Dear Miss Tarbell:

The Pennzoil Company, who I'm now broadcasting for were very anxious that I should do the Gay Paree version of "He Knew Lincoln" this Sunday. That was the reason I wired you. Then they decided the last minute they had so many southern stations that they didn't want to take the chance. This was quite a blow to me as I know it would have been the finest program I could have done on the air. However I must abide by their wishes.

I want to thank you for going to so much trouble in getting your release from The Eveready Hour.

I'm enclosing a letter which is self explanatory, and I know will be of interest to you. Will you kindly answer this gentleman.

With kindest regards, I am

Sincerely,

Chic Sale
