

October 4, 1932

Dear Miss Giles:

I am returning herewith the first article. I have taken out a little over two thousand words. It ought to give you your three columns and room for the foreword. I have added the line at the end in regard to the next paper. I hope all this is satisfactory.

It was a pleasure to meet with you yesterday and to know that I am sure of such sympathetic and intelligent co-operation in seeing this series through.

Sincerely yours

Miss Giles
The Cosmopolitan
57th & 8th Avenue
New York City