

TWO FRENCH PLAYS ADMIRABLY
PRESENTED TO LARGE AUDIENCEComedy and Farce, Produced by Le Petit Salon, Given Last Night

Real interpretive acting and fine portrayal of French character marked the presentation of "Le Medecin Malgre Lui," a three act comedy by Moliere, and "La Grammaire," a farce by La Biche, given before a large and appreciative audience in Ford Memorial Chapel last night by Le Petit Salon.

"Le Medecin Malgre Lui" (The Doctor in Spite of Himself) is the story of a poor French woodcutter with a smattering of medical terms which he acquired while working for a doctor. As the result of a quarrel with his wife, he beats her. She seeks a method of revenge and meets two servants looking for a doctor for a man whose daughter has suddenly become dumb. She tells them that her husband is the man, but that he has to be beaten to be made to admit that he is a great doctor. Sganarelle, the woodcutter, accepts the situation, and goes to the house of the man, where he plots with the daughter to elope with the man she loves. She has pretended dumbness as a protective measure against marrying the man she does not love. She regains her speech, but refuses to marry anyone but Leandre, her lover. Sganarelle urges the couple to escape, which they do. When the elopement has been discovered, the woodcutter is threatened with hanging. At this critical moment the elopers come back. Leandre has just inherited a large fortune, which fact removes any objections the father had to their marriage. Martine, the woodcutter's wife, claims the honor of making him a great doctor. Sganarelle, however, says that as she secured only blows for him, she must live with him for the rest of her life.

John Pratt, playing Sganarelle, took the part of the eccentric woodchopper exceedingly well. Martine, his wife,

SECOND ISSUE OF LITERARY MONTHLY MAKES APPEARANCENEW NUMBER OF LIT CONTAINS USUAL STORIES AND POETRY

The College was startled last Saturday morning by the unheralded appearance of an issue of the Literary Monthly. This is the second number for the year and contains the usual stories and poetry.

There are four poems in the issue that are not without merit. "Color," by Millicent Davis Dilley, '96, is especially good. "Gold and Blue" is also above the average, and G. L. R. has two pieces of his typical verse.

Two of the short stories, "A Crossword Ricochet" and "A Good Price?" deal with the same general subject and are developed on much the same lines. The man of the house devotes all of his spare time, in one case, to crossword puzzles, and, in the other, to books, with the subsequent neglect of his wife. The crossword widow remedies the situation by taking up puzzles herself, with the result that her husband realizes his error, and the wife becomes an addict and finds no time for her household duties. The writer does not go on to say whether the husband moved to a hotel or not. Books are the cause of the other trouble.

"Fishless Fishing" is nothing but about three pages of description, very good in itself, but with little appeal to the modern student mind.

The editor promises, by way of an editorial, to keep the Lit on its feet, but begs for support and contributions from the student body.

MISSIONARY BRINGS GREETINGS
FROM ALUMNA IN PERU

Miss Ruth Ransom, missionary from Peru, visited Allegheny on Saturday, March 21, and spoke to the students at Chapel. She is helping Gertrude Hanks, '14, in missionary work among the inhabitants of the Peru Mountains. She brought greetings from Miss Hanks to Allegheny, and said that Miss Hanks was doing wonderful work in the training of the Peruvian girls for Christian work.

SECOND ANNUAL CIRCUS
TO BE HELD APRIL 25CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATIONS AP-POINT COMMITTEES FOR COMBINED EVENT

Under the combined sponsorship of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. the second annual College Circus will be held on April 21 in the Gymnasium. The doors will be open at 7:15.

This circus is not to be an ordinary one. There is no doubt that it will rival even Hagenback and Wallace or the Ringling Brothers. All kinds of animals will be there, big and little, old and young, handsome and otherwise. Acrobatic feats will be performed which would cause even the famous athletes of ancient Greece to be envious. The sideshows in themselves will be worth seeing. They will contain various kinds of freaks. The students need not be surprised if they should be permitted to pick up guinea pigs by the tails or if they should see elephants with wooden legs. Enjoyment will not be lacking for those who like music, since a minstrel made up of competent musicians will perform during the evening. In the ring there will be anything from novelty to specialty acts. For the convenience of the students who like to eat, stands will be kept running all the time.

Only a small idea of the bigness of this circus can be given in writing, but these few remarks may help the students to bear in mind that the evening of April 21 is to be looked forward to as an evening of real fun.

The names of the people who are putting over this circus are given in the following committees: Manager, Cyril B. Hartman, Assistant Manager, Mary Alice Jackson; General Construction Committee, Chairman, George Reid, Miss Davenport, Robert Baylor, and James Culbertson; Freaks and Sideshow Committee, Chairman, Marion Bradford, Gladys McDaniel, R. O. Barber, and V. Salsberg; Ring Committee, Chairman, Mary Lou Murphy, and Cecil Ross; Specialty Numbers Committee, C. C. McMinn; Publicity and Parade Committee, Chairman G. Alfred Palmer, Marie Gray, R. J. Helmstadter, C. Kohne; Posters Committee, Chairman, Jean McCrum, Davis and Shellenberger; Novelties Committee, Chairman, Naomi Reisacher, and Howard P. Taylor.

ACADEMY HIGH SCHOOL OF ERIE
WINS IN INTER-CITY TOURNEYErie Lads Upset Dope and Win Championship—
Allegheny High Second

Fighting against odds, and doped as the weakest of the four competing teams, Academy High of Erie, by defeating decisively both Bellevue and Cleveland East, came through the Annual Inter-City Basketball Tournament, played in the College Gymnasium Friday and Saturday of last week, as champions, and were awarded as trophy a handsome silver plaque.

The winners proved themselves a great defensive team, and their feat of holding each of their opponents to two field goals is indeed commendable.

The Bellevue High School team, substituting for the Buffalo representative, was no match for the Erie team in the first game Friday and lost out by a 28-14 score. The second game of the evening brought together two powerful teams, Cleveland East High and Allegheny High, of Pittsburgh. This game was a thriller, Allegheny finally winning, 23-21. Bellevue came back the next night and held Cleveland to a 28-27 score, and Academy outplayed the strong Allegheny team in the final. The score of this game was 23-14.

ERIE ACADEMY-BELLEVUE
After getting off to a poor start and trailing at the end of the first quarter, 5-2, Academy High of Erie started a strong offensive game in the second period and maintained it during the remainder of the battle, smothering Bellevue under a 28-14 score.

The red-clad Bellevue outfit jumped into an early lead, but the Erie boys cut loose on a scoring rampage with the beginning of the second quarter and scored twelve points to their opponent's three. McMahon, who was

PERCY GRAINGER PLEASES
WITH MASTERLY PLAYINGBRILLIANT PIANIST-COMPOSER
CAPTIVATES LARGE AUDIENCE IN FORD CHAPEL

Percy Grainger, Australian composer and pianist, gave a recital in Ford Memorial Chapel Thursday evening, March 19, before a large audience of college students and townspeople, as the third number in the Fourth College Concert Series.

Judging from the applause that greeted the artist after each number of his well planned program, it was readily seen that the concert was appreciated by all who had the opportunity to hear it. Grainger's marvelous ability and technique prove that he ranks high in the realm of better music.

One glance at the program which the Australian presented is all that is necessary to reveal its high type. The program consisted of four parts; two were composed of heavier classical compositions and two were more modern. "Fantasia and Fugue for the Organ, G Minor," with which Grainger opened his recital, was of the heavier type, and although it is usually uninteresting when played on the piano, since it was originally composed for the organ by Bach, and later transcribed for the piano by Liszt, Grainger held his audience throughout.

Two numbers of Grainger's own arrangement followed; then the artist gave two selections composed by Grieg, his favorite composer. The latter part of the program consisted for the most part of Grainger's own compositions. In addition to the regular program the pianist was called back for four encores. The program in full follows:

1. Fantasia and Fugue for Organ, G Minor Bach-Liszt
(Composed for the organ by Bach, transcribed for the piano by Liszt.)
2. (a) Hornpipe from "The Water Music" Handel
(Arranged for the piano by Percy Grainger.)
(b) Cradle Song, Op. 49, No. 4 Brahms
(Arranged for the piano by Percy Grainger.)

ALUMNI AND STUDENTS URGED
TO AID HUMOROUS PUBLICATIONCampaign For Funds Begins Tomorrow—Alumni
Fill Out Blank

April is destined to bring showers and flowers not only in the prosaic sense, but also in the form of a downpour of College functions and activities. The first of this deluge is the appearance of the "Alligator," which is scheduled to arrive here at ten o'clock Wednesday morning, April 1. Distribution will be made from the old Registration Office to those students who have paid their dollar subscription. At 1:15 in the afternoon, students who desire an additional copy may purchase it at fifty cents per copy.

TO THE STUDENTS

It will be necessary for at least four hundred students to sacrifice their bi-weekly trips to the show in order to assure the financial success of the publication. It was only upon this assurance that a humorous publication was even considered at Allegheny. Three hundred students have signed up to pay a dollar for the Opening Number and for the second issue a hundred more are needed. The campaign to collect subscriptions will begin tomorrow. The collectors will have no time to argue. The payment of the subscription will be a vote in favor of establishing a humorous publication at Allegheny—a refusal to pay will be a vote against it.

TO THE ALUMNI

Alumni who desire a copy of the "Alligator" for April and June should mail their dollar (check) now to the "Allegheny Alligator," Allegheny Col-

STUDENTS HEAR TALK
ON LIBERAL EDUCATIONDR. PHILLIPS, '99, TELLS ADVAN-TAGE OF LIBERAL ARTS
STUDY

Last Saturday morning, March 21, the "Bee Man," Dr. E. F. Phillips, spoke to the students in Ford Chapel. Dr. Phillips was graduated from Allegheny in 1899 and is now connected with the biological department of Cornell University. He holds the unique title of the "Bee Man," because it is supposed that he knows more about bees than any other person in the world.

Bees, however, were not the subject of Dr. Phillips' lecture. Instead, he spoke of the advantages of a general education before attempting to specialize. An education in a liberal arts school defers one's decision as to his life work until he is in a mature and competent position to decide. Tests carried on in some colleges show that fifty per cent of the early decisions made by students are wrong.

Dr. Phillips stated that, in the seventy-five colleges and universities visited by him, Allegheny ranks second in sending students to further education. Erlin, a small college in the west, ranks first. Allegheny sends forth about fifty per cent of every graduating class to higher educational institutions.

A specialized course is desirable of course after a liberal arts course has been completed. In the course of his lecture the speaker stated that doubt is the essential thing for scholarship.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB REHEARSING
NEW NUMBERS FOR HOME CONCERT

Rehearsal for the home concert, to be held in Ford Chapel soon after the Easter recess, was started during the past week by the Men's Glee Club.

Several new members were tried for the first time; they show to fine advantage the range and volume of the club. For this concert several solo numbers will be presented which have not been included in any of the previous programs this year. The quartet is also preparing several special pieces for this concert.

In addition to the home concert the club is also preparing to make several short tours soon after Easter. The club may also combine with the Girls' Glee Club again, in short concerts to be given at special evening services in the Old Stone Church.

lege, Meadville, Pa. Owing to the high cost of printing, only a comparatively small number of Opening Number copies will be available. Therefore, any alumni at all interested in getting the inside dope on the new publication, should clip the subscription blank on the bottom of page, fill it out, enclose their checks or greenbacks, and send it to the Alligator at once. Already a number of alumni have sent in their dollars and congratulations on the establishment of the new publication.

The "Alligator" is heartily endorsed by the Publications Board, sanctioned by the faculty, unanimously approved by the Student Senate, and enthusiastically supported by the student body. Its motto is, "Putting the Gay in Allegheny."

BLUE AND GOLD TANKMEN
DEFEAT THIEL SWIMMERSHILL, TAFT, SLOCUM, AND MERRILL ARE LEADING SCORERS
OF MEET

Allegheny closed a somewhat successful swimming season yesterday at the College pool, when Thiel was easily defeated in a rather slow meet. Allegheny repeated her performance of the first meet of the season, when Thiel was defeated at Greenville. Captain Hill, Taft, Slocum, and Merrill were largely responsible for Allegheny's score. The meet was witnessed by quite a large crowd.

Although the season is officially closed, Manager Hill is endeavoring to schedule several post-season meets with strong teams of the district.

FRESHMEN DEBATERS MEET
OHIO WESLEYAN TOMORROWTO MEET PENN STATE FROSH
HERE NEXT TUESDAY EVENING

Debating on the question, "Resolved, That capital punishment should be abolished," the Allegheny freshmen debating team enters its first contest of the year with the Ohio Wesleyan freshmen team in Ford Memorial Chapel tomorrow evening, at 7:45.

The team has been at work for several weeks preparing for this meet, and the members have read widely on the question. The debaters have been coached lately in forming rebuttals, and they have proved very efficient in this work. R. H. Demmler and R. W. Leeper, members of the varsity debating team, have been helping to coach the freshmen.

The Penn State freshmen will be met in the second debate of the season, at home, on Tuesday, March 31. The debate will be on the same question.

The Allegheny team, composed of Lewis Shellenberger, Robert Kirkpatrick, and Angelo Strabley, with Russell Munnell, alternate, will defend the affirmative side in both debates. One expert judge will officiate instead of the customary three.

Various Departments Buy New Books With Appropriations

Among the new books that have been added to the College Library within the last two weeks are seventy-five departmental volumes which were purchased from the special appropriation fund.

The appropriation of one thousand dollars, which was voted to the library by the Board of Trustees, is to be divided among the various departments for the purchase of new books. A few of the departments have almost completed their allowance while others are just beginning to purchase books from the fund.

The new volumes just purchased are for the following departments: Chemistry, ten; History, twenty-four; Physics, five; Philosophy and Education, twenty-three; Economics, ten; and English Literature, three.

ALLEGHENY AND LITERARY INTEREST

There has been a good deal of discussion among alumni and others about the purposes of a liberal arts education, particularly with reference to Allegheny. And whatever have been the various individual views of the type of work which Allegheny should offer, the consensus of opinion remains that the College is at present essentially a liberal arts institution, and as such it should have for its chief end the giving of cultural education. It is only natural, then, to assume that students at Allegheny should have a decided interest in contemporary literature and in writing. Especially should one expect to find Allegheny students producing work of literary merit now, in view of the tremendous impetus which has been given to interest in literary achievement throughout the colleges of the United States during the past few years.

Nevertheless the reverse seems to be true. It is only with greatest difficulty that the Lit Monthly manages to get enough material for publication in spite of constant appeals for contributions. The College or the Quill Club have brought to the College every year a prominent writer in order that the students might have the benefit of contact with leading men in the field of literature, but the students have largely neglected the opportunity to hear these men. Either people have been pretty generally mistaken in the purposes of liberal education, or there is something wrong with the students.

A week from today, DuBose Heyward, a promising young writer of the South, will give a reading of his works in Ford Chapel. Admission will be free. If there really exists any interest in culture or literature in the College let it be exhibited in the student attendance at this recital.

A COLLEGE BASEBALL TEAM?

Antagonizing and combating the spring fever, that is so universally manifested at this time of the year, is another disease, the baseball fever. Already windows of fraternity houses are being broken and there are not a few sore arms in evidence.

Just as the spring fever and baseballitis enjoy annual revivals, so does the old question, "Why doesn't Allegheny College have a baseball team?" To be sure it is too late to arrange an impressive schedule, but enough teams could be signed up to give a new nine plenty of opposition. Then there is the old argument that the rainy season does not admit of much practice for a varsity team. It is true that we are blessed with a lot of rain in Meadville, but the fraternity teams, the track men and the tennis players are usually able to get in a good deal of practice.

Baseball is the best spring game and Allegheny has wonderful material with which to build a team; the plan is worth a try.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED TO DRAMATICS?

After a short period of frenzied and expectant activity, the dramatic clubs of the College have once more returned to the list of dead or near-dead. The amalgamation of Duzer-Du, the men's club, and Klee-O-Kleet, the women's organization, eliminated the biggest obstacle in the way of good dramatics for Allegheny.

But after accomplishing this task, the new club with its new officers has fallen into that apathy that had marked the existence of the other organizations during the past two years. If anything in the way of dramatics is going to be done this year, we advise some early indications to that effect.

SECOND YEAR MEN LEAD IN CLASS INDOOR MEET

JUDD, SCORING ELEVEN POINTS,
HIGH POINT MAN SO FAR THIS SEASON

Finals in the field events of the Inter-Class Indoor Meet were held on Friday, March 20, and Saturday, March 21. As results now stand, the sophomores are in the lead with a total of eighteen points. The seniors, with 13 points, are second, the freshmen have garnered only three points, and the juniors have one. Judd, with eleven points, is high-point man so far.

All of the events were closely contested, and some excellent early season form was shown. Judd, despite his injured shoulder, tied with Kinnunen for first place in the shot, and finished in a tie with Sample in the high jump. In the spring board jump he took a second.

Shot-put—Kinnunen (Soph) and Judd (Senior) tied for first; Fuller (Senior) third. Distance, 39 feet 3 inches.

High Jump—Judd (Senior) and Sample (Soph) tied for first; Hartman (Soph) third. Height, 5 feet 3 inches.

Pole Vault—Tornatore (Soph) first; Pike (Fresh) second; Rehner (Soph) third. Height, 8 feet.

Spring Board Jump—Hartman (Soph) first; Judd (Senior) second; Parnell (Junior) third. Height, 6 feet 8 inches.

HAMMETT PLEASED WITH SHOWING OF TRACK MEN

COLLEGE RECORD FOR MILE RUN
IS BROKEN BY BENTLEY
AND JONES

The indoor training period which closes with the finals in the Inter-class Track Meet Monday, March 30, has produced some of the best results which have ever marked this period. Bentley and Jones both set a new college record of 4:47½ in the mile. Rea, Williams, Blanchard, and Mackintosh have made excellent time in the 440 and 880, Rea's time in the 440 being within 1-5 of a second of the College record. In the field events Parnell, Judd, Tornatore, and Hartman have shown good form.

The track schedule this year calls for considerable effort on the part of the coach and athletes. The team will engage in three dual meets, Carnegie Tech, at Pittsburgh, May 2; University of Rochester, at Rochester, May 16, and Alfred University at home, May 29.

Immediately after the Easter recess Coach Hammett will start intensive training for the dual meet with Carnegie Tech on May 2.

A physical examination will be given to seniors at Massachusetts Technical College to determine the effect of four years work on a student.

CHAUTAUQUA ANNOUNCES SUMMER SCHOOL PROGRAM

BOARD IN COLLEGE LIBRARY CONTAINS FULL INFORMATION ON COURSES

There has been posted on the bulletin board in the College Library a circular and preliminary program concerning the work of the Chautauqua Summer Schools at Chautauqua, N. Y. The catalog is replete with information in respect to the courses in Teacher's Training.

New York University is conducting all of the courses in the School of Education. Credits earned in this department will be accepted toward a Baccalaureate Degree in the University and for those who have such a degree, credits may be applied toward an advanced degree.

A complete reorganization of the Department of Public School Music under the direction of Dr. Hollis Dann, formerly with the Department of Public Instruction, State of Pennsylvania, and now with New York University, makes possible the accrediting of the teacher's courses in music by New York University. The New York, Pennsylvania, and Ohio State Departments of Education give credit in accordance with their established rules and regulations, for courses in the Chautauqua Schools.

Very few locations are comparable to that of Chautauqua for summer schools. The platform consisting of readings, lectures, Symphony Orchestra, etc., is easily the greatest of its kind. Added to these are the climate and the natural beauty, swimming, boating, golf, tennis, and other sports, making Chautauqua the ideal school for the summer student.

The forests of the Adirondacks and of the New England states supplied the bulk of the trees for the eastern centers of population. The Douglas fir, a newcomer in the eastern market, traveled nearly two thousand miles from its home in the Rocky Mountains to gladden Christmas firesides on the Eastern coast.

system of the world, expediency or compromise, complacency with the accompaniment of intolerance, animalism or bestiality, and, lastly, disillusionment. Christ's answers to all these challenging forces were revealed by the speaker. The youth Jesus responded to the questions in a way that will live for all time.

After he had concluded the address, Doctor Crane declared that he had greatly enjoyed the hospitality and kindness shown him during his brief stay at the College. Dr. C. F. Ross, acting President of Allegheny, expressed the deep felt appreciation of the entire College community for Doctor Crane's visit.

Many students had personal interviews with Doctor Crane, and large crowds heard him at each of his several public talks. His personality and wonderful ability as a speaker won for him a place in the heart of each individual who heard him.

add their share to the humorous complications of the plot.

Much credit for the success of the two productions can be attributed to those who conducted the plays. Miss Violet Gardner and Richard Mezzotero, of the Foreign Language Department, managed and coached the plays. George Reid and Boyd Miller acted as stage managers. The furniture needed for the settings was secured from the J. H. Nunn Furniture Company.

Men's Bible Class Discusses
New and Old Kingdom of God

The characteristics of the Kingdom of God and the manner in which to realize it were the topics for discussion, at the weekly meeting of the Men's Bible Class, held Sunday, March 22, in the Oratory of the Chapel.

Dr. C. A. Darling began the discussion by giving some examples to show that the main characteristics of the Kingdom were service, implied through the physical and spiritual body, and unselfishness, practiced by obeying the Golden Rule. In the first few years of Christianity, the primary motives of Christians was the saving of self from punishment, and not the serving of man to enter Heaven. Emphasis was placed on future life then, while now, it is placed on the present life in which the reign of God will be the highest social good, obtained in a spiritual and physical way. Dr. Darling said that the churches are now trying to better man, spiritually, through his physical body by endeavoring to prolong life by medical associations and health organizations.

Put braces against the Wall of your fortunes

A building, a bridge, a wall, can be built in a comparatively short space of time; yet we take precautions against unforeseen emergencies and possible loss when building these.

A man's fortune may take the greater part of his life to build—and it may be completely destroyed by one earthquake of the business world.

Is there any logic in failing to protect our own fortunes which it takes so long to build when we invariably protect those objects which can be quickly rebuilt?

Let us help you plan your protection with Aetna Life Insurance. Consult us to-day.

BLUE AND GOLD FIVE CLOSES
SUCCESSFUL FLOOR SEASONThirteen Victories and Four Defeats is Coach
Baker's Record

Winning thirteen out of seventeen games, Allegheny enjoyed one of the most successful seasons on the basketball floor that is recorded in her history. Although the record of this year's quintet does not measure up to that of some of the teams in the past as far as numerical percentage goes, its record is especially brilliant considering the misfortune which befell the team.

At the outset of the season, the prospect of a successful year at the court game was bright. From last year's team four veterans remained: Ross, Judd, McClurg, and Wolf; Dale and Shultz, who alternated at the left guard position, having been graduated in the spring. With these four experienced players, Coach Baker had a strong nucleus around which to develop a well balanced team. The only position which gave the coach any worry was left guard, and as Cibula quickly recovered from his injuries, and as Rhodes rapidly developed into a clever performer, he had not long to worry about this position.

Allegheny opened the season with a comparatively easy victory over Adrian College of Michigan. Although neither team played brilliant ball, the final outcome of the game was not in doubt after the first few minutes of play and the game ended with a 28-15 score. The Blue and Gold passers suffered the first of their four defeats by the score of 28-25 at the hands of Pitt. Success in shooting field goals from the middle of the floor, and a last minute rally, gave the game to the Panthers. Allegheny showed her superiority only to be nosed out in the last minute of play. Wolf was injured during the contest, and was unable to participate in the West Virginia contest which was played at Morgantown on the next night. Even without the services of Wolf, the Blue and Gold dribblers dazzled the Mountaineers with superior speed and pass work and scored a decisive victory, 34-22.

Thiel proved to be an easy victim of Allegheny's perfect team play and went down to a 32-10 defeat. Superlative defensive work marked the Blue and Gold's play when the Mountaineers were defeated for the second time in the season by a margin of 10 points before a crowd that packed the home gymnasium.

At this, the most important time of the season, Allegheny's prospect for a championship five received its first big blow when Captain Judd slipped on an icy pavement and dislocated his shoulder, thus forcing him out of the line-up for several weeks.

Without the services of Judd, Allegheny advanced another step toward the tri-state laurels by defeating Geneva in one of the fastest and most spectacular games seen on the local court. Allegheny trailed their opponents by a margin of five points until the last few minutes of play when they forged ahead mainly through the brilliant playing of Joe Wolf.

At this point Allegheny's chances were again dimmed by the loss of Wolf to the squad, due to the mid-term examinations. Joe had been one of the mainstays of the team and his loss was keenly felt. In the next game Allegheny's substitutes rose to the occasion and Westminster was defeated without the services of either Wolf or Judd. Allegheny's victory over the "Blue Streak" five of John Carroll caused considerable comment inasmuch as Grove City had been defeated by them earlier in the season.

On February 17, Grove City came to Meadville and defeated the home team in the most important game of the season in the tri-state district, and as a result Allegheny slipped back quite a few steps on the path toward sectional honors. The Blue and Gold lost the next game of the season to Geneva by the margin of one point and the hopes for tri-state honors faded away. After this game, McClurg was lost to the team for the remainder of the season, and the outlook consequently was dark, but the great showing of the reserve material brought successes in five out of the six remaining games.

Westminster was again defeated; then Allegheny dropped another game to the championship Grove City five. The Alumni were defeated by a single point, and Thiel, Junata, and Waynesburg fell before the fast attack of the make-shift Allegheny line-up. The team rose to great heights in the last game of the season when John Carroll was defeated in an extra five minutes of play in one of the most exciting and colorful games ever played in Meadville.

During the entire season Allegheny's play was marked by speed, fight, and the overcoming of many difficulties. The reserve material developed in fine style and prospects for next season's five are bright, to say the least. Judd and Ross will be lost by graduation, but the remainder of the squad are under-classesmen who have two or three seasons remaining to play for the Blue and Gold. In Judd and Ross Allegheny had two of the best floormen in this district. Both men were veteran players and each captained the team for a year. Next season Coach Baker will have McClurg, Cibula, Rhodes, Yengst, Thompson, Westcott, and Hartman on hand, and with a little freshman material, a good team should be developed.

To Coach Baker goes a great deal of the credit for the success of the season. This season's five was one of the most harmonious and well-coached teams that has ever represented the Blue and Gold,—mostly due to the efforts of Dick Baker.

INTER-CITY TOURNEY

18-14 advantage when the final 10-minute period got underway. The Allegheny team was fighting hard now, and Allabach's two field goals, with McCall's foul sent them into the lead, with two minutes of play remaining. Kastor came through with another long shot for East High, and Ardenic's foul tied the score, but another spectacular shot by Allabach gave the Allegheny team a 23-21 lead as the game ended.

ACADEMY-ALLEGHENY

Doped as no match at all for the powerful Allegheny High quintet, Erie Academy, presenting a defense which the Pittsburghers penetrated only twice, romped away with an easy 23-14 victory and the inter-city championship, in the final game of the tournament, Saturday night. Allegheny had little chance to work the ball past mid-floor, both her field goals coming on long heaves by Secor, left guard. Erie played a strong offensive game, too, scoring seven field goals, and displaying a clever passing attack.

The Smoky City team started the scoring with a foul after a minute of play, but that was the only time that they held the lead. Thomas, McMahon, and Gorton scored from the field in rapid succession, making the count 6-1. Then Allabach tossed another free throw, but Thomas came back with a two-pointer. A foul by the same man, and Lahr's foul for Pittsburgh ended the scoring for the period. The score was 9-3.

Thomas scored another brace of field goals in the second period, and McMahon added two fouls, while the Pittsburgh outfit gained three foul goals. At half-time the score stood 15-6.

Allegheny got her first field goal of the game late in the third quarter, Secor making good on a try from mid-floor. Lahr tossed a foul, but the Erie team ran up six points more with four free throws and McMahon's two-pointer. The score now stood 21-9. In the final period Academy rested on its laurels, scoring only two points to Allegheny's five, but their lead was a commanding one, and there was no need for worry. The final count was 23-14.

Four Double-Barreled Reason
Why You Should Buy Life Insurance*FIRST:

- (a) You have the advantage of the younger rate. The rate at age 20 is about one-half that of age 40. It does not increase after you have started.
- (b) Money without health cannot buy insurance. If health is yours now, capitalize it at once.

SECOND:

- (a) If you are not married, insurance will be absolutely necessary when you become a benedict.
- (b) You create an estate immediately with the first payment.

THIRD:

- (a) Insurance helps you to form the habit of saving, thus strengthening your character. Thrift makes for success.
- (b) Insurance will make you independent in old age when 11 out of 13 men have to live on charity.

FOURTH:

- (a) It is a conservative investment. Insurance Companies cannot speculate, and they are absolutely safe financial institutions.
- (b) Men in the higher walks of life favor it. Every member of the late President Harding's Cabinet has recently advised young men to insure while young.

All Legal Reserve Life Insurance Companies are good but none can surpass in strength and friendly service.
