

50 Women
Presented to P. & B. my list of "Fifty Women", asking criticisms and suggestions. On the whole favorable to the list. Some discussion of ~~admirer~~ Lynn Lefkowitz or suggested - ~~because~~ Some ~~claimed that~~ she is English born, I believe and so excluded. Margaret Angelin suggested. Good. Gertrude Shelby was in favor of Charlotte Gilman. I am not. Miss Earhart ~~the questions and support~~ questioned on ground that she has gone into commerce. She was a sportswoman long before she became a professional aviation worker. Case much like that of Lindbergh, I think, ^{course} of / not in quality. Question that Mrs. Whitney, a sculptoress, certain resentment over the fact that she has the power of wealth and position behind her. Possibly a mistake. Though on the whole they seemed to consider that she and Mrs. Huntington were the two who had made the biggest impressions, whose work was on the grand scale. On the whole the list stood up very well and I think made an impression for its general soundness. Stressed the point that in all of these cases there was so obviously a long term of preparation behind the woman.
