ALLEGHENY WINS FROM GROVE CITY

ON THE HOME GROUNDS.

Game Played in Driving Rain—Benedict and Ginn Did Good Work—The Visitors Played Good Game.

Saturday, on the home grounds, Allegheny defeated Grove City by a score of 6 to 0. Early in the day, Father Neptune drove out in his water wagon, sprinkling his lately sown wheat. By the time he had reached the Meridian, the athletic field was a miniature lake. Nevertheless he continued the downpour throughout the afternoon. At 3 o'clock the home team paddled out into the middle of the pond to receive the kick from Grove City. At the signal she dove into the mirky waters like a king fisher in search of game, and stayed to the finish.

Rain-coats and umbrellas filled the side lines in goodly numbers. Spirit was rather damp, but when needed it was on the spot in a "Hold! Allegheny!" The unfavorable conditions, both in weather and in field, made it impossible to fairly size up the new game. The forward pass didn't work. But the ball was so slippery it hardly had a fair show. Both sides punted frequently and fumbles were not uncommon. No serious injuries marred the game, and it was entirely free from squibbling.

The work of Allegheny's line was most praise-worthy. Both on offense and defense she held her own, though outweighed. Capt. "Red" Glan smashed up the interference in splendid form; Benedict got into the game with a vengeance. He was a sure yard gainer and tackled well after breaking up interference. Douthitt was a good gainer, and Evaul showed his nerve by playing with an injured shoulder. In brief the game was as follows:

Grove City kicked off to Allegheny's 15 yd. line. She received and advanced it 10 yds. In two attempts Douthitt carried the oval for 5 yds in all. Benedict followed with a series of yard-gaining linebucks. In the middle of the field Allegheny was forced to punt to Grove City. Grove City was good for 10 yds. when Allegheny was penalized 5 yds. for a foul tackle. Grove City fumbled twice in succession, uncovering the ball both times, but with a loss of 100 yds. She was forced to punt to Allegheny.

Benedict made a good gain of 20 yds. Douthitt and Benedict in turn advanced. Benedict on the next down, broke through the line and fell on the ball punted by Nelson, netting a pretty advance. Here time was taken out by Grove City. After slight gains and a fumble, the ball was given to Grove City, but immediately she was forced to repunt to Allegheny. Allegheny tried her forward pass, but fumbled. Time was caled. Score—Allegheny, 0, Grove City, 0.

In the second half our old gold knights took to the mud like ducks to water. Allegheny kicked off to Grove City. Twice Grove City was thrown back for a loss. She tried to punt, but passed too high. Her quarter fumbled, he recovered the ball only to be downed on Allegheny's 2 yd. line. On a buck, Douthitt crossed the line below the posts for a touchdown. Time 4 minutes. Nelson kicked goal.

Grove City kicked to Allegheny. Nelson received and advanced the ball 20 yds. Again an attempt was made with the forward pass, but Grove City received the pigskin. Benedict smashed up interference and tackled well. Grove City played hard, but Allegheny held like a wall. Once her goal was in danger when Grove City was on her 10 yd. line, but she did her duty. Time was

THETA SIGMA ENTERTAINS

INFORMAL SOCIAL GATHERING A SUCCESS.

Party go to Barnett's Cottage—Enjoyed itself at Games—A Pleasant Occasion for All.

The annual informal social event of Theta Sigma sorority, took the form, this year, of a picnic at Barnett's Cottage, near Saegertown.

Leaving with a number of friends on the 3 o'clock car, the sorority took possession of the delightfully old-fashioned Sunset Lodge, and proceeded to make merry. The afternoon was spent in games and general fun, and about six o'clock a dainty luncheon was served.

After lunch all joined in singing Allegheny and other popular college songs, until late in the evening. The party returned on the 8 o'clock car singing and generally happy, with spirits not a whit dampened by the extensive and disobliging downpour that caused the postponement of the picnic from last Saturday.

Arriving at Hulings, the guests went their several ways all pronouncing the affair a delightful success.

Mackey Takes Lippitt's Place

AS EDITOR OF THE "LIT."

The New Editor to Continue Policy of the Past—The First Issue to Appear Soon.

The staff of the "Literary Monthly" was completed by the election of W. T. Mackey to fill G. H. Lippitt's vacancy as editor-in-chief. Mr. Mackey has all the capabilities and proficiencies to make the publication as good, if not better than ever. He has shown his efficiency as exchange editor and by his contributions which have been full of literary merit. Being a senior, he knows all the "ins and outs" of the college and where to get the best material.

His aim is to make it as high a standard as possible. He will keep the departments the same as before: exchange, alumni, literary, and editorial.

The first issue will appear on the eighteenth of this month, and all contributions should be in by next Thursday, October 11th.

Sophomores Win Annual Cane Rush.

FRESHMEN LOST AFTER A PLUCKY FIGHT.

They Will Have to Walk in the Strait and Narrow Path Laid Down by the Upper Classmen.

The annual cane rush on the hill has come and gone and the Freshies as losers in the fight will have to walk in the straight and narrow path as laid down by the upper classmen.

The rush was the finest battle which has been seen on the campus for years and the only wonder is that a number were not hurt. The two sides lined up at the goal lines on the football field at 5 o'clock and at the sound of the referee's pistol both sides ran at full speed toward the center of the field where the cane was placed, flying a bunch of Soph. colors. Freshies and Sophs met in the center of the field with a crash and the rush was on. In an instant there was a pile of struggling, fighting humanity, vainly trying to rush the cane toward one goal or another. Every now and then a Freshman would see a Soph's leg sticking out

ALLEGHENY MAN PASSES AWAY

H. J. POLLOCK SUCCUMBS TO TUBERCULOSIS.

A Member of Class of '05—Death occured at Home on Oct. Third.

Students who have been in college for two years or more are saddened by the news of the death of H. J. Pollock, Ex '05. All who knew him loved and honored him as a man of character and good-will. He entered Allegheny in 1898, and left school in 1904, being absent two years during this time. His college career was one of honor, he being a leader both scholastically and forensically. His death from tubercolosis occured, October 3, at his home in Espyville. We all feel the loss of a true friend and loyal Alleghenian.

FIRST MEETING OF SCIENTIFIC CLUB

HELD TUESDAY EVENING IN CHAPEL ORATORY.

Dr. Breed Read Scholarly Paper Dealing With Malaria Bearing Mosquitos and Parasites.

The Scientific Club held its first meeting of the college year in the oratory of Ford Memorial chapel on Tuesday evening at 6:45 o'clock. The meeting, which was open to the entire student body was well attended and most interesting

Dr. Robert S. Breed read a most scholarly paper dealing especially with fever and malaria bearing mosquitos. He explained how the mosquitos become infected and how, by their bite they transmit the parasitic growths or malaria germs to man. Many tests have been made which prove that malaria can be transmitted in no other way than by certain species of mosquitos. Yellow fever is caused in the same way and some authorities claim that scarlet fever small-pox is spread thus. We may get rid of yellow fever and small-pox by destroying the mosquitos. Many towns have already done this and are free of these diseases.

The paper received the closest attention throughout and elicited considerable helpful discussion.

Freshmen Have a Turn.

THE TOWN IS COUNTER-POSTED.

They Subdue Their Enemy and Celebrate the Victory With Yellow "Procs."

After due deliberation, the Freshies decided to take revenge upon the Sophs for their conduct Saturday night, by counter-posting the town with proclamations. Accordingly very early Tuesday morning, the Freshies were aroused from their dreams of home by the cry of "Naught-ten out!" A company of some fifty was soon collected, under the leadership of the temporary president. This party was patroling the pavements, preparatory to posting the posters, when they fell in with eight or ten hapless Sophomores, who, unmindful of the lateness of the hour were enjoying the beauties of the night. This company of Sophs the Freshmen, after a sharp encounter, did away with. Elated by their victory, the Freshies had their posters printed in commemoration of the deed. Hence the yellow placards which were exposed to view early Tuesday morning.

A tournament is being held at Washington and Jefferson to decide the tennis championship in singles and doubles.

THE CHATAUQUAN APPEARS IN NEW FORM

FRANK BRAY MAKES AN INNOVATION IN MAGAZINE WORLD.

The New Convenient Size of His Magazine is to be Praised—A Better Publication in Every Way.

The Chatauquan Magazine makes an innovation in the magazine world in a new and attractive form of publication. The September number comes to its friends in a form, "easy-to-read, easy-to-carry, and easy-to-file." The advantage and attractiveness of this new issue is to be seen at once.

The credit of this unique idea is due to the versatile editor, Frank Chapin Bray, of the class of '90. Already Mr. Bray and his board have received many warm compliments from other editors and publishers. Without doubt, this form will be adopted by other periodicals of a similar nature.

Besides this improvement in the matter of form, the Chatauquan is improved in the matter of illustration and typographical details. In fact a neater or more attractive periodical will be hard to find. Mr. Bray has done very much to make the Chatauquan what it is—a magazine of things worth while.

Alpha Chi Omega Entertains Friends

AT HOME OF MISS McDOWELL.

Games Enjoyed—Several Fine Musical Numbers—Dainty Refreshments Served.

The Alpha Chi Omega and friends were royally entertained Friday evening at the home of one of the members, Miss Alice McDowell. Social games were indulged in, also several exceptionally fine instrumental and vocal selections were rendered by various members.

Dainty refreshments were then served, and at a late hour the guests, about forty in number, departed very well pleased with their evening's enjoyment and voting their entertainer a good hostess.

RECEPTION TO BISHOP THOBURN.

The Thoburn Club of Allegheny College tendered a reception to Bishop James M. Thoburn and Dr. Homer C. Stuntz Thursday afternoon from 4 to 5 o'clock at the college library. A considerable number of the students and friends of the guest of the college attended the reception, feeling it a great honor to shake hands with these men, who are devoting the best years of their lives to missionary work in foreign lands. The reception committee included President Crawford, Mrs. Crawford, C. A. Hartung, and Dr. and Mrs. Camden M. Cobern.

Literary Societies.

From the evident disinterest in literary society work, it would seem that the flourishing literary organizations are to be relegated to the cobwebs and neglect of past history. The benefit that a student may derive from participation in the varied activities of literary society work cannot be estimated. Allegheny ought to have at least two live societies of large membership. We lament the fall of Philo and Allegheny, whose existence dates back into traditional history.

Clean Athletics.

In the midst of the wave of reform that is sweeping professionalism from the inter-collegiate gridiron and athletic field, it is our pride that we need no reform.

The standard of Old Allegheny has ever been for pure athletics. Our proud boast is that surrounded for years by institutions whose athletics have been professional and "dirty," our own have remained intact and free from all corrupting elements.

Far more to our honor is it, to record a clean team, with many defeats perhaps, than to win our contests by unfair and unsportsmanlike means.

The Rush.

The rough, but good natured rushing that recently took place in front of Ford Chapel, between the lower classmen, essentially personifies our ideal of what class rivalry ought to be. In the heat of the conflict, nothing but the best of good humor prevailed in both factions. Not a single instance of slugging or brutality was recorded. The brutal pugilism that characterizes some class contests, and that incurs the just criticism of the press and the world at large, should have no place among us.

The hearty unison of all classes in a ringing Allegheny yell, tended to heighten college spirit and to lessen not a whit, the intense loyalty characteristic of both lower classes.

Allegheny's Policy.

Colleges, like certain musical instruments, improve with age. "Old Allegheny" starts out on her ninety-second year. While she is filled with the seasoned vigor of a mellowing antiquity, she is infused with the progressive spirit of the times.

The old motto of conservatism, "now multa sed multum", has marked our academic policy from the first. While the "multa" may be within the range of possibility, yet the ever present "multum" is what has made Allegheny famous in the past. We who know the past of Allegheny, who are interested in her present, and believe in her future are inclined to be sanguine of present conditions. We hope that the present Freshmen class may fall in with the policy and spirit of their college and help maintain the motto of the past.

BISHOP THOBURN ADDRESSES STUDENTS

SPEAKS IN FORD MEMORIAL CHAPEL.

Tells of His Life at Allegheny and Speaks at Length of the Missionary Service—Progress of Missions Reviewed.

Thursday morning Bishop Thoburn of India, addressed the student body, at the conclusion of the regular Chapel exercises. Dr. Hamnet, who was a professor in the college at the time of the Bishop Thoburn's student course, offered the morning prayer, after the reading of the Scripture by Dr. Cobern.

After his introduction by President Crawford, Bishop Thoburn said: Eighty-one years ago my mother came down the street in front of this building. The thoroughfare was then a mud road connecting Erie and Meadville. My parents were going farther south by wagon. My mother told me of passing the building that day, fifty-five years ago when I was leaving for college. I found the students full of an earnest purpose, as I hope they are to-day.

Missionary work at that time was thought of in a radically different manner from to-day. The man who consecrated his life to work in foreign fields practically invited martyrdom, or at least was considered as doing so. Concerning Allegheny men who have done great things in the foreign field, it is most generally known that James A. Burton was the first missionary to Africa. On his return, another Allegheny man filled the vacancy. An alumnus named Deering was the first missionary to Germany, while Dr. Long heads the list of Bulgarian missionaries. Allegheny has been represented in India, Korea, China and Japan.

Missionary work is fast becoming a well defined calling, in contrast to the special service standard of past years.

Primarily the first requisite for the sacred calling, is an absolute and inevocable call from God. This call must be based on certain principles of adaptedness and fitness. It is a fatal error for a young man to enter God's service, and seek the place that suits him best. The best place for any man is the place where he is most needed.

On our entering India the first great problem that confronted us was the opposition on the part of the natives to female education. Among 17 millions of women and girls, not 17 could read a line. At the present day there are Woman's Colleges in India, and the women are fast becoming educated and refined. On our first arrival no medical relief for the natives was procurable. To-day there are 6 or 7 Women's Colleges. The effecting of medical education for women in India ranks is one of the greatest acheivemen's of the century.

A move that meant liberty to 150 millions of women, was begun by my introduction to a number of high caste women in a religous meeting led by Miss Stevens. Bishop Warren two years later met twice the number.

Mission work is beginning to influence great political movements. God is not going to permit to prosper, any human scheme that is hostile to missionary enterprise. Great changes in governments and inter-national wars are in direct harmony with mission interests. Perhaps some in this audience will be called to serve in foreign lands. If so, there is nothing under God's universe that will compare with being a representative of Jesus Christ in the lands of darkness.

Bishop Thoburn by his simple direct delivery held at all times during his address, the undivided and admiring attention of the student body and friends present.

The occasion of the coming of Allegheny's honored son to our midst has been long anticipated, and those who heard him Thursday, will not soon forget his simple, convincing plea for missions.

At the close of Bishop Thoburn's address, Dr. Stuntz, of the Phillipines, spoke on the exalted character of mission work, quoting instances of devoted lives from which great inspiration should be drawn. In conclusion, Dr. Stuntz said: If you want a career of usefulness, where usefulness counts, think long and carefully before you refuse to enter the open door of foreign mission work and opportunity.

INSPIRING TALKS ON MISSION WORK

ADDRESSES BY BISHOP THOBURN AND DR. HOMER C. STUNTZ.

Bishop Thoburn Told of the Wonderful Development of Methodist Missions and Dr. Stuntz Spoke of the Work in the Philippines.

Thursday evening the First M. E. church was filled with an audience of students and citizens gathered on only twenty-four hours notice. The services were opened by the singing of the hymn "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," after which Dr. Crawford offered an earnest prayer in behalf of missions. M. J. Lick, '08, rendered a beautiful tenor solo. Rev. Mr. Bugbee, pastor of the First M. E. church, introduced the speakers and in doing so said: "We are fortunate to have an opportunity to listen to two men great for their loyal lives and the great fund of actual experience that lies back of their words and gives power to their message."

Dr. Stuntz's Address.

Dr. Homer C. Stuntz, secretary of the work in the Philippine Islands was introduced. He said in part:

It is twenty years ago to-day when Dr. Thoburn in the Upper Iowa Conference in Cedar Rapids, asked me if I had any desire to be a missionary. When I think of these twenty years, they seem like a life-time. I made my stand twenty years ago; it was the making of my life and I have no regrets. Bishop Thoburn and Bishop Oldham planted Methodism in Singapore, where the Gospel could not be preached before. In 1885 our representatives could go the length and breadth of Borneo, Sumatra and Java, but could not enter the Philipines. The Philippine Islands were one of three places in the world where our missionaries could not enter. That section was built round with a barrier of Mediaeval intolerance. In 1889, two men were sent there. They landed in Manilla on Tuesday; their books were confiscated and burned on Wednesday. One died, the other was banished from the country. Examples of this great persecution are not hard to find. Six weeks before Admiral Dewey entered Manilla Bay, 182 men were shot. Fifty of these were "tried" in two hours.

The American people do not know what the Filipinos have had to suffer under the sway of this despotism. It is a long black chapter.

When conference met last April, we had 117,000 probationers in the island.

Protestantism has had thrust before it an opportunity that is great. In India the missionaries must labor against heathenish doctrines and practises, but in the Philippines, we have a people tired of an intolerant religion and eager to hear the Message. We need a band of consecrated people to go out and evangelize the country. This can be affected by increased offerings. We are at present building two large churches in Manilla, one in the American quarter, and another in the Filipino quarter. This is an example of the way churches are being built throughout the island. Thirdly we need the prayers of every earnest Christian for the work of the little band of missionaries. May God give them strength and courage and piety and everything necessary to recall that great country.

Bishop Thoburn's Address.

Bishop James M. Thoburn was then introduced. He gave a very interesting account of the growth of the work in India. He said in part:

The present development of the missionary cause is something that was not anticipated twenty-five years ago. The development has been very subtle and remarkable. In 1859, when I first went abroad, we had three missionaries in China, one in South America, one in Japan and one in Bulgaria. Ever since there has been a steady advance. Very few realize how great that advance has been. The work in India was opened in a territory about the size of the state of Indiana, and comprising some 17,000,000 people. It is now being taught in thirty-four different languages. Now we have almost 50,000 Christians in that country. Railways are being built; steamboats are plying from port to port. In one town in fourteen days we organized a church and sunday school and a conference where three different languages are spoken in the pulpits.

Dr. Thoburn then spoke of the Golden Jubilee celebration that is about to be held in India. He said that in order to enter upon the second half-century of their work there with better equipment than they now had, $200,000 would be necessary. A collection was then taken for this most noble work to which Dr. Thoburn has given the best part of his life.

THE SOPHS RUSH THE FRESHMEN

THREE GOOD STRUGGLES HELD.

A Good Natured Rivalry Shown—Honors Equally Divided—The Affair Closed With a United "Alleghe-Rue."

After the Sophomores had put up their posters, and the Freshmen, on Tuesday morning, had had their turn, feeling was running very high, and not much was needed to bring matters to a crisis. So at chapel time all four classes lined up before the building gave their respective yells. The seniors then cheered the Sophs., while the Juniors answered by yelling for the Freshmen. After the Sophs and Freshies did a little preliminary yelling and after they eyed each other for a while, they began to peel off their coats and collars and neckties. Then, urged on by the upper classmen, they made for each other and a large "goose pile" was the result. After getting out of the tangle they would go at it singly, one man tackling an opponent and trying to put him on his back. If he succeeded in doing this he was to keep him there until the upper classmen called out "enough."

Three times they met and would have gone at it again had not the Seniors and Juniors stopped them. As it was, the battle was furious while it lasted, and the lawn had an entirely different appearance after the fight than it had before. The members of both classes then gathered themselves together, each claiming the victory. The students then lined up on each side of the walk and joined in a rousing "Alleghe-rue." After this all quietly went to their classes.

There was a young duffer named Shafter,
Who lost the girl he was after.

He bunged out his eyes

PREPS. VS. ERIE H. S.

The game between the Prep. school and Erie High School was called Saturday afternoon at 4:45 p. m. Twenty and fifteen minute halves were played.

The preps kicked off to Erie and the man who took the ball was downed before he could advance it. Then the Preps. held their opponents for downs on their 20 yd. line. Erie punted and the Preps. got the ball at the middle of the field. At this point French made an end run for 20 yards. Preps. then were held for downs, and Erie kicked a field goal. The Preps. had the ball during all of 2nd half and gained about 60 yards. Purnelle played a fast game. All the men played hard and deserve great credit for their fine showing. Score, E. H. S. 4. A. P. S. 0.

A VOICE FROM THE WOODS.

A Letter to the Editor of the Tribune Republican.

I have resided in Meadville 20 year, and had never seen a cane rush or been through the distillery. It has been said that the bull fights of old at the distillery were brutal affairs, but what I saw to-day on College Hill would make even a Spanish bull envious. It was supposed to be an exhibition, and there were plenty of spectators but, he who saw had to get into the "push," and sometimes you were trampled upon when two pugnacious rivals needed more room to "ju-jits' each other. The propriety of calling time was not thought of, but quite often when the melee surged to one side, a mangled student was pulled, hauled, and stretched from beneath the mob, lifted to his feet, the remains of his shirt and trousers adjusted to place, and he was patted on the back, told he was "game," and back he went into that seething, surging mass of humanity again. Some kept on the outside and helped to keep those who were down, to stay down. Some were carried from the field, and some led off.

But it was a great exhibition, egged on by the cohorts of their respective sides, among which were many of the fair sex of Hulings hall waving their banners like the fair ladies of ye olden time. Although it was well advertised, the faculty were not numerous.

I often lament my lack of education, but if this is a fair sample of a college curriculum, I rejoice in my neglect; that my trousers and shirt have ne'er been despoiled, that no one ever sat on my neck, defaced my profile, or punctured my diaphram in a college cane rush. Ignoramus.

Meadville, Oct. 5, 1906.

The Band is Organized.

MR. MILLER TO BE LEADER AGAIN.

Prospects for the Year are Excellent New Material is in Sight.

The college band met last Thursday night and organized for the ensuing year. The following officers were elected: F. P. Miller, Leader; Archie Perry, Treasurer; Paul Deemer, Librarian.

The prospects for a good band this year are excellent as quite a bit of new material is in school. The band is just a year old, but has had great success. We predict that this success shall not end here, but that the future of the band will be marked with even more success.

SOPHOMORES WIN ANNUAL CANE RUSH.

of the pile and he would immediately yank him out. And the same was true of the Sophs. Those who were fortunate enough to get hold of the cane were also unlucky because they were instantly beneath the pile and were trampled on unmercifully. Three times the referee was compelled to dive down into the struggling mass and raise up the cane for a fresh start. After the rush had continued for 25 minutes the referee again stopped the rush and by agreement with the leaders of both classes agreed to stop the rush at the end of 10 minutes, and the side in whose territory the cane was at the end of that time, lost the rush. At the end of 10 minutes the fight was stopped with the cane well in the Freshie's territory, thus giving the Sophs the victory. At the conclusion of the rush the Soph girls attempted to take the colors away from the Freshmen girls and a lively tussel took place. There were about 800 people out to see the rush.

ATHLETIC ELECTION.

The result of the regular term athletic election Saturday morning was a victory for the Fraternity ticket. W. R. Main was elected president of the Athletic Association and R. R. Russell assistant baseball manager. The Non-Fraternity ticket contained R. E. Vosler for president of the Association and Irwin for assistant manager.
