June 23, 1932.

My dear Mr. Verity:

Thank you heartily for your prompt answer to my letter of the 15th. It gives me exactly what I wanted to know, and that is that you have a well thought out plan for handling employees displaced by new machines and new processes. I shall want to use the substance of the plan in an article that I now have on hand on technological unemployment, an article in which I want to quote from the very interesting paper which you sent me allittle time ago.

It is good of you to say that I may call upon you at any time in my study of industrial problems.

I may be holding you to that promise on your own field for I am expecting soon to make a little pilgrimage to certain plants which I visited years ago and would like to see again, among them your own rolling mill at Middletown.

Very sincerely yours,

Mr. George M. Verity, Chairman,
The American Rolling Mill Co.
Middletown, Ohio.
