Dear Miss Tarbell:-

Between a constant rush of work and being ill I have not sent you the draft letters to The McClure Company. I prepared them the other day and now enclose them to you in duplicate. I wish you would sign the originals and return them at once to me and I will see that they are promptly presented. The copies you had better keep and put in your files; I have other copies here.

As I understand it, no copyright was ever taken out by the McClures on either "The Tariff in our own Times" or "He ~~k~~new Lincoln", so that it is unnecessary to write about these.

Yours sincerely,

8 encls.
