VARSIITY DAY—

We wish to record a hearty second to the words of Block A spokesman Scarpitti elsewhere in the issue in which he pleads for faculty and student support of Varsity Day Friday.

The hapless athletes found themselves this year without even a banquet and set about to get funds for such an affair. After they had petitioned A.U.C. and the Athletic Committee, they were given permission to sell special tickets to the basketball games Friday and their plans for an attendant dance were also given official sanction.

They have arranged an ambitious program for Friday, what with two basketball games, a dance and the naming of the previously innominate student band being featured. The whole affair, as we understand it, may be enjoyed for only twenty-five cents.

It seems little enough to ask that students set aside the nominal stipend that the much-abused, seldom-praised athletes may enjoy a banquet, as we recall the gala celebrations and fetes arranged for them at other schools.

It's a good idea, it's a good basketball team, and it should be a good dance. We urge unqualified support of the idea and congratulate Block A members for refusing to let themselves be taken for granted as has been the custom in the past.

BOUQUETS TO THE A. U. C.—

Elsewhere in today's issue is a news release concerning the plan adopted by the Allegheny Undergraduate Council at its meeting Sunday night. Briefly, the proposal entails the election of all members of next year's council previous to spring recess, so that, following the vacation they may attend all council meetings in an unofficial capacity until May 1st, when the term of the present council expires.

This move is one with which we are heartily in accord for it assures the student body of the perpetuation of the council itself and it promises increased efficiency. Heretofore, the carryover from one council to the next was good enough in theory but useless in actual practice.

Last year, the retiring council and the incoming council met jointly at only one meeting; thereafter, the new council members were left to decide problems for themselves, and were unable to profit by the experiences of their predecessors. With the new plan, all such hazards can be successfully surmounted, and the results should be gratifying to say the least.

From now on, all incoming council members will have the benefit of a month's observance of the preceding body in action before having to cope with any problems themselves.

Naturally, the new amendment to the council's constitution necessitates earlier elections in all the major organizations on campus, but we feel that the carry-over will be more than adequate compensation for any inconvenience which these earlier elections might cause.

"WILLOW PLATE" TO BE ENACTED

Playshop presents the one-act play, Willow Plate, for the Meadville Women's Literary Club at the Allegheny Playshop on February 16. This play is directed by Jean Megahan, '41.

Included in the cast are Henry Leitzel, '42, Phillip Pepp, '43, Joseph Kwait, '43, Helen McVicar, '43, Ellis McKay, '43, and Richard Mullhaupt, '43. This is the second performance of this Chinese play.

Assisting Miss Megahan in this production are Bittner Snead, '42, as stage manager, Leonell Strong, '43, as assistant stage manager and Eleanor Harter, '40, as costumiere.

JOSEPH REPLACES MATH VACANCY

Mr. Joseph A. Joseph is the new mathematics instructor named to take the place of Mr. Louis Green this semester. Mr. Green is absent on leave.

Mr. Joseph graduated from Washington University in 1935 and received his M.S. there the following year. He has studied at the University of Michigan and California Institute of Technology. He was part time instructor at Brown University and has taught at Lawrence College, Appleton, Wisconsin.

Mr. Joseph will conduct all courses formerly handled by Mr. Green.

VARSIITY DAY SPONSORED BY BLOCK 'A' CLUB

MONEY GAINED FROM TICKETS TO FINANCE SPORT BANQUET

(See Editorial)

A plea for student support of the Block A Club sponsored "Varsity Day" Friday, Feb. 16, which will feature a basketball double-header and the much-discussed "name band" dance, was voiced recently by William Scarpitti, '40, chairman of the committee in charge.

In making the statement, Mr. Scarpitti added, "It seems reasonable to ask that students set aside their activity tickets for one game in the season to help otherwise uncompensated athletics raise money for a banquet. The affair should receive the wholehearted support of faculty and students." The entire proceeds of the day's events will be turned over to Block A Club for a banquet to be held soon.

For the basketball games, in which the freshmen oppose the Slippery Rock plebes, and the Varsity goes against Buffalo State, student activities tickets have been declared invalid and special tickets have been put on sale which will also be good for admission to the dance which follows.

CWEN DANCE FEB. 23 AT PHI DELTA HOUSE

Cwens will entertain at their annual dance February 23, at the Phi Delta Theta house.

Guests will include the Cwens of past years and freshman women eligible with a scholastic standing of 73 or above. Invitations are to appear next week, it was reported by Helen Shaffer, president of the honorary society. The dance is scheduled as semi-formal with music provided by the Towne club orchestra.

President of women students, Kathryn Gelbach, has asked that students reserve 11 o'clocks for this dance which will entitle them to 12:30 permissions.

SERIES OF FIVE PROGRAMS ON FILMS ANNOUNCED

First Evening Program Presented February 29 In Arter Hall

The Department of Art and Dramatic Art announce a series of five programs on the development of the film to be presented this spring in the Playshop.

The programs will include early silent films directed by D. W. Griffith and starring such old timers as Mary Pickford, Lionel Barrymore, William S. Hart, and Theda Bara, as well as early Mack Sennett comedies. There will be examples of the early films of France, including a number directed by the well known French painter, F. Leger. Greta Garbo's first talking picture, "Anna Christie," in which she appeared with Marie Dressler, will also be shown.

A French talking film and several of the best known documentary films, including "The River" and "Thunder over Mexico," are to supplement the programs.

Holders of the membership tickets for the five evening performances are also invited to a Thursday morning series of short programs covering such subjects as churches, cathedrals, city planning, challenge of the slums, from clay to bronze, contemporary artists, stone carving, Shakespeare, Stratford, silversmith, puppetry, and Theatre Arts.

The first evening program will be held on Wednesday evening, February 29, at 8:00 p. m. It will be devoted (continued on page 4)

A special Lincoln program will be celebrated in Ford chapel next Thursday at 12 noon under the direction of the Reverend Edgar DeWitt Jones, pastor of the Central Christian church, Detroit, Michigan. Wednesday chapel will not be held next week.

LOUIS ADAMIC WILL LECTURE IN FORD CHAPEL

LECTURE SERIES IN BUSINESS PROBLEMS GIVEN

Mr. L. J. Long in Charge of Arranging For List of Speakers

Harold M. Smith, director of the federal budget, and H. V. Procknow, vice-president of the First National Bank of Chicago and an authority on bank credit, have been added to the list of speakers for the Allegheny College lectures in Business Problems beginning here late this month.

Mr. L. J. Long, associate professor of economics in charge of arrangements for the lecture series, said that Smith's discussion here on problems of the national government finance would be the Washington official's first public utterance as director of the budget.

To be given on successive Thursday nights from February 22 through April 25, the lectures are planned as a part of Allegheny's 125th anniversary year observance. Business men from throughout the tri-state area are expected to attend. (continued on page 4)

LISTENING HOURS TO CONTINUE IN THE ORATORY

According to an announcement made recently by Mr. Philip Benjamin and Mr. Edward Johe, the listening hours will henceforth be held on Tuesday evenings from 7:00-8:00 p. m., and on Thursdays from 8:30-9:30 p. m. The program previously scheduled for tomorrow has been moved up to tonight due to the Louis Adamic lecture.

For the past two semesters, Mr. Benjamin and Mr. Johe have experimented with a series of listening hours to introduce the undergraduates of Allegheny to the wealth and variety of music literature in the Carnegie Gift. For Tuesday evenings, Mr. Benjamin has prepared a series of twelve concerts presenting chronologically operas from Deems. A series of orchestral and instrumental programs arranged by Mr. Johe will feature the Thursday evening programs. Any requests for additional programs will be gladly accepted.

Noted Author of Many Well Known Books and Articles

Adamic Regarded As Unofficial Spokesman Of Immigrants

Louis Adamic, noted author of My America and The Native's Return, will lecture here tomorrow night at 8:15 in Ford Chapel. His subject will be "Thirty Million New Americans".

Mr. Adamic, who is universally regarded as the unofficial spokesman for the some 38,000,000 immigrants and their descendants who have entered this country during the past 100 years, has led an extremely colorful life and probably knows more intimately his adopted land than most native-born Americans.

He left his native Yugoslavia at the age of fourteen and came to the United States. His first job was that of assistant to the mailer on a Slovenian newspaper in New York City. By reading everything that he could find, with the aid of a Slovenian-English dictionary, and writing free-lance articles whenever he could find the time, he finally landed a job in the newspaper's editorial department.

There followed a rapid succession of jobs in various parts of the country. He worked in a Jersey silk mill, on the docks in California, in restaurants, cabinet shops, shoe factories, and textile mills. During the war he served with the American Army overseas and after the Armistice spent a ten months' interlude at sea. He worked for a time on a Los Angeles newspaper, but gave it up because it permitted too little leisure for reading.

In 1928, while working on the docks at San Pedro, California, H. L. Mencken accepted his first article for the American Mercury. That was followed by numerous other magazine articles. (continued on page 4)

TURNER AND WOOD GUEST SPEAKERS

Peggy Turner and Edgar Wood, both of '40, were guest speakers for the Meadville Women's Club on Feb. 6. Miss Turner gave a few miscellaneous comedy sketches and Mr. Wood presented some dialect readings. Seniors, both are members of the drama department.

The Man of the Hour to the Co-Ed Personified in Rhett Butler

By ESTHER EBENHOE

Who is your man of the hour? No, I'm not trying to get personal, but merely trying to get around to saying that Rhett Butler, as portrayed by Clark Gable in the film version of that widely read, much talked of opus of Margaret Mitchell, Gone With the Wind, is the current heart throb of millions of theatre-going women.

I have learned through various and sundry advertising media that this fair city of Meadville is to be graced by the presence of this most colossal, stupendous, gigantic production ever produced by the motion picture industry. I daresay that during that short week that Gone With the Wind is with us every little co-ed in Hulings, Cochran and the freshman houses will be trotting down to the local cinema palace to see the adventures of Scarlet and Rhett—especially Rhett—for perhaps even the second or third time.

And just as many of our campus Romeos, or aspirants, will be dropping in to see what this Butler bird has that they haven't—it might be Scarlett, I don't know. But the fact remains that whenever the honorable, or should I say the not so honorable, Mr. Butler walks across the screen, smiles, or just looks, an audible sigh flutters through the theatre and a million little chills run up and down feminine spines.

Perhaps what Mr. Butler has is glamour—we usually think of glamour in connection with Hedy Lamarr, Dorothy Lamour and other sultry beauties of the silver screen—but I doubt if any one will challenge me when I say that Rhett Butler has glamour. How did he get it? Well, I don't know. He had it from the very moment we met him. He probably had it when he was born. But like all talents, it had to be developed. True to the tradition of the motion picture industry we find Mr. Gable dressed up in his sideburns, mustache and ruffled shirt fronts smiling at us from the magazine covers, bill boards, calendars, and every other conceivable place. I wouldn't be surprised to see his picture taking the place of George Washington's on our postage stamps and dollar bills.

A person can't pick up a magazine or newspaper without finding an article in it either about or by our charming hero. The Campus is no exception as you can see. But through it all, first about a thousand pages of printed matter and then through about 675,000 feet of film, Rhett Butler remains the unchallenged hero of today's femininity and Gone With the Wind, its characters and episodes, remain the main topic for conversation, literary efforts, and I believe they have made a game out of it as well. Next spring we probably will be wearing flouncing skirts and trying to reduce our waists until they measure eighteen inches or so. And, who knows, perhaps our young gallants will have taken to sideburns and ruffled shirts.

Letters to the Editor

February 12, 1940

Editors of The Campus
Allegheny College
Meadville, Pa.

Dear Editors:

I should like to send you my belated compliments on an editorial concerning the use of "Doctor" and "Professor".

It is frequently embarrassing to both student and teacher when the wrong salutation is used. It is not easy for us to remember the exact title for every one even though our faculty is not very numerous. Unless you are sure of the proper title, you should use "Mr.". When a teacher has reached the status of full professor, I suppose we should recognize his position and refer to him as "Professor So and So". My feeling is that everyone up to the rank of full professor should be "Mr." and if we wish we can use the title of "Professor" for the rest of the faculty.

I wish your idea would be adopted by the student body and if possible spread throughout the town.

Sincerely,
L. J. LONG.

BIT BY BIT

The campus has seemed rather dull since semesters in the way of scandal—to get things started right, it might be a good idea if the new initiates would hang a few of their big brothers' pins instead of sending valentines—well, at least it's a thought!

We seem to have a new jitterbug in our midst—even to the extent that the reserved John Lavelly sent her a hot Cab Calloway record—Hi-de-ho, Georgia.

The school in general has been wondering why "Happy Bert" enjoys climbing through roadhouse windows—a queer pastime, to say the least!! "Blondie" spent last week-end down at Grove City—looks like the Allegheny lads aren't good enough!

The Phi Delt photographer seems quite Ruth-less these days.

"Junior Week" at Cornell was attended by Adalou Randall. She had a swell time even though she and her date were the only ones who had ever heard of Allegheny.

Even though the three fiddlers didn't show up Saturday afternoon, the Outing Club put on a very successful "Virginia Reel"—There was lots of "dirt" at the Outing Club, also—no snow!

We're wondering what's new in the Stoll, Newell, Ling triangle—These things certainly keep one guessing.

Bucky Buchanan isn't mad at Grove City any more—or shall we say, the boy friend!

Mary Meyers has been seen with several new faces lately—complications arise!

"Nicky" and his "Blond job" are still hitting it off—could it be the new car or has Dave finally quit?

Dave Kinzer was one of the many who went to Cleveland last Friday—only Dave got lost—well, he had a swell time that evening, anyhow—

The Phi Psi "barrel roll" takes place this Friday at four o'clock—all are invited to see the "mess"!!!

"Vicky" can't wait for the W. and J. basketball game—wonder why?

The Freshmen always seem to have the upper hand at getting in the "dirt" column—Guess the upperclassmen know better.

A.C.C. RESUMES VESPER SERVICES

Resumption of the vesper services sponsored by the Allegheny Christian Council was announced last night by President Robert Appleyard, '40, of the council.

Muriel Matson, '42, and Robert Oberlin, '41, will have charge of the first service next Sunday at 4:45 p. m., in the Ford chapel oratory. Miss Matson will speak.

A candlelight ceremony will be included in the service which is also to feature recorded music by Bach and Handel.

Speakers at succeeding Sundays will include Edward Spafford, '40, Robert Wright, '40, and Jane Austen, '43. On March 17, Mr. Horace Lavelly will conduct a communion service.

President Appleyard commented on releasing news of these special Lenten services to The Campus: "The success of last semester's Vesper Services has led the A.C.C. cabinet to plan their new series. We sincerely hope that the college will continue their active support."

MRS. SPANN TO SPEAK SUNDAY

Mrs. Frederick F. Seely read from Lillian Hellman's The Little Foxes in the fourth of the Craig Room's reading hours Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Seely replaced the scheduled speaker, Mr. Armen Kalfayan, who was ill.

This Sunday Mrs. Elizabeth Spann-Delorme will discuss contemporary German fiction. The following week Miss Alice Kemp will speak on current Spanish literature. The hours are held at 3:30 p. m., in the Craig Room.

HULBURT ATTENDS CONVENTION

During semester vacation Mr. John W. Hulbert, head of the Allegheny drama department, attended the American Educational Theatre Association convention in Detroit, Michigan. It was this convention that Mr. DeLisle Crawford, assistant in the drama department, was appointed a member of the committee working out a plan of cooperation between the American Theatre Association and Columbia Broadcasting System for a new group of plays to be given over the C.B.S. network in the near future.

EMORY U.: F.D.R. might be interested in the Pi Kappa Alpha Frat. It celebrated Easter with an egg hunt on the fraternity lawn last week in November.

U. OF SOUTH CAROLINA: Blame Hitler and the other terror boys for King George's refusal to judge the beauty section of your yearbook. The reply from the U. S. Ambassador quotes: "I am sorry to say that His Majesty, King George, will be unable to select the beauties for your annual. The King is very busy with his Ministers on the war situation and has no time for the lighter—if finer—things of life."

WESTMINSTER COLLEGE: The reason for the uniform tidiness of co-ed's rooms can be traced to the new ruling that makes untidy rooms a domestic crime. A set number of demerits means a 48-hour stretch on the campus limits. Tidy rooms means extra nights for dates.

BRYN MAWR COLLEGE: Lucky are the maids and porters who serve here as they are invited to take part in courses especially designed for their education.

NEBRASKA: Something new in college publications made its appearance here when a fashion edition of the Daily Nebraskan was sprayed with a mixture of perfume, rosewater and rum. Thus it literally "smelled".

Studying in Bed Proven Effective

Columbia instructor advises horizontal position for cerebration.

That's the conclusion of Columbia's instructor in Irish culture, Collins Healy, after a long and detailed study of Irish methods of study, which revealed that the students of the Emerald Isle did their studying while in a lying, reclining or horizontal posture. "The vision of schools equipped with reclining and sleeping accommodations may seem fantastic and far removed from what we currently consider good educational practice, but psychological investigations accredit the horizontal posture during study as sound," Mr. Healy says.

Mr. Healy cited a psychologist, who said: "Investigations seem to indicate rather definitely a large number of writers, men of science, ministers, statesmen, and those who have become distinguished in various lines, chose practically the horizontal position for their most careful intellectual work."

ONE MAN TO ANOTHER

A First Classman is busy rubbing his scalp with hair tonic. Roommate: Hey, do you know alcohol is supposed to be bad for your hair? First Classman, proceeding with the operation: "Yeah, it's bad for your stomach too, but people still use it."

OUTING CLUB

In spite of rain and slush, the Winter Carnival managed to run its usual merry course.

The guests, Grove City, Edinboro, Carnegie Tech, Pitt, Slippery Rock, Dennison and Westminster registered at the gym Saturday afternoon and were escorted from there to the farm.

In the afternoon there was a short hike, singing and at four o'clock cocoa was served by Mrs. Tolley in the faculty cabin.

Spaghetti and meat balls were the main source of interest at the dinner table. Even the guests responded in true Outing Club style to the food that was placed before them.

The evening's program consisted of a series of rollicking games in the faculty cabin, with Walt Maloney and Wayne Shields, an Outing Club alumnae and former president of the club, taking charge. Those with a desire for the new and unusual would have had food for thought in the way games materialized from bits of apparatus supplied from the Physical Education Department. Later there was square dancing and lusty voices raised, in song veritably shook the rafters and rattled the window panes. More quiet games capped off the evening until the buses were ready to leave for town.

Sunday morning a brisk hike into the Tamarack Swamp took most of those present to the wide open road. Skiing and tobogganing were out of the question, but the ice managed to support quite a few of the more active persons in performing their antics round.

Credit should be given to Ginny Boyd for supervising the work, Alice David and Al Colley who worked as co-chairmen of the carnival, to Walt Maloney as Chairman of the Executive Board, to Alice Bryant for her work in making the carnival a success, to Peg McDowell for her supervising of the food problem and to all members who in any way contributed to making the guests welcome and the week-end a success. And so ended another page in the diary of Outing Club which we feel confident may continue to maintain her integrity.

Next Tuesday night, providing there is not a basketball game, there will be mixed swimming at the pool.

The ping pong tournament is now under way, so keep up the old standards of playing on time and getting in the game.

TANKERS FACE BUFFALO STATE WESTMINSTER

Swamped by Oberlin, 57-18 And W & J, 56-18, Marvel's Loss Leaves Big Gap

The ill-fated Allegheny swimming team returns home this week for two meets, with Buffalo State here Friday afternoon and with Westminster Saturday.

With only four meets remaining on their schedule, Allegheny's chances for a winning season are mathematically impossible. Coach Brickley stated, however, that his tankers had an even chance in the Westminster and Grove City meets.

Burrows' return brightens our victory prospects considerably, and Harney's eligibility will help, too. Harney has a big task on his hands, though—the task of filling Ed Marvel's spot in the distances. In the last two meets he placed third in the 220.

The results of these two meets were dismal enough. Oberlin 57, Allegheny 18, on February 7, and W. & J. 56, Allegheny 18, on February 10. However, neither the swimmers nor the coach can be blamed, as it is necessary to fill in and experiment when such men as Marvel leave.

Frosh to Play Friday Night

The freshman cagers, after their preliminary with the Grove City frosh last night, will battle with the Slippery Rock reserves this Friday night. The combination which features McMillan and Nichols at the forwards, Foster at center, and Chapman and Pierce at the guards has won one of the two games they have played this season. After losing to Grove City, they showed big improvement in their win over the Alfred Frosh. The team has a season schedule of seven games.

CAGERS END WIN STREAK; LOSE TWO

Fall to Hiram 31-28; Then to Reserve 66-50 With Hart Getting 25

Our Allegheny Cagers, with their dream for a perfect season shattered, were facing this week a slightly eased situation as they prepared for their next three games, all of them played at home. After last night's game with Grove City, we will engage Buffalo State here Friday night and Thiel Tuesday night.

Long Layoff Hurts.

Despite their impressive record of six straight wins before the semester vacation, the two defeats of last week weren't at all unexpected. The task of facing teams as good as Hiram and Western Reserve on their home floors after a long layoff was just too much. At Hiram our offense was off, and at Reserve our defense was off. So we lost both games.

Now the team can face the rest of their schedule without being bothered by looking backward, and that ought to ease their mental attitude considerably.

The Reserve game was a close, hotly contested affair up to the last quarter, and then the storm broke, and our tired team, much handicapped by the loss of Faloon by fouls, was submerged. The situation was the same as in the game before. When Faloon left, the backbone of the team seemed to be gone, too. That's additional evidence of the fact that he is the coordinating element of this year's combination.

Hart Brilliant.

Even though the game wasn't much to cheer about, Alex Hart's performance Friday night surely was. It was a brilliant performance. His twenty-five point total equalled the new modern Allegheny record set by "Stretch" Faloon earlier in the season. Most of his nine buckets were made on one-handed bank layups from the left or right fore court. His superb ball handling and body coordination on these plays is worth watching. No matter how closely he was guarded, he was able to drop an amazing percentage of these shots.

We might have done better if we had played against Reserve's type of offense instead of playing our own. Diven and Anderson, classy Reserve forwards, repeatedly broke up our passing game and ran up score after score on their fast down-the-floor game. Too frequently, our defense had no time to get in position. Too frequently, the only man defending was "Zip" Robinson, and he was quite at the mercy of Reserve's fast maneuvers. Anderson, a tall and very fast man, gave a beautiful exhibition of speed and coordination as he made eleven field goals, nearly all of them on bank layups from under the hoop. His twenty-six point total was the highest any player has compiled in an Allegheny game this season.

Reserve at Best.

It was obvious that the Red Cats had last year's 74-56 trouncing well in mind when they took the floor Friday night. They played a fast, heads-up, even though a rough game. The play moved in continuous reversing surges up and down the floor. It was not

Committee members, in addition to Mr. Scarpitti, are: Edward Robinson, '40, Ralph Marasco, '42, Lewellyn Davies, '40, John Topper, '41, and William Schuster, '42.

The freshman game is scheduled for 7:15 p. m., and the varsity contest for 8:30 p. m. The dance will begin at 10 p. m. surprising that they had our boys very tired when it was all over.

Last Tuesday at Hiram the 'Gators lost in a defensive game, 31-28. After trailing at the half, Allegheny pulled into a 27-23 lead in the later stages but were not able to hold it. The fast stepping and fast passing Terriers held us to a single foul shot after that, and rallied to win.

After very little observation it has been discovered that: The Freshman studies long and late His morning classes start at eight. The Sophomore loafs along, then crams His head off just before exams.
