Mr. William C. Lengel
122 East 42nd Street
New York City

Dear Mr. Lengel:

Miss Tarbell writes me she has received your letter that I forwarded to her on November thirteenth. You asked her if she had a "hunch" for a Lincoln article. She says that something to be called "Lincoln as a New Dealer" might not be too far afield. She thinks he was a great one with a wise technique for handling changes.

She wishes me to say that if you think well of the notion she would like to know what length of an article you desire and what would it be worth to you.

I am enclosing a synopsis of what she has in mind. She will be in town by the twenty first - you may reach her by telephone if you wish.

Very sincerely

Secretary to Miss Tarbell
