CAMPUS

THE ALLEGHENY COLLEGE CAMPUS – MONDAY, FEBRUARY 26

THANK YOU!

Below is a list of all those who have been most responsible for making it possible to attempt publishing a daily version of CAMPUS this term. The general term "staff" is a catch-all term we use to describe all our workers-behind the scenes who are the people we respect most . . and who are the people whose names you seldom see in print but without whose dedication and patience and capability you could not HAVE even an approximation of a college newspaper. Limitations of space make it impossible to include all those others who have helped us from time to time . . . especially those few dependable freshmen without whose help CAMPUS in any form would have folded last term. The editorial staff of CAMPUS would like to dedicate this first issue of our true nascent daily to them -- and to all those whose names may inadvertently have been missed in the haste of preparing this for publication, but whose work is greatly appreciated. -- the editors.

Today's issue of CAMPUS inaugurates what we hope shall prove its worth as a form of daily news communication on the Allegheny College Campus. This was printed on a press which is now the property of this newspaper. For the first time we feel like a news-paper. Our work begins to make some sense to us! Special thanks to Steve Baker, and to the College Union Board, without whose cooperation you STILL would not have a newspaper. (Please turn to the back of this sheet for more information about CAMPUS -- and some suggestions to campus organizations on how they might use our equipment, and we their staffs, to do all our jobs MUCH better.)

ANNOUNCING THIRD TERM REGISTRATION: MARCH 25, 1968. 1967 Summer Matriculants may register early in the day.

D through F	9:00 - 9:30
G through I	9:30 - 10:00
J through L	10:00 - 10:30
M through N	10:30 - 11:00
O through R	1:30 - 2:00

If you intend to withdraw at the end of the current term, notify your adviser and file a withdrawal slip in the Dean of Students' Office.

Registration will be on an alphabetical basis and should be completed during the time allotted. Students registering out of line will be assessed a $5.00 fee.

CHANGE IN THIRD TERM REGISTRATION PROCEDURE: If you are NOT making any academic changes third term registration, you may report as late as 2:30 p.m., Monday, March 25th, instead of during your alphabetic listing.

Applications for positions on the Allegheny Community Exchange Executive Board will be accepted until March 1. Please submit name, address, position(s) applied for and any relevant information to Steve Baker, 233 Cochran Hall, or Peggy Phillips, 428 Brooks Hall.

Third Term Tuition Payment– Please note that it is to YOUR advantage, if you wish to avoid lengthy lines at the Cashier's Office on Registration Day, to prepay or make arrangements for payment of your third term bill by March 18th.

WARC EDITORIAL

This is a WARC editorial. WARC editorials are presented each week in an effort to stimulate the college and community. The opinions expressed are those of the WARC Editorial Board, which is solely responsible for its content. The board welcomes comments at large.

At the beginning of this term the CAMPUS began to appear daily on campus in the form of a xeroxed publication. The editor and staff are to be commended on attempting to give the student body a daily newspaper. However, the present paper leaves much to be desired. An offset press has been ordered which will allow for an expanded paper available to all students. This will necessitate major changes in the composition of the paper and the organization of the staff. A daily will demand more of its staff. No longer can we depend largely on the editor to see that an edition is published.

The editor must organize his staff and delegate responsibilities. Yet, the editor must first have a sufficient and qualified staff; presently the CAMPUS editor does not. It is time for the CAMPUS to make a serious attempt to recruit new and responsible staff members, and it is time for those interested in newspaper work to volunteer their talents.

And more importantly, the entire student body must realize that the "new" CAMPUS is a different kind of newspaper. A daily paper has the potential for being a very effective means of communication. This is a major undertaking -- one which cannot be accomplished solely by the CAMPUS staff. It is the duty of every campus organization and committee to inform the newspaper of its activities. Only when such information is available can the staff be expected to produce a daily newspaper which is an effective and efficient communications medium.

We feel that there is a need and a potential for a daily newspaper at Allegheny, but its success depends on the capabilities of its staff and the willingness of the students to support the demands of such an attempt.

Let us as a student body support this venture and contribute to the success of the "new" CAMPUS. -- ed. board, warc

FELTOVICH • presidential candidates • BAKER

Dear Students:

In declaring my candidacy for the office of President of the Allegheny College Student Government, I would first of all like to thank the student body for the productive and highly-rewarding year you have already allowed me as Vice-President of Academic Affairs.

During the past year, ASG has grown to be an organization that now commands respect not only from its constituency but also from the faculty and administration of Allegheny College. Achieving this position of importance on campus has required a determined effort on the part of everyone connected with ASG Council. Vital to this effort have been hard work, responsiveness to student opinion, efficient weekly meetings, and mature diplomacy in all endeavors, ranging from the proposal of a realistic drinking policy to the interviewing of candidates for the position of Dean of Students. The new president of ASG will inherit an organization on the rise and must be capable of maintaining progress in that direction.

In the area of academic affairs, I as Vice-President have for the first time, divided the Academic Committee into sub-committees enabling every member of the committee to participate meaningfully in its activities. These have included maintainance of the library test files, direction of the course-evaluation program, establishment of a junior year aborad information center, a registration appraisal that has already resulted in some registration day expediencies and may lead to others, the arrangement of a professionally-taught typing course, and possibly a course supplement to the college catelogue.

In the near future, I can see as important work in academic affairs, the evaluation of the pass-fail system after it will have been in existence for a full year and in comparison with the Independent Study Program whose first participants will be seeking jobs and graduate positions this year. There must also be co-operation with those faculty members who are trying to create a pace-setting extra-curricular course.

In the social life of the college, the present Executive Committee will pursue the adoption of its proposed drinking policy, based on findings of the committee during a statewide information-gathering trip and stressing treatment of behavior resulting from drinking, rather than the act itself.

Success in this effort will open social opportunity, especially to resident halls, unprecedented in college history. The knowledge gained by close association with the present social events chairman should enable me, if elected, to direct the acquisition of outstanding concert entertainment. The "student handbook" which will contain a precise, up-to-date statement of college, RAB, and ASG regulations, and which has already been begun by Scott Smith, must be seen to completion.

The Presidency of ASG is a huge job, one that could be overwhelming to someone unfamiliar with its intricacies. It is on the basis of my past contribution and experience with the Allegheny Student Government that I ask for your support on February 28.

junior steve baker is running on the strength of past experience in a host of varied activities — especially his work in ACE (Allegheny community exchange.) He believes that ASG is a waste as it exists now; he wants to innovate . .

. . . while fellow junior paul feltovich is banking his hopes on his record in ASG; he believes he "knows the ropes" and that this gives him an edge; but might he be forgetting baker's experience (with dave davenport and many others) in helping forge the present working structure of ACE? --campus.

ASG is the most powerful and most influential organization at Allegheny College. It is the official voice of the student body, and as such is listened to by trustees, administration, and faculty more than any other group on campus.

It also holds the purse-strings of every organization at Allegheny except the College Union. There is a tremendous amount of power that goes with a $42,000-plus budget of Student Activities Fees.

One of ASG's biggest problems, however, is that even such a large amount of money is not nearly enough for all the uses that campus organizations have for it. In recent years new organizations and new needs have caused requests for funds to skyrocket far ahead of the available monies. Now more than ever ASG needs to establish priorities, and establish some concrete yet flexible criteria for allocating funds.

Relating ASG to campus organizations and the student body itself demands a president who has had personal experience with the people and problems of a wide range of activities. My involvement in some depth in ACE, SET, the CU, the CAMPUS, as well as at least casual relationships with many other organizations provides the type of qualification that the office now needs.

I feel that I have demonstrated administrative capabilities, particularly as ACE chairman and in the formation of Soc-Rec during third term of last year. And I am certainly not a total stranger to ASG, having experience as an organizational leader requesting funds, as a voting alternate representative, and as an interested -- often amused -- observer.

The formal structure of ASG is an established part of Allegheny College. The outlook of an ASG administration, however, is to a great extent molded by the interest, RELEVANT experience (including many aspects of campus life) and abilities of the president. If ASG is to meet the needs and challenges of the college community today, this position demands exceptional leadership.

Respectfully,
Steven W. Baker

ALL ASG CANDIDATES SPEAK TONIGHT IN FORD CHAPEL at 9:30!

FORD CHAPEL at 9:30!

By a majority vote of those present at a special meeting Sunday night, the candidates for ASG office decided NOT to have a question and answer period following Monday night's session in Ford Chapel. CAMPUS COMMENT: a bad move, a very, very bad move, indeed, for Allegheny.

NOTICE:

One of our prime considerations in purchasing the offset press was to make it as available as possible to othr campus organizations (including fraternities and sororities, for the publication of news letters, etc.) We purchased the press out of current operating funds, mainly in order to keep control over the equipment ourselves, since it is delicate and deserves to be treated with the respect ANY fine machine does by its operators.

Organizations interested in utilizing this or other CAMPUS equipment will be served as best we can on a cost-plus basis. (The chief additional "cost" will be the amount paid a CAMPUS-approved pressman and CAMPUS approved typists to use the equipment in copy preparation.

Already one fraternity plans to publish their newsletter on the press, using our machines to set copy -- and there is a possibility that one sorority, which has in the past used our justowriters, may use the press similarly. Also, one faculty member hopes to have us print a book for him, for use as "readings" in several Allegheny classes. THIS WAS A PRIME CONSIDERATION INVOLVED IN OUR DECISION TO PURCHASE THE PRESS. The press is not difficult to operate, but we will demand responsibility on the part of any and everyone who wishes to become an operator. If you or anyone in one or another of the organizations you represent would care to be trained for this capability, please contact Larry Meysenburg or Bill McKay TODAY, giving your name, address and phone number to us. A representative of A.B. Dick Company will be on campus this week (probably Thursday or Friday) to handle an initial training program. But it is essential that we know your schedule -- TOMORROW MORNING, at the latest, IN WRITING, if we're to set-up training periods. Also, anyone who has had press experience (on offset) is invited to become a "qualified" operator so that you can pubpublish printed material on the press as your needs and this newspaper's convenience permit. Also, anyone who is ranked as a "qualified" operator will automatically be expected to sit-in on an abbreviated 6 or 7 meeting course on technical details of offset printing, justowriting, and compositional/printing processes in general . . . this will be offered in the framework of "free university" early next term, and will be taught by members of our staff. A syllabus will be provided for the course, and it will NOT be permitted to turn into a bull session of any variety. It is to your advantage, and to that of your organizations, to have a trained operator among your number -- you will save much coin, you will learn the basic facts of a variety of kinds of printing work, and WE hope to improve the compositional work on CAMPUS. (See your representative to ASG for details . . . today . . . as this was all discussed in some detail at last night's meeting. Thank you.

IRREVERENCE

Dear Mize,

Well here we go again. Its election time once more at old A.C. And though I'm only a second term freshman it seems I've seen this deal before..

To be brief; excepting the election of ASGcandidates, the whole thing resembles another high school popularity poll. With no speeches and platforms or whatever--only inanely vague posters promising nothing--how is one to judge for whom to vote? 'how did you choose your mate?' And the manner in which RAB candidates are selected and run (besides the fact that freshmen cannot vote here) is again unfair and unfortunate.

Isuggest we do away with class governments entirely, replacing the whole deal with one school government comprised of proportional representation from dorm sections and fraternities, regardless of the representative's class. some of this may seem impractical, but some thing can and should be worked out. As for RAB...well lets extend permissions first and... but thats neither here nor there...

But this is Allegheny College (whisper when you say that), shere change...honesty... simply are not supposed to happen...My God, you'd make Timothy Alden turn over in his grave...let alone blemish Dr. P's fine reputation...

Oh well, ho hum

Sorry to have brought up the whole matter in the first place

You just don't do these things here...

irreverently yours,
Pete Goldstein

The KALDRON would appreciate seniors writing some brief paragraph on Allegheny and leaving it with the receptionist at Brooks or at the Kaldron office.

The fifty-five member Bowdoin Glee Club will present a concert in Ford Chapel Wednesday, March 27, at 8:15 p.m.

The college union has been requested to house the members of the Glee Club on Wednesday evening. They will dine in either South or Brooks Hall.

In the past, according to Mr. Casale, Union Director, "there has not been enough housing in the dormitories and fraternity houses to accommodate a group this large. If you have available room in your home and are willing to house one or more of these men Wednesday evening," he asks faculty and administration, "will you please contact me as soon as possible" on ex. 227.

RAB SLATE

The following is the slate of RAB candidates, 24 women and 12 men, which was pared from applications numbering 42 women and 31 men in a meeting yesterday afternoon of the current Resident Advisory Board. Voting on this list will take place Wednesday, with all upperclass women and all upperclass men WHO ARE LIVING IN DORMITORY HOUSING THIS YEAR eligible to vote.

WOMEN: Cindy Aldrich, Jane Barnhart, Linda Beck, Pat Billington, Debbie Brown, Jan Chaffee, Sue Christenson, Karen Culler, Sue Dutcher, Lexie Gregory, Kathy Griffith, Cheryl Irwin, Diane Javorek, Suzi Kindervatter, Barb Pelander, Gail Prizner, Sherry Ransford, Ronnie Ricutti, Lynn Sandel, Lynn Satryb, Sharon Senzik, Sue Shugert, Joyce Van Osterom, Carol Weber.

AMDABREAKIN!

A RATHER FORCEFUL BREAK--IN at the AMDA dining facility has driven the men who eat there to post a substantial award for any and all information leading to the apprehension of the person(s) involved. If you have any information about this theft (which occurred last Thursday night) please contact Doug Sargent at 14 Crawford Hall (ext. 231.)

GYMOPENSUNDAYS

RECREATE (at Montgomery Gymn) and (Robertson Field House) - - - now open, Sunday, 2:30 - 4:30 p.m. All athletic equipment will be available for use. A recent article on the CAMPUS wall posters deplored the fact that both these facilities were closed on Sundays. Congratulations to all who were connected with this hopeful event.

ASG SCHOLARSHIP

You still have time (until February 28) to apply for the Allegheny Student Government two hundred dollar scholarship -- if you are a senior, of course. The scholarship is applied to third term tuition, and is designed to "provide assistance for a student who has made a contribution to the campus, has displayed a good scholastic average, and exhibits financial need." Applications are available at Brooks Desk, and should be returned there by 6:00 p.m. on February 28 -- or given to Dick Stewart of the Academic Committee by that date. CAMPUS

EDITOR'S NOTE:

Our printing schedule is s not as flexible as we would l it to be - - we hoped to h a complete, thorough cover of last night's ASG meeting this issue, but will settle fo precis and promise the full port in a later edition today tomorrow's CAMPUS. Thank for your indulgence!
