Dear Mr. Hauser:

I am not wrong, am I, in thinking that it was from you that I had a printed list of the books which were sent to the White House by the Congressional Library in Lincoln's day? I lent a friend the last material I had from you and I have been unable so far to get it back. Now I want very much to look at this list of White House reading.

If it was not from you I received the list you will know, I am certain, where it came from and will be indulgent enough for my forgetfulness to give me the information needed.

I am always hoping to get out to Peoria for a good Lincoln talk with you.

Very sincerely yours

Mr. M. L. Hauser
