College Ready for Inauguration

LIBRARY DEDICATION TO BE PRINCIPAL FEATURE ON SATURDAY'S PROGRAM

Saturday morning, October 10, a very extensive open-air program has been planned to celebrate the opening of Reis Library and its new addition. A special platform will be constructed at the foot of Library hill so that the speakers will face the Library and the audience will be on the hill with their backs to the Library. The contour of the ground is such that it is almost a natural amphitheatre. The program for the opening will begin at 10:30 Saturday morning with the Invocation by Dr .William H. McMasters of Mt. Union College. He will be followed by President Emeritus William H. Crawford, who will speak concerning the gifts of Mr. William Edward Reis, who made possible the original building and also the new addition. It was largely through the efforts of Dr. Crawford that Mr. Reis was persuaded to make the original gift for the original building. It was also through Dr. Crawford that Mr. Reis' second gift of $50,000 was secured. It had been hoped that the donor and his wife would be present for the opening of the building. but at the present writing it is feared that they will be unable to be present. Dr. William Warner Bishop, Librarian at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, and Chairman of the Advisory Committee on Libraries for the Carnegie Foundation, will give the address at the formal opening of the Library. President Tolley will preside at the festivities, and the Allegheny Singers and the Band, under the direction of Prof. Luvaas, will provide music for the occasion.

There are a few parts of the Library which will not be completely finished and furnished for several weeks but the majority of the rooms will be completed by Saturday. Work is progressing very rapidly in an effort to finish the building as soon as possible. During the first three days of October, between 50,000 and 60,000 pieces were moved from their old positions or temporary packing to the new stacks where they were arranged in the proper order. This tremendous work was completed in three days' time. The periodicals in the east end are now accessible through the new right door. The unbound periodicals and government documents have both been arranged in the basement stacks. About 20,000 bound volumes of government documents, which have been temporarily stored for nearly a year, will be moved later.

The majority of the students have probably noticed the new charging desk and card catalogue in the Octagon which is now used solely for charging books and for reference purposes. The table tops there will be similar to those of all work tables in the Library, consisting of linoleum with bronze edging. The card catalogue is built in bush with the wall occupying the entire left section of the Octagon. It consists of 420 trays, and improves the appearance and working facilities of the Library. The charging desk, octagonal in form, was constructed by the McLauhlin Stevens Co., Mohawk, N. Y. The Globe-Wernicke Co., Cincinnati, Ohio, provided the file card catalogue.

A new system of circulation has been inaugurated this year whereby the old double-charge system has given way to a new single-charge system. Under the new system the student merely writes his or her name on the card and the attendant stamps the date. New blanks for all the departments in the Library have been provided.

Three new electric clocks have been installed. One is in the new room, one above the inside of the front door, and one double-faced clock in the basement stacks. They are all synchronized with the clock in Bentley Hall which rings the bells.

SORORITIES ANNOUNCE PLEDGING OF FRESHMEN

Fromal Pledging Follows Week-End of Silence.

After two weeks of active rushing, the women's fraternities pledged their new members on Monday. This followed a week-end of silence between the upper-classmen and the freshmen.

Eta chapter of Theta Upsilon entertained its pledges, Jane Bortz, Jane Mervine, Winifred Strick, Madge Gardner, Phyllis Beet, and Genevra Hazen with a theatre party, which was followed by a Buffet Supper at the Hotel Laafyette.

Saegertown Inn was the scene of the Delta chapter of Alpha Chi Omega's banquet, where the following pledges were welcomed: Marguerite Clark, Rosemary Cooper, Jane Dasher, Dorothy Demmler, Louise Fink, Laura Kutz, Anna Minch, Frances Pauling, Lois Richards, Betty Roberts, and Sarah Young.

Gamma Rho chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma held their banquet at the Bartlett Hotel in honor of Mary Agnes Miller, Geraldine English, Sally McBain, Clarissa Duff, Ada Sherwin, Jane Blair, Jane Hawkins, Betty Whitfield, Mildred Gleckler, Louise Reynders, Virginia Eicher, and Catherine Garst Miller.

As guests at dinner at the Lafayette Hotel the Kappa chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta had the following pledges: Helen Perkins, Mary Schuman, Phyllis Bramer, Lucille Johnston, and Cordelia Taft.

The Riverside Hotel was the scene of the setting of the Alpha Xi Delta Pledge Banquet, where the following pledges were entertained: Betty Beach, Mary Glass, Jane Gray, Jean Kelley, LaVaughn McDermott, Sally McGranahan, Ruth Maxwell, Elizabeth Ritts, Maria Oakleaf, and Mary Margaret Wells.

Mu of Kappa Alpha Theta will hold their banquet this evening at the Hotel Lafayette in honor of Mrs. L. C. Rogers, District President, and pledges: Winifred Andrews, Betty Ashe, Katherine Bassett, Betty Blake, Sarah Ann Davis, Betty Hill, Virginia Lindsay, Mary Jane Keibort, Myra Jane Martin, Kathryn Miller, Katherine Roos, Dorothy Sankey, and Pauline Stressy.

Delta Alpha Theta entertained at the Homelike Tea Room Tuesday evening for the following: Mary Pharmer, Margaret Van Aiken, Elzear Fulton, Marguerite Kelley, Letta Bryant, Ferne Morris, Margaret McElheny, and Rozena Strickler.

PLANS FOR SPEAKING CONTEST NOW COMPLETE

Fraternities to Select Representatives During Coming Week.

With the annual Interfraternity Extemporaneous Speaking Contest only about ten days away, the various social groups on the campus are busy selecting their representatives. The complete list of contestants will be published in the next issue.

Delta Sigma Rho, sponsors of the competition, announces definitely that the subjects discussed will be local campus problems, along the same line as those presented last year. The exact topics assigned to individual speakers will not be known until after the drawing one hour before the beginning of the contests.

This year the tourney is featured by the second annual contest for women, to be held October 23. and to be governed by the same rules as the men's event. In 1930 Delta Sigma Rho celebrated the admission of women to the organization by instituting an intersorority contest, but under slightly different rules from the men, due to their inexperience in the field. The "single standard" for the present meet has been secured, however, by applying last year's rules for the girls to both men and women this year, the time allowed for preparation of speeches in the men's contest being thus extended from forty minutes to an hour.

The prizes offered are two loving cups, of which the first has traveled about the hill from one fraternity house to another for five years, gracing each year a different mantle. For the past year its home has been the Beta Upsilon house, William Boetcker of the junior class having been declared winner in the latest contest. Previously the trophy had visited the Phi Gamma Delta house as guest of Van Osler Hammett, accepted an invitation by Bert McGill to Delta Tau Delta, dropped in at Phi Delta Theta personally escorted by Robert Rutherford. and been brought thence by Howard Plate to the Alpha Chi Rho house. Thus more than half the fraternal groups will be striving on October 16 for a second leg on the trophy, which must stay three years in the possession of any chapter before it is sufficiently acclimated to remain permanently.

The women's award was captured by Adele Ely, '31, of Alpha Chi Omega, at its coming-out party in 1930. Permanent possession, however. is to be determined on the same basis as the men's cup.

Eligibility regulations provide that no pledge or initiate of Delta Sigma Rho, and no previous winner of the contest, may enter the lists. Moreover, each fraternal group is entitled to only one representative. Non-fraternity and non-sorority bodies are also limited to one competitor.

Each contestant is allowed one hour to prepare his talk, and three minutes to deliver it. During the preparation of speeches each entry will be placed by himself in a room empty of everything except writing materials. to spend his last hour as he sees fit.

OVER 150 COLLEGES TO HAVE REPRESENTATIVES PRESENT FOR OCCASION

Dr. William Pearson Tolley, formerly Dean of Brothers College of Drew University, and the youngest man ever to be elected President of an A-class College, will be formally inaugurated as President of Allegheny College, Friday afternoon, October 9.

Plans for the two days' festivities have been completed. Acceptances have been received from 160 delegates representing 126 colleges and a number of other educational institutions and organizations. This includes twenty members of faculties of various institutions who are alumni of Allegheny College.

The following is a detailed program of two of the greatest days ever to be recorded in the history of Allegheny college:

CAPITALISM SUBJECT FOR WINTER DEBATES

Topic Chosen by Penn'a and Ohio Conferences Saturday.

At meetings on Saturday, October 3, of the intercollegiate debating associations of Pennsylvania and Ohio, the same proposition was adopted for discussion on the platform in both districts. Agreeing that the present economic depression had maintained its place in the center of the stage, the delegates decided that the entire frame of the world's financial operations should be closely scrutinized, to this end framing the question: "Resolved: that capitalism as a system of economic organization is unsound in principle."

This unanimity was in large measure due to the operations of the Allegheny delegates, who engaged in mild "railroading" tactics. The Ohio Debating League convened in Cleveland at noon on Saturday, with Hurst Anderson, coach of debate, representing this school. Several colleges at once submitted the proposition on the capitalistic system, essentially as it was finally ratified. Quickly approved by the entire group, the question as stated was immediately telegraphed to Harmon Gilbert, Allegheny'e spokesman at the meeting of the Pennsylvania State Intercollegiate Debating Association.

This second assembly had opened its session at two o'clock in Harrisburg. Gilbert was selevted as one of six members, and the only undergraduate, to compose the committee entrusted with the drawing up of propositions; the committee had just begun its deliberations when the telegram from Mr. Anderson was delivered. With this weapon, and in spite of the fact that the question adopted in Ohio was only one of about forty proposed at Harrisburg—Gilbert, indeed, being alone in its defense—the local representative secured the acceptance of the question at the head of a list of five.

The other resolutions for debate which the Pennsylvania district organization selected were, in order, as follows:

2. Resolved: that athletic scholarships be discontinued in all American colleges.

3. Resolved: that the best interests of the United States demand that definite steps be taken looking to a discentralization of Federal authority.

4. Debt cancellation (no definite wording as yet).

5. Resolved: that the Johnson Act be so amended as to allow an Asiatic quota.

Several routine matters were also passed upon at the convention in Harrisburg. including the election of Prof. Wills, of Western Maryland. to succeed Dr. Herbert Wing, Jr., Dickinson, as president of the Association.

The problem of membership in the league drew considerable discussion. Lincoln University, a negro school, was admitted to the group; but the application of Slippery Rock Normal School was tabled until the next annual meeting, and referred meanwhile to discussion by the local clubs. It was held that admission of Slippery Rock would be too radical a change in policy, as the bars would thus be down to the rest of the fourteen teachers' colleges in the district.

No action was taken toward arranging a schedule at the Pennsylvania conference, but the smaller Ohio Debating League, comprising only Allegheny, Western Reserve, Oberlin Wooster, and Ohio Wesleyan, prepared tentative slates for competition among its members. Although no dates were set. it is expected that the Allegheny women's affirmative team will face Wooster at home, and the negative will take a trip including stops at Oberlin and Ohio Wesleyan.

The Language 4-A class of this school is to join with Oberlin and Wooster in a triangular debate on March 3 and 4, 1932. The affirmative teams in each case will travel, Allegheny meeting Oberlin at Oberlin on March 3, and Wooster at home the following night.

The local affirmative debates two other colleges during the same trip on which it clashes with Oberlin. The team will appear against Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware on March 2; and at Cleveland with Western Reserve as its opponent two evenings later.

Almost every Methodist school and college has reported a substantial gain in enrollment this year in spite of the depression. The registration of Boston U. exceeded the 15,000 mark, last year's total.

The atlas of the Great Elector of Brandenburg, Germany, said to be the largest book in the world, has been restored to its former beauty. The book is 66 inches high, 39 inches wide and weighs 275 pounds.

DR. ELLIOTT SPEAKS IN CHAPEL MONDAY

Dr. William Arthur Elliott, speaking from the Chapel platform on Monday drew a powerful analogy between the experience of an artist friend and the life of the average college student.

The incident related was that of an artist who came upon an open door in a drab wall, framing a monk at his labors. Proceeding to sketch this scene, the artist was interrupted by an exclamation from the monk, who slammed the door shut.

The artist, however, finished his task, depicting the drab wall, the closed door, and a row of sentinel-like trees at the head of a tortuous path with a little white shrine in its bordering bushes. The picture was a complete success.

To this closing door Dr. Elliott compared obstacles in the path of the student. The necessity of leaving school, failure to attain a position after graduation, or unsurmountable obstacles to advancement in later years were analogies suggested.

For the student or graduate, however, there exists the alternative chosen by the artist, that of "making the closed door of oportunity the occasion for a great discovery." In a moment of frustration there may open a path or proceedure before unperceived, the alternative road to success.

PROF. LUVAAS DIRECTS FRIDAY'S CHAPEL SERVICE

Professor M. J. Luvaas of the music department conducted the chapel service on Friday, October 2. A few hymns were sung, variety being introduced by singing, at times, with an organ accompaniment; at times with a piano accompaniment; and at times with no accompaniment whatsoever. The program was concluded with the singing of a few college songs.

Eighty-nine and twenty-nine hundredths per cent of the graduates of the College of Mechanical Engineering of Cornell already have jobs.

'Arms and the Man' Selected as First Guild Production

The Allegheny Players Guild announces that it will present as the first full-length production of the 1931-1932 season George Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man," a brilliant, satirical comedy. The cast will be announced in next week's Campus, and shortly after the cast has been selected the play will go into rehearsal, and will be ready for performance some time in November, probably around the fifteenth. A feature article containing interesting comment on the play itself will be found on page 4 of this issue.

UNDERWOOD NAMES 1932 KALDRON STAFF

John Underwood, editor-in-chief of The Kaldron, has announced the staff appointments for the 1932 edition of the annual.

The departments and their editors are:

Classes	Sanford Corcoran
Athletics	Robert Brakeman
Fraternities	John Fisher
Activities	Hasson Rockey
Clubs	Gale Engle
Art	Jack Fallon
Photography	John Mason
Features	Donald Munroe

The newly created position of Woman's editor will be filled by Genevieve Bock.

KAPPA PHI KAPPA IN FIRST MEETING

Kappa Phi Kappa, professional educational fraternity, held its first meeting of the year at the home of Dr. Frederick A. Henke at eight o'clock on Wednesday night, September 30. Candidates for election to the fraternity were discussed, and other business was disposed of. Professors Henke and Buckingham conducted an open forum on the subject of "Getting Teaching Positions."

Plans were made for several interesting monthly meetings. The next meeting will be at the Beta Kappa house, with the subject for discussion being "Graduate Work." "Careers" will be the topic for the following meeting. About the middle of November it is planned to hold a banquet and to secure a prominent speaker for the occasion.

Possible new members were given consideration, but nothing definite was decided upon. However. a committee was appointed to ascertain the eligibility of Education students. From this eligible list new members will be selected at a special meeting this week.

CWENS ARE ACTIVE IN AIDING FRESHMEN

The Cwens, an honorary Sophomore women's fraternity whose purpose is to help Freshmen, are active on the campus again this year. Before the opening of the semester the members wrote letters of welcome to the freshmen. In order to defray the expenses of a candidate to their annual convention, the Cwens, aided by freshmen girls, are selling sandwiches and candy at the football games. As in former years, the Cwens will decorate the dining room at Hulings for the various holidays throughout the school term.

The Cwens are selected at the close of each year from the girls of the freshman class. Dorothy Day is the president and the other members are: Dorothy Holsinger, Helen Morrow, Virginia Slacum, Betty Henry, Mary Jane Anderson, Judith Roessing, Grace Bunner, Ednamae Bruggeman, Martha Demmier, Mary Ann Fees, and Jean Holman.

Ohio leads all states in the number of colleges within its borders. It claims forty-one; New York has forty; Pensylvania has thirty-eight; and Illinois has twenty-three.

Five Alleghenians Fined for Parking Violations Saturday

Allegheny College was well represented at the daily Police Court last Saturday morning at nine o'clock by a delegation consisting of four students and one member of the faculty.

Because of inaccuracy of observation on their parts, the five Alleghenians were required to appear at the City Hall before Mayor C. W. Gill, one of Allegheny's trustees. Of six cars parked on Park Avenue beyond Chestnut Street near the Park Theatre exits, five were owned by Alleghenians. Mayor Gill took them as a class, and. after lecturing to them on the state laws regarding parking near theatre exits, dismissed them when they had paid their fines.

The "No Parking" signs near the theatre are somewhat difficult to see, but the sad plight of the five martyrs should warn others to beware of parking cars near theatre exits.

Paul Cares to Coach Frosh Debate Team During Coming Year

Paul B. Cares of the senior class was selected recently by the Committee on Debate and Oratory to coach this season's freshman debating team. The squad will be organized soon.

Cares has been prominent on the platform throughout his college course, and for the past two years has been a regular on the varsity debating team. Taking English Language 4-A again this year, he is expected to be one of the mainstays of the grup. Delta Sigma Rho elected him to membership as a sophomore and recently chose him as president for the '31-'32 term.

The call for candidates is being issued through the England Language I classes, and active work will get under way in about two weeks. The total number of candidates will be pared down to about ten as soon as practicable, permitting the organization of two complete teams. No arrangements for meets with outside schools have been made, but it is probable that the frosh will clash with the yearlings of some nearby college in a dual debate on one of the varsity questions.

AN AUSPICIOUS OCCASION

On Friday and Saturday of this week, Allegheny College will celebrate two of the most significant events in her history. A new president is to be inaugurated, and another step will be made in the building plan of the school.

In behalf of the student body, The Campus takes this opportunity to express its most grateful appreciation to William E. Reis, donor of our present library, for his most generous contribution to college progress in the provision for the addition to the building. Allegheny is ever proud of such students who display their love for their Alma Mater whether tangibly or otherwise. Were there more men like Mr. Reis, Allegheny would probably not be experiencing such trouble as is now present. His service is appreciated.

In the midst of world tumult caused by economic deflation, Dr. William P. Tolley assumes charge of the college as one of the youngest and, we believe, one of the most capable educators in the country. With a feeling of great apprehension, the students, faculty, and alumni are watching him carefully in order to discover his plans for Allegheny and to test the merits of his program. Realizing the great task that lies before him and the seriousness of the times, the student body wishes him success in all his undertakings and hopes that all his undertakings will be worthy of Allegheny's past reputation.

WHAT'S WRONG?

At the football game last Saturday there was about as much enthusiasm as one finds at a funeral. The cheerleaders were pitied; the students were blamed when exactly the opposite action should have been taken. The cheerleaders expect the student body to attend a game and yell with all its might when no spirit has been aroused beforehand, and then they wonder why the spectators won't cheer.

If there is any spirit to be aroused for the Homecoming game, there is only one way to arouse it. Let's all meet at the practice field at seven o'clock Friday night and engage in an "honest-to-goodness" pep meeting. And after the session, let's all parade down town and further exhibit the spirit of former years. If the cheerleaders refuse to have any part in the affair, let's select somebody who will. Allegheny's spirit is waiting for the death blow; unless something is done soon, we may as well end the season right now.

Seven o'clock Friday evening at the practice field!! Will you be with us, Kelley?

A SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM

Last week in the Scrubbing Brush column there was published a story that was actually turned in for publication as a news item by a member of The Campus staff. The story appeared so amusing to us that we conceived the idea of publishing it for the entertainment of our readers, but now that we have had an opportunity to reflect upon the matter, we realize that the wrong attitude was taken in regards to the contribution. Nevertheless, the students and the administration have had a chance to see exactly what type of writing is given to the editors, and perhaps they will realize how Allegheny fails to train its students in any form of journalism.

The editor of the college paper should be trained more extensively than any other student on the campus, for the weekly publication is a periodic indication of the reputation of the college. Whenever a poor paper is published, critics immediately disparage the college. Yet at Allegheny there is one course in journalism given every two years, the attendance of Campus staff members never being required. As a result, one might say that there is no such training in the school, for the benefits of the course never reach the students who most need the work. The college publication suffers from having as editors Chemistry majors, Mathematics students, and the like rather than men who are planning on journalism as a career and will give minute attention to the betterment of the paper.

Countless other colleges have realized the need for extension of the curriculum and added schools of journalism; yet Allegheny lags behind and offers no such training. The students desire a wider curriculum for both their benefit and that of the college. One needs but look at The Campus to discover the poor type of writing found at Allegheny. With some training including the school paper as laboratory work some evils would be eliminated and further progress achieved for Allegheny.

THE SCRUBBING BRUSH

The editor needed a wit to write this column so he secured two of us half-wits and is now angling for a member of the faculty to round out our staff.

* * *

Prof. Luvaas told the girls' glee club that some of their notes were fuzzy. He must have been trying to tickle them with their singing or maybe he was talking about the fuzz on pitches.

* * *

Speaking about girls, have you come in contact with the new fence in front of Hulings? I have. If you don't believe me take a look at my shins, and besides my femme ruined a pair of $1.50 stockings and was a minute late. Well, anyway, it might stop the hedging at Hulings.

* * *

Talking about hedges, we hear that Al Widman mows the lawn and trims the hedges on his day off.

* * *

"Gee, this is a dinky thing for two dollars," said the Freshman. He didn't know the graft of it.

* * *

We are sure having a lot of pun in this column.

* * *

"You have your work cut out for you," said Darling as he handed the earnest student a chicken liver.

* * *

Talking about chicken, what's the matter with the cheerleaders? Are they getting chicken-hearted or are they receiving a yearly pass to the show? We sure do miss the theatre parties of last year. All in favor of a free trip to the show say "aye." The Ayes have it.

* * *

Then there was the Freshman that thought that The Smirching Mind of Greece was a dirty story.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Columnist III are the proud possessors of twins, Carl IV and B IV.

CARL COLUMNIST IV and B IV.

CAMPUS CLIPPINGS

Mothers and dads were the guests of honor at W. & J. for the first game of the year with West Virginia Wesleyan. The fraternities entertained the parents at lunch and in the evening a dance was held.

* * *

Prof. Martin Sprengling of the University of Chicago, believes that a Bedouin foreman of a mine, working for the Egyptians in the half-century between 1850-1800 B. C., first used the characters which have developed into the modern alphabet.

* * *

Speaking before the Eastern Association for the selection of football officials recently, Major John L. Griffith, commissioner of the Western Conference, expressed the belief that while football might not draw as many fans this year as in previous years, he expected fully as much interest in the sport throughout the country.

* * *

Scientists in Perkins Observatory at Ohio Wesleyan U. hope that before the solar eclipse visits this part of the country next year they will have ready for use the mammoth 69 inch mirror, the third largest in the world, now being installed in the observatory.

* * *

Dickinson College received fifty cents from a gate crasher. The money was wrapped in a piece of Wilkes-Barre paper. A note accompanied the conscience money which read, "For A.A., for sneaking in a game."

* * *

Inmates of San Quentin, Cal., State prison may enroll as extension students of the University of California without charge. Of the 5,000 inmates about 3,000 are taking advantage of this privilege.

* * *

Scottie, a well trained Scotch collie, probably has attended more universities than any other dog. His "education" has been secured at the U. of Chicago, the U. of Kansas, and Columbia. He has guided his blind master to and from classes at these institutions for the past three summers.

EDINBORO SUCCUMBS BEFORE ONSLAUGHT OF POWERFUL 'GATORS

Playing their second conditioning game of the season, the Allegheny Alligators chalked up a 27 to 7 victory at the expense of Edinboro State Normal. With the exception of a few colorful plays which were sprinkled through the four periods, the game was not overly interesting. Nevertheless, Edinboro should be commended upon its good showing, for the Blue and Gold was kept on its toes in an attempt to break up the Teachers' deception and snappy passing attack.

With the shrill of the opening whistle Edinboro kicked off to Garbark who returned the ball to the Allegheny 39 yard line. After making a 4 yard gain in the line, the Blue and Gold was penalized 15 yards. Varano hit left tackle for 2 yards. Garbark punted out of bounds on Edinboro's 29. The Teachers made three thrusts into the line which netted 7 yards. Then Daly, of Edinboro, punted to Berger who returned the oval to his own 30 yard marker. Still Allegheny's offensive could not get started and Garbark was forced to punt; the ball bounded outside on the Edinboro 28 yard line. In three plays the Red and White threatened to make a first down, but with 1 yard to go Daly hoisted a punt which rolled outside on the Allegheny 14 yard line. Then when the Alligators had emerged from their huddle, tramped to the scrimmage line and snapped the ball, things began to happen. "Nick" Varano tucked the ball under his arm and outran the Edinboro left end, who had been cleverly boxed by Allegheny interference, then pounded down the field as far as the Edinboro 44 yard stripe. Allegheny struck again; Garbark cut in at right tackle, emerged from a mass of players, stiff-armed the Edinboro safety man and was off for the first touchdown of the contest. Varano's place kick for the extra point was successful and Allegheny had a 7 to 0 lead.

Edinboro chose to receive; a Red and White back caught the ball on the 19 yard line and ran it back to the 39. A play at left guard was only good for 1 yard, but one of the Normal boys sneaked through on a reverse for 5. After losing 2 yards on a fumble, Daly punted to Berger, but the play was called back and Allegheny penalized 15 yards for tripping. At any rate it was the Alligator's ball and they started a march down the field. Berger advanced the leather 27 yards on three plays, while Varano did his bit by chipping in with a 10 yard jaunt through right tackle. These four plays brought the oval to Edinboro's 24 yard line and Allegheny was again in a scoring position. Garbark picked up 4 yards at left end, while Varano skirted the other side of the line for 12. But Allegheny's hopes for a score were blasted for the present when a short pass was grounded back of the goal line. It was Edinboro's ball on the 20. However, Allegheny regained possession of the pigskin when Cort broke through to block Daly's punt which rolled outside on the Edinboro 6 yard mark. On the second play Berger made a mighty dive which carried him over the line of scrimmage and across the goal for a touchdown. Again Varano's place kick was true and Allegheny had 14 points to its credit.

Morse kicked off to H. Arrowsmith who brought the ball up to the 31. Then an Edinboro forward pass caught the Alligators napping and the Teachers had a 20 yard gain. The opening of the second quarter saw the Normalites beginning to make fair headway against the Blue and Gold. Allegheny finally held for downs on her own 35 yard stripe, then punted after throwing two incomplete forward passes. Taking the oval on their own 32 yard line, Edinboro swung into a strong offensive. Two forward passes were good for 35 yards while a play at left end netted them 7. A smash at left guard for 3 yards gave Edinboro a first down. Two more running plays brought the ball 4 yards closer to the Allegheny goal. Then the Teachers forward passed to the 4 yard line from where they smashed the line for a touchdown. Their try for extra point was good. Realizing that its 14 to 7 lead was none too substantial, the Blue and Gold trotted back into kick-off formation determined to take things more seriously. March received the kickoff for Allegheny and drove 25 yards to the Edinboro 40 where a half dozen men were required to pull him down; for a moment it looked as if he were going to break away. The remainder of the second quarter saw the ball staying fairly close to the center of the field. Berger threw an incomplete pass over the goal line just as the half ended.

In the third quarter the Alligators made up for their miserable showing of the second period by pushing two more touchdowns across. The first of these came about immediately after the start of the second half. Allegheny took possession of the pigskin on the Edinboro 30 yard line. Garbark hit right tackle for 2 and Varano plowed through the same spot for 9 yards and a first down. Garbark and Berger tried the left side of the line and between them gained 6 yards. Then Berger stepped back and snapped a pass to Varano for 15 yards. A line buck carried the ball over the goal line where it was fumbled but recovered by an Allegheny man. For the third consecutive time, Varano booted a place kick squarely through the uprights. A few moments later an unexpected break made possible Allegheny's final touchdown of the afternoon. Edinboro had received the kick-off and after losing ground on two plays prepared to punt. However, Cort, Allegheny's right end, blocked the punt. It was now the Blue and Gold's ball on the 10 yard stripe. Varano stepped through right tackle and cut out to the right from where he outran the Edinboro defensive backs to the goal line. The scoring was closed for the day with Allegheny showing a commanding 27 to 7 advantage. The Alligators later threatened on several occasions, while the Edinboro offensive was confined for the most part to frantic forward passes.

ALLEGHENY TO FACE TITANS HOMECOMING

Strength of Team to be Tested in Westminster Tilt Saturday.

Next Saturday, October 10, the invincible Alligator will play its third home game in a row and will have for opposition the gridders from Westminster College. In late years the Titan football squads have had a rather consistent advantage over the Allegheny teams, but last year Westminster succumbed under the 'Gator onslaught by a count of one point. the score reading 7-6 after a hard-fought combat. From all indications Allegheny will also get the better of the argument next Saturday afternoon. In the two games played already this season, Allegheny has shown a powerful brand of football on the offense, and the defensive department should now be able to counteract any type of offense by the education gained through the straight football of Clarion and the deceptive running and passing of Edinboro. On the other hand, the Westminster aggregation has so far this year made a showing that is far from impressive, considering that their opposition was of the same calibre as that of Allegheny's first two victims. In their first game of the season the Titans won from the Slippery Rock gridders by a score of only 6-0, and last week showed a little improvement in winning from Adrian by a count of 19-6. However, statistics in football are likely to be deceiving and usually are. If the breaks of the game are evenly divided next Saturday, everyone should anticipate a closely contested football game with the Alligator again coming through for another victory.

Westminster Defeats Allegheny Harriers Last Saturday, 25-30

The cross-country race run last Saturday afternoon at the same time as the football game at Montgomery Field between the harriers of Westminster and Allegheny ended with a 25-30 victory for the Westminster pack. Smalley of Westminster was the first one to cross the finish line, running the five-mile course in 25 minutes and 13 seconds, only a few seconds from the course record, and he was closely followed by two more Westminster men, Coles and Klumph. After them the entire Allegheny squad finished, the first five men being, in the order of their appearance, Ish, Worrall, Marks, Lubic, and Morgan. Needham, of Westminster, was the fourth man across for his team. Due to a misunderstanding between the teams as to the date of the race, Westminster had a squad of only four men ready for the contest, and since the rules require that at least five men must finish for each team, Parkinson, student manager of the visiting harriers, ran as the fifth man, and this accounts for the fact that it took him somewhat over an hour to finish the course.

The squad showed quite an improvement over their work of the week before, and it is safe to say that this year's squad will be considerably better than last year's harriers, due in no small measure to their new coach's ability in this department. Lubic, Morgan, and Brown, who are all freshmen, gave a good account of themselves in the race, and should be among the first finishers by the end of the season.

THIS AND THAT

Geneva and Bucknell had quite a game last Saturday. The final score was 14-14. Aultman, Geneva end, was on the receiving end of the two passes which resulted in scores for the Beaver Falls team. Geneva will be here in all its glory on November 14, the last home game of the season.

* * *

Waynesburg and Grove City also had a tie game. The final score in this game was 6-6. Both teams used passes extensively, and showed good form in the other departments of the game. The 'Gators will have two good fights on their hands when they meet these teams.

* * *

The breaks of the game gave St. Bonaventure a 21-0 victory over Thiel last week. St. Bona blocked two punts almost on Thiel's goal line, and then forced the ball over for the scores. The third touchdown came after a long march down the field. Thiel tried its passing attack, but for some reason it would not click.

* * *

NO DEFINITE INTRA-MURAL PROGRAM YET

At the present time the committee on Intra-Mural Athletics has very little in the line of a definite program to present. It is reasonably certain that practically all of the events of last year's program will be included in the program for this year, but the definite schedules have not yet been arranged. However, the date for the Turkey Race has been set for October 23. It is probable that the volley ball tournament will start Monday, October 26, but a final schedule of the games has not been arranged at the present time.

Because of the bad weather during the past week Coach Way has given the entrants in the tennis tournament another day in which to finish the first round of competition. This means that all first-round matches must be completed by Thursday afternoon of this week.

TEN MATCHES PLAYED IN TENNIS TOURNEY

The 1931 All-Campus Men's Singles Tennis Tournament officially got under way Monday, Sept 28. The rules governing the matches are as follows:

1. All first-round matches must be completed by Thursday, October 8. Those not completed at this time will be disqualified.
2. Two out of three sets will be considered a match.
3. Each match won by a man will count one point for his organization in the first three rounds. In the semi-final matches three points will be awarded the winner and one point to the loser. The winner of the tournament will receive ten points for his organization, while the runner-up will receive five points.
4. The only ones barred from the tournament are varsity letter men.

To date ten matches have been completed. The results are as follows:

Ralston defeated Serene, 6-1, 6-3.
Lubic defeated Leibendorfer, 6-1, 6-4.
Sam Smith defeated F. Williams, 6-1, 6-4.
Moody defeated Hibbs, 6-1, 6-1.
Peterson defeated Dentler, 6-1, 6-2.
Lewis defeated Kerr, 6-3, 6-1.
Smith defeated Sebring, 6-1, 6-3.
Johnson defeated Klicka, 6-3, 6-4.
DeGrange defeated Mansell by default. (No point is given for this.)
R. Scott defeated Kelley, 3-6, 6-2, 6-3.

As this is only a part of the results of the first round of competition, no conclusion can be drawn as to the outcome of the meet.

NOTICE

The following schedule will be in effect for the photography of fraternity and sorority men and women for the Allegheny Kaldron. All pictures will be taken in Bentley Hall in the old broadcasting room beginning October 19 from 10 to 12 A. M. and from 2 to 4 P. M. daily except Saturdays and Sundays. Underwood has exerted every effort to make the photography convenient for the students and announces that all pictures must be taken at the appointed time.

October 19-23—Phi Kappa Psi, Phi Delta Theta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Delta Tau Delta.

October 26-30—Phi Gamma Delta, Theta Upsilon, Kappa Alpha Theta, Beta Upsilon.

November 2-6—Beta Kappa, Alpha Chi Rho, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Alpha Gamma Delta.

November 9-13—Delta Alpha Theta, Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Xi Delta.

Society

Many chapter parties were held during the past week. Delta Tau Delta and Phi Gamma Delta presented parties on Friday evening, and Phi Kappa Psi gave its party Saturday evening. With these events the social season attained its festive sway. The Campus also takes much pleasure in announcing the sorority pledge list. On Homecoming evening, an all-college dance will be presented in the gymnasium.

PHI KAPPA PSI

On Saturday evening, October 3, Pennsylvania Beta chapter of Phi Kappa Psi presented its first chapter party of the school year. "Dutch" Kress and his Olympians furnished very excellent music for the party. Guests of the chapter included: William Wycoff, Glenn Greer, Ned Mervine, Robert Roha, Harry Hill, Scott Hadden, and Mr. Gannon. The party was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Beisel, of the faculty.

On Tuesday, September 29, Pennsylvania Beta chapter of Phi Kappa Psi was greatly honored in having as its guest the President of the fraternity, Edward Bassett. President Bassett's visit was a result of his entering his daughter in the college last Thursday.

DELTA TAU DELTA

Delta Tau Delta's pledges were entertained at the first chapter party of the year at the house on Friday evening, Oct. 3. Twenty-five couples danced to the music furnished by Les Daniels. Prof. and Mrs. McLean were the chaperones and the guests included: the Misses Adelaide Kepler, Pittsburgh; Dorothy and Eleanor Johnston, Ashtabula; Ruth Haines, Ellwood City; Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Davis, Meadville; Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, Bellevue; Duane Redman, Ashtabula; Walter Herr, Ben Avon; George and Frank Johnstone, Lancaster; and Richard Cessna.

Week-end visitors at the Delta Tau Delta house were: Frank and George Johnstone, Lancaster; Walter Herr, Ben Avon; John Knapp, Warren; Mr. F. W. Zeigler, Ellwood City; Dr. Hector M. Chabut, Jackson, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Johnston, Farrell; Donald Parkinson, Ellwood City.

PHI GAMMA DELTA

Pi Chapter of Phi Gamma Delta held a pledge party on Friday, October the second, with Dr. and Mrs. Schultz and Mr. and Mrs. Seely as chaperones for the evening. Music was furnished by Kress and his Olympians. Guests of the chapter included: the Misses Norton, Cutter, Merwin, Martin, Reynders, Lindsey and Sanzenbacher; the Messrs. Mills, Benjamin, Jones, Wettach, Anderson, Blair, and Gordon.

PHI DELTA THETA

Week-end visitors at the Phi Delta Theta House were: Mr. and Mrs. Bortz and daughter, Greensburg; Dr. and Mrs. Houck and children, Dorothy and George, Dubois; Mrs. L. W. Quinn, Dubois; Mr. McCready and son, John, Pittsburgh.

ALPHA CHI RHO

Week-end visitors at the Alpha Chi Rho House were: Duane Weston, Jaloppy.

THOBURN CLUB HELD SHORT MEETING OCT. 1

Thoburn Club held a short meeting at Bentley Hall on the evening of October 1. President Charles Hartung, who took charge, appointed a committee to get in communication with freshmen interested in some form of Christian service and therefore eligible to admission into Thoburn Club. Some discussion occurred as to the possibility of securing a room in the new addition to the Library, but nothing has been learned regarding this.

Thoburn Club meets every two weeks on Thursday evening, and the next meeting will be on October 15th. Interested Freshmen are invited to this meeting.

"Arms and the Man"

For the first time in its brief history the Allegheny Student Playshop is attempting a play from the pen of George Bernard Shaw, considered by many leading critics and students of the drama the outstanding playwright of the 20th century. Certain it is that Shaw is one of the most colorful and successful figures in the world of the theatre today.

His satire is pungent and brilliant, and it reaches a peak in "Arms and the Man," one of the most successful of his plays. This three-act drama is a satire directed against war, and could it attain a greater circulation would probably do more for the cause of world peace than five of the notorious but frequent peace conferences. No institution could bear up under the ridicule and scorn which Shaw directs at this mockery and cowardice we call "war." Shaw has often been compared to Cervantes, whose "Don Quixote" caused the world to laugh at one of the oldest instittuions the world has known—medieval chivalry.

But to remark the brilliancy of the satire in "Arms and the Man" is but to see half the picture. The richness and vivacity of its comedy is seldom, if ever, duplicated. Shaw places his characters into perfectly possible situations and draws them out with a wit and subtlety that keeps his audiences in a constant fit of laughter.

To indulge in broad comedy without reducing the pungency of his satire is an extremely difficult task for a playwright, but this Shaw does to perfection in "Arms and the Man."

LIBRARY DEDICATION

The original building has been entirely redecorated. New tables and chairs have been purchased, and the stipple work on the walls, done by the Swegler Co. of Cleveland, improves the appearance of the building a great deal. New work tables, desks, counters, and files have been put in by the Art Metal Construction Co., Jamestown, N. Y.

The new lighting fixtures by the Kayline Fixture Co. will provide a combination of direct and indirect lighting throughout the building. All the wiring was done by the Delmar Electric Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.

A new book-lift has been installed which will deliver books from the new unpacking room in the basement to outlets at three levels.

The old stacks have been dismantled and shipped to Jersey City where they will be refinished by Snead and Co., who supplied the new stacks. While they are gone, new floors made by the Hanotile Tile Company will be put over the cement base.

The shelves in the main reading room separating the space beneath the balconies into alcoves will alone house 5,000 books. In the center of the back of the room is a fireplace of Belgian marble, on each side of which will be steel shelving with linoleum covered counter tops which will be used for the larger references. The baseboard of the room will also be of Belgian marble by the Philadelphia Marble and Tile Co., Philadelphia, Pa. All books on reserve will be obtained from a counter which will stand at the right of the main reading room as one enters. The reserve books will be kept in the former stacks. All the stair and balcony railings, and label holders were furnished by Snead and Co. and are of pure bronze. Other hardware was secured from Sargent and Co. In the new room there will be twelve long tables, each twelve feet in length, for reading, and six round tables in the alcoves. There will be a davenport before the fireplace. This and other decorations and furnishings are by Swegler and Co. Then there will be a case for dictionaries and a display table at the head of the stairs.

The Johns-Mansville Co. have finished the accoustical treatment of the room and the radiator covers have been supplied by the Acme Radiator Co. of Cincinnati, Ohio.

The former Romance department room will be given over to the original Library collection, and it is hoped to combine the present Quill Club room with a browsing room, which is a feature of all modern libraries.

In the east end of the main stacks devoted to the housing of the magazine section an additional short aisle divides the stacks making it much easier to use the reference section. The new light shades by Snead and Co. are the same that were recently invented for the Sterling Library at Yale University. They give no glare, but plenty of strong light clear to the base of the stacks. At the sides of the stacks are cubicles for students or faculty members who are doing very intensive study. Each cubicle is provided with a chair desk, drawer, and shelves. The lighting in these cubicles is very fine. The cubicles on the east end are closed and the rest are open on one side.

Any of the stack shelves are interchangeable with any other shelves in the new Library, so that whole sections may be moved without serious consequences or great effort. Great steel mesh doors separate the periodicals from the main stacks. Fire exits which extend from the reading room to the basement are enclosed by steel. In the newly excavated portion under the original building there will be provision for a debate room and a typing room. A new device for heating and humidifying the air has been installed in the basement and it will be regulated by thermostatic control. This conditioned air is expected to prolong the life of all books and documents in the Library in addition to making the Library more comfortable.

The outside of the original building was washed with a solution of muriatic acid which has blended the two parts of the building. The Iron City Clay Products Co. of Columbus, Ohio, provided the bricks for the addition, and the terra cotta was made by Ketcham and Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

On the outside of the building immediately behind the fireplace in the center of the Prospect Street facade is a terra cotta tablet with the fitting inscription: "This building is gratefully dedicated to William E. Reis, class of 1869, through whose generosity it was erected, 1901-1930."

"That bully old slogan hits me just right—

. . . no bamboozlin' about that!"

SURE! When a word fits, you know it! "Satisfy" just fits CHESTERFIELD. A smoker picks up a package, and he likes its neat appearance — no heavy inks or odors from ink. That satisfies him.

Then he examines a Chesterfield. It is well-filled; it is neat in appearance; the paper is pure white. And that satisfies him.

He lights up. At the very first puff he likes the flavor and the rich aroma. He decides that it tastes better—neither raw nor over-sweet; just pleasing and satisfying.

Then he learns it is milder. That's another way of saying that there is nothing irritating about it. And again he's satisfied!

Satisfy — they've got to satisfy! The right tobaccos, the CHESTERFIELD kind, cured and aged, blended and cross-blended, to a taste that's right. Everything that goes into CHESTERFIELD is the best that money can buy and that science knows about. CHESTERFIELDS do a complete job of it. They Satisfy!
