My dear Miss Tarbell,

I held your charming letter until the February meeting of our Board of Directors, intending to reply at once. Crowded days intervened and then came my delayed little mid-winter holiday from which I returned yesterday. May I say, however, that your letter was a great pleasure and that both Mr. Stein and the Board were delighted that you consented so graciously to be named an honorary member of the League. The Board, in fact, were enthusiastic and in making the election added that they felt you had honored the League by accepting.

I can appreciate your feeling about hesitating to be named as one of our Advisory Committee because the reason itself is so refreshing. Most people do not like to be active. As you suggest, however, we may be able to talk this over later when you pay your suggested visit to the League. I need scarcely say what a joy that would be to all of the staff as well as myself.

May I thank you too, dear Miss Tarbell, for your personal kindness to me? It is indeed an honor coming from one who seemed a most wonderful person in the good old days of McClure's Magazine. I am delighted as well that you enjoyed chatting with Dr. Faulkner. He says that it was a very great pleasure to sit next to you. Such arrangements do not always work out so happily and as I had much to do with the seating of the guests of honor I was more than pleased myself to know that both you and Dr. Faulkner enjoyed being neighbors.

March will see us a little clearer than the over-full month of February has been so that I am hoping that you are in town and that it will not be long before we may meet.

With hearty greetings and many thanks, I am,

AWP:GH
