asked H. W. to be his son & year at the point he would not have

"By an Act of the Legislature the Convention was empowered only to submit the question of secession to the vote of the people. The Convention performed the functions assigned it by the Legislature, and, in the opinion of the Executive, its powers were then exhausted. The Executive will recommend to the Legislature, which is to re-assemble on the 15th instant, to take into consideration the important issues arising out of the severance of our connection with the United States, with such recommendations and suggestions as he may think proper in the discharge of his duty. It will then be within the province of the Legislature to take such action on the subject as it may think proper; and also to call a convention, directly from the people, who will fairly represent their wishes and opinions, and who will have authority to make such changes in the constitution of the State as her present and future relations to the world at large may require."
