people in his vicinity who were studying. When groups gather to study together there is a field for many conversations, so it is necessary for one to raise his voice to shouting to be heard.

Then too, there is the matter of cigarette consumption. It helps pass the time away, or it helps to keep one awake, or it's sociable, or it steadies the nerves, but there's always one more left in someone's pack that could be thrown away if it were smoked. There is always a reason for smoking more than is necessary or desired.

But not all cases are as severe as all this would indicate. There are the grill hounds who also practice their social graces after darkness that fall into this most extreme category. There is the class that goes downtown nightly and is slightly less open to the malady. There is the card-playing class that has been

Students to Feed Faculty

Bousson will be the site of the annual student-faculty picnic this Saturday afternoon. All members of Healers and Outing Club, as well as all the faculty are invited to attend.

Each person is asked to bring his own lunch, which will be supplemented by ice cream, coffee and milk provided by the Outing Club. The truck will leave at 1:15 p.m. in front of Brooks and will return at 8 p.m.

Students who are planning to attend may sign lists posted in Brooks Hall and the Grill.

Dr. Darling Honored By Alumni, Trustees

Dr. Chester A. Darling, a member of the Allegheny faculty for 34 years, will deliver his final lecture at the Alumni College June 7.

"Ripening" will be Chester A. Darling's subject when he speaks at the annual Alumni College on Saturday, June 7, at 3 p.m., in Montgomery gymnasium.

Immediately following his talk, Dr. Darling will be honored by trustees, faculty members and former students in recognition of his thirty-four years as professor of Biology here. Among those participating in the recognition service will be Dr. Annabell Broomall Horn, '36; Leo H. McKay, '16; Dr. Thomas Francis, Jr., '21; Dr. Leonell C. Strong, '17; and President Schultz.

Dr. Darling graduated from Albion College in 1904 and was professor of Biology at Defiance for two years. He received his doctor's degree from Columbia in 1909. While there he was an assistant in botany, a tutor and instructor.

In 1913 he came to Allegheny as professor of Biology and Geology and curator of the college museum.

After retiring Dr. Darling plans to do research work on bacteria, and to edit articles on the work he has done.

Former OPA Biologists Head Here Initiate

Paul A. Porter, who recently returned to private life after fourteen years of government assignments, will deliver the commencement address on June 9 at 10 a.m.

Porter, whose last government role took him to Greece on an economic mission early this year, is a former chairman of the O.P.A. He has also served with the Office of Economic Stabilization, the War Foods Administration, and the National Defense Advisory Commission.

A native of Missouri, Porter received a law degree at the University of Kentucky and entered private practice for several years.

In 1933, he resigned the editorship of the La Grange, Georgia, News, and took on his first government job as a special legal assistant to Henry A. Wallace, the Secretary of Agriculture.

This was the beginning of a number of government positions Porter held during fourteen years of service. Washington's "handy man", as he is often called, resigned his O.P.A. position in December of '46, and left that month on his mission to Greece.

The topic of Mr. Porter's address has not been announced.

Dr. Oscar Thomas Olson, pastor of the Epworth-Euclid Methodist Church in Cleveland will deliver the baccalaureate sermon in the Old Stone Methodist Church at 10:45 a.m. on Sunday, June 8.

New Staff Takes Over

Staff members for next year's Campus include, managing editor, Louise Foster; assistants to the managing editor, Robert Alexshaut, Deanne Blyth, George Henderson and Mary Lou Richey; sports editor, James Hall; society, Barbara Trigger and Nancy Ullman; make-up, Nancy Myers and Beverly Terry.

Freshmen Vie For Honors

Eight freshmen selected in recent preliminary eliminations will compete in the annual Freshman Speaking Contest tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Playshop.

Students participating in the contest, which is sponsored by the Philo-Franklin Union, include:

Theodore Beiler, who will speak on "Universal Military Training"; Frank Fitch, "Political Liberalism"; Thomas Fort, "Medicine of the Future"; Sam Hazelbart, "Living Death"; George Henderson, "Abolition of the Army Caste System"; Jean Isherwood, "The Future of Teaching"; John Sandberg, "It's Up To You"; and Lois J. Vice, "Capital Punishment."

Prizes of five, three and two dollars will be awarded to the three top speakers. Judges for the finals will be Raymond P. Shafer, instructor in business law, and a Meadville attorney; Dean C. C. Hurd, and Melvin A. Blair, secretary of the Meadville Chamber of Commerce.

Vacation Cuts To Be Abolished

Abolishment of "vacation cuts" and a new standard for graduation grades, both effective in September, were announced yesterday by Dean C. C. Hurd. The new regulations are the result of faculty action.

Vacation cuts are abolished by a ruling which reads:

"The previous penalty for class absences on days preceding and following vacations is abolished, effective September, 1947."

The other new ruling states: "Beginning in September, 1947, 75 per cent of the hours required for graduation shall carry grade 70 or above. In any case where calculation of this percentage results in a fraction, the advantage shall be given to the student (i.e., the fraction shall be dropped). Transfer credits and hours for which no grade is given shall be considered as work above 70 per cent."

Dean Hurd explains that only grades achieved after September will be used in determining the percentages.

Students Ask New Gym As Suitable War Memorial

(Editor's Note: The views expressed in this column are not necessarily those of the Campus. However, readers are encouraged to express their opinions here. Anonymous contributions can be given absolutely no consideration, but names of authors will be withheld by the staff upon request.)

An Allegheny College committee for some months now has been trying to determine a fitting war memorial not only for those Alleghenians who died, but also those who served in the service of their country. This committee, headed by Mr. Philip M. Benjamin, has had several suggestions brought forward which include plans for a scholarship fund, each individual scholarship under the name of a deceased war veteran; plans for a new student health center, and the purchase of a new organ to be used as a war memorial.

While these suggestions are worthy and desirable contributions to campus life, one of the most pertinent suggestions was covered in a letter from H. Paul Way, director of Athletics, to Mr. Benjamin in which he outlined plans for a new gymnasium.

I do not believe that anyone will deny the fact that Montgomery gymnasium has outlived its usefulness, however, I would like to enumerate several of the more glaring points.

The basketball court is far too small for varsity competition and besides this, it has a composition floor which is far from being preferred.

Many of us have voiced dissatisfaction with Allegheny basketball teams; however, the very facilities with which they train has as much to do with their winning and losing as the men who play. They are trained on an undersized court and when they are forced to play on a full-size court they appear ludicrous. This does not reflect on a man's playing ability, but rather back to the school, in that they are not given an equal chance with their opponents.

It is even difficult to get "name" or good drawing teams on our schedule as the first questions asked are: "What is your seating capacity and what is the size of the floor?" To this Mr. Way is forced to answer in a meek voice: "We haven't very much in the way of facilities, but we are good fellows and wouldn't you like to play us for fun?" The answer, of course, is that they don't play for fun.

It is all very well to sit in your ivory tower and claim it is best to de-emphasize sports, however, looking at it from pure hard-headed logic—it would pay us to have a new gym that would seat two to three thousand people and provide an acceptable court for Yale, Dartmouth and some of the other schools to enter into competition with us. If we could fill a gym of that size in ten home games, it would very nearly carry our entire sports program and permit the use of monies now spent for this to be diverted to other useful projects.

Another point for safety's sake is the balcony which surrounds the basketball court. It is of the same vintage as the rest of the building, and to put it bluntly is a menace to those who stray under it. To make matters worse, during the basketball season, in order to get extra reserve admissions the balcony groans under

Food's Main Feature Of Final Whirl

Everything seems to be getting in the "whirl" as all the little last-minute details of '46-'47 projects are completed before it's too late, before they have to begin all over again in another whirling Allegheny year.

The Alpha Chi's held open house in their rooms during intermission Saturday night with their new record player as feature attraction. Peg Laffer would still like to know what happened to the needle from it. Chaperones for the evening were Miss Mildred Ann Ditty and Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Seely.

The Alpha Gam's don't trust their own cooking. The had a "bring your own dinner" party in the rooms Wednesday night.

Miss Emma Sue Phelps and Mr. Howe were chaperones for the open house held in the chapter rooms Saturday night.

The Alpha Xi's had a scholarship party in the rooms Wednesday night, the idea being that the brighter you are, the more you got to eat. Wonder who got the most to eat? Wonder who starved? The Seniors were given bracelets by the underclassmen.

Shirley Miller, '45, and Valerie Simpson, '46, were guests for the week-end.

The Theta Chi's elected their new officers for the coming year. Presiding will be Paul Welty, assisted by Vice-president Harris Dreibilbis. Earl Johnson is their new secretary and George Hartung will handle the financial end as treasurer.

The Sig's held their traditional Mothers' Day Sunday. A buffet luncheon was served Sunday evening at the house.

The Tau Delt's had a week-end guest, too, George Clancy, '36.

The Phi Delt's spent so much time being social on the phone that we couldn't get through to see if they were social any other way.

The Phi Psi's had a very dull week except that a couple of their members seem to have gotten their heads caught in a lawn mower.

The Theta's plus the rain spelled difficulty this week-end. Their picnic Friday night was rained out and the skies didn't clear up much for their alumnae tea, given for the chapter, Saturday afternoon.

50 Years Ago In The Campus

(From an editorial) Many students, in seeking an education, mistake the husk for the kernel. Most of the young men at Allegheny will learn some day, if they do not know it now, that mere memorized facts and book learning can never give a man true culture."

Campus Catch-All

And another bachelor bites the dust:

Sunday and Monday Del Crawford ignored his usual colorful wardrobe and donned a black suit. Don't feel bad about it Nancy, we noticed that he went around whistling all day. Social note: Del and Nancy were married yesterday. Best wishes to both of you, and may your multitude of boys be Sigs and your innumerable girls all Kappas.

The "We Hate To Be a Wet Blanket, But—" Department: Examinations, chillun, are just around the corner. Once more the entire Chem A class will be under the impression that they failed, but the story is that one or two of them are actually going to pass — The freshmen will be up all night cramming for their examinations. As a safety measure, could we have an underpass on Main Street so those leaving Caflish and still asleep are not in danger of getting their writing arms twisted on the way to exams?

Dr. Cares' history classes are covering centuries in seconds in a series of the most interesting lectures being given at Allegheny — The fraternity houses will have all of the "files" out and someone is sure to sleep through an exam. It happens every year — Well, dood luck, Ha, Ha, Ha, (denotes fiendish laughter.)

Playshop to Present Program

Allegheny broadcasters will present Freedom is a Hard Bought Thing on Station WPIC, Sharon, at 2:30 p.m. Monday, May 26.

The radio play, adapted from Stephen Vincent Benet's short story of the same name, shows how a slave named Cue gained his freedom in the days before the Civil War.

John D. Cremer is directing the entire production. The cast includes Bill Glenn, Leake Bevil, Melvin Gerseny, Miles Mutchler, Virginia Witter, Betty Heil, and Bob Landon.

This is the third half-hour radio program John Cremer has directed. His other shows were original adaptations of Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" and "The Devil and Daniel Webster."

Three Students To Sing on Friday Night

Phoebe Nelms, soprano; Marian Reichelderfer, contralto; and Robert Dietsch will be featured in the final student voice recital Friday night at 8:30 o'clock at Ford Chapel.

The program will consist of the Schumann song cycle, "Frauenliebe und Lehen", (Woman's Libe and Love) and several French, German and English songs.

Mary Tuve will accompany the soloists.

Social Notes from Brooks Hall: The smiles on the faces of the juniors are the smiles of the elite living in Walker next year — It is coincidence that three members of Senior Court sleep on Walker 1st, or haven't you tried to sneak out lately?

Know all, See All, Tell All: The May Dance on Saturday night sent down a host of horoscopes straight from Mount Olympus. Don't think that Zeus didn't know what he was about when he made them out either, just ask Dave Meyers, Phi Gam social chairman.

So there, too: They tell us the reason that some of the Singers almost had hysterics during their concert Sunday night was that Mr. Luvaas was making faces at them. That's O.K., kids, if it becomes an obsession, make faces right back at him.

Sowing wild oats: We hear that some of the horsey set took off last week for North Randall Racing Park in Cleveland. They say they didn't win but we heard tales of a big steak dinner on the way home. Now tell the truth Sigs, you don't really spend all your money on slow horses and fast women, some of them must be in the money. (The horses, we mean.)

Peers Elect Red Jackets

Tradition was broken last week when fifteen new Cwens donned their red jackets, not at the customary tapping ceremony, but at a dinner and initiation held in Miss Laila Skinner's apartment.

"The tapping ceremony, although a colorful tradition, caused too much disappointment among other members of the freshman class," said Mavis Clark, retiring president.

Not only was precedent broken in the initiation procedure but in the choosing of Cwens, as well. Formerly, the Cwens chose the freshman girls; this year all freshman women voted for members of their group on the usual basis of scholarship, friendliness, leadership, and personality. The Cwens believed the election to be a "fairer, more democratic system" of choosing.

The new Cwens are: Beverley Terry, Marjorie Beck, Vivian Willis, Martha Van De Walle, Louise Wilson, Constance Callahan, Marcia Johnson, Jane Fielding, Nancy McCune, Ruth Miller, Virginia Bender, Virginia Pratt, Marilyn Schrieber, Betty Rose.

The results from the election of president have not yet been announced.

Last night all former Cwens and the new Cwens met at a reception in Ground Walker lounge.

Miss Mildred Ludwig and Miss Laila Skinner were guests.

Future Parents, Note!

Want to know what you are going to be reading to your kids? Well, take a peak into the future by dashing over to the library and look at the illustrations for "The Powerful Garden Hose", a children's book by Joe Backus.

Joe attended Allegheny for a year and will start back this summer term to complete his education.

The Art Department will have a display in the library next week. It will be the final one for the year.

Organ Recitals To Be Held by Music Students

Organ selections by Jean Sayres, Anne Matthews, Virginia Claxton, and Richard Hartung will be the feature of a vesper service to be held in Ford Memorial Chapel this Sunday, May 25, at 7 p.m. Harold Reichard will be the vocal soloist, accompanied by Richard Hartung.

The service, presented by the A.C.C., will also have a meditation, "The Meaning of the Lord's Prayer."

"A Woman Destroyed" To Show Here Tonight

This evening at 7:45 in Arter Hall a 16 m.m. silent motion picture entitled "A Woman Destroyed" will be shown. The film, written, produced and directed by Harry Banta, was photographed at the Delta Tau Delta house and surrounding community.

The screen play concerns John Colton, a young student, and his fiance Loretta Winters, who are to be married when his school term is completed. The mysterious death of Victor, his roommate, and the intervention of Loretta's invalid brother Stephen prevent the couple from carrying out their plans. A disease inherited in the Winter's family is the strang reason Stephen gives for cancelling the wedding. From here the motion picture leads on to a startling and intriguing conclusion.

Principals in the cast are: Ralph Horton as John, Joanne Thomas as Loretta, and Harry Banta as Stephen. Other players include: Ronald Loew, Gerald McClure, Cloyd Bartholomew, James Calvin and Fredrick Guenther.

William C. Lortz acted as dialogue director for the production and Gerald McClure handled the photography. Students and faculty are cordially invited to attend the first showing of "A Woman Destroyed."

Terrapin Club Has Banquet

A banquet was the climax of this year's activities for Terrapin Club. Following a steak dinner, the president, Gertrude ("Tex") Walters, spoke to the members and read a congratulatory letter from Coach Way on the success of their recent water pageant, Rainbow Rhapsody.

"Tex" installed the new president, Barbara Davies, who then installed the other officers for the coming year: Rita Glinn, vice-president; Betty Lou Thomas, secretary; and Phyllis Rosen, treasurer. Barbara expressed the hope that there will be a bigger and better water pageant in the coming year.

THE CAMPUS OF ALLEGHENY COLLEGE

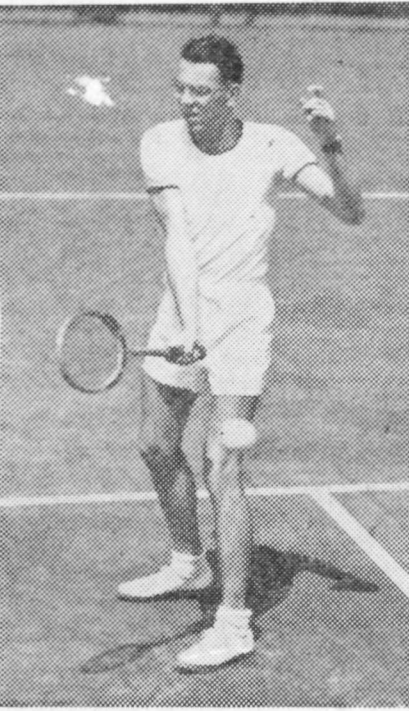

Published Since 1876

Published Wednesdays during the school year by students of the college.

Entered as second class matter, October 30, 1904, at the Postoffice at Meadville, Pennsylvania, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Intramural Sports

When elsewhere there are intermittent showers, Allegheny's softballers have found that Meadville has intermittent good weather and not too much of that.

In the first of the two games played last week, the Alden Men trampled the Theta Chi's 19-1. Alden pitcher "Buz" Baldwin limited the boys from down the hill to no hits, one run.

The second game, the seasonal clash of the Phi Gams and Sigs, drew one of the largest crowds of the year to the Montgomery Mud Bowl. Behind a combination of smooth pitching and hitting, the Fiji's added another game to their winnings, collecting eight runs to the SAE's four.

Just for kicks: When the Sig speed merchant, Bob Seibert, attempted to steal second, he was intercepted by Charlie Johnson, the Phi Gam second baseman, armed with the ball. When the mud cleared away—Seibert, safe; Johnson, bewildered; and chuckles for the fans.

Freshmen Women Get 'Scoop' This Summer

Freshmen women will receive information concerning sorority rushing rules sometime during the summer, it was announced today by Marge Nelson, president of Pan-Hellenic Council.

Sayres Heads Slate

The Red Cross slate for next year has been approved by A.U.C. Officers are: chairman, Jean Sayres; first vice chairman, Mary Lou Griffiths; second vice chairman, Dick Dearing; secretary, Mary Lou Richey; treasurer, Jean Pryde.

Social Whirl

Jones, '45, were week-end guests of the chapter, choosing just the right time to partake in the breakfast that the seniors served the underclassmen in the rooms Sunday morning.

The Kappa's held their farewell party Wednesday night for the Seniors and presented each of them with a gift.

The Chi Rho's had Jean Allison and George Winkler up for dinner Sunday afternoon.

The Theta U's were up bright and early Sunday morning to serve their traditional "breakfast-in-bed" to their Seniors. Must have been pretty nice 'cause each tray was adorned with a bouquet of violets and a bracelet.

The Phi Gam's said, "We enjoyed the May Dance Saturday night very much and we hope the school continues to have a large number of all-college dances next semester."

Gymnasium Plea

the added weight of three hundred persons. It would take one collapse such as took place at Purdue this past year to impress that fact into the minds of many.

The remaining facilities are all completely inadequate with not enough room and hardly any equipment. The Terrapin pageant brought home the inadequacies of the swimming pool with no seating facilities and the musty air.

However, Montgomery Gym, with minor repairs, could be made into a gymnasium for women's athletics, a thing which has been sadly lacking on campus these many years.

A new gymnasium as a war memorial would not only be in keeping with the spirit of those who participated in World War II, but would add to and beautify our campus for years to come. Let us who are the alumni of tomorrow give our support to something which we and future Alleghenians can enjoy to the fullest. The committee is soliciting suggestions—don't just tag along—let them know what you want.

—Robert Seibert, '48.

Dear Editor:

On Sunday night the Allegheny Singers gave their annual spring concert for the students before a chapel only three-fourths full. This represented less than half of our student body. Yet there is continual talk and discussion about how much money the Singers get from AUC, and how few are their appearances before the students. And it was those who lead such discussions who were absent from the concert.

On their recent spring tour, Singers sang before enthusiastic crowds at every stop and spread the name of Allegheny over eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Few here seem to realize the reputation our choir has, or the fact that it has been rated this year as better than St. Olaf's Choir, which is generally accepted as the nation's finest.

The many practice hours put in by the Singers this year plus the interpreting genius of Mr. Luvaas evidenced themselves once again on Sunday night. They are a group of which every Alleghenian should be proud. Why weren't you there?

—An Alleghenian.

The Letter Box

Fellow Alleghenians:

During cherry blossom time in Washington, we, like the other good residents of the District, bogged down the transportation system searching for a blossom. An elaborate festival was held near the Washington monument, complete with a blossom queen and representatives from each of the United Nations.

There are many beautiful sights to see, such as the view of the Potomac from the steps of Mount Vernon and the lighting of the capitol dome at night. We have seen quite a bit of the city by this time, and are no longer beseiged by guides wanting us to "take the tour" (always makes us think of the cure.)

Besides the scenery, Washington offers many things—especially in the line of government. It is interesting to visit congress quite frequently, and many of the sessions I attended were concerned with the question of Lilienthal's confirmation. Still more interesting are the open hearings of the committees. One of the hearings I attended was that of the Senate Foreign Relations committee. It was dealing with the question of aid to Greece.

Our classes were something we had to get used to because they meet at night and last for two and a half hours. All of the people come out slightly numb, but are revived in one way or another. However, night classes have a big advantage in that they leave the days free for us to plan as we see fit. We won't discuss here what is considered fit. Some of our class discussions are really good, especially when members of the Bureau of the Budget and Department of Agriculture begin filibustering in all directions.

I'll sign off now, but sometime we'll tell you about all of our experiences—such as the Conga line around Ward Circle.

used to this sort of thing all and doesn't sink any farther because of a few old exams. there is the unspeakable class never worries about tests because they know as much as the instructor anyway. This last class is mune to the trials of examination always look natty, well-fed, rested, well-informed and generally disliked.

There must be some sort remedy for the situation, but it n't, as yet, been discovered. course there is always the faint sibility that an instructor might come lax and carelessly drop test he is going to give from airplane, but this happens on a few cases. Usually the test kept under locks that can be p with only the greatest of difficulty although a certain organization found it was worthwhile to try manner. The solution, then, with the individual. Either he put up with the period of very purgatory, as well as he can member, it happens just once mester, or he can buy a n loaded pistol and apply it to forehead. The latter suggestion to be used only in the most extreme cases.
